Today

Cable From Mussolini Thicker Veils, Less Naked Says Heaven to Pu Yi Freight by Air, Some Day

—By ARTHUR BRISBANE—

MUSSOLINI BELIEVES that war between Japan and Russia must come, with the United States dragged in, and, like the little boy in the bath tub reaching for the soap, "he won't be happy till he gets it."

The Russian Litvinoff has warned Japan in public speech, "Soviet military forces are increasing continuously," and "Russia could make any aggressor lose its desire to REPEAT an attempt to attack."

Nothing could be more illuminating than the article on the war called by Mussolini to Mr. Hearst's newspapers and published yesterday.

The Italian premier sees war as an immediate danger. He says in his cabled message:

"Two armies confront each other at the frontier of Russia and Manchuria; the peril of war exists. It interests not only Russia and Japan; it also involves China and the United States, and indirectly, England, France, Italy and Holland."

At this moment, Mussolini says, Japan is "going through a period of dynamic imperialism." He foresees a combination of Japan and China uniting against the United States and Europe, and thinks the white races should recognize their responsibility for the preservation of white civilization.

It may come to that, with modern machinery, improved agriculture, lower death rate and vastly increased Asiatic populations and wealth, but it will not come in this century. Meanwhile the United States can also, in Litvinoff's words, "make any aggressor lose its desire to RE-PEAT an attempt to attack." The United States would create defensive and aggressive power to do that, if it had the brains of a microcephalic field mouse.

Some years ago, the Metropolitan Opera in New York produced "Salome," showing a lady, three-quarters or nine-tenths naked, dancing and singing, persuading a degraded Eastern potentate to chop off, and give her, the head of John the Baptist, who had refused the lady's advances.

She got the head and the opera showed that enjoying it, holding over it, almost eating it, and the refined music went "glug, glug," to imitate dropping blood.

This writer at the time had the pleasure of writing in one of Mr. Hearst's New York newspapers an editorial objecting to that prostitution of musical art, comparing the idea of the opera to a dead, decayed toad, enshrined in a beautiful lily. The opera stopped short, and it was said the late J. Pierpont Morgan, who ran the opera house, as he did nearly everything else, ordered the stars to sing, dance and play something else.

Now the Metropolitan revives the objectionable performance, and it is suggested to Mr. Cravath, opera boss, that, even with the lady not quite so naked, with perhaps less diaphanous veils and a less ardent desire to chew the poor saint's head, such a morgue and slaughter house motif disgraces music and the opera.

It is a comfort to know that your acts are approved by the powers above. Pu Yi, once heir to the throne of China, thrown out kindly but firmly, by the Chinese republic, is to be made Emperor of Manchuria by the Japanese. Manchuria, or Manchukuo, is, in our language, Pu Yi's "home town."

His ancestors started there and became rulers of China, and now Pu Yi, "besought by the populace," which means Japan, discovery that heaven itself wishes him to be Manchurian Emperor, with Japanese strings attached, of course.

Pu Yi, guided by the wisdom of Confucius, will exercise his powers according to the principles of Wangtao, or 'the Kingly way," and says:

"Accepting the divine will, I will step in Manchukuo forever."

There is nothing non-European about Japan's action in setting up a dummy ruler in Manchuria. Napoleon did it, and the Romans and Alexander did it, long ago. The British have strings on many little Indian and other potentates. Why not Japan?

This is written on the train, going south, via the Pennsylvania and Seaboard Airline. California will want to know that both the Seaboard and the Atlantic Coast Line have cut running time from New York to Miami. It used to be two days and one night, or two nights and one day.

This train makes the run in 30 hours. California will ask the Union Pacific, Santa Fe, and other transcontinental routes, and the Interstate Commerce Commission:

"What are you going to do about that?"

Airlines will answer all such questions so soon, however, that it is not worth while to bother about a few hours. You that

Continued on Page 6, Column 3

CHELSEA GUNMEN GET $3000 IN HOLDUP

WEATHER

Probably snow tonight or Tuesday; slightly warmer Tuesday; lowest temperature tonight in the lower 30's.

High tides 10:34 a. m.; 11:14 p. m.

Sun rises 7:11; sets 4:36.

Light all vehicles at 5:06.

WE DO OUR PART

BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN

NEW ENGLAND'S GREATEST EVENING NEWSPAPER

7 P. M. SPORTS STOCKS CLOSING PRICES

VOL. 30—No. 251 Published Daily Except Sundays and Holidays by N. E. Newspaper Pub. Co. Entered as 2nd Class Matter at Boston P. O. BOSTON, MONDAY, JANUARY 15, 1934 2 CENTS ZONE PRICE 3 CENTS

ROOSEVELT TO SEIZE GOLD, PEG DOLLAR UNDER 60 CENTS

SLASHER HELD IN MATHESON MYSTERY

Police to Grill a Man in Slain Girl's Old Canadian Home

BULLETIN

By FRANK C. McLEAN
(Boston American Staff Correspondent)

St. John, N. B., Jan. 15—Boston police detectives racing for Nova Scotia to question a suspect in the Maybelle Matheson murder made plans to charter an airplane or tug here today in the hope of reaching their destination tonight. A heavy storm delayed the Boston train and the detectives are 24 hours behind schedule. In an exchange of secret telegrams with Commissioner Hultman, Detective Capt. Flaherty was ordered to push on somehow."

(Copyright, 1934, for Boston Evening American.)

Back to the bleak Nova Scotian countryside where Maybelle Matheson was born and buried, two Boston police detectives sped today for investigation of the most promising clue developed in the seven-year search for her slayer.

The quest's never completed cycle curved back this morning through a little township of the Canadian maritime province and by tomorrow its two ends may be joined—tight-sewed with a thread of steel—and the spell of one of Boston's strangest murder mysteries broken by a sensational solution and arrest.

It is a far cry and a long jump between a snow-drifted West Roxbury field where the pretty 18-year-old girl was beaten to death, seven years ago this week, and the winter-barrened hills to which she went home.

But down there—Down East—a man who lived near Maybelle Matheson in Boston just before her death, and who was friendly with her, has slashed his wife's throat because she accused him of the killing.

An astonishing interlude in the

Continued on Page 4, Column 1

Safety Drive On

Washington, Jan. 15—A nation-wide drive to reduce loss of life and property damage in highway accidents will be launched today by the Department of Commerce.

LATE NEWS BULLETINS

BOSTON PLANE TO RUSH SERUM TO DYING GIRL

St. Albans, Vt., Jan. 15 (AP)—Dr. L. E. Sample, local surgeon, today appealed for a supply of serum, to be rushed here for treatment of his three-year-old daughter, Sally, stricken with pneumonia. Arrangements were made to have the serum taken to the Boston Airport, for delivery by plane in Montpelier this afternoon. It will be rushed from Montpelier to St. Albans by automobile.

SUPREME COURT UPHOLDS VOLSTEAD CONVICTIONS

Washington, Jan. 15 (INS)—The Supreme Court today declined to open prison doors for persons convicted of violating the National Prohibition Act in declaring there was no ground for a writ of review sought by Alfred R. Nerbonne, inmate of Lewisburg, Pa., federal prison.

SAMUEL INSULL BARRED FROM TURKEY

Istanbul, Turkey, Jan. 15 (AP)—Shukru Kaya Bey, Turkish minister of the interior, instructed the police department today not to permit Samuel Insull, Sr., former Chicago utilities magnate, to enter Turkey.

Bus Thugs Get 120 Years

Pittafield, Jan. 13 (INS)—Heavy sentences were meted out today to James Coles, 24, Negro, and Nicholas Waytovich, 17, white, both of Springfield, for the hijacking of a bus, and alleged assault on Miss Harriet Richards, 22-year-old beauty parlor operator, last Dec. 6.

Superior Court Judge Frank J. Donahue sentenced Coles to from 60 to 75 years in State prison, for criminal assault and two counts of assault and armed robbery, which netted $11.50.

Waytovich was sentenced to from 33 to 45 years on two counts of assault and armed robbery, and unlawfully carrying a pistol.

While one of the longest sentences on record in recent years, that given to Coles is exceeded by one being served by Joseph Romagnocca of Canmridge who in June, 1931, started on a term of from 17 to 120 years.

CARLOS HEVIA HEADS CUBA

Havana, Jan. 15 (AP)—Carlos Hevia, secretary of agriculture, was named President of Cuba today.

His appointment was made by the revolutionary junta—leaders of the revolutionary government which placed Ramon Grau San Martin in power several weeks ago. Grau San Martin resigned last night.

Shortly before the announcement was made that Cuba had a new President, troops at Camp Columbia suddenly were assembled and four 3-inch field pieces were mounted at strategic places.

Hevia is the only Cuban ever graduated from the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis.

He commanded the expedition against former President Machado, which landed in August, 1933, at seven years ago this week, and the winter-barrened hills to which she went home.

But down there—Down East—a man who lived near Maybelle Matheson in Boston just before her death, and who was friendly with her, has slashed his wife's throat because she accused him of the killing.

An astonishing interlude in the

Continued on Page 4, Column 1

Safety Drive On

Washington, Jan. 15—A nation-wide drive to reduce loss of life and property damage in highway accidents will be launched today by the Department of Commerce.

Senate Confirms Asst. Sec. Welles

Washington, Jan. 15 (AP)—The Senate today confirmed the nomination of Sumner Welles of Maryland as assistant secretary of state. Consideration had been held up by Senator Borah (R-Ida), who today said he had requested postponement for persons outside of Congress but had no information himself that would necessitate debating the nomination.

SOBS WRACK WYNEKOOP IN TRIAL

Aged Doctor in Break as State Demands That She Die

Pictures and Dr. Wynekoop's own story on Page 4.

BULLETIN.

Chicago, Jan. 15—Dr. Alice Lindsay Wynekoop broke down and sobbed hysterically today when her attorney described her love for her daughter-in-law, Rheta, whom she is accused of murdering.

Chicago, Jan. 15—Dr. Alice Lindsay Wynekoop was in a hurry to get her daughter-in-law, Rheta, insured because she said Rheta was going to "take a trip out West," declared the state's attorney today in his opening address to the jury demanding the death chair for Dr. Wynekoop as her daughter-in-law's murderer.

Yet the state will prove that no trip of any kind was ever contemplated by the red-haired Rheta, who lived with her mother-in-law, although estranged from her husband, Earle, said Charles S. Dougherty, the prosecutor.

Three months after the insurance was taken out Rheta was dead, and Dr. Wynekoop was the beneficiary of $10,000 worth of insurance with a double indemnity clause for accidental death. The premiums were paid, although those on Dr. Wynekoop's own life and her son's were in default at the time.

EARLE BOUGHT BULLETS

And the day the insurance policy was delivered Earle Wynekoop, Rheta's husband, purchased cartridges for his gun and delivered them to his mother.

These are the main points of the State's case against the woman doctor, as outlined by the prosecutor with calm earnestness.

His charges culminated in a half-strangled "Oh!" from the defendant when Earle, her baby son, was mentioned. It was the first show of fire she had betrayed all morning.

The opening speech described a cold-blooded, carefully-planned crime, the details of which held a courtroom spellbound for almost an hour.

No time was spent going into the close relation between Earle and his mother, the dramatics were indulged in. Just a recital of how a young woman, unsuspecting, walked into a trap, every spring of

Continued on Page 4, Column 6

Balances and Receipts

Washington, Jan. 15—Today's treasury balance, $717,310,544; U. S. customs receipts, $10,835,149.

Salute Sets 10,000 Racing in Drive for $4,500,000

Hard on the retreating heels of Old Man Depression an army of 10,000 public spirited citizens took the field today as the Emergency Campaign of 1934, heralded by roar of cannon and clangor of bells, opened its drive for $4,500,000 for 110 associated charities.

More than a half a million Greater Boston men, women, and children, campaign leaders estimate, will contribute to the fund which is to be raised, within the next few weeks, for the mental and physical rehabilitation of victims of illness, unemployment, and economic misfortune.

Chief event on a day-long program of exercises marking the Emergency Campaign's inauguration is a mass meeting scheduled for tonight at Symphony hall. Speakers will include Gov. Ely; Mayor Mansfield; James Roosevelt, son of the President; Whiting Williams, internationally known economist; Rev. William Lawyer, representative of the Boston Central Labor Union.

Babe Ruth will address the gathering by telephone from New York, his voice being magnified by special amplifiers. Newspaper humorists and cartoonists will be among the entertainers.

A record number of social, industrial, and civic groups are cooperating in the campaign which opened today. Chairman John W. Farley

Continued on Page 4, Column 4

GUNMEN GET $3000 IN CHELSEA

Herd Six Into Store's Back Room and Rob Chain Collector

Two armed bandits, one apparently intoxicated, followed Samuel Forman, 28, of 3 Nazing ct., Roxbury, chain store collector, into a store of his company in Arlington st., Chelsea, today, robbed him of $3000 in cash and checks and took $24 from the cash register.

The collector, Morris Miles, the manager of the store, Moses Lightman, a clerk, two customers and one woman customer were all herded into the back room of the store by the bandits, but the customers, the manager and the clerk were not molested.

Forman said that most of the $3000 taken from his pockets was in cash and represented collections from a number of stores in the chain.

The collector and the others came out of the back room a few moments after the bandits had fled, apparently in an automobile, and they notified police.

WASHBURN OUT FOR SENATE

What Maj. Judson Hannigan, president of the Republican Club of Massachusetts, has declared to be impossible, Robert M. Washburn, president of the Roosevelt Club will attempt, the defeat of Senator David I. Walsh by a Republican.

Washburn today announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for United States senator, and in a statement rebuked Major Hannigan for his declaration Saturday, in Worcester, at a Republican gathering, that Massachusetts Republicans should support Walsh, a Democrat, for re-election.

"I am a candidate against Mr. Walsh," said Washburn, "Maj. Hannigan, with a military title, has now become a pacifist in politics. He has crawled to the top of a high tree and is waving a white flag at Mr. Walsh.

"Apparently there are no political Goliaths with courage enough to meet David. Therefore, my first purpose is that a fit candidate shall immediately declare himself. That's the reason that I'm in.

"On Monday next I shall supplement this statement with my attitude toward the pre-primary convention and otherwise."

Fire Ties E. Boston Traffic

A boy of 17, Leibo Giordino, was severely burned, two sick persons were forced out of their beds, and trolley traffic was tied up for half an hour today when fire broke out in a building at 132 Meridian st., East Boston. Damage was estimated at $5000.

STOCKS STRONG AT CLOSE

New York, Jan. 15—Speculative markets moved up strongly in active dealings today with shares on the New York Stock Exchange showing gains of $1 to more than $6 a share.

Stocks closed strong with transfers for the full session approximating 3,500,00 shares.

U. S. Governments edged further along the path of recovery, adding from 1-32 to 8-32s of a point on a moderate turnover. Treasury 3s, 3¼s, 3¾s and 4s had the larger gains. Liberty loans were up from 1-32 to 4-32s of a point.

The financial district was not altogether taken by surprise so far as the President's major recommendations were concerned. The $2,000,000,000 exchange equalization fund, however, had not been generally forecast.

Cotton rallied around a dollar a bale and Wheat at Chicago was up 2 cents or so a bushel.

Meanwhile, Sterling exchange in New York had a maximum advance of about 4 cents to $5.12.

London, Jan. 15 (INS)—President Roosevelt's message on gold nationalization and dollar devaluation was followed by a sharp decline in the value of American currency in post-market tradings here today.

In final transactions, the dollar was quoted at $5.15 to the pound after opening at $5.10¾. The pound closed at $5.12 on Montreal and 81½ francs on Paris.

BOY IS BURNED BATTLING FIRE

Fire started by a candle used to light a dark cellar—where oil was stored—swept the store and tenement building at 132 Meridian st., East Boston, today, causing $5000 loss. Two alarms were sounded, one person was burned on arms and legs, and several driven out.

Leibo Giordino, 17, employe of the United Bedding Co., on the first floor, took a candle into the cellar, he told investigators, and its flame ignited something which spread to two barrels of fuel oil.

Courageously he tried to fight the flames and was burned on arms and legs. Occupants of the Central Beauty Parlor on the second floor, and Abramo Nigro, owner of the building, who lived there, fled.

In an adjoining building, which was threatened, Joseph Fingerman arose from a sick bed to carry to safety his son, Samuel, 6, who was ill with whooping cough. Mrs. Fingerman and two daughters, Lena and Annie, quit their apartment, and police were sent in to rescue a trunk which Mrs. Fingerman said contained $400.

Senate Group Backs Farm Bonds 9 to 3

Washington, Jan. 15 (AP)—The administration bill to guarantee the principal as well as interest on farm mortgage bonds was approved today by the Senate banking committee by 9 to 3.

2 BILLIONS IN PROFITS FOR VALUE FIXING

Federal Reserve to Get Paper for Metal in Vaults

Complete Text of Gold Message on Page 7

By George R. Holmes
International News Service Staff Correspondent

Washington, Jan. 15 (INS) — President Roosevelt today asked Congress for specific authority to take over in the name of the government all gold monetary stocks, to revalue the dollar at between 50 and 60 cents, and to set up in the Treasury what amounts to a $2,000,000,000 stabilization fund, to be operated for the maintenance of national credit "and the general welfare of the United States."

The two billion dollar fund would be provided by the profits automatically accruing through revaluing the impounded gold at a higher price than the $20.67 per ounce, which is now the statutory price. Within a few moments after the message was read the price of gold was placed at 34.45 an ounce.

The estimated profit to the treasury in this operation, based upon a 60-cent dollar, would be approximately $3,200,000,000.

The President's message sought legislative title to the $3,500,000,000 of Federal Reserve Bank gold with provisions for payment in gold certificates — warehouse receipts on gold dollars in the Treasury.

His message made clear the intention to proceed with "commodity dollar" plans, envisioning a flexible dollar ranging—as compared with the present statutory

Continued on Page 2, Column 1

Today's American

AUSTEN LAKE 15
BETTY ALDEN 8
BILL CORUM 17
BRIDGE, by Mrs. Culbertson 14
CHARLES H. TOWNE 9
CLASSIFIED 13
COMICS 21
CROSSWORD PUZZLE ... 21
DRAMA AND SCREEN ... 11
EDGAR A. GUEST 22
EDITORIAL 22
EDWIN C. HILL 22
ELSIE ROBINSON 22
EMBROIDERY PATTERN 21
FINANCIAL 18, 19
"FOURTH DEGREE" 14
GEORGE HOLLAND 7
JAMES T. WILLIAMS, JR. 22
LOUELLA PARSONS 14
MARCH OF EVENTS 9
MARTHA LEE 10
O. O. McINTYRE 22
PRIZE RECIPES 18
ROBERT E. ROGERS 9
RADIO NEWS 7
SKIPPY 13
SPORTS 15, 16, 17
SOCIETY 6

ROOSEVELT ASKS POWER TO NATIONALIZE GOLD SUPPLY

2 BILLION FUND URGED FOR USE IN STABILIZATION

World Conditions Make It Undesirable to Fix Exact Currency Value, President Tells Congress

Continued From First Page

gold content—at between 50 and 60 cents.

BILL INTRODUCED

A bill, carrying out the President's proposal for seizure of all gold in the Federal Reserve banks, was introduced by Senator Connally (D.) of Texas, a few minutes after the message was read.

It provided that, upon proclamation of the President, each Federal Reserve bank must deliver all gold coin and gold bullion to the Treasury. The banks would receive gold Treasury notes equal in value to the value of the gold prior to the proclamation. Thereafter, the gold certificates could be redeemed at the Treasury in gold bars or gold bullion at the value of the new gold dollar, as fixed by the President.

President Roosevelt also issued three executive orders revising the government's regulation over foreign exchange transactions and extending the license policy to individuals as well as to banks.

It was pointed out at the White House that revaluation at 60 cents does not constitute rigid stabilization of the dollar in terms of foreign currencies.

Instead there is to be established a 10-cent leeway, as between the 50 per cent devaluation provided in the Thomas amendment and 60-cent valuation requested today. In one sense, the dollar is to be stabilized within that range, and its principal benefit, from the administration's viewpoint, is that it will permit business to lay future plans accordingly. Business men can now make future commitments with a feeling of assurance that the dollar's fluctuation will be within that 10 per cent range.

Mr. Roosevelt reminded the Congress that under the existing law (the Thomas Amendment) he has the power, by executive act, to devalue the dollar down to 50 per cent of its gold content, but the importance of this could be and prompted him to ask that Congress make the authority specific rather than permissive.

HOUR HAS STRUCK

"With the establishment of this permanent policy, placing all monetary gold in the ownership of the government as a bullion base for its currency," he said, "the time has come for a more certain determination of the gold value of the American dollar.

"Because of world uncertainties, I do not believe it desirable in the public interest that an exact value be now fixed. The President is authorized by present legislation to fix the lower limit of permissible revaluation at 50 per cent.

"Careful study leads me to believe that revaluation at more than 60 per cent of the present statutory value would not be in the public interest, and, therefore, recommend to the Congress that it fix the upper limit of permissible revaluation at 60 per cent.

"That we may be further prepared to bring some greater degree of stability to foreign exchanges rate in the interests of our people, there should be added to the present power of the Secretary of the Treasury to buy and sell gold at home and abroad, express power to deal in foreign exchange as such. As a part of this power I suggest that, out of the profits of any devaluation, there should be set up a fund of two billion dollars for such purchases and sales of gold, foreign exchange, and government securities as the regulation of the currency, the maintenance of the credit of the government, and the general welfare of the United States may require."

Mr. Roosevelt said it was the intention to keep the impounded gold in bullion form in the treasury. Circulation of gold coins, he held, is unnecessary and leads to hoarding, and to weakening of the federal financial structure in times of emergency. The only real necessity for transfer of gold from one individual to another, or from one country to another, he said, was for settlement of international balances.

The President made no specific recommendations concerning the increased use of silver as a monetary basis. He reminded Congress that the silver agreement reached in London last summer was now in process trial, and that if it works out satisfactorily "there will be a marked increase in the use and value of silver."

The President said he desired two principles:

THAT THE NATIONAL currency "must be maintained as a sound currency, insofar as possible," and that it will have "a fairly constant standard of purchasing power."

THAT THE GOVERNMENT has an "inherent right to issue currency and be the sole custodian and owner of the base or reserve of precious metals underlying that currency."

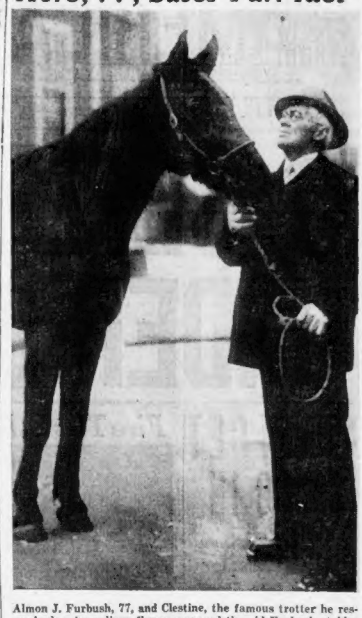
LIKE BRITISH FUND

There was a hint in the message that Mr. Roosevelt is possibly anticipating some world move for a better distribution of gold stocks. At one point he said:

"The title to all gold being in the government, the total stock will serve as a permanent and fixed metallic reserve which will change in amount only so far as necessary for the settlement of international balances or as may be required by a fture agreement among the nations of the world for a redistribution of the world stock of monetary gold."

The additional powers asked for the secretary of the treasury to buy and sell gold, deal in foreign exchange and government securities, through the $2 billion dollar fund set up, contemplates a device virtually parallel to the British stabilization fund.

Hero, 77, Saves Turf Idol



Almon J. Furbush, 77, and Clestine, the famous trotter he rescued when incendiary flames menaced the old Furbush stables in Nantasket ave., Brighton, early today. Police are seeking a firebug for three Brighton fires that imperilled lives. Furbush is a veteran racing driver. (Boston American photo.)

Frary Seeks German Visa to Dine With Ex-Kaiser

New York, Jan. 15 (INS)—Willie Frary—excuse it—Baron Wilhelm Pheobald Frary-Von Blomberg, was in town today trying to arrange to go to Germany. A full-fledged Irish-American, born at Lynn, Mass., 26 years ago, he applied today at the German consulate here for a visa.

But it was the first time a German baron, and that's what William Frary's become since his recent adoption, ever had presented an American passport to a German consulate, and the matter had to be applied to Washington, and thence probably to Berlin, Baron Frary-Von Blomberg was informed.

So he's going back to Boston tonight or tomorrow to await developments. As soon as he can, he wishes to sail because arrangements already are being made for him to dine with his fifth cousin, the ex-Kaiser of Germany.

Also, he must attend to his new duties, for the Baroness Adelhard Von Blomberg, 70, adopted him to carry on the title and take care of the ancestral state at Weimar.

The last of the family, she decided she wanted a son to perpetuate the name, and formally adopted Frary. The adoption makes him a fifth cousin of the Kaiser and a first cousin of General Werner Von Blomberg, commander-in-chief of the German army under Hitler.

"Are you a pacifist?" the new baron was asked today.

"I think so—that is, yes," he replied.

"If you were in Germany, in time of war, would you be a conscientious objector?"

"That would depend upon the reason for war," the Baron replied. "War usually can be avoided."

"Are you going to say anything to Hitler about how you feel."

"No," he replied, without smiling. "I shall keep quiet about the matter."

ROTHERMERE IS FOR FASCISTS

London, Jan. 15 (AP)—The London Daily Mail came out strongly today for adoption of Fascism in Great Britain.

A three-column editorial by Lord Rothermere lauded the methods of Mussolini and Hitler.

"Hurrah for the Blackshirts," glared a three-column headline.

The editorial lashed at the "half-hearted sentimental policy" of the old parties, and made an appeal to the youth of England to support Sir Oswald Mosley and his Blackshirts.

Lord Rothermere's creed of Fascism had hitherto been regarded as more or less of a joke by the general public.

"The Blackshirts proclaim the fact, which the old politicians will never face," the editorial read, "that the new age requires new methods and new men.'

Glass Says No Need to Steal

Washington, Jan. 15 (AP)—Two pithy comments on President Roosevelt's money moves today:

Senator Glass (D-Va.): "Humanitarians can find some excuse for a man who steals when he has to, but what excuse is there when there is no need?"

Senator Hastings (R-Del.): Robbery."

Machine Gun Holdup In Philadelphia Bank

Philadelphia, Jan. 15 (AP)—Robbers armed with a sub-machine gun held up the 60th and Ludlow st. branch of the Corn Exchange National Bank and Trust Co. in West Philadelphia today and escaped with about $10,000.

High Police Probe Sober Girl's Arrest as Drunk

In the center of much mystery, a pretty Lynn girl of 18, stood today while considerable agitation ran through the Boston police department and high officials began an investigation into strange circumstances surrounding her arrest.

Only through her own insistence and much against the desires of Charlestown police did the girl go into court on a drunkenness charge, and then, with the case already started, the arresting officer suddenly asked for a continuance.

Meanwhile Sergt. John V. Miller, who had refused to book the girl on the charge last night at Charlestown station, was waiting in the courtroom to testify for her against his own officer, Patrolman Henry M. King.

While it was not brought out in court, one police official declared that the investigation begun by Capt. Harry Grace of Charlestown station and Deputy Supt. John M. Anderson of headquarters would involve a claim by the girl that the drunkenness charge was brought when she resisted Patrolman King's advances.

REFUSES TO BOOK HER

The girl, giving her name as Miss Helen Everett and her address as Grant st., Lynn, was arrested last night by King at Chelsea and Wapping sts., Charlestown.

According to the policeman he had stopped her for questioning, she started to run away and he chased and caught her.

When Patrolman King took her into the station and he wanted her booked for drunkenness, Sergt. Miller demurred, declaring the girl was not drunk and showed no signs of having been drinking.

King then insisted that she be booked, and this time the sergeant flatly refused to book her. When the sergeant went off duty, however, the arresting officer succeeded in having someone book her, and she was sent to the House of Detention and placed in charge of Matron A. G. Rowell.

Some time later word came to the house of detention from the station to release the girl on her signing of a waiver of any claim for false arrest. The girl refused, however, declaring she was not drunk and that she intended to see that justice was done.

Several times during the night similar attempts to persuade her to leave were made, it was learned, but she was obdurate.

Patrolman King's hurried request for a continuance was made when Judge Sullivan, suspecting that this was not a routine case, halted proceedings to send for Capt. Grace, and when Capt. Grace arrived. Deputy Supt. Anderson was sent for and he went to court with a stenographer to take statements from all parties.

Judge Sullivan continued the case until Wednesday, saying he had no other alternative.

JAPS GRABBING U. S. TRADE IN SO. AMERICA

Under-Selling Causes Big Loss in Exports, Including Textiles

By KINGSBURY SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

Copyright, 1934, International News Service

Washington, Jan. 15 (INS)—An intensive drive by Japan to capture the Central and South American markets from the United States is underway, it was learned today.

This drive already has resulted in a serious loss of trade to American exporters, especially in the Central American nation of Cuba, Haiti, Panama and the West Indies.

Although Japan's export trade with South America increased by more than 14,000,000 yen in the first 10 months of 1933 over the same period the previous year, it is in Central America that the United States has been hit most by Japanese competition.

By underselling American goods as much as 50 per cent, Japan is virtually forcing the Yankee trader out of these markets. Japanese exports to Central America increased by more than 8,000,000 yen during the first 10 months of 1933 over the same period in 1932.

The situation has reached such alarming proportions that confidential reports on Japanese competition have been submitted to the State and Commerce Departments.

Declaring the Japanese are selling their goods in Cuba at 50 per cent below the world market price, the report reveals that California sardine exporters, who have had a virtual monopoly on the Cuban market, are faced with complete loss of it while the situation regarding other American exports is "alarming."

"In the field of textiles," the report says, "Japanese competition has shown its most remarkable development and is causing alarm to the American textile manufacturers.

"Dealers state Japan secured a very large share of the market in plain rayon goods in 1933 and during the first half of 1933. It is believed the Japanese are maintaining this control."

122 MILLION OF GOLD BOUGHT

Washington, Jan. 15 (INS)—Gold purchases by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation abroad have amounted to a little less than $100,000,000, while domestic purchases have been $22,898,735, Chairman Jesse H. Jones announced today.

It was revealed that an extra $50,000,000 in RFC debentures had been authorized for gold purchases, bringing the total to $150,000,000.

Jones did not anticipate that gold would be purchased above the $50,000,000 authorization.

Dollar Devaluation O. K. if Tests End, Says Sprague

Washington, Jan. 15 (AP)—O. M. W. Sprague told the House coinage committee today that devaluation of the dollar could have a "desirable" permanent effect only if it were coupled with a clear understanding that there would be no more monetary "experiments."

The witness, now a professor at Harvard, resigned a few weeks ago as special assistant to the Secretary of the Treasury in protest against the administration's monetary policy.

France's revaluation of the franc, Sprague argued, was "not to bring about an increase in prices but to maintain the level that then obtained, which is a very different thing."

"Public works expenditures, civil relief expenditures, may have the effect of impeding absorption of unemployed in private industry," he said.

"It does not seem to me that proper consideration has been given in the recovery program to the problem of arriving at a point at which emergency expenditures no longer will be necessary."

American devaluation to 50 per cent, he predicted, would be "much more disturbing" than by France because it would be out of line with present price levels.

"The direct effect, domestically, must be pretty small," he said. "You and I do not have more money in our pockets. Our bank balances are not increased.

"The only considerable increase in purchasing power will be that accruing to the government because of that three to four billion dollar windfall."

"If this experiment is to be followed by other experiments in the event it does not bring higher prices," he testified, "it will not get that strengthened confidence which is one of the factors, although not the only factor, required for a resumption of business activity along normal lines."

Mayor Greets Churchmen

MAYOR MANSFIELD BISHOP LAWRENCE BISHOP SHERRILL

Bishop Henry Knox Sherrill and Bishop-emeritus William Lawrence of the Episcopal diocese paid a courtesy visit to Mayor Mansfield at City Hall today. Their call was in return to one paid by the mayor soon after he took office. (Boston American photo.)

4 SAFE-ROBBERS BIND WORKER

A dishwasher who blundered into a burglary at the Athens Olympia cafe, 51 Stuart st., today, was beaten and tied up by four thugs and left struggling in his bonds for 4½ hours after the quartet escaped with $600 stolen from a safe they cracked.

James Galinos, 68, of Willow st., South End, was found by Hugh Callahan, an iceman, rolling on the floor, his hands and feet bound, shouting for help.

He said that when he arrived at the cafe on the second floor he found the door open, and, walking in, was seized, struck in the face and knocked down, then tied and seated on a chair, his back to the cashier's cage.

2 BISHOPS CALL ON MANSFIELD

Bishop Henry Knox Sherrill of the Episcopal Diocese of Massachusetts, and Bishop William Lawrence today paid a courtesy visit to Mayor Mansfield at City Hall.

The call was in return for one the mayor paid on Bishop Sherrill shortly after his inauguration. He had planned a similar visit to Bishop Lawrence, but did not find him at his residence.

While the mayor enjoyed a rather lengthy conversation with the two prelates, State Sen. Owen A. Gallagher of Dorchester took the oath of office as municipal street commissioner. It was administered by Asst. City Clerk John B. Hyne.

So. End Hotel Asks Writ to Stop Strike

An injunction was asked today in Superior Court by the Lincoln Hotel Co., operating at 1631-1713 Washington st., South End, against Local 34, of the Hotel and Restaurant Employes and Beverage Dispensers Union to enjoin them from continuing a strike there.

The Lincoln Hotel Co., which operates a tap room under the name of Langham's Tap, also asks the respondents be restrained from conspiring to compel the hotel to adopt a closed shop policy, and to employ only union men.

JAP NAVY CHIEF IN SUSPENSE

Tokio, Jan. 15 (AP)—Vice-Admiral Nobumasa Suetsugu said today he did not know whether he had been quoted correctly in an interview attributed to him in the Gendai monthly magazine last week.

The magazine quoted the admiral, commander of the Japanese navy's combined fleets, as saying that Japan must prepare and is preparing to defend herself against what appears to be "America's policy of hostility encircling Japan by every possible means."

In response to a query from the Japanese naval officer, Admiral Suetsugu said:

"I have not read this interview and I do not know whether it has stated my views accurately," he said.

U. S BACKING OF BONDS URGED

Washington, Jan. 15 (AP)—Bill providing for an issue of three per cent bonds of the Federal Home Owners' Loan Corporation, with federal guarantee of both principal and interest, was introduced today by Representative Condon (D) R. I.

The bill provides that the present issue of four per cent bonds remain guaranteed only as to principal, under the present law. Several bills, including one by Representative Mahoney, (D., Ct.), have been introduced to guarantee the principal of the four per cent bonds.

Representative Condon's bill would authorize the exchange of the four per cents for three per cent guaranteed bonds after five years.

Weeks' Re-election as Mayor Cost $7518

It cost the Newton Public Official Re-election Committee $7518.75 to re-elect Sinclair Weeks as mayor of Newton last November. Weeks paid $1200. Charles Hatfield, Republican boss, treasurer of Middlesex County, gave $500. Reports were filed in Newton today.

Weeks' principal opponent Thomas W. White, had a White Volunteer Political Committee to spend $2461.56, of which White was checked for $395.25. Three others who also ran returned the following: Paul Harris Drake, $179.85; Walter A. Hodgdon, $42.00; Frank H. Sullivan, nothing.

ELY TO CONFER WITH ICKES ON BONDS

Public Works Issue of 22 Million Will Be Settled

Gov. Ely leaves tonight for Washington to confer with Secretary of the Interior Ickes on the best method of selling state bonds in connection with the $22,000,000 public works program.

Fearful that the Government will sell State bonds taken on such projects and that the rate of interest will eventually be higher than what Massachusetts would have to pay if she sold them to interests other than the government, the legislature is considering making such issues non-negotiable.

It is for the purpose of discovering whether such a reservation will be acceptable to the government that Gov. Ely is making the trip to Washington. Another aspect of the problem is whether the government, under such state restriction, would continue to contribute 30 per cent of the cost of the projects.

In explaining the purpose of his trip, the Governor over the phone from Westfield today said that he is asking Rep. Albert F. Bigelow of Brookline, chairman of the house ways and means committee, to accompany him. The Governor expects to be in Boston on Wednesday.

Apparently, for the present at least, the controversy between the Governor and Frank A. Brooks of Watertown, former chairman of the state parole board, has quieted down.

Brooks said today that he has "had his say" and that there would be nothing more from his "at this time." That was his answer when he was specifically asked if he intended to make public the names of lawyers, friends of the Governor, who were working a "pardon racket."

Gov. Ely intimated that he might have something more to say when he gets back from Washington.

Wednesday Set as Gold Return Day

Washington, Jan. 15 (AP)—The U. S. Treasury today set Wednesday night as another deadline for return of gold to the Treasury. Deliveries will be paid for at the mint price of $20.67 and not at the new price named for newly-mined gold.

Gold illegally held would be seized and the owners subject to a penalty equal to twice its value under the tentative bill submitted to Congress by President Roosevelt to carry out his program.

There is ale and ale. Learn where to find quality. Ask for what you want. Insist on getting it.

PICKWICK ALE

Bottled and on Draught

HAFFENREFFER & CO., Inc. • Boston, Mass. • BREWERS SINCE 1870

GILCHRIST'S CASH and CARRY BASEMENT

Tuesday at 9 Sharp

Bought From Men's Clothing Store Rutland, Vermont

Small Stock 246 Garments 2 and 3 Year Old Styles

Men's Overcoats Suits and Topcoats

24 Men's Suits $3
31 Men's Topcoats ...
27 Men's Overcoats ..

44 Men's Suits $8
25 Men's Overcoats

30 Men Suits $5
12 Men's Old Style Suits $1

Bargains for Boys

19 Boys' 3 Piece Suits... $2
10 Boys' 3 Piece Suits.... $1

24 Boys' Overcoats.... $2

NO MAIL OR PHONE ORDERS

GARBO LINKED WITH CRASH OF GILBERT-BRUCE ROMANCE

SCREEN COUPLE KEEP SILENT ON SPLIT

Gossip Blames Return of Gilbert to Garbo Standard

Hollywood, Jan. 15—Blase Hollywood, home of every type of sensation, was literally rocked on its foundations today when it learned that the fourth marital venture of John Gilbert, known the world over as the screen's "greatest lover" has gone on the rocks.

And Hollywood, used to days and days of gossip and hearsay with every dish, beautiful and titian-haired Virginia Bruce packed up her baby, bags and baggage, and went home to mother

SEPARATION—NOT DIVORCE

The revelation, which staggered the movie colony more than the sensational secret love bared by Poli Negri for the great Valentino when she arrived in California on the train which bore the actor's body home, was all the more surprising because not an inkling of difficulties in the palatial Gilbert home in Beverly Hills had even been hinted.

Everyone from the stars down to lowly stage hands pointed at the Gilbert romance as the "ideal" marriage. The big house was pointed out as Hollywood's happiest home. But Mrs. Gilbert, interviewed at the North Hollywood home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Briggs, admitted the separation. She said:

"Yes, it is true. Jack and I have separated. I am going to stay here with my mother and father. I do not contemplate any divorce action immediately. Jack and I could not agree on several things."

But Hollywood, ever up to form, began to listen to wagging tongues which hinted at another woman.

ENTER THE GARBO

Gilbert, the dashing cavalier, has been co-starring with the great Garbo, hasn't he? And everything was alright in the Gilbert home until then, wasn't it? Thus ran the stories like wildfire, but Gilbert, for once shunning the egotlight which is said to have brought him millions of dollars, declined to answer. In fact he kept himself discreetly out of sight in the big mansion.

Even Mrs. Gilbert was noncommittal along that line. She neither admitted nor denied that there might be another woman in the case.

"We just couldn't agree on some things," she emphasized. I still think Jack is grand and I hope it all turns out for the best. I haven't anything more to say."

And Hollywood has to be content with that—for the time being.

POSSE TO HUNT PRETTY NURSE

Dropping from sight almost under the eyes of a Providence man who escorted her to her home at Franklin st., Wrentham, Mary McCarty, beautiful 21-year-old nurse, today became the object of a statewide search by officer who fear she may have met with foul play.

The girl, who is described as an exceptionally beautiful brunette, disappeared shortly after midnight Sunday after the Providence man, whose identity is guarded, saw her enter the door of her home after attending a theater with him.

The disappearance, according to Chief of Police Perley Dexter, did not come to light until Sunday evening, when the Providence man again called at the house, saying he had an appointment with the girl. Mrs. Mary McCarty, the girl's mother, then discovered her daughter's bed had not been slept in.

Plainly worried by the disappearance, Dexter said he would head a large posse to search near-by Lake Pearl stream and woods which are close to the McCarty home.

MISSING GIRL IS BACK AS BRIDE

East Weymouth, Jan. 15—Missing since a week ago Friday, 21-year-old Eva Ferris today walked into her parents' home in Broad st. to announce that she was now Mrs. Andrew Coombs, Jr.

She had eloped, she said, with Coombs, who is 22 and lives in Providence, but whom she met while he was installing machinery in the American Woolen Co. plant here. He had frequented a restaurant in which she worked during the noon hour. And it was a case of love over a slice of pie.

The couple made a honeymoon trip to Maryland and returned here today for the blessings of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Ferris. They got them.

Split Rocks Film Colony

What was ranked as Hollywood's Ideal Couple, following the separation of Mary Pickford and Douglas Fairbanks, is no longer, following the separation of John Gilbert, famed screen lover, and the former Virginia Bruce, his wife. They parted yesterday with Virginia returning to her parents and all Hollywood blaming the separation on the return to the Garbo standard of husband John. (International News photos.)

EX-OFFICER ON TRIAL IN THEFT

Daniel T. Burke, former Boston policeman, went on trial today in Superior court before Judge John M. Gibbs and a jury, charged with breaking and entering the offices of the Boston Terminal Co. at the South Station and stealing $23,941.

After the jury had been selected, Asst. Dist.-Atty. Daniel Gillen requested that the jury be locked up during the trial, but Judge Gibbs took no immediate action on the request.

The assistant district attorney then asked that the jurors be taken to the scene, and a visit was made to the South Station for an inspection of the Boston Terminal Co. offices.

Smoking of Hashish Stirs U. S. Experts

Washington, Jan. 15 (AP)—Federal experts today are eyeing with sharp attention what they believe is an increasing use in the United States of a smoking drug known in the Orient for centuries as hashish.

In this country it is known as cannabis and is obtainable from a weed common to nearly every state. While comparatively new here, its Asiatic history is as old as that of opium.

"A dimly conscious and pleasurable drowsiness," is the way addicts have described to narcotic experts the sensation of smoking cannabis. Afterward, however, they say a feeling of regret and physical discomfort sets in similar to that which follows alcoholic intoxication.

Reichstag Burner Buried at Leipzig

Leipzig, Germany, Jan. 15 (INS)—In the presence of a few officials and relatives, the body of Marinus Van Der Lubbe was buried unceremoniously today in a cemetery in the southern part of the city.

The young Dutch radical, executed for setting the famous Reichstag fire last February, was buried here despite protests of his family and of the Dutch Government.

'HOT DOGS' OUT ON HER MENU

Salem, Jan. 15—Many wives would consider themselves very fortunate indeed to have a husband who never would feed them "hot dogs" but not so Mrs. Charlotte Guillette, because Mrs. Guillette testified today in divorce court that her husband not only refused to feed her "hot dogs" but fed her nothing.

The husband, Alfred Joseph Guillette, was a "hot dog" maker when she married, she said.

She sued him for cruel and abusive treatment and failing to provide, testified she married after a courtship of only six months and that it took but one month to disillusion her.

Judge Edward O'Brien took the petition under advisement.

Don't Be Deceived by Today's Sun

Today's sun is but an interlude between storms said the weatherman, who forecast a light snowfall tonight or tomorrow, with temperature in the low 20s. The remains of yesterday's treacherously wet snow, which froze to form an ice layer on the streets, caused many accidents of a minor nature today.

Last night motorists using the Newburyport turnpike abandoned their cars, it was so slippery.

Paris Wheat Parley Seeks Higher Price

Paris, Jan. 15 (AP)—A drive to increase wheat consumption in an effort to stabilize the price at a higher level, was begun today by a sub-committee of the International Wheat Advisory Committee, meeting in the offices of the ministry of agriculture.

The committee will report to the full commission in London, Jan. 29.

Lloyd Steere, United States agricultural attache at Berlin, was present at the meeting as an observer.

1,000,000 Face Sterility Under New Nazi Law

Berlin, Jan. 15 (US)—More than 200,000 women and at least 200,000 men are ear-marked for sterilization in Germany, the newspaper Voelischer Becbachter has disclosed.

The paper said the cost of sterilization would approximate $5 each for men and $12 for women, but quoted Prof. Friedrich Buigdoerfer as stating:

"Germany will be saved a billion marks annually once hereditary diseases are eradicated."

The newspaper announced that immediately following sterilization of persons suffering from serious incurable diseases, a nation-wide "hereditary biological census" will be taken to round up "persons hidden in the masses who, often unknown to themselves, are afflicted."

Prof. Lothar Tirals, who teaches racial hygiene at Munich University, declared sterilization is the only means through which Germany can be saved from "certain downfall." He said:

"Progeny of inferiors must cease, while the growth of healthy beings must be furthered."

BARTLETT ASKS ALIBIS OF 3 ON CWA MIXUP

Finds 1050 Hired for School Work; Only 450 Authorized

Joseph W. Bartlett, generalissimo of all CWA activities in Massachusetts, today summoned three of the men who are directing much of the work in Boston to his office to demand explanations why 1050 men were hired for school house projects, when only 450 had been authorized, and why the work week was cut from five to four days.

Those who retired behind closed doors to do the explaining are William W. Drummey, Boston superintendent of school house inspection; Walter V. McCarthy, director of the municipal welfare department, and M. J. McCartin, head of the local federal re-employment agency.

It w as understood in well-informed circles that Drummey would point out he was forced to order his formen to put workers on a four-day week in order to make available funds last until Feb. 16, as required.

McCarthy and McCartin, who supply the workers for all CWA jobs, however, gave no indication of their defense for alloting an extra 600 men to the schoolhouse projects.

PROBERS ASSIGNED

Meanwhile, Louis Glavis, chief investigator for the Department of the Interior, was busy assigning his men to various phases of the probe into alleged CWA irregularities in this part of the state.

Of prime interest to the Teapot Dame oil lease exposer were the forged work cards found in the possession of CWA workers in the Boston public library, at City Hospital, on municipal public works department jobs and other projects in and near Boston.

Everett L. Hanna, superintendent of the CWA employment agency at 100 Nashua st., whose name was forged to the cards, said today that while the cards obviously were genuine federal forms, they had not been taken from his office.

THEFT SUSPECTED

They must have been stolen from the printer or from the office of Mr. Bartlet, he said, because all cards are put through a serial numbering machine as soon as they are received in the Nashua st. office. The forged cards were numbered with a rubber stamp, he said.

While he was disclaiming any knowledge of reports that the forged cards had been distributed by political office holders, 75 men, who had j ust been discharged from CWA jobs at City Hospital, entered to protest their summary dismissal.

Investigation quickly revealed they had described themselves as skilled workers, but had been unable to make good that claim, according to those in charge. They were told that, under the circumstances, nothing could be done for them.

STATE STERILE BILL TILT DUE

Hearings on two legislature measures—one proposed legalization of sterilization, the other to restrict the use of poisons—will pack committee session rooms at the State House tomorrow and may necessitate opening Gardner auditorium.

The sterilization measure is advocated by Rep. Harold Cole of Taunton, and would apply to insane persons, the feeble-minded and the epileptic.

It os expected to meet with a storm of protest from religious, medical, social and civic organizations, and at the same time draw backers from the same groups. This hearing will be before the legislative committee on public welfare at 10:30 in Room 448.

The committee on public health will hear Rep. Samuel Eisenstadt's proposal to restrict drastically sale of poisons. It was filed as an aftermath of the Costello case in Peabody, where Fire Capt. William Costello was said to have died of potassium cyanide. His wife, Jessie, was acquitted, although it was shown she had purchased the poison to clean a boiler.

GIRL IS ROBBED OF PAYROLL

A thief today snatched a pocketbook, containing $146, from Mrs. Anna Bloom, of 81 Strathmore rd., Brighton, a bookkeeper for the International Shoe Shan Co., as he passed her on the second landing of the firm's plant at 115 Albany st., South End.

Mrs. Bloom had just returned from the First National Bank, where she obtained the money as part of the firm's payroll. She described the thief as a man about 30, 5 feet 8 inches, and weighing about 150 pounds. He wore a blue suit and a brown hat, she said.

STERILE FRAUD CHARGES ARE RESENTED

Mich. School Chiefs Deny Trickery Won Parents' Consent

Detroit, Jan. 15 (US)—At the Wayne County Training School, Northville, storm center of Michigan's sterilization controversy, vigorous denial is made of charges of fraud and trickery in obtaining consent of parents of inmates to sterilization of their children.

Attaches resent the picture drawn by Auditor H. Williams of Detroit in calling for an investigation by the board of auditors, because they feel these charges paint the institution as eagerly, without reason, grasping the opportunity of sterilizing boys and girls in its custody.

Dr. Robert H. Haskell, medical superintendent of the training school, declared:

"We wish persons to bring their children to the training school as freely as they would to a hospital. Because of that we have had just as little recourse to formality or the law as possible. In the interests of the institution we have found it best not to use all of the rights given us by law."

Under the Michigan sterilization law Dr. Haskell would be acting within his rights to apply to probate court for a sterilization order without first going to the parents for consent. This, however, he states, never has been done.

Appointed by Lehman

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 15 (INS)—Dr. Solomon Lowenstein has been appointed by Gov. Lehman to the state temporary emergency relief administration to succeed William Hodson, now commissioner of public welfare of New York City.

Frisky Colt Kills Debutante

Tragedy has claimed Elizabeth (Betty) Bryant Bigelow, Concord society girl, as the second member of the Harvard scientist's family to meet sudden death. A blow on the head from a frisky colt on the estate of Charles Francis Adams snuffed out her life. Her brother was killed in a Mt. Washington slide two years ago. (Boston American photo.)

BETTY BIGELOW MET DEATH BY COLT'S BLOW

Deb Is Killed When a Horse Suddenly Hits Her Head

A blow on the head by the nose of a frisky colt she was trying to pet yesterday caused the death of Miss Elizabeth Perkins Bigelow, of Boston and Concord, daughter of Prof. Henry B. Bigelow, of the Harvard faculty, on the Charles Francis Adams estate in Lincoln.

Thomas B. Adams, the 26-year-old girl's companion, had just turned his back when the nervous horse struck the girl with a sudden toss of the head, causing a cerebral hemorrhage that proved fatal before a doctor could reach her side. Adams told the police:

"I looked around suddenly, and Miss Bigelow was on the ground. She got to her knees, saying, 'I'm all right, Tom,' and then collapsed again."

Miss Bigelow never regained consciousness after the second collapse, according to Medical Examiner Henry J. Walcott.

The girl's death is the second tragedy to strike the family of Prof. Henry B. Bigelow. Two years ago he lost his son, Henry B. Bigelow, Jr., who was killed while on a hike on Mt. Washington. A giant boulder, to which the lad had been clinging, suddenly gave way, carrying him to his death in a deep ravine.

Funeral arrangements are incomplete, but members of the Bigelow family said the last rites will probably be held in the crematory chapel of the Mt. Auburn cemetery, in Cambridge, tomorrow.

83rd JORDAN MARSH COMPANY 83rd

BIRTHDAY SALE OF CONFIDENCE

NEW ENGLAND'S GREATEST VALUE-GIVING ACHIEVEMENT

A Remarkable New Birthday Sale Feature

Irish Linen DAMASK TABLECLOTHS

REGULARLY $6.50

72x90 INCHES

$4.70

OTHER SIZES

72x72 inches.....Reg. $5.00 $3.70

72x108 inches.....Reg. $8.00 $5.70

22 inch Napkins, doz... Reg. $6.50 $4.70

At this value-giving Birthday Sale price, we expect these beautiful, snowy white linen cloths to be sold out in 48 hours! Four lovely patterns, including chrysanthemum and rose. The prices tell their own story of the substantial Birthday Sale savings!

Regular $9.00 (72x90-inch) Damask Tablecloths, $5.95

15,000 yds Irish Linen Glass and Dish Toweling

5 yards $1.00 regularly 29c yd.

5 yards $1.50 regularly 39c yd.

5 yards $1.75 regularly 45c yd.

MAIL OR PHONE ORDERS FILLED—CALL HUBbard 2700

FOURTH FLOOR—MAIN STORE

DR. WYNEKOOP INSISTS SHE LOVED RHETA

By ALICE L. WYNEKOOP, M. D.
Copyright, 1934, by Universal Service and the Boston Evening American.

Chicago, Jan. 15—I face today—the momentous day on which I am to be tried for the murder of my daughter-in-law, Rheta—with a feeling of expectancy.

Expectancy you know is the opposite of dread. I am supremely confident of vindication after all testimony has been given.

In the tranquility of this prison cell I have formulated my defense. I know, of course, that the "burden of proof" lies upon the state. I am not satisfied, however, to remain a mute witness.

I have informed my attorneys that it is my intention to take the witness stand, explain away the statement which the state calls my "confession," and tell the truth (in so-far as I know it), about this terrible crime.

DESPERATE FOR REST

I will now tell, for the first time, why I made the so-called confession, about which the state is so exultant.

I made it because I thought it was the thing to do. I could no longer stand the mental torture of the police. Knowing my heart as I do—high blood pressure—I was in fear for my life.

They held out many promises if I would "talk." That is the term they used. They kept repeating: "Doctor, why don't you 'talk'?"

I asked them what they meant by "talk."

"You know what we mean; we want a confession." They replied.

A confession that I had killed Rheta, whom I loved as intensely as one of my own children.

Failing to exact an admission of guilt, they introduced a machine, not human, of course, and, perhaps, not inhuman. It is the polygraph otherwise known as the "lie detector."

Fortunately the gentleman who was to operate the machine discovered that I was suffering from high blood pressure, and he refused to subject me to the test.

All through the night, and into the day they worked on me. Some that had left late at night, returned, refreshed by sleep, and replaced others who were exhausted by their efforts.

At last, shortly before noon, they made a proposal to which I succumbed.

"Doctor," they stated, "maybe it was an accident; maybe you didn't intend murder. We'll let you rest if you 'talk.'"

REST, that was the alluring word for which I awaited so long. REST, in my precarious condition, spelled LIFE to me. I did not know it meant prison.

I bought the word—at what price, my physical appearance is answer.

I have repudiated the statements I made to the police.

The state, I am told, has disclosed that it has little information regarding Rheta's life in my home—her home.

There was not and there is not now any mystery about that. Nothing to conceal. Rheta was the wife of my youngest child, Earle. They say I had and have an inordinate affection for Earle. That is not true.

The jury and the public will learn for the first time, when it testify, why Earle required certain special consideration, that story I will not tell until I take the witness stand.

RHETA WAS VIOLINIST

I shall show how everything was done for the welfare of Rheta. The dear girl was a brilliant musician; a virtuoso of the violin. It was for her principal interest since the death in March, 1933, of my daughter, Mary.

Rheta seldom left the house. She became morose. She confided to me all of her thoughts, I was both mother and physician to her.

When I take the witness stand I shall be brave. I do not fear the crowds, and certainly I shall not appeal to them for sympathy. I doubt if I will display emotion. I know I shall not be disconcerted.

SMART LESLEY SCHOOL AFIRE

Pupils of Cambridge's smart Lesley School for Girls got a thrill when they went to classes this Blue Monday morning. The firemen were there ahead of them.

Any hopes for a holiday, however, were short-lived. The fire was confined to the kindergarten room, which is in the rear of the school proper at 29 Everett st.

The blaze, which was discovered by James Downes, school fireman, and George Bisbee, janitor, was attributed to an overheated flue. Damage was slight.

Annisquam Mutual F. I. Co. Suspended

Because Insurance Commissioner Merton L. Brown declared today in Supreme Court that further operation of the Annisquam Mutual Fire Insurance Co. of Lynn would be hazardous to the public, its policy holders and creditors, Judge Charles H. Donahue issued an injunction temporarily restraining the company from doing any business except to collect money due.

Asst.-Atty.-Gen. John L. Hurley representing Commissioner Brown, told the court that an examination of the books of the company disclosed a condition which in his opinion is unsound.

Her Death Near Solution

The mys.ery of the murder of Maybelle Matheson, in a West Roxbury field in 1927, was, according to police, near solution today. Capt. Stephen J. Flaherty, head of the Police Bureau of Criminal Identification, and Inspector Robert McGeough, were on the way today to the town in Nova Scotia, where Miss Matheson was born and buried, to grill a suspect.

St. Matthew's Party

A whist and bridge party in aid of St. Matthew's Church and school will be held in the school hall, Norfolk and Darlington sts., Dorcester, tonight. Mrs. Edward G. McAllister and Mrs. Daniel Hennessey are in charge.

Girl Dies at Altar

Elizabeth Shaumann, 12, of Winchendon, collapsed at the altar rail in the chapel at the Academy of the Assumption, Wellesley, as she was waiting to receive Holy Communion, stricken with a fatal heart attack.

10,000 OPEN RELIEF DRIVE

Continued from First Page

declared in a formal announcement of the drive's aims and purposes.

"As never before, he said, Metropolitan Bosto... folk, irrespective of financial circumstances, have pledged themselves to assist, to the best of their resources, the drive to aid distressed thousands of their fellow citizens.

Society women, business firms, professional men, political organizations, labor unions, theatrical people, churches and school children, all have rallied to the campaign slogan, "Be Glad You Can (Give)," Charles Parley asserted.

...LL EXPECTED TO GIVE

He re-emphasized, in his statement today, the conviction of Emergency Campaign leaders that success of the drive was vitally essential to recovery of the community—is dependent upon the willingness of persons of moderate means to do their part, however small, toward putting some neighbors less lucky than themselves, back upon his feet economically, physically, or spiritually.

First on the official campaign-opening program today were to be exercises on Boston Common featured by artillery salute of 21 guns, a parade of airplanes bearing Emergency Cmpaign banners, demonstrations by Boy and Girl Scouts.

Campaign announcements were to be broadcast by radio as well as by a dozen sound-trucks touring Greater Boston streets. Factory whistles and the ringing of bells and chimes were to notify waiting campaign workers. 10,000 of whom have been tentatively registered, were buckling down to their varied jobs.

Martin Insult Loses Battle for Release

Toronto, Jan. 15 (AP)—Martin J. Insull, former Chicago utilities operator, was jailed today when Justice Charles Garrow denied a motion to free him from custody. Previously he had been at liberty on $10,000 bail.

Insull now stands under order of extradition to Cook County, Illinois, to face trial on charges of larceny and embezzlement involving loans growing out of the collapse of Mid-West Utilities.

Blast Injures 16 in Army Post Cafe

Fort Knox, Ky., Jan. 15—Sixteen persons were injured here when a dynamite bomb explosion partially wrecked a lunch room at the edge of the Fort Knox military reservation. Most of the injured were customers. None was seriously hurt.

BRITAIN MOVES IN ASIA WAR

Singapore, Jan. 15 (INS)—Vice-Admiral Frederic Charles Dreyer, a lord commissioner of the admiralty and deputy chief of the British naval staff, arrived here today aboard the cruiser Kent for a series of important discussions regarding British defenses in the Far East.

Admiral Dreyer was accompanied by the British China seas fleet, and plunged into immediate talks with local defense chiefs in preparation for the forthcoming Imperial Naval Conference, to be held here.

Singapore is to be strengthened considerably and established as a "Gibraltar of the East," as a result of increasing tension in the Orient.

LIQUOR YIELDS $269,000 TAX

On the basis of payments already made, the December state tax on alcoholic beverages, due Jan. 10, will approximate $269,000, Tax Commissioner Henry F. Long reported today.

If this amount about $151,000 will come from hard liquors, $9,000 from wines and $109,000 from beers.

The commissioner pointed out that November was the last full month in which 3.2 beer was sold exclusively. In that month the beer tax of $1 a barrel yielded $14,753.

The tax on hard liquor is 40 cents a gallon and wine 10 cents a gallon.

Approximately 338 persons and firms have been licensed.

The gasoline tax for December, at the rate of 3 cents a gallon, when the final payments are made, will be $1,211,108, the commissioner estimates. This is the smallest December return, except that of December 1929, and is laid to the number of cars out of commission during the extremely cold weather.

For the calendar year 1933 the gasoline tax yielded $16,645,622 which is $160,176 less than that from this source in the previous twelve months.

Pneumonia Fatal

Meriden, Ct., Jan. 15—John M. Harmon, 77, factory manager for the International Silver Co., is dead of pneumonia at his home here. He leaves his son, Dudley Harmon of Boston, executive secretary of the New England Council, and two daughters.

Dr. Wynekoop Wrices Under Death Demand

Continued From First Page

which had been greased and tested, for her undoing.

Dougherty presented a chronological account of the murder mystery from the time police were called to the family home at 9:55 p.m. last Nov. 24, and were led by Dr. Wynekoop to the basement surgical room where lay the victim's body.

BULLET THROUGH HEART

He said the defendant was calm when police arrived, that the evidence denied any theory of suicide or murder by a robber or prowler, that the evidence pointed to the elderly physician, and to her alone.

Every scrap of evidence in the Wynekoop mansion—Rheta's outer garments laying at her feet, her body clothed in silk chemise, folded down to the waist, a metal laying under a cloth nearby, a towel soaked with a liquid that appeared to be chloroform, a blanket carefully tucked about the body—was reviewed by the prosecutor.

He dealt at length with a bullet wound through Rheta's heart and with scientific evidence that chloroform had been administered to her.

When the undertaker arrived to remove the body, the jury was told, the body was cold and rigor mortis had set in.

After recounting the circumstances of Earle's courtship of Rheta and their marriage in 1929 the prosecutor said that since the marriage and until June, 1933, the entire expense of keeping up the household of which Earle and Rheta were a part was borne by Dr. Wynekoop and her husband, since deceased.

AN UNLOVED WIFE

In June, 1933, said Dougherty, there was a rift between Earle and Rheta, a fact which he said was known by the defendant. It was in June that Earle obtained a job as guard at a Century of Progress.

"From June to November 21, the day of the slaying" said the prosecutor, "Earle was at home little. During that time there was no relationship between Earle and Rheta as husband and wife, although Earle sometimes spent a night at his mother's home, where Rheta also lived."

Next the insurance motive, which the state contends, will be developed in proceedings leading up to the trial, was introduced.

"The state will show that the defendant was maintaining a home for which the entire expense fell upon her," said Dougherty. "The state will show that Dr. Wynekoop was the owner of the property and that there were three mortgage payments due upon that property, and that the defendant had declared herself unable to pay them.

"We will show that, despite their financial plight, the defendant asked an agent of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., to call and asked the agent the cost of a $10,000 double indemnity policy on the life of a young woman.

5 FAKE BURGLARIES

"We will show that the defendant sought this policy despite the fact that she was unable to meet the premiums on policies of $10,000 each which she carried on herself and Earle."

Insurance agents will tell how they never saw Rheta during negotiations for the policy, but gave the policy to the mother-in-law, who carried it upstairs for signature.

A doctor who rejected the girl as an insurance prospect will testify that Dr. Wynekoop, unsolicited, sent the results of a blood test to him, to prove that Rheta was a legitimate insurance risk, the prosecutor said.

"It will also be shown," he added, "that Dr. Wynekoop prepared for the theory of a crime committed by prowlers by telling friends three times her house had been burglarized, although never reporting the events to police."

Dr. Wynekoop's friend, Julia McCarthy, an insurance saleswoman, will testify as to the woman physician's anxiety to get the policy signed quickly, Dougherty said.

COURT SPURNS GRAVE FINE

Jurisprudence and its exercise have many problems, but it was established definitely today in Somerville court that you can't pay your fine with a receipt for your own grave, or for any grave.

Judge Sturtevant had imposed a fine on a Somerville man arraigned for drunkenness, when the defendant spoke up and said:

"I haven't any money, so I'll pay my fine with this receipt."

"Hey?" queried Judge Sturtevant. "What kind of a receipt?"

"It's a receipt for my grave," answered the defendant. "I bought a grave for $10 and I've got a receipt here."

"Well, we don't take receipts here. You can't cash that in this court."

Everything was ironed out, however, when a friend stepped up and paid the $5 fine imposed.

YOUNG HOOVER FORESAW QUIZ

Pasadena, Cal., Jan. 15 (AP)—More than three years ago Herbert Hoover, Jr., son of the former President, anticipated the likelihood of an attack upon the circumstances of an air mail contract award because of his connection as a technician with an air mail carrier.

This was disclosed in his answer to the questionnaire of a United States Senate Committee investigating the award of mail contracts, and it showed he had offered to resign to prevent talk.

Hoover's name had been brought in because of his employment as radio engineer with the Western Air Express.

He heard of the possibility of talk about his position and the air mail contracts in 1930.

He said he was told "A man named Haliburton was stating that I was using my relationships to promote airmail contracts." He said he had no part in or knowledge of that end of the business, but as the statements were intended to damage his father he sent in his resignation.

The company refused his resignation, he said, granting him instead a leave of absence of a year. Recently he returned.

JARDINE HITS WIFE'S CONDUCT

The purchase of a grave in Hillsboro, P. E. I., by William J. Jardine, 70, was of little interest to Judge John C Leggat of Middlesex Probate Court, who is hearing evidence to determine whether the 27-year-old Mrs. Cora Mae Jardine's separate support suit should be heard in Middlesex county or in Prince Edward Island.

"I am only interested in your intention to live there and not die there," Judge Leggat commented.

His wife's conduct in St. Petersburg, Fla., during the winter of 1931 swayed him from his intention to build a home on Alewife Brook parkway, Arlington, Jardine said.

"After that winter in St. Petersburg I made up my mind that I wanted to live in the country," he testified.

Mrs. Gordan Stearns of Medford testified that both Mr. and Mrs. Jardine had expressed the intention of living on the island.

WORK MORE, EARN MORE, SPEND MORE IN 1934

Knifing May Rip Veil Off Matheson Killer

Continued From First Page

long search or a breath-taking, fiction-like ending—solution, just another in the series of wild goose chases—this major development in a case in which official and public interest has never lagged is considered so sound that it took Capt. Stephen J. Flaherty, head of the bureau of criminal investigation, and Inspector Robert McGeough out of Boston on a secret mission Saturday afternoon.

Attack on Wife Links Scott's Name

A long and a short train trip and an auto ride will bring them sometime tomorrow into the snowbound village of Barrington, N. S., down on the tip of Cape Sable.

To question, and possibly to arrest, a man named Hilton N. Scott, Scott is 28. In the seven years o' tireless effort to bring Maybelle Matheson's slayer to justice, his name never before entered the case.

But Scott's wife lies in the hospital at Yarmouth, her throat cut in a brutal effort to silence her, because the suspicions she fought down within herself during all those years broke through the blanket of suppression at last, and she flung a charge of murder in her husband's face.

He knew Maybelle Matheson here, and his wife knew her, worked with her. There is much more, circumstantially, of importance.

Frank C. McLean, Boston Evening American police reporter is with the detectives and from him the story will come.

And it will be known whether the threads of mystery and the threads of human interest, interwoven in this crime from the very start, have followed, as Medical Examiner Timothy Leary always maintained, the pattern of threading on an iron bolt.

A bolt such as is embedded sometimes in cement blocks as an anchor stay.

Royal Mounted Police Give First Clue

A weapon such as was used to crush the skull of the girl from Nova Scotia.

The first features of the facts unearthed concerning Scott's possible role as the slayer, as they have been gathered by the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, are these:

On the date of the murder, Jan. 21, 1927 (precisely at 5:50 p. m.), Hilton N. Scott and his wife were living at 205 Florence st., Roslindale, not far from the home of Maybelle Matheson, who resided with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Angus MacRitchie, at 333 Baker st., West Roxbury.

The Scotts and Maybelle were friendly and exchanged visits and sometimes attended socials together.

Mrs. Scott was employed at the Armstrong Mills, Lagrange and Center sts., West Roxbury, where Maybelle also worked.

Scott was employed as a cement mixer at the Simbroco Cement Block Co., on Baker st., just a short distance from Maybelle's home and almost directly across the street from the vacant lot, in the shadow of old St. Theresa Church, where her body was found.

Death Tale Told on Yarmouth Hospital Cot

The Scotts, like Maybelle, were natives of the province and sometime after the murder they went back to Nova Scotia to live at Barrington.

And there, last week, Mrs. Scott's throat was slashed, she was rushed to the hospital at Yarmouth and when able to talk to police she told them her husband attacked her because she accused him of having killed Maybelle, and of philandering with other girls.

Scott was arrested but not informed of what his wife had said regarding the slaying, and he is now out on bail. His case is expected to come before the grand jury shortly.

This information Boston police checked, and a swift investigation here resulted in disclosure of these interlocking facts:

Scott walked to and from his work, as did Maybelle, and their paths often crossed.

Mrs. Scott was not present at these meetings because when she left the same mill as Maybelle she walked homeward in the opposite direction. The Simbroco Cement Block Co. is located between the mill and the house that was Maybelle's home.

And in the Simbroco Cement Block Co., where Scott mixed the cement, there were in use, at hand, iron bolts threaded to a measurement matching thread impressions left in the murder victim's skull by three brutal blows.

It is conceivable that a man might try to kill his wife if he were insanely aroused by an unwarranted accusation of murder, police admitted.

Yet the very brutality of Scott's attack upon his wife, and her explanation of the motive for it, constitute one reason why authorities believe that here, at last, is something tangible to work with. They have been chasing shadows before.

So does Mrs. Scott's charge that he was interested in other girls. For it has always been a foremost police theory, always lacking any support in evidence (except the inference of Dr. Leary's finding that Maybelle never had a love affair) found a unrequited passion was motive for the crime.

The frenzied brutality with which the murder was done indicated it.

And in this connection police placed unusual significance in their statement that Scott was friendly with Maybelle, that he met her, by chance or design, an many occasions, while both were on their way to and from work, or when Maybelle passed the Simbroco plant. In other words that he had opportunity to become enamored of her.

The significance of that is amplified by one extremely important clue turned up at the time of the murder—indicating that she was on friendly terms with her slayer until a few moments before the crime.

The time of death was established by a watch which was torn from her wrist either during a struggle or when her body was dragged deeper into the lot from the spot where the killing occurred. The watch had stopped at 5:50. Yet Maybelle left the mill at 5:15 and should, without having stopped en route, been home by 5:30, or close to it.

Did she meet Scott that night and did they stop at the edge of the field to talk and did he make advances which she repulsed?

Not until the following day did police and schoolboys find Maybelle's body—across Baker st., a few hundred feet from the plant where Scott worked.

Coat Covered Wounds on Battered Head

Her coat had been pulled over her head. On her head were the wounds that caused her death, made, according to Dr. Leary, by the threaded end of an iron bolt or bar.

Of the type and the size and the threading of the bolts in use at the plant where Scott worked.

The measurements of the thread impressions in the wounds are still in the medical examiner's possession. So is a threaded iron bolt found about 75 feet from the body, about two months after the killing.

In the light of the drama soon to be enacted at Barrington, an opinion given by Dr. Leary three days after his autopsy is of particular interest, and is to the possession of the detectives now en route to question Scott.

The pathologist constructed that the slayer was considerably taller than his victim, who was only five feet two; that he was a man of more than average strength, right handed; that he wore his finger nails long enough to leave their impression in the girl's throat.

Storm Halts Police on Trip to Home

Maybelle Matheson was the attractive, stocky type of girl the provinces send into the United States by the thousands. Despite her height, she weighed about 140 pounds, sturdy and strong.

The Boston officers had expected to reach Barrington today, but a snowstorm has set their schedule back and they will not get into Digby until early tomorrow. Scott is understood to be under surveillance by the mounted police who are expected to hold him for grilling if he tries to leave town.

At the Simbroco plant, Scott is recalled as an industrious, quiet type by Leo Benson, assistant superintendent. The plant records show Scott began work there in 1925 and remained until 1931, four years after the murder.

Time cards of the murder day have been destroyed but a payroll book shows Scott was at the plant for 9½ hours on the fateful day: he left, as did almost all of the men, if he reported at 7:30 he was through at 5.

Benson said nearly all employes of the plant used as a short cut a path across the vacant field where the girl was killed.

Scott's record of employment immediately following the crime is anything but that of a guilty man whose conscience was bothering him. He worked on Saturday, the day the body was discovered, and for three months did not miss a day.

He was unmarried when he began work at Simbroco's and the records do not show his marriage. He lived, in the beginning, in Ridgewood st., Roslindale.

The MacRitchies moved only day after Christmas from their home in Baker st., returning to Aberdeen, N. S., where they now live with Maybelle's father. The uncle suffered a back injury which forced him to retire from work. Two years ago he moved from the vicinity but later returned to live in the same house.

Fin. Com. Seeks Watch Dog for Boston's Treasury

The Finance Commission has recommended that the city charter be changed to make provision for the election of a controller as watch dog of the treasury.

This, by the commission's own designation, is the most important of many proposals for charter changes made by the "Fin Com" to the Boston Charter Commission now studying the city's needs under legislative authority. The recommendations were made Nov. 1 but not made public until today.

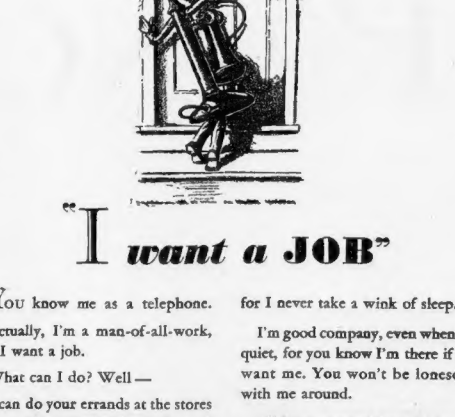
Independence of the mayor, the council and the school committee are necessary in a controller and Boston should have one elected by the people every four years, the commission said.

Other changes recommended were:

Two-year term for mayor, with a primary to select two candidates and the mayor permitted to succeed himself.

Abolition of the present city council of 22 members and establishment of a 9-member council serving two years and chosen by primary.

Primary election of school committee and enlargement of the present 5-member committee to seven or nine members, if unpaid, or reduction in membership to three, devoting all their time to the job, if paid.



"I want a JOB"

You know me as a telephone. Actually, I'm a man-of-all-work, and I want a job.

What can I do? Well—

I can do your errands at the stores for groceries, household supplies, and all kinds of little items.

I can guard your home against emergencies.

I can help protect the children.

I can be a good night watchman, for I never take a wink of sleep.

I'm good company, even when I'm quiet, for you know I'm there if you want me. You won't be lonesome with me around.

I'll bring more visitors to you.

I'll work for ten cents a day, or even less, and I know I'm worth that.

Give me a trial, and see if I don't make good.

Come in or call our Business Office today to ask about service. You can call us without charge from any Public Telephone.

NEW ENGLAND TELEPHONE AND TELEGRAPH COMPANY

$2 TO NEW YORK
Finest Coaches on the Road
Leave 309 Tremont St., at Broadway, Daily
9 A.M.—1 P.M.—10 P.M.—12 Midnight
Tickets Sold at All Bus. HANcock 7207
HUB MOTOR COACH LINE, Inc.
Take TREMONT ST. SUBWAY to Park St. and Get Off at BROADWAY.

This is the PLATFORM, these are the PRINCIPLES

WHAT'S IN A NAME? A great industry has just been reborn. And we realize that a great responsibility —and a great opportunity lies before us.

Schenley is a comparatively new name to millions of people. Under that name, we are now marketing many different brands of products. And we plan to add to the list from time to time.

> And this will be our platform: Always to place the full facts about our products squarely before the American people. Never to exaggerate. If anything, we will lean backwards in our claims.

Americans appreciate frankness—and we propose to take the public into our confidence. We propose at all times to give a frank statement of fact about the products which are under the protection of the name Schenley.

We dedicate our sincerity and resources to continue to build a fine name for Schenley, for we propose to hold the name Schenley high on the honor roll of respected names in American industry.

To our thousands of employees in New York, Kentucky, Pennsylvania, Indiana, and to our representatives here and abroad, this is the platform and these are the principles that will guide our relationship with the American public.

For we know that upon the integrity of our employees and representatives rests the good will of the public.

• • •

But we also know that the sincerity of our purpose can be reflected only in the honest quality of our products. And so, plans are now under way for the formation of the Schenley Research Institute, which will safeguard and maintain the high standards of quality of our products. Scientists will be members of its board . . . and we will be guided by their scientific findings.

We realize that only time can prove our sincerity. And we realize that only your experience can determine our measure of devotion to quality.

Grover A. Whalen

GROVER A. WHALEN
Chairman of the Board

Schenley

Affiliated Corporations

GENERAL OFFICES
20 West 40th Street, New York

BRANCH OFFICES
BOSTON · SPRINGFIELD · CLEVELAND · MINNEAPOLIS · NEW ORLEANS · DENVER · LOS ANGELES · SAN FRANCISCO · CINCINNATI · ST. LOUIS · LOUISVILLE · CHICAGO

PLANTS IN NEW YORK, PENNSYLVANIA, KENTUCKY, INDIANA

Schenley Distillers Corporation · Schenley Products Company · Joseph S. Finch and Company · Jas. E. Pepper & Company · The Melvale Distillery Company
Eastern Distillers Syndicate, Inc. · The John T. Barbee Company · The Geo. T. Stagg Company · The Old Quaker Company · The Gibson Distilling Company
Schenley Wine and Spirit Import Corporation · The Monticello Distillery Company · The Sam Thompson Distillery Company
The A. B. Blanton Small Tub Distilling Company · The Greenbrier Distilling Company · Napa Valley Wine & Brandy Co., Inc.

Copyright, 1934, Schenley Distillers Corp.

MANY CHANGES IN VOTE LAWS PROPOSED

Centering of supervisory and administration powers of primary and election laws in the hands of the State Ballot Law Commission is recommended in a report, filed with the Legislature today by a special commission, which made a long study of voting evils.

Other urgent changes advocated were:

That the corrupt practices act be strengthened.

That voters be re-registered in an effort to weed out those not eligible to be on the lists.

That voting machines be installed when more money is available for public expenditures.

That the practice of counting votes in towns, prior to the close of the polls, be prohibited.

That responsibility be placed for the genuineness of signatures on nomination papers.

LIMIT EXPENSES

That, for the purpose of checking campaign expenses, candidates be placed under the same restrictions as now apply to political committees, limiting the purposes for which they may spend money, but not placing a limit on the amount.

That election officers must be enrolled members of the party they are appointed to represent.

That members of elected political committees assume office and organize in June following their election in April, instead of the following January 1, as at present.

The commission consisted of Senator Angier L. Goodwin of Melrose, Reps. George H. Dale of Watertown, Joseph A. Milano of Melrose, Joseph E. Hurley of Boston, Prof. Arthur N. Holcombe of Cambridge, Francis Prescott of Grafton and Joseph A. Maynard of Boston.

Maynard is chairman of the Democratic state committee and Prescott is a former chairman of the Republican state committee.

URGE CENTRAL AGENCY

The commission voiced the unanimous opinion that there are ample and sufficiently effective laws on the statute books to assure the integrity of the ballot and the protection of the public and candidates, and that what is needed is a centralized agency, charged with the duty of supervising the laws with full powers to exact enforcement.

In its study the commission found that the principal supervisory authorities at present are the Governor and council, the state ballot law commission, secretary of state, the courts, and the attorney-general.

Beauties Pine for N. Y. 'Johns' in Lonesome Hollywood

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

Hollywood, Jan. 15 (US)—Broadway's cutest cuties with the long eyelashes and fascinating dimples brought to Hollywood to appear in Buddy De Sylva's "Bottoms Up" and "George White's Scandals" and other musicals, admit they miss their New York stage door Johnnies.

A vote taken among two dozen Broadway show girls indicates that they prefer their New York boy friends to the western men.

"In New York," said one girl, "you can at least send them a trinket of some kind when you go out with a man. But here in Hollywood they just say 'good night.'"

BEAUTY EVERYWHERE

Hollywood is simply surfeited with loveliness. Walk into any Hollywood restaurant and you will see beauty that will absolutely dazzle you. Walk into any night club and sitting at a adjacent table or dancing you will see one of the modern versions of the Venus de Milo.

What has happened? Oh, haven't you heard?

George White has brought his "Scandals" to Hollywood and Earl Carroll will import his girls from the "Vanities." The chorus girls with the perfect figures are no longer bidding for attention on Broadway. They are here in Hollywood trying their wiles on movieland.

Not long ago at a party I attended, George White brought four girls who were his idea of perfect symmetry and beauty. All of the four were blonde and all of the four were fascinated with their view of Hollywood night life, which was anything but wild because the party happened to be held in an exclusive private home.

But there were these four ladies of the chorus meeting face to face that would rival our Hollywood queens. Dorothy Dell and Alice Faye, two ex-Broadway beauties, were among the guests, and Mr. White gave himself rather a large order. But he proved he had a right to boast that he knows beauty when he brought to the party Peggy Moseley, Hilda Knight, Lois Eckhart and Eunice Coleman.

Two other George White beauties who have been seen here and there in Hollywood are Barbara Pepper and Mary Lang. Space just won't permit our mentioning all of these cuties, but take it from me, Hollywood will never be the same if these girls decide to trek back to Broadway and their stage door Johnnies.

BARBARA PEPPER PEGGY LANG

Hollywood will never be the same when George White takes his "Scandals" charmers back to Broadway. When "Bottoms Up" and the Appolo maestro's film are completed the beauties will trek to New York for they prefer big-hearted gentlemen to Hollywood's "good-nighters." And Peggy Lang and Barbara Pepper will be among the exportees.

TODAY
Continued From First Page

read this will also read the advertisement:

"New York to San Francisco, by Diesel engine plane, $15, meals not included. Flying time, 10 hours."

Around the world trips will take entire schools and their faculties, and the flying will be done in huge ships, flying and remaining six miles up above storms and clouds, dropping passengers at their various destinations and taking on passengers, on small planes, the big ship landing rarely, for repairs only.

What men can imagine, they can do, and that is easy to imagine.

Waiting for this train at the Trenton, N. J., station, a "fruit express" freight train, thousands of feet long, comes roaring and hammering over the rails, at slow speed for these days, high speed for a long freight train.

Thousands of wheels pound the rails and the roadbed, wasteful friction everywhere, grinding, bumping, hammering, braking.

And for such slow travel, the fruit must be picked before it is ripe. You who read will see fruit picked ripe in Florida, California, Texas, Oregon, one day, delivered in New York or Chicago the next day by giant freight, all-metal dirigibles. Gas lighter than air will lift the load above surface conditions. No costly right of way, no friction, perfect "road-bed," 25,000 miles wide, no front, rear or side end collisions, less cost for fuel than with fast surface freight, no gigantic investment, or crippling taxes for thousands of miles of railroad tracks. The air is free, untaxed, and does not wear out.

Copyright, 1934, King Features Synd., Inc.

BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN
"New England's Greatest Evening Newspaper"

Entered as second class matter at the Postoffice at Boston, Mass., under the Act of March 3, 1879, also at the Postoffice Department, Canada.

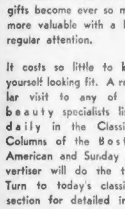
Published daily except Sunday and Holidays, 8 Winthrop Square, Boston 9, Mass., by NEW ENGLAND NEWSPAPER PUBLISHING COMPANY.

Subscription by mail, postpaid, one month, 50c; three months, $1.50; six months, $3; one year, $6. Boston Postal District, 75c month. Dominion rates include postage in the United States, Porto Rico, Philippines, Cuba, Hawaii, Alaska, Mexico, Canal Zone, Canada. Mail subscription payable strictly in advance. States to foreign countries, one month, $1, six months, $4, one year, $12.

The Boston Evening American assumes no financial responsibility for typographical errors in advertisements, but will reprint that part of an advertisement in which the typographical errors occur. Advertisers will please notify the management immediately of any error which may occur.

MEMBERS ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for republication of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited to this paper, and also the local news published therein. All rights of republication of special dispatches herein are also reserved.

How Beautiful!



That's because, long ago, she learned that Nature's gifts become ever so much more valuable with a little regular attention.

It costs so little to keep yourself looking fit. A regular visit to any of the beauty specialists listed daily in the Classified Columns of the Boston American and Sunday Advertiser will do the trick. Turn to today's classified section for detailed information about the following beauty specialists:

VANITY FAIR BEAUTY SALON
8 Winter St., Room 710

MOLLIE RAPPORT
125 Tremont St., Room 310

HARRY'S BEAUTY SALON
453 Washington St., Room 817

ANNETTE'S
8 Winter St., Room 910

STUDLEY BEAUTY
125 Tremont St., Room 503

HUB BEAUTY
161 Mass. Ave., Room 209

"Read for Profit
Use for Results"

AMERICAN-ADVERTISER
Want Ads

3 HURT IN FIRE; YOUTH HELD

Three Natick firemen were seriously hurt today when a wall in a burning schoolhouse building collapsed, and a few hours later Charles E. Duval, 22-year-old town farm inmate, stood in Framingham District Court and was held in $2000 in two counts of incendiarism.

Duval was connected with setting the $6000 blaze in the Coolidge Junior high school where the firemen were injured early today, and he was blamed for the $2000 fire in the Oak Grove school on Jan. 7.

Police said that they thought Duval responsible for at least five fires, all in the South Main st. district, within the past three weeks.

Duval, a wanderer, who entered the welfare lists here about two years ago, will go to trial next Saturday.

The injured fire fighters are:

Hanna, Thomas, internal injuries and burns.

Brennan, Edward C., deputy chief, burns.

Graham, Brendon, cuts and severe burns.

All three were rushed to the Leonard Morse Hospital where Hanna's condition was said to be critical.

New Gold Value Urged by Fr. Coughlin

Detroit, Jan. 15—Declaring that he would "as soon live in Russia under the lash of Stalin as in America under the lash of Morgan," the Rev. Charles E. Coughlin has called upon his radio audience to write to their representatives in Congress demanding support of his program to revalue silver upon which to base $25,000,000 currency dollars.

Fr. Coughlin was replying to James P. Warburg, Wall Street banker and economic advisor to the American delegation at the London economic conference. Warburg had said in his open letter to the priest th "there is not enough gold and silver obtainable in the world" to carry out Fr. Coughlin's proposal for retirement of $19,000,000,000 of war bonds with currency, "unless the currency so issued is unsecured printing press currency."

OFFERS SOLUTION

Criticizing the Warburg idea because the plan for "monetarialism does not imply revaluation" the radio priest said that by revaluing the $4,500,000,000 worth of gold in the United States at $8,500,000,000, pricing silver at $1 an ounce instead of 44 cents and nationalizing both, it would be possible under the Federal Reserve law to issue $25,000,000,000 currency dollars.

"The bankers made the law," he said. "Let them abide by it."

He proposed that of this $25,000,000,000 in currency, $10,000,000,000 be used for retirement of war bonds.

ASKS MILLIONS TO WRITE

Father Coughlin said he hoped that 10,000,000 persons would write to their senators or congressmen demanding enactment of his program and declared that success would "make America a land of financial independence." He compared the present fight to the Revolution of 1776 "when a band of patriots dared to stand against foreign tyranta," and predicted that "the pen will prove mightier than the sword."

He said he had prepared a form letter which would be sent to all persons requesting it, to aid them in drafting their own communications to their representatives.

He credited Warburg with originating the "experimentation' criticism of the President's monetary policy, which, he said, had been "plagiarized" by other critics, and described the banker as the "spokesman for Wall Street" when Warburg said, last fall, he would "set about arousing the latent and inarticulate majority" of the American people against the administration's program.

MINERS' STRIKE SPREADING

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Jan. 15 (AP)—Industrial warfare gripped the northern anthracite region today as pickets bearing the standard of the United Anthracite Miners of Pennsylvania dotted the outposts of two score collieries, determined to force nearly 40,000 employed miners into idleness.

Seeking recognition for themselves and collapse of the rival union, the United Mine Workers of America, strike leaders saw the first fruits of their struggle for supremacy when miners of three Lehigh Valley coal company collieries declared a "holiday."

The action was construed as a safety measure, however, and not as a gesture of sympathy with the strikers' effort to paralyze production in the field.

Arrayed against the picket lines were 140 state policemen with orders to disperse mass demonstrations. The staff of hastily mobilized troopers was augmented by 40 other policemen who were deputized yesterday.

21 LIVES LOST IN INDIA QUAKE

Calcutta, Jan. 15 (AP)—At least 21 persons were killed and many were injured in a protracted earthquake which rocked all India today.

The wife and children of G. W. Brown, the British manager of the railway work shop, and the wife of the Indian district medical officer were killed in the collpase of Jamalpur Railway Station.

A message from Cawnpore said 300 houses collapsed there and 7000 others were cracked by the tremors, which lasted five minutes.

The principal mosque at Lucknow was damaged and slight damage was reported at Jubbulpore and Lahore.

Women and children were killed at Jamalpur, about 300 miles from Calcutta.

Eight persons were killed at Patna and nine at Gaya.

FEDERAL PLEAS MOUNT TO 50

Nearly 50 motions and demurrers, pleas in abatements, and other actions have been filed by defendants in the closed Federal National Bank chain case, it was learned at the Federal building today.

Counsel for Daniel C. Mullooney, former Federal president, who is held on eleven indictments, filed the major portion of these pleas, several of which were argued today before Judge Hugh D. McLellan in Federal court and taken under advisement.

Because of the numerous pleas it was indicated today that it will be impossible to start the general trial of the case for several weeks.

Special Asst. Atty. General Irving G. McCann and his staff are working overtime in the preparation of counter pleas.

Balbo Sails to New Post

Naples, Italy, Jan. 14 (AP)—General Italo Balbo sailed aboard a cruiser to take up his new post as governor of Libya.

Ex-Bostonian Dies

St. Petersburg, Fla., Jan. 15—Joshua Johnston, 58, formerly of Boston and New York, is dead at a hospital here, after

Unseen Bandit Gets Victim's Bankroll

Charles Bolton of Rich st., Waltham, attendant at a gasoline station at Arsenal and North Beacon sts., Watertown, went into the washroom to get some water today, he told police.

As he turned on the faucet, he felt something stick in his ribs, heard a voice say:

"Where's the money?"

"Right hand pocket," answered Bolton.

A hand removed $30.

That's all.

Business Leader Dies

North Adams, Jan. 15—Albert Francher, a North Adams business man for nearly 50 years, is dead at his home here.

WORK MORE, EARN MORE, SPEND MORE IN 1934

VERMONT TEST FOR ROOSEVELT

Montpelier, Vt., Jan. 15 (INS)—President Franklin D. Roosevelt's policies face tomorrow the first state-wide test since his election in 1932. Vermont is to elect a United States senator and a representative to fill her lone seat in the House. But the one issue is Roosevelt and Roosevelt policies. In his election in 1932 Mr. Roosevelt got 41 per cent of Vermont's vote.

If Harry Witters and Robert W. Ready, Democratic candidates for the Senate and House respectively obtain in the neighborhood of 41 per cent the administration will be more than satisfied.

If Senator Ernest W. Gibson and Charles A. Plumley, Republican candidates, overwhelm their opponents tomorrow, it will encourage the Republican opposition to the President in the Senate and House.

BRIDES... because they made themselves lovelier than other girls

Mrs. William Walsh, recent bride, of Richmond Hill, L. I.

Mrs. Richard McAdow, of New York City, a bride of last September

Hollywood's Beauty Secret wins again!

HERE is proof positive that the girl with a radiantly lovely complexion always wins in the game of hearts!

These two girls (now happy brides) realized how imperative a really lovely, soft, clear skin is. So they adopted Hollywood's complexion care.

As Mrs. Walsh puts it: "It's so significant to me that so many Hollywood actresses use Lux Toilet Soap that now I use it to keep my skin exquisitely lovely."

Mrs. McAdow says: "When the fascinating screen stars say that any girl can win greater loveliness with Lux Toilet Soap, I felt I owed it to myself to follow their advice. I'll never use any other beauty care."

The irresistible charm of a complexion that all men admire can be yours. Start today to use fragrant, white Lux Toilet Soap regularly. Prove to yourself how much lovelier you can be!

Jean Parker
lovely M. G. M. star, like 9 out of 10 other Hollywood stars, uses Lux Toilet Soap to keep her skin youthfully appealing. She says: "Lux Toilet Soap is magic for the skin! I use it faithfully, for it keeps my complexion exactly as I like it—velvety smooth, clear and fresh!"

Scientists Explain:
"Skin grows old-looking through the gradual loss of certain elements Nature puts in skin to keep it youthful. Gentle Lux Toilet Soap, so readily soluble, actually contains such precious elements—checks their loss from the skin."

For EVERY type of Skin
...dry...oily..."in-between"

FULL TEXT OF ROOSEVELT'S APPEAL FOR U. S. MONEY POWER

Washington, Jan. 15 (AP)—The text of President Roosevelt's monetary message to Congress follows:

"TO THE CONGRESS:

"In conformity with the progress we are making in restoring a fairer price level and with our purpose or arriving eventually at a less variable purchasing power for the dollar, I ask the Congress for certain additional legislation to improve our financial and monetary system.

"By making clear that we are establishing permanent metallic reserves in the possession and ownership of the federal government, we can organize a currency system which will be both sound and adequate.

"The issuance and control of the medium of exchange which we call 'money' is a high prerogative of government.

"It has been such for many centuries.

"Because they were scarce, because they could readily be subdivided and transported, gold and silver have been used for either money or as a basis of money which in themselves had only nominal intrinsic value.

"In pure theory, of course, a government could issue mere tokens to serve as money—tokens which would be accepted at their face value if it were certain that the amount of these tokens were permanently limited and confined to the total amount necessary for the daily cash needs of the community.

"Because this assurance could not always sufficiently be given, governments have found that reserves or bases of gold and silver behind their paper or token currency added stability to their financial systems.

"There is still much confusion of thought which prevents a worldwide agreement creating a uniform monetary policy.

"Many advocate gold as the sole basis of currency; others advocate silver; still others advocate both gold and silver whether as separate issues or on a basis of fixed ratio, or on a funded basis.

Free Circulation of Gold Is Unnecessary

"We hope that, despite present world confusion, events are leading to some future form of general agreement. The recent London agreement in regard to silver was a step, though only a step, in this direction.

"At this time we can usefully take a further step, which we hope will contribute to an ultimate world-wide solution.

"Certain lessons seem clear. For example, the free circulation of gold coins is unnecessary, leads to hoarding, and tends to a possible weakening of national financial structures in times of emergency.

"The practice of transferring gold from one individual to another or from the government to an individual within the nation not only unnecessary, but is in every way undesirable. The transfer of gold in bulk is essential only for the payment of international trade balances.

"Therefore it is a prudent step to vest in the government of a nation the title to and possession of all monetary gold within its boundaries and to keep that gold in the form of bullion rather than in coin.

"Because the safekeeping on this monetary basis rests with the government, we have already called in the gold which was in the possession of private individuals or corporations. There remains, however, a very large weight in gold bullion and coins which is still in the possession or control of the Federal Reserve banks.

"Although under existing law there is authority, by executive act, to take title to the gold in the possession or control of the reserve banks, this is a step of such importance that I prefer to ask the Congress by specific enactment to vest in the United States government title to all supplies of American-owned monetary gold, with provision for the payment therefore in gold certificates. These gold certificates will be, as now, secured at all times dollar for dollar by gold in the treasury—gold for each dollar of such weight and fineness as may be established from time to time.

"Such legislation places the right, title and ownership to our gold reserves in the government itself; it makes clear the government's ownership of any added dollar value of the country's stock of gold which would result from any decrease of the gold content of the dollar which may be made in the public interest.

World Conditions Bar Fixing Value of Dollar

"It would also, of course, with equal justice, cast upon the Government the loss of such dollar value if the public interest in the future should require an increase in the amount of gold designated as a dollar.

"The title to all gold being in the Government, the total stock will serve as a permanent and fixed metallic reserve, which will change in amount only so far as necessary for the settlement of international balances or may be required by a future agreement among the nations of the world for a redistribution of the world stock of monetary gold.

"With the establishment of this permanent policy, placing all monetary gold in the ownership of the government as a bullion base for its currency, the time has come for a more certain determination of the gold value of the American dollar. Because of world uncertainties, I do not believe it desirable in the public interest at an exact value be now fixed.

"The President is authorized by present legislation to fix the lower limit of permissible revaluation at 50 per cent.

"Careful study leads me to believe that any revaluation at more than 60 per cent of the present statutory value would not be in the public interest. I, therefore, recommend to the Congress that it fix the upper limit of permissible revaluation at 60 per cent.

"That we may be further prepared to bring some greater degree of stability to foreign exchanges rates in the interests of our people, there should be added to the present power of the Secretary of the Treasury to buy and sell gold at home and abroad, express power to deal in foreign exchange as such.

"As a part of this policy, I suggest that, out of the profits of any devaluation, there should be set up a fund of two billion dollars for such purchases and sales of gold, foreign exchange, and government securities as the regulation of currency, the maintenance of the credit of the government and the general welfare of the United States may require.

"Certain amendments of existing legislation, relating to the purchase and sale of gold and to other monetary matters, would add to the convenience of handling current problems in this field. The secretary of the treasury is prepared to submit information concerning such changes to the appropriate committees of the Congress.

"The foregoing recommendations relate chiefly to gold. The other principal precious metal—silver—has also been used from time immemorial as a metallic base for currencies as well as for actual currency itself.

"It is used as such by probably half the population of the world. It constitutes an important part of our own monetary structure. It is such a crucial factor in much of the world's international trade that cannot be neglected.

Nations Can Bring About Jumps in Silver Price

"On Dec. 21, 1933, I issued a proclamation providing for the coinage of our newly-mined silver and for increasing our reserve of silver bullion, thereby putting us among the first nations to carry out the silver agreements at the London conference.

"This agreement is distinctly a step in the right direction and we are proceeding to perform our part of it.

"All of the 66 nations agreed to refrain from melting or debasing their silver coins, to replace paper currency and denominations with silver coins and to refrain from legislation that would depreciate the value of silver in the world markets.

"Those nations producing large quantities of silver agreed to take specified amounts from their domestic production and those holding and using large quantities agreed to restrict the amount they would sell during the four years covered by the agreement.

"If all these undertakings are carried out by the governments concerned there will be a marked increase in the use and value of silver.

"Governments can well, as they have in the past, employ silver as a basis for currency, and I look for a greatly increased use.

"I am, however, withholding any recommendation to the Congress looking to further extension of the monetary use of silver, because I believe that we should gain more knowledge of the results of the London agreement and of our other monetary measures.

"Permit me once more to stress two principles. Our national currency must be maintained as a sound currency which, insofar as possible, will have a fairly constant standard of purchasing power and be adequate for the purposes of daily use and the establishment of credit.

The other principle is the inherent right of government to issue currency and to be the sole custodian and owner of the base reserve of precious metals underlying that currency. With this goes the prerogative of government to determine from time to time the extent and nature of the metallic reserve.

"I am confident that the nation will well realize the definite purpose of the government to maintain the credit of that government and, at the same time, to provide a sound medium of exchange which will serve the needs of our people.

FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT

Boston Reserve Bankers See Gold Held Here

Boston financial circles speculated today as to the manner in which Uncle Sam would "skim the cream off the milk," insofar as the profit accruing from dollar revaluation and seizure of gold held by the Federal Reserve Banks is concerned.

The Boston Federal Reserve Bank, serving the first district, which includes nearly all of New England, is reported to hold about $255,276,000 of in gold, valued at the old rate of $20.67 an ounce.

Not all of this is in the form of bullion. In fact, a good part of it is thought to be in the form of old gold certificates, which the Government has long since reclaimed from individuals.

Just how the gold holdings will be retrieved by the Treasury is hard to say, but informed opinion is that there will not be any important transfer by rail, truck or airplane of actual gold.

Rather is it thought that the Treasury will simply claim all metal as its own and then issue new gold dollars to the Federal Reserve Banks at the new rate.

In that way the holdings for this district would remain the same as far as dollar value is concerned. But the profit would be in Uncle Sam's Treasury.

Whatever gold coin or bullion is in the hands of the Boston Reserve Bank could either be shipped to Washington or held here for the account of the U. S. Government.

It is doubted by some financial observers that the Treasury will insist on physical possession of the gold, since it would be more logical to have the Boston bank simply earmark the gold for the Treasury's account.

This, in turn, would be paid for by issuing new gold-backed dollars at the revalue basis, between 50 and 60 cents.

In the case of old gold-backed dollars, representing a claim on actual gold held in the Treasury, it would only be necessary to inform the Federal Reserve Bank of Boston that the proceeds of revaluation had been claimed for the account of the U. S. Treasury.

This latter step would require nothing other than a bookkeeping process by which the Treasury issued to its own account the extra dollars which the higher gold price ounce will support.

As far as the man in the street is concerned nothing has happened today that was not accurately forecast in the progressive lifting of gold price by the RFC since last fall.

He knew the dollar was to be revalued and now it has happened.

President's Dollar Plan Unfair, Cries Rep. Luce

Washington, Jan. 15 (AP)—Representative Luce (R.) Mass., criticized sharply today the methods by which the president proposes to revalue the dollar and asserted the lending powers of the nation's banks would be lessened by at least $1,500,000,000 under his plan.

Luce, ranking Republican member of the house committee on banking and currency, objected particularly to payment of $20.67 an ounce to Americans for gold while paying foreigners $34.06 an ounce.

"There is no serious objection having the Government take over the gold in the Federal Reserve system," Luce said. "The important question is, shall the lending powers of the banks be lessened by at least 1500 million dollars?

"More important is what shall be paid for the gold. Simply wit: the requirement in that part of the constitution known as the bill of rights which says private property shall not be taken without 'just compensation.' At the present time we are paying Frenchmen, Englishmen and other foreigners $34.06 an ounce for gold. The President proposes to pay citizens of the United States $20.67 an ounce. Is that 'just compensation'?

Democratic comment was as follows:

Rep. Rankin, Mississippi: "If carried to its logical conclusion, it will do more to restore prosperity to the American people generally, and to the American farmers and home owners in particular, than everything else that has been done."

Rep. Kopplemann, Connecticut: "I find myself in a position to be able to follow the President's leadership easier than at any time since I took office."

Rep. Farley, Indiana: "In the main it is logical, correct and fair, and I am heartily in accord."

NEEDHAM URGES POLICE SCHOOL

Comm. of Public Safety Daniel Needham in an address at a luncheon of the Quincy Kiwanis Club today urged communities to establish police schools such as that operated by the state police, which requires a three-months' course.

Even veterans should be sent back every three or four years to refresh their memories, he said, intimating that traffic officers are prone to forget what they once knew about prime prevention.

"We are fighting criminals who use modern weapons and we must adopt the same plan," he said. "Rookies in the state police must go through a three-month training course before they are detailed to duty, and cities and towns must do likewise if they hope to cope successfully with crime.

"Every community also should install radio systems to take advantage of the broadcasts of the state police."

Catholic Dean Seized by Nazis

Lorsch-On-Rhine, Germany, Jan. 15 (INS)—The Rev. Fr. Heimstaft, a Catholic dean, was arrested today by Nazi officers on charges of making insulting remarks about state institutions.

SHOPPING WITH PRISCILLA PRICE

Dearest Anne:

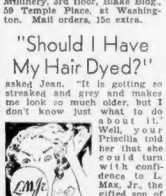
Take your Priscilla's advice and plan your shopping trip early this week—for the shops are simply outdoing themselves to give you real bargains and extraordinary values. First of all, let's talk about the new haizes—

It's "Off-the-Face" It's New! It's $1

and it's 1934's millinery sensation! You'll love the flattering way this hat frames your face—it's so refreshingly different than anything you have been wearing—yet it's a Fashion that's most becoming to everyone! It comes in that popular new straw fabric, Petit Point, in all the wanted colors, and headsizes. Best of all, it's only $1, at the Boston Wholesale Millinery, 3rd floor, Blake Bldg., 59 Temple Place, at Washington. Mail orders, 15c extra.

"Should I Have My Hair Dyed?"

asked Jean. "It is getting so streaked and grey and makes me look so much older, but I don't know just what to do about it."



Well, your Priscilla told her that she could turn with confidence to L. Max, Jr., the gifted son of a famous father, who will test her hair and tell her frankly whether or not she should have her hair dyed. For years and years the name, L. Max, Jr., has stood for the best in beauty culture and now the dyeing secrets of the father are the secrets of the son! Consultation free. Prices moderate. Ask about his "Personality Bob." L. Max, Jr., is at 145 Tremont St., 3rd floor. Tel. Devonshire 7060.

Superfluous Hair

need no longer be considered an affliction, modern science has made its removal painless and permanent. Physicians, and hundreds of clients whom Miss Mollie Rapport has made happy, endorse her expert work with the electrolis needle. She is expert with both the single and multiple electric needles. No charge for consultation. Miss Rapport is also a teacher of Electrolysis. Mollie Rapport is at 126 Tremont St., Room 310. Tel. Hancock 7286.

Elastic Stockings

If you suffer with stiff knees, swollen legs and ankles or endure the pain in varicose veins, the Allen-Payson Co. offers you immediate relief with elastic stockings at prices that will be impossible to offer later. They specialize in fitting elastic stockings—have all weights from service to invisible, both imported and domestic styles; to-the-knee and over-knee; and even sheer tissue rubber at a price to fit your purse. Made to order at no extra charge. Sample on request. Mail orders. Allen-Payson Co., 110 Tremont St., Suite 310. Tel. Lib. 6640.

Have You "Placed an Order" For a 1934 Baby?

Well, if that's the case, I needn't remind you that there's plenty of shopping to be done in that prospective pride and joy. So your Priscilla decided to help you find unusual values—first of all Filene's famous Baby Shops has arranged a special event for this week—a 50-piece Layette complete for $16.50! It contains these indispensables—three silk, wool, cotton bands with shoulder straps, three silk, wool, cotton shirts, three white flannelette gertrudes, three white flannelette gowns—three handmade dresses—two pairs silk and wool stockings, two quilted cotton crib pads, two wool wrapping blankets, twenty-four diapers, two cards safety pins, one can talcum powder, one cake baby Castile soap. All in a fancy gift box for your own or your friend's baby here or to come—and all only $16.50 complete. You'll find experienced girls in Filene's Baby Shops to help you pick and choose if you'd rather buy your items separately—they can tell you down to the last safety pin and the last tin of talcum, what and how many of everything it takes to keep his nibs happy and healthy and comfortable. Phone Hubbard 4250 until 9:30 or write Filene's Baby Shops, third floor.

3-Hour Cleansing Service!

Another remarkable feature of the Original Cleansers & Dyers service! Bring in your dress, coat or evening gown in the morning and leave it while you do your shopping. At the finish of your shopping tour it will be perfectly cleansed and good as new—quite wonderful this new Dupont Triclene method! Sweaters, blouses, hats, 17c each; cloth or tapestry handbags, 25c; bed robes, 29c. Curtains carefully dry-cleaned for only 50c a pair. All garments insured while in their care. Original Cleansers & Dyers, 3 Winter St., 4th floor; 59 Temple Place, 7th floor. Dev. 7398. Mail orders.

Cobyrne, Inc. Dancing Footwear

If you want personal attention and expert advice on your particular dance footwear problems go to the Cobyrne, Inc., a shop that specializes! You'll find the most complete line of tap shoes—Selva Toe Shoes, rehearsal togs, rhythm taps, ballet and aesthetic sandals. And Miss Byrne, formerly with A. Andrews Co., will assure you of proper fitting. Mail orders promptly filled. Write or visit Cobyrne, Inc., 26 West St., Shop 613. The Fabyan Bldg. Tel. Hubbard 8587.

Do You

allow Superfluous Hair to make you self conscious and destroy your charm? Why not visit Miss Roche, well known Electrolist, with Physicians' references, and have it removed safely, painlessly, permanently? Miss Roche uses only the most advanced Electric Needle, Multiple Needle Equipment, and her multiple treatments cost no more than Single Needle treatments—in fact, they save you both time and money! Miss Roche, formerly at 230 Boylston St., now at 26 West Street, Salem 309, Han. 9418.

A Hollywood Fashion! The "Cruiser" $1

Betty Real, famous Hollywood star, introduced this smart crepe trimmed hat, and the Maurice Hat Shop sponsors it! What's more, smartly dressed women, who like the distinctive chic of Hollywood fashions, have adopted the "Cruiser" as their favorite hat. It's the type of hat you can wear beautifully with every type of costume! All colors, all headsizes! It's specially priced at $1 at the Maurice Hat Shop, 16 Winter Street, next to A. Stowell's. Mail orders, 15c extra.

Five FREE Typing Lessons

—enough to make you an expert and speedy typist—are given entirely without cost to you, with this marvelous typewriter value at RAPHAEL'S! Just imagine—a brand new Royal typewriter, 4-Row, Standard Keyboard, with Capitals and Small Letters, complete with carrying case, is specially priced at only $27.50! This price is the lowest ever, and is payable $1 weekly! The E. A. Raphael Co. is at 49 Bromfield St., Han. 8585.

What a Month

for bargains! In all the shops the price lists are as tempting as the merchandise itself! Everyone is affected with "bargain fever" you wonder! I think you will agree that I have told you about some thrilling values.

Devotedly,

Priscilla Price

Now tens of thousands of people will tell you that the FASTER, SURE WAY to get rid of a cold is to take two HILL'S GOLD TABLETS and two glasses of water every few hours.

These wonderful little tablets give you such speedy relief—relief you can't obtain by less scientific methods—because they do the three things necessary to break up a cold. Wash poisons from system. Check fever and ease away aches and pain. Fight off cold germs ALL AT ONCE. Thus your cold goes in a jiffy and you feel like a new person. Get rid of cold this proven, faster way. Ask druggist for HILL'S CASCARA QUININE in the RED TIN BOX.

HILL'S CASCARA QUININE

Open a charge account. Distributed payments.

LEADERSHIP VALUES from PAINE'S CLEARANCE

INNER SPRING MATTRESS

Twin size

Real Hair Top. Full size, using 30 lbs. of hair. Twin size, using 20 lbs. Hand-made in our shops. We consider this today's premier bedding value. A mattress that will give long service as well as solid comfort.

$29.50

Full size, $35.50

CUSTOM GRADE WING CHAIR

Superb covers in some cases alone worth the price we are asking for chair complete. Don't buy any chair until you see these. All hair filled; seat cushion 75% white down, 25% white goose feathers.

$54.50

Regularly up to $79

GOV. WINTHROP DESK

Mahogany combined with gumwood. Automatic slides. Width 33 inches over all. While 100 last.

$29.75

Regularly $38.50

8 pc. Mahogany & Gumwood DINING GROUP

A Sheraton type worked out in handsomely figured wood with reeded legs, pedestal table, 66-inch buffet, shield back arm and five side chairs.

$175

Regularly $232

PERSIAN SCATTER RUGS

Sizes average 30 to 42 in. wide by 50 to 72 in. long.

Fine, colorful rugs of various Oriental weaves—regular stock repriced sensationally low to close out. Many sold for $35.

$19.75

Sale prices on FRIGIDAIRE here during January—Floor Models.

PAINE Furniture Company

81 Arlington St.

'beacon hill'

By Betty Alden

THE COMMITTEE IN CHARGE of the American Merchant Marine Library Association Book Week Drive is continuing its work in order to get as many books as possible for this organization. Mrs. Ralph B. Williams, Jr., is the chairman of the group of girls who are to collect books, in Boston and vicinity, from those who have sent word to the Junior League that they have books to be called for. She has enlisted teams of debutantes and post-debutantes to help cover the city and near-by towns during this drive, which starts today and continues through January 20. Many telephone calls have been received already, asking the collectors to call for books. Anyone who has books to be called for may telephone the Book Week Committee at the League.

ALMA BIRD

Among those who are going to help Mrs. Williams this week in the collecting of books are: Susannah Ayer, Mrs. B. Devereux Barker, Jr., Serita Bartlett, Alma Bird, Nancy Cabot, Barbara Coffin, Helen Cunningham, Sally Drew, Mrs. Marshall Dwinnell, Mrs. Robert Faxon, Dorothy Harding, Elizabeth Jackson, Eleanor Jones, Leonora Kimball, Marion Leeson, Mrs. Rupert Maclaurin, Nancy Moller, Ellen O'Donnell, Agnes Osborne, Hetty Richardson, Martha Rogerson, Eleanor Shaw, Mrs. William L. Shearer, 3d, Mary Strong, Katharine Tappan, Frances Turner, Marie Turner, and Molly Wheeler.

* * *

On Wednesday, the Junior League Players held try-outs for "Jeanne d'Arc" by Emma Gelders Sterne and "The Clock Shop" by John Golden. These two plays for children will be given at the Peabody Playhouse on Charles st. on Saturday, February 10.

Miss Edith Parker will direct "Jeanne d'Arc," while "The Clock Shop" will be in charge of Mrs. C. Campbell Patterson, Jr. The scenery, which is being designed by Miss Cornelia Wing, will be executed by a group of Junior League members under the supervision of Miss Betty Willett. Mrs. James Greason is working on costume designs.

* * *

Lecture Series at League

MISS DOROTHY LAWRENCE, chairman of the welfare department of the Junior League of Boston, has planned a series of informal lectures on the different aspects of the NRA, to be presented by authorities, from the points of view of labor, industry, state and consumer. The first of these lectures takes place today at 2 o'clock, at the League, when Miss Margaret Wiseman, executive secretary of the Consumers' League, speaks. Besides Miss Lawrence, members of the welfare committee include: Ellen Pierce, secretary of the Junior League welfare department; Joy Kimball, head volunteer at the Elizabeth Peabody House; Elizabeth Harding, head volunteer at the City Hospital; Evelyn Royce, chairman of the volunteers at the Children's Hospital; Lucy Rantoul, who is in charge of the volunteers who read in the wards of the Children's Hospital; Mrs. Edward Warren, the League's chairman of settlements; Milda Allen, head volunteer at the Boston Dispensary; Eleanor Ives, head volunteer at Denison House, and Mrs. Laurence Lombard, who is in charge of the volunteers at the Family Welfare Society.

* * *

The third lecture of the Provisional Training Course will be held at the League tomorrow at 10:45 a. m. Mr. Cheney Jones, superintendent of the New England Home for Little Wanderers, will speak on "The Problem of Childhood — Its Rights and the Dangers That Menace It." On Friday, January 19, at 9:30 a. m., the group of provisional members will go on Field Trips.

* * *

Dance for Pauline Shaw

MR. AND MRS. LOUIS AGASSIZ SHAW are giving a dance for Mr. Shaw's daughter, Miss Pauline Shaw, at the Copley-Plaza on January 19. There will be no ushers or dinners beforehand and friends of all ages have been invited. Miss Shaw is the sister of Mrs. Lewis Debney Shaw (Joanne Bird Shaw) of Louisburg square, and was presented this season at a large tea given with her cousin, Anna Childs Bird, by her grandmother, Mrs. Charles Sumner Bird.

* * *

We remember seeing Miss Winifred Caldwell of Cherry Barton, Canterbury, England, at Mrs. Harold Everett Porter's Round Table luncheon on Friday at the Myles Standish. She has been in Boston for a week and came especially to enjoy the remaining Symphony concerts . . . she was smartly dressed in English tweeds.

* * *

Mrs. Eliot Spalding's niece, Miss Marie Louise Gagnon, was also noticed dressed in wintry green with black fur trimming . . .

Others noted were Mrs. Wallace Scudder in soft green wool . . . Mrs. Henry I. Harriman in violet, and her daughter, Mrs. Dudley Milliken, in American Beauty crepe . . .

Mrs. William Baltzall was smart in black, and Mrs. Francis Lee's black with silver embroidery was one of the latest fashion notes of the moment . . . Mrs. Ralph Beatty was in black with green.

Plaids are smart and Mrs. William Clark's was very becoming . . . Mrs. William Cushing and her guest, Mrs. William Thayer of Cambridge, were in eel grey hats and dresses . . .

The flowers decorating the tables were beautiful artificial ones made by Mrs. Follen Cabot and were floating in low bowls . . . Mrs. Porter is always the last word in chic.

* * *

Japan Society Plans Reception

WE ARE ANTICIPATING MEETING His Excellency Prince Tokugawa, formerly president of the House of Peers and president of the American-Japan Society Tokyo, at the home of Miss Rose L. Dexter, 400 Beacon street, on Thursday evening, at 8:30, at a reception in his honor by the Japan Society of Boston. Prince Tokugawa will speak at that hour.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Lyman of 229 Commonwealth avenue are opening their house for two musicales on Thursday evenings, January 25 and February 1, at which time the artists, Mrs. Lewis A. Armistead, pianist; Mr. Royal Johnson, violinist, and Mrs. George Brown, 'cellist; Margaret Dellenger Barney, soprano, with Edwin Billby, tenor, and Mme. Loretta Laurenti, soprano, and Maxim Karolik, tenor, will perform. A distinguished list of patrons and patronesses have subscribed.

* * *

Sir Frederick Whyte, K. C. S. I., L. L. D., authority on the Far East, who delivered a course of lectures at the Lowell Institute in October, will be the guest of honor at a dinner to be given by the English Speaking Union at the Hotel Somerset on Monday evening, January 22. On the special committee in charge of the dinner are Mrs. J. Templeton Coolidge, Mrs. Stephen M. Weld and Mrs. Alexander Whiteside.

SOCIETY FLOCKS TO EMERGENCY CAMPAIGN COFFEE PARTIES

TENNIS STAR TRIES HER HAND AT PING PONG

MISS VIRGINIA RICE, one of the ten best tennis players in the United States, snapped as she warmed up at ping pong for her match with Mrs. George Wightman, defending Boston district champion, at the Burroughs Newsboys' Foundation. Mrs. Wightman was the victor, three out of four sets. Miss Rice is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Eggleston Rice of Marlborough st., and made her debut at a brilliant ball in 1930. At present she is the Bermuda tennis champion. (Boston American photo.)

Emblem Club Plans Minstrel Show as Season Highlight

AS A REFRESHING CHANGE from the innumerable dances, coridge parties and teas, the Emblem Club of Boston will present "Minstrels of 1934" on Monday evening, Jan. 22, at the Repertory Theater, as the social event of their season.

Miss Helen Keogh, president of the club will act as interlocutor, with Mrs. Mary Walsh, Mary Rafferty, Louise Larkin, Mary Smythe, Elizabeth Ratigan and Grace Fleming, as end men. Solo numbers will be sung by Lillian Murphy, Ann Reagan, Alice Cullen, and Tess Keefe.

Some clever dance numbers are being rehearsed by Margaret Lyons, Lillian Moore, Marion Hetherington, Marjorie Goddard, Margaret Fraine, Della Bowes, Eleanor DeCourcy, Billie Lawler, Peggy Hanley, Marguerite Cleary, Theresa DeCourcy, Lillian Marden and Catherine Kanert.

* * *

MR. AND MRS. LAURENCE E. ELLIS, of West Medford, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Margaret Ellis, to Mr. Thomas E. Burke, son of Mrs. Margaret Burke of Newton Center. Miss Ellis is a senior at the Curry School of Expression.

* * *

MR. HENRY Z. KELLY OF Brighton announces the engagement of his daughter, Anastacia Josephine, to Mr. John Hagen Lawlor, son of Mrs. Alice Lawlor, of Brighton. The announcement was made at a bridge party given by the sister of the bride to be. Miss Kelly is a graduate of Mt. St. Joseph's Academy, Brighton, and Miss Lesley's School in Cambridge.

* * *

HOSTESSES FOR THE bridge to be held at the League House on Arlington st., this afternoon, by the League of Catholic Women, are Mrs. Peter Collins, Mrs. Joseph Driscoll, Mrs. David Johnson and Mrs. J. J. Whoriskey. Mrs. Henry Tougas and Mrs. David Gentles are directing the series, held each week.

* * *

MISS FLORENCE HURLEY will open her home on Pond st., Jamaica Plain, on Friday evening, for a lecture by the Rev. Robert A. Dyson, S. J., of Weston College, as another interesting evening, sponsored by the Boston chapter of Trinity College alumnae of Washington.

Leaders Among Speakers for Drive

SO EAGER IS the general public to learn about the Emergency Campaign of 1934 that the daily coffee parties planned to disseminate important information are becoming more numerous daily.

The coffee parties begin at 10:30 tomorrow morning to allow for six during the morning. Mrs. John Hoar will be hostess at her Buckminster road home at that time with Mrs. Royal Whiting as the campaign speaker. She will be heard again at 4 in the afternoon at Mrs. John E. Boit's home on Warren st., Brookline.

Mrs. Gelston King, also is down for both morning and afternoon talks: at 11 at the Cabridge home of Mrs. Wallace B. Donham, and at 2 to the Sisterhood of Temple Israel, Longwood and Riverway. Mrs. George S. Mumford, Jr., is having Mrs. Guy Waring to talk to guests at her Dover home at 11 and the other three parties for this popular hour are at the Brookline home of Mrs. A. E. Conant; Miss Eleanor Raymond's on Charles st. and Mrs. Francis A. Moulton's in Milton. Mrs. Harold Stuart talks at the first; Mrs. Frank Sawtell at the second and Mrs. Richard F. Fuller at Mrs. Moulton's.

Chapman-Ware Engagement Announced

THE WEEK-END brought an interesting engagement announcement from Cambridge, that of Miss Mary Lee Ware, 24, to Mr. Kenneth Wade Chapman, formerly of Norfolk, Va., and now in business in Nashville, Tenn.

Miss Ware is the daughter of Mrs. C. Lindsay Ware, who made the announcement. She is a graduate of the Buckingham school, the Boston school of Occupational Therapy and the Ruggles Street nursery Training school. She made her debut in 1930 and holds membership in the Junior League. She is the daughter of George Long Ware and a granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Eliot Ware of Fitchburg and of the late Dr. and Mrs. James Early Lindsay of Baltimore.

Mr. Chapman was graduated in 1930 from the Virginia Military Institute and later attended the Harvard Business school.

It's new and smart to have your bed linen monogrammed . . and now the price for such monogramming is within everyone's budget.

Only at Stearns' in Boston . . .

"Utica" Sheets and Pillow-Cases

Embroidered with your 3-letter monogram

25c a monogram

Monograms are executed only in groups of 3, but sheets and pillow cases can be assorted to the group. 1 color to a group.

Something new in bed linen, introduced to Boston by Stearns. "Utica" sheets and cases are made of long fiber cotton of a soft, smooth finish and gleaming whiteness. "Utica" needlecrest monograms are exquisitely embroidered in white, blue, brown, rose or green, and this means a full three-letter monogram in block letters, size approximately 2½ inches high by 3¾ inches in length. Orders taken on third floor, or by mail and telephone. Call "LIBerty 0165."

	Plain Prices	Size	Monogrammed
Cases.....	.40	42x38½	.65
Cases.....	.43	45x38½	.68
Sheets....	1.55	63x108	1.80
Sheets....	1.70	72x108	1.95
Sheets....	1.85	81x108	2.10
Sheets....	2.00	90x108	2.25

R. H. STEARNS CO.

Yes,

these are sale goods

. . . the same high-grade merchandise that we usually sell. The difference is in the SAVINGS we have made for you

Solid Color Pure Fleece Wool Blankets

$6.75 each

The best blanket value at this price we have offered this season. Quality workmanship and pure dye colors. Size 72 by 84. Bound with 4-inch satin bindings. Colors: Rose, blue, orchid, green, peach, gold. Third floor.

R. H. STEARNS CO.

53rd ANNUAL SALE

BEGINNING TODAY

Substantial reductions in all our stores

FOR WOMEN

Shoes for street, afternoon and evening wear Full range of styles, leathers and colors; but not all sizes in each model. Reduced to:

$5.95 $7.95 $9.95

At 414 Boylston Street; 2000 pairs of our exclusive Uptown Shop shoes reduced to:

$9.95

FOR MISSES

Our famous moderate toe-and-heel shoes approved by schools. (Also popular with women who prefer low heels).

$4.85 and $6.85

FOR CHILDREN

Special selling of brown elk-tanned leather oxfords. Also, patent-leather 1-strap slippers. (Sizes 6 - 8 $2.85; Sizes 8½ - 12 $3.35; Sizes 12½ - 3 $3.85.) Other children's shoes:

$2.85 and $4.85

FOR MEN

Every pair of shoes in stock (with the exception of PLASTICS) reduced:

$5.95 $7.95 $8.95

FOR BOYS

Every pair of boys shoes (with the exception of storm boots) reduced to one low price!

$3.95

HOSIERY REDUCTIONS

15% discount on "Thanell" Hosiery, Chiffon, Semi-Service and Service Weight. Substantial mark-downs on all our Ingrain Hosiery for Women. Sale prices: $1.50; $1.65 and $2.00. (Formerly $1.65, $2.00 and $2.50).

Women's Silk and Wool Hose reduced to 95¢

Odd Lots of Women's Hose reduced to 79¢

25% OFF ON ALL MEN'S HOSIERY

THAYER McNEIL

47 TEMPLE PLACE COOLIDGE CORNER

414 BOYLSTON STREET WELLESLEY SQUARE

Policy consists in serving God in such a manner as not to offend the devil.—Fuller.

This Is Life

—By Robert E. Rogers—

THERE IS NOTHING like a good, brisk, heretical remark, uttered by the right person before the right audience, to start the sap running. I mean sap in the sense of juices, the juices of reflection and intelligence. It seems to me that Major JJJudson Hannigan did something rather useful the other day when he proposed that the Republican party endorse Senator Walsh at the next election, thus saving time, money, energy, and what the Chinese call face.

At once the saps began to run. No, again, I do not mean Republican. I mean the juices of mental reaction which for so long have seemed frozen and sluggish. Judging from the papers there was no lack of snappy, even instantaneous replies. The Democrats all thought it was a swell idea. Those Republicans who are generally considered more as liabilities than as assets to their party, such as former Senator Butler and former Lieut.-Governor Youngman, thought it was 'comic.'

The most interesting statement was made by Lieut.-Governor Bacon, the Aeneas, the David, the Damon, the Tweedledum to Major Hannigan's Achates, Jonathan, Pythias and Tweedledee. He didn't know anything about it, and he seemed not to think highly of it. Nor did the scion of the Saltonstalls, also quite taken by surprise. Most of the other Republicans, as quoted, hesitated, faltered, straddled, equivocated, tergiversated, and threw up their hands—all with expressions of profound inner discomfort.

* * *

Two Remain Silent

I DID NOT SEE any interviews with the two Republicans capable of being most pithy and profound in their comments, Bob Washburn of the (Theodore) Republican Club, who, like the Almighty, loveth where he chasteneth, and Alvan T. Fuller, the maverick of the party and truly Republican, in the humble opinion of this scribe, capable of giving David Walsh even a run for his money as a senator. And unless I miss my guess he is too shrewd to try it under present conditions.

The Major Hannigan seems to be that rara avis in politics, a realist, a person who faces actualities instead of getting himself all gummed up with unfulfilled wishes and categorical imperatives and manifest destinies. He sees perfectly well that the Republicans haven't a prayer to lick Senator Walsh. He sees that the senator will not only get all the Democratic vote without trying but also that if the senator plays the part of a reasonably constitutional check and balance on the goings-on of the Brain Trust he will get a large part of the conservative Republican vote as well—all, possibly, except the birds with catalepsy of the thinking processes who think that party loyalty was originally one of the Ten Commandments but got lost somewhere in the cligue.

One of the sources of President Roosevelt's power is that he has been the representative of no single party or clique, and no section. No faction has any hold on him. He has no obligations. I wonder if it would strengthen Senator Walsh's hand in Washington if he were to go down, not as merely a Massachusetts Democrat, but as the representative of united Massachusetts.

* * *

THE ADMINISTRATION has not been going out of the way to give Massachusetts and New England a square deal. It has not been particularly sensible or generous in rewarding loyalty. It has not been particularly sensible or politic in conciliating honest opposition. It has obviously deferred largely to those politicians who believe that it is the job of New England and the East to support the South and West, while the South and West are noisily objecting to any federal money being spent on us at all, our little fisheries subsidy and the like.

It became more and more clear that, regardless of political party, the states of New England and the East have got to act together as a progressive bloc in imitation of the "farm bloc," if the taxation to support the West and South is not to bankrupt us. Where a state is a group Republican, with a competent Republican leader, it is up to the Democrats to stop trailing the tails of their coats and to support the Republican. And where a state is Democratic, as Massachusetts is now, it is up to the Republicans, for the sake of their own well-being, their industry and their taxes, to support the state leader, even if he be outside the sacred circle, so long as he is strong and conservative and influential.

* * *

He Sees the Truth

IT WAS JOSHUA and the Son of Hur, was it not, who held up the arms of Moses at the battle where the sun stood still. There can be no doubt that Senator Walsh is the strongest man in Massachusetts politics. Let the Republicans be Joshua. Let the Democrats be the Son of Hur. Then, possibly, with a united state behind him, the senator and his fellow can give the conservative statement a strength, a solidity and an impact it otherwise could not have.

For several years now the Republicans have had their chance by party selfishness and intra-party selfishness. Now they have a chance to profit for themselves and their state by unselfishness. Not only unselfishness, but solid horse sense. Major Hannigan sees the truth.

Irony

You will come back—
(They always do!)
That fact is sure
As it is true.
Just like the others
Who went away,
You heed not my cries
When I beg you to stay.
And I'll weep and I'll grieve
And suffer and yearn
For one day alone—
The day you return.
And when I've decided
(After much pain)
You're out of my life,
You'll turn us again—
And I'll be (as usual)
Mad as a hatter
To find by that time
You no longer matter!

Marion Koppell.

The Father of the Family

—By Bertrand Russell—

LONDON—The father of the family, as a traditional figure, has an importance which cannot be exaggerated. He had, at one time, power of life and death over his children; he could not only forbid them to marry according to their wishes, but command them to marry in accordance with his own. They must treat him with deep and unvarying reverence, while he had the right, if they displeased him, to deprive any of them of the expected inheritance of paternal flocks and herds. Being thus possessed of arbitrary power, the father naturally became the symbol of goodness and benevolence.

Only fragments of the old power remain to fathers, but they still have more than is warranted by the democratic conception of human relations. The father, as a rule earns the money, and his wife and children, if they are not prepared to go to law, depend largely upon his good will. Many wives are driven by the economic motive to profess more affection for their husbands than they really feel. Since conscious hypocrisy is irksome and humiliating, they persuade themselves that their emotions are other than they really are, and thus become in time incapable of any genuine sincerity, or of knowing the difference between love and a desire for board and lodging. The effect of this confusion is apt to be lamentable.

* * *

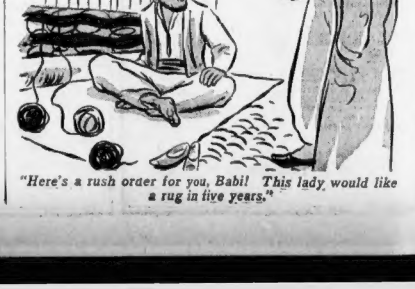
CHILDREN, as soon as they are capable of opinions of their own, also suffer from their father's economic power. This evil is least among wage-earners, because they achieve economic independence earlier than members of other classes. For a similar reason, it has been less in America than in Europe, since it has been easier to make a living in America; this advantage, however, has diminished as population has increased, and has almost disappeared during the last few years. Wherever higher education is paid for by parents, those young people who desire it have to please their parents.

There is likely to be trouble if the father is a fundamentalist and the son declares himself a modernist, or if the father is an old-fashioned believer in self-help and the son argues that there is something to be said for Socialism, or if the father is an orthodox Jew and the son is indifferent to the traditional observances, or in any one of a hundred other conflicts of opinion which are apt to occur between old and young. In such cases, the child's real father is a tyrant and feels that his free development is being hampered, while the father says: "Was it for this that I spent my money? After all that I have done for the ungrateful rascal, he devotes himself to destroying everything that I hold sacred." Each side has a case, so long as the economic power of fathers persists.

* * *

THIS power ought not to exist. Parents ought to receive an allowance from the State for the maintenance of their children, and education, however advanced, ought to be free—with the proviso that the highest grades of education should only be for those who show that they can profit by them until such time as there is no difficulty in bearing the expense of higher education for all.

If parents did not make sacrifices for their children, they would not feel that they had a right to oppress their children; and whatever they might feel, they would not have the power to oppress them if the children did not need the parents' money.



"Here's a rush order for you, Babi! This lady would like a rug in five years."

Why Marriages End Unhappily

—By Frank Sullivan—

DURING its investigation of the cause of murders of wives who burn toast the American Investigation Association, of whose activities I had occasion to write of some days ago, uncovered a wealth of material concerning marital discord in the United States which may eventually prove of great assistance in increasing that discord.

Why do so many American marriages go on the rocks? That was the question which the association's sub-committee on rocks asked itself. And in the answer found that one of the prime causes may be listed as the reprehensible habit of tsz-ing. Tsz is the noise far too many people make against their teeth with their tongue after eating. The noise is peculiarly infuriating to great numbers of right-thinking Americans, and when a tsz-er marries, and the spouse is not a tsz-er, the chances are seven to one that that marriage will land on a particularly jagged kind of rock described on Page 539 of the geological section of the sub-committee's report.

As somebody—was it Dr. Stopes?—has so well put it, young men and women desiring a happy married life ought to make sure before marrying that the loved one is not a tsz-er. And as someone else has so aptly put it—was it my colleague on this page, Dr. Ellis?—a woman who marries a tsz-er thinking she can reform him is simply living in a fool's paradise.

* * *

Why Is a Cruncher?

THERE is also the apple-crunching problem, or, roughly, the problem of people who crunch apples. The old maxim that an apple a day keeps the doctor away from people who crunch apples should apply not only to physicians but to non-crunchers in any walk of life. Most of us, at one time or another, have heard that harrowing grinding sound of an apple being munched by a determined apple fan with a powerful set of masseter muscles. An experienced apple muncher can be heard in a high wind through a booming surf for a distance of one hundred yards, and as a producer of goose pimples and a raiser of the hair on your head it ranks second only to the sound made by people who click out tunes on their teeth with their finger nails.

Your inveterate apple cruncher gets no kick out of eating apples in their less resonant states, such as sauce, or pie. The kick is in seeing how much racket he can make.

Therefore, young people contemplating entering the holy state of matrimony would do well to ascertain if there have been any apple-crunchers in the family of the beloved. If two apple-crunchers want to marry each other, that is their own affair.

As with tzz-ing, the trouble comes when an apple-cruncher marries a non-cruncher. Only rarely do such mixed marriages turn out well, for they call for such tremendous sacrifices on the part of the non-cruncher that Love inevitably flies out the door, crying, "Hell with this place. I'm going to find a pair of lovers who eat nothing louder than custard!"

* * *

Sugar on Tomatoes!

MANY marriages end on the rocks because the loved one sprinkles sugar on tomatoes. This heathenish practice, as unfair to the tomato as it is to the sugar, is practiced to a degree not generally known. People would be astounded if they knew how many supposedly respectable citizens were devotees of this horrid rite.

On Page 1109 of the tomato section of the report of the sub-committee on rocks there is a heartrending account of the moment when a young bride from Dallas, Texas, of fine family and great beauty, discovered at their first honeymoon dinner that the scion of an old Texas family whom she had married was given to sprinkling sugar on his sliced tomatoes. She had married him in good faith, never suspecting.

The tragic part of this particular story is that he got her to doing it. She loved him, and when she discovered his weakness, pitied him, so she yielded to his entreaty that she try sugar on tomatoes just once. Those fatal words! The Just Once became Just Twice, and then Just Thrice. When the young couple returned from their honeymoon, the bride was a confirmed sprinkler of sugar on tomatoes. Her family disowned her.

I am indebted to Judge Ben Lindsey for this story, or at least it was a fellow who said he was Ben Lindsey. It was late, and I was in a hurry, the bar was about to close, and I didn't pay as much attention as I might have if he hadn't previously said he was (1) Greta Garbo, (2) Secretary Hull, and (3) Queen of the May.

"When they ask for 'tomahtoes' I charge 'em a nickel more a pound."

A Number of Things

—By Charles Hanson Towne—

I AM wondering if there is anything significant in the fact that as I write this the motion picture version of Louisa M. Alcott's famous story, "Little Women," and Disney's "Three Little Pigs," are the great outstanding successes in New York.

Audiences which include strong men are weeping over Meg, Jo, Beth and Amy. Indeed, their tears are unashamedly shed. An ancient tale, far removed from the time in which we now live, can evoke the tribute of emotion. Our handkerchiefs come out, and we weep as we did when we were little children. I remembered how furious it was that even we boys liked "Little Women" better than "Little Men"—whose books were first handed to us. There is something in the first-named that is far superior to anything in the latter. It came out of Miss Alcott's heart; the second volume was merely an attempt to duplicate her first success. She herself must have known that it was inferior.

Honest tears—what writer does not hope to draw them from his readers? How surprised—and how gratified—Miss Alcott must be if she can look down and see the vast eyes of the people who rediscover her story! It is no little thing to have kept alive the wholesome feelings of children after they have grown up. No one smiles tolerantly at his neighbor when the first tears start. One is too busy with one's own emotions.

* * *

BUT isn't it worth noting that everyone is moved in the dark auditorium when these little women pass before us? We all sobbed, too, at "Cavalcade," wondering the while why soldiers going off to the Boer War should affect us so deeply, but unable to control our feelings. Doesn't this prove that we are all sentimentalists, whether we admit it or not? Doesn't it partially prove that timeliness is not necessary in an age that cries out for the last word in artistic expression. Both editors and motion picture executives have been telling us that the public demands only stories of the present; that they are not interested in costume pieces; and along comes "Anthony Adverse" to destroy their argument. And "Little Women" lifts its head out of the maze of years to denounce their judgment.

Not long ago there was a Lawrenceville story by Owen Johnson in the Saturday Evening Post, and I happened to see a lad of about seventeen reading it in the subway. He was convulsed with laughter. What if the scenes were laid back thirty or more years ago? Boys were boys then, as they are now. And every lad wishes to know how his father might have behaved when he went to school. He makes the delightful discovery that father was as foolhardy as he, and was up to the same pranks. In the same way Booth Tarkington's boy stories may be read with pleasure by the lads of this generation. Anyone who has ever been seventeen will get all their charm, even though he is fifty now. If Truth enters in, there is no thought of the time spirit. What was right yesterday is right today. Boys like the Tennessee Shad and Ben Franklin's Hickey are in every school now, just as they were three decades ago. And the little women of a generation ago, with their joys and griefs, are in the world now.

* * *

ONE likes to believe that we have wearied of racketeers and gunmen. These, unfortunately, had their place in the scheme of things, and for a long while we had to endure their bold adventures. We glorified them for a while, but if their kind ceases to exist they will be little valued in the future. But the girls and the boys will march on, repeating, duplicating their behavior, and writers will come forward to interpret them for us.

If honest tears are a good thing, so is honest laughter. We owe the cartoonists of the screen a debt of gratitude for lifting us out of stern reality. Mr. Disney is one of those geniuses who appear all too seldom. What did we ever do without him? He has brought rapture to millions of jaded souls. He has eased our burdens. His three little pigs, and his big, bad wolf are more than symbols. Listen to the shouts of children as they go through their manifold adventures, to the riotous laughter of grown-ups, and you will realize what a bepefactor he is in our depressed world.

Little pigs, and little women, and big, bad wolves—these are eternal. And how easy it is to recognize truth and acclaim it.

Contents of this page copyrighted, 1934, for the Boston Evening American

Vagabondia

—By Bruno Lessing—

ROME—Comments on home affairs from such a long distance and after so much time has elapsed are not fresh off the grille. But most of the big and thrilling news reaches here in driblets by cable, so that by the time the home papers arrive we feel no shocks and have even had time to see whatever judgment we possess mature.

Just read confirmation of the news that the Treasury Department has ordered all employes to shine their shoes, stand up straight and look respectful when their "superiors" pass by. That's hot. I wonder who has the shoe shining concession in that department. Also who pays for the "shines." Do Treasury employes use the same stuff for money as the rest of us? If so this may mean a hardship.

Standing up straight is O. K. for everyone. Excepting those who are past sixty and cannot manage it or who are deformed—perhaps by a bullet in the late war. Although, as far as I can see, the work of a Treasury Department could be done just as well sitting down.

Acting respectfully to superiors is most difficult of all. Especially when the inferior knows that in intelligence, decency and many other worth-while qualities he is superior to his superior. Like contempt of court, which, you know, is scorn.

Seriously, though, I never read such bureaucratic rot in all my life. It sounds awfully German. If that's what is occupying the attention of the department heads it is small wonder that our finances are balled up. A stern and capable executive could easily have had all those instructions—if they were necessary—whispered about as coming from him, and they would have been obeyed without the resentment that many employes will surely feel because of having been indirectly, but publicly, accused of sloppiness.

If my memory of Washington departments is correct—I have not been there for four months—it would have been better to issue an order to all employes to stand as straight as they can and be very respectful when any visitor, no matter how meek and humble, comes along. Because, for all they know, that visitor may be an American citizen AND a taxpayer. If you get what I mean.

* * *

YES, SIR, there must be something new in religion that I've missed because here's Herr Hitler endeavoring to change Protestant belief. They say he is trying to unite all German Catholics and Protestants into one church. Why not? The moment a politician starts meddling with religious matters there's no telling how far he'll try to go. The same is true of vice versa. When I refer to it as "something new" I do not mean that it has not happened before. I mean it's news that after all the examples of the past anyone can be so cock-eyed as to try it again.

* * *

WENT to a Roman restaurant tonight. Celebrated for its fettuccini, (Noodles.) The boss came around and put butter on your dish, stirring it up with the dainty gesture of a lady powdering her cheeks. He seemed to caress each noodle. You had the feeling that each noodle was a personal friend of his. He didn't mess them about as you or I would. He respected their personality and bestowed loving care upon them. And when he got through with his gyrations—they tasted like noodles.

We brave, strong men, lords of the universe, are very much like noodles. And, like this restaurant chap, we make too goah darned much fuss over ourselves.

Pessimist

He felt disgusted with all humankind,
Holding that life was vain and fortune blind;
Yet saw one picture only in the world—
The image of his own distorted mind.

—Stanton A. Coblentz.

Tomorrow:

WILLIAM SOSKIN reviews Pearl S. Buck's "The Mother."

Charles Hanson Towne reminisces about some magazine writers of yesterday.

Bruno Lessing lists the day's news in Rome.

J. P. McEvoy writes to his barber.

And Robert E. Rogers, versatile professor, takes your attention.

Reading and Writing

—By William Soskin—

ALL these well-meaning and serious gentlemen who come out of Russia and write books are undoubtedly honest and certainly sincere. Maurice Hindus, Louis Fischer, Sherwood Eddy, William Chamberlain—there are many journalists who have made the difficult pilgrimage to the Kremlin every year and there seen what we used to regard as a heretical doctrine and an ignoble experiment evolve into a State recognized by our own Government as a sovereign unit.

In the course of that observation they have predicted almost everything, these writers: that Russian men and women would become mechanical robots with all their human impulses atrophied; that Red armies would descend upon Europe and set up a Big, Bad Bolshevik Empire; that women would be nationalized and that the entire revolution would end in an orgy of licentiousness; that a millennium had arrived whereby all the workers of the world who had nothing to lose but their chains were emancipated through the efforts of the firm of Lenin, Stalin & Marx. Every writer offered us large generalizations.

During all these years you and I have wondered about specific rather than general matters in Russia. How does the Russian man in the Russian street feel? Would he give up his interest in the Communist State for a sirloin steak and potatoes every day? Does he regard his wife and children as some special Socialist phenomena, or does he think of them as the frau and the kiddies? Does he actually enjoy seeing movies about tractors and the Five-Year Plan more than a romantic story involving handsome leading men and beautifully gartified stars? Is he "munian"? Is he "regular"? Does he have some Russian equivalent for the phrase "Okay, Baby"?

Champion of Reforms

THESE are important issues. These are matters upon which we can base sound judgments. It is not so necessary, after all, to know whether a new collectivist civilization is taking shape in Russia to rival our individualistic state—simply because nobody actually knows. Guesses about civilization are quite futile. Writers generalize. Writers point to large and handsome significances. But they are journalistic philosophers who see exactly what they choose to see and so large, so new and so strange a place as Soviet Russia.

Here is Mr. Sherwood Eddy, a very competent political and social analyst of politics known for his tolerance and understanding. He gives us the latest survey of the Soviets based upon his observations last year—"Russia Today: What Can We Learn From It?" He is a reformer, a social worker who champions prison reform. In Russia he once inspected a prison effected. He is an educator with certain progressive ideas concerning the training of children. In Russia he finds progressive education. He is a pacifist and finds an atmosphere for more strictly censored motion pictures for children and for the use of the movie theatre as a powerful educational tool instead of a place of entertainment. In Russia he sees his movie notions carried out and he is happy.

There is another side to Mr. Eddy's story. He is that special kind of Socialist known as a Christian Socialist; that is, he believes in a certain amount of democratic organization of society, in State ownership and a morality based upon the common good and the teachings of the old order of individual piety—but he cannot bear to give up that free will, that liberty of thought and of conscience, that freedom to worship or not to worship in whatever manner he chooses. Because of that belief Mr. Eddy is forced to admit that the dictatorship of the proletariat violates his most fundamental instincts. Russia is a formidable and fearful threat to his liberty. Therefore he does not hesitate to denounce the oppression whereby dissenters have been thrown into jails and exiled. He cannot believe in vicious absolutism as a means to an end.

* * *

Same Ends for Both

MR. EDDY'S faith in State planning and in the Marxian philosophy which governs the Soviet Union has led him to the same errors of judgment so many of his colleagues have made in writing of Russia. He throws his hat in the air and shouts, for example, over the fact that there is no unemployment in Russia and that individuals are therefore happier in their economic security. He does not see that this fact, however, that an unemployed man in America often lives by a higher standard and more comfortably than an employed and starving man in Russia. He does not make it clear that it is no very staggering problem to keep a nation employed during the booming production stage in the nation's economic evolution when wholesale employment is needed in building productive goods. Russia has not had to face the crisis which seems to bring on unemployment. She has not yet come upon the aftermath. She is not overstocked with goods. She has not had to meet the issue which America is attempting to solve. It may be that all the State planning and the collective wisdom which Mr. Eddy praises so highly will result in her never having to face the morning after. But that neither Mr. Eddy nor Mr. Stalin really knows.

Mr. Eddy, comparing Russia and the United States, implies that both are traveling toward some sort of socialistic golden mean, some arrangement which will retain the individual efficiency and freedom of will of the United States citizen and the collective, social philosophy of the Russian.

We must pay this author the courtesy of attending to his considered and earnest analysis of the political situation. But it is just as well to look around meanwhile and not swallow generalizations on Russia without chewing them well.

("Today's Problems" by Sherwood Eddy, Farrar and Rinehart, $2.00)

Shop Girl

SO TIRED she looked,
My heart filled up with pity;
I could not help wondering
About her. Was there someone
At home for whom she worked,
Someone she loved?

She looked so tired
And smiled so kindly.

—Elinor C. Woolson.

NEWEST GADGET FOR LUXURY BATHING -:- SABLES AND SILVER FOX FOR SPRING

Lovely Scent Clings to the Skin

By Therese Deschamps

WHAT DO YOU suppose is my newest find for luxury bathing? You'll never guess . . . a PERFUME BALL!

It's a beautifully large, silvery chromium metal ball with a handsome ring and chain . . . so it won't get lost in the tub.

To use this brand new beauty gadget—which has just made its first appearance in Boston—simply pour your favorite perfume or scented bath oil into the ball and fasten on the cap securely. Swish it quickly through your bath tub just once, and the water will become delightfully fragrant.

An elusive, haunting scent will cling to your skin for hours afterward. But it's not overdone . . . the perfume of the bath oil which accompanies this beauty adjunct. You'll discover when you are dressed and think it's entirely gone that you will occasionally catch a faint whiff of the fragrance. That's all.

* * *

There's something about perfume which lifts a person gently up and over the rough, unpleasant places in life, in a way which nothing else—even romance—can do. And nothing could be more charming than to have a delicate fragrance always associated with your personality. It's one of those clever beauty ideas which originated in France.

There's another use for this glistening perfume ball besides the bath. It may be hung up, and the entire room soon becomes mysteriously permeated with an exotic fragrance. Oddly enough in the air perfume is released slowly, but one dip into the bath—and presto, the entire tubful of water is instantly scented.

The perfume ball needs refilling only occasionally, since each filling will last for several months. You can buy it at an amazingly low price, accompanied by a generous size flacon of a famous bath oil. It is made by an internationally known perfumer, who knows his flowers from A to Z, through years of scientific experiment and study.

* * *

Most women find it an excellent plan to use the same scent in soaps, bath salts, talcum powder, sachets and all cosmetics. The exquisite bath oil which accompanies the perfume ball may be matched in fragrance with a soap, bath powder, compact, lipstick and cream rouge.

Wouldn't you like to know where this perfume ball may be found in Boston? Just send along your inquiry to Therese Deschamps, Boston Evening American, 5 Winthrop sq., Boston.

LATEST FASHIONS

Mode of the Moment Shown by Well-Known Women

So suddenly that it startled most of us who have gone on complacently wearing chin-high decolletages, the extremely low front has arrived. It is one important fashion point in the evening gown worn by Miss Annette Hollis, a popular young society woman. It is flaming sheer wool, with a dramatic jacket of gun metal-verging-on-black paillettes.

Beauty Questions and Answers

Astringent

Question: Please tell me what effect an astringent has on the skin. When should it be used?—Mrs. R. C., Boston.

Answer: Astringents have a toning effect on the skin and gently close the pores. They should be used only when the skin has been cleansed. Only a mild skin tonic or astringent should be used if the skin is dry or inclined to be sensitive, but a stronger one may be used safely on an oily skin.

* * *

Lovely Hair

Question: I always admire lustrous, fluffy hair. Mine is so oily that it becomes stringy soon after a shampoo. It is difficult to keep waved attractively. I simply am at my wits end to know what to do for it. Can you give me some advice?—B. J. V., Fall River.

Answer: I haven't room here to give you suggestions, but if you'll send in a stamped, self-addressed envelope I'll gladly mail you my helpful new leaflet on oily hair. Please do not forget to repeat your question.

* * *

Please!

Will Mrs. J. S. S., Roxbury; M. B. L. Rockland; A. M., Newton Upper Falls, and T. R., West Warwick, R. I., kindly send in stamped, self-addressed envelopes for personal replies—and don't forget to repeat your questions, please.

NewPlatinumBlond Spring Furniture

The newest finish for furniture to be heralded this spring is called "The New Deal," and the name is a clever bit of double entendre. Assuredly a platinum-blond finish is new, and the "deal" part of it is actually a deal tone given to mahogany, walnut, pine or oak which is treated in its unfinished state to bleaching and liming that produces the lovely silvery shade.

Even worn old pieces of these different woods may be stripped of their old finish and given the platinum-blond treatment! The grain of the wood shows up beautifully, and the finish never needs strenuous polishing to keep it looking lovely.

Daily Suggestion for Self- Improvement

In eating soup move the spoon AWAY from you, never TOWARD you. Always sip soup from the SIDE of the spoon, and do not tip the soup plate to get the last few spoonfuls.

By Annice Brink

WITH A BRISK derring-do necklines have about faced, and Chanel's evening ensemble of flamingo sheer wool exhibits the lowest front V seen for many a season. The latticed grey-jet paillettes of the jacket are cleverly made to show a lining of the same brilliant shade as the gown, which is a tantalizing color between coral and flamingo.

* * *

Sweepingly simple lines, no obvious flares, spell the enchantment of this Chanel model, worn by Miss Annette Hollis, socially prominent Bostonian. The artistry of it is apparent in that although it combines two new and quite sensational changes in the mode, neither is blatantly obvious. One is the low front decolletage, the other is the longer waistline, indicated by an ornament about five inches long that clasps together a very wide belt effect in back. Most such ornaments are concentrated at the natural waistline. This one extends noticeably below it.

* * *

Who wouldn't find modelling as a profession fun, with a natural grace, and the perfect tall mannequin figure of Miss Hollis? Next to modelling, she is interested in advertising—a field that is attractive to many Boston debutantes, in some creative capacity or other, I have found. There is something about the alertness, the hand-on-the-pulse of the world's fads, habits and doings that naturally goes with advertising work which appeals to the ambitious young generation.

* * *

Tennis . . . with a New England championship title in her background . . . the Tristan of Wagner . . . horseback and strenuous sports . . . lots of Chopin for her retrospective moods . . . there are bits of the real Miss Hollis, things that appeal, that are a part of the person.

* * *

A brunet'; with blue eyes, and a skin which demands a creamy rachelle powder, she has a color tip or two to offer. Blue is her color. Then she chooses black, and certain shades of green, but yellow—never. Yellow is not allowed to cast its reflection into her skin. Something for other blue-eyed brunettes to remember!

The Chanel gown and jacket may be seen at a Boston shop.

Feather Light Foods From Frying

By Martha Lee

From Martha Lee's Monday Morning Broadcast Over Station WAAB

SOME WOMEN have a mental hazard when it comes to deep fat frying. It is not as difficult as it looks, and the food that comes from the bubbling fat is delicious in its crisp brown perfection.

French fried potatoes, for instance—and codfish cakes done to a turn and almost as light as feathers. Who wouldn't want to meet these kind of cakes on Sunday morning—or any morning, as a matter of fact?

Cooked correctly, fried foods are as easily digested as they are palatable. The secret of successful deep fat frying is to have the fat the right temperature, 385 to 395 deg. F., for foods that have not been cooked previously; and 365 to 375 deg. F. for foods that have been cooked.

SHRIMP FRITTERS WITH CHEESE SAUCE

Beat one egg well, add ¾ cup milk, then the following sifted dry ingredients: 1 cup flour, 1 tsp. baking powder and ¼ tsp. salt. Drain two 5½-ounce cans shrimp thoroughly, dip each one in the batter and fry in deep fat—375 deg., until brown. Serve with cheese sauce. Serves 6.

CHEESE SAUCE

Melt 2 tbsps. butter, add 1 1-3 tbsps. flour and stir smooth. Add 1 cup milk slowly, then ½ cup grated cheese and stir until thick and creamy. Add ¼ tsp. Worcestershire sauce.

LOBSTER CUTLETS

Make a thick white sauce of 2 tbsps. butter, 4 tbsps. flour, 1 cup milk, ½ tsp. salt and ⅛ tsp. pepper. Add 1 egg yolk and 1 tsp. lemon juice and 2 cans minced lobster and let stand overnight or until quite cold. Shape into cutlet or chop shapes, dip in crumbs, egg and crumbs, and fry in deep fat. Insert a piece of macaroni in the pointed ends to represent bone. Serve with tartar sauce. Makes eight cutlets.

CODFISH BALLS

1 cup salt codfish
2½ cups diced potato
1 egg
½ tbsp. butter
⅛ tsp. pepper

Wash the fish and cut or shred into small pieces. If fish is hard and salt, soak in cold water for four hours or more. Put the fish and diced potatoes in a saucepan; cover with boiling water; cook until the potatoes are tender (about 10 min.). Drain; return to the stove uncovered for a few moments to permit the steam to escape. Remove from the stove; mash thoroughly, add butter, pepper and unbeaten egg; beat vigorously until the mixture is light and creamy. Drop by spoonfuls into deep fat (385 deg. F.). Fry until brown (about 1 minute); drain on absorbent paper.

CORN FRITTERS

1 cup grated raw corn or chopped cooked corn
1 egg
½ cup soft bread crumbs
1 tsp. salt
½ tsp. pepper

Heat the egg; add the corn, crumbs, and seasonings. Drop heaping tbsps. of the mixture into hot bacon fat or drippings in a frying pan. Saute until brown on one side; turn and brown, drain on absorbent paper.

Tomorrow's Menu

BREAKFAST
Grapefruit
Scrambled Eggs
Muffins Butter
Preserves
Coffee

LUNCH
Broiled Canadian Bacon
Rice Croquettes
Bread and Butter
Baked Apples
Cocoa

DINNER
Pan-Broiled Chopped Beef with Mushrooms
Baked Potatoes Harvard Beets
Bread and Butter
Banana Betty
Coffee

Shower Ideas

By MRS. BEECKMAN

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN:

1—A shower is going to be given in honor of a bride-to-be. Is it proper for the groom-to-be to be present at the shower?

2—Is it proper for the sister of the groom to have a shower for the bride-to-be? M.

1—If the party is a mixed party, women and men, the groom-to-be is invited. But if the shower is for girl and women friends of the bride-to-be, the groom-to-be is not present.

2. Although there are no definite rules about the giving of showers, who gives them and so forth, there is a very definite feeling that showers given by close relatives of the bride-to-be or of the groom-to-be smacks too much of a too definitely planned "promotion." This seems too true nowadays, when budgets are not so ample as in days of yore, and when they are sadly strained by the giving of so many showers, so many pre-wedding occasions that demand or seem to demand gifts, and all leading up to the important wedding gift. Balancing this budget takes lots of "brain trust"!

THE MARRY-GO-ROUND

By HELEN ROWLAND

The last decade produced many wonderful women; but most of us who lived through the Jazz Age will probably always link it up in memory with La Guinan, La Garbo, La Joyce and La West. And such is the quality of glamour!

Helen Rowland

Fools rush into love-affairs — and win — while "wise" men are studying the road-map and testing the brakes.

There will always be some people in the world who will marry for experiment—just as there will always be some who will try to prove that the gun isn't loaded, by pulling the trigger.

Simplified courtship is the order of the day. All a girl wants to know is whether a man likes his love-making rare, medium, well-done or chilled. It's all ready-to-serve.

A "perfect lady" is a woman who takes the precaution to turn the radio on full blast, before she starts telling her husband what she thinks of him.

While a middle-aged man is joyfully boasting that he "feels just like a boy," his wife is probably wishing that he would grow up and act like a reasonable human being.

It is hard for the average woman to learn to drive a car—because a car always takes her so literally. It has absolutely NO intuition, and never suspects that when she steps on the accelerator, she MEANT to step on the brake.

Turning a "good fellow" into good husband is about the most hopeless task a girl can undertake.

Copyright, 1934, for the Boston Evening American.

A Trailing Negligee

A chemise de nuit and a negligee, both of rose blush satin and lace, are sketched left. The gown is lace from the waist to the high neckline though the back is cut out. The same lace is heavily encrusted on the gown's hem. Note the new open front of the coat.

By PRUNELLA WOOD

FASHIONS in negligees follow close after fashions in formal evening gowns, and there is a distinct push towards elegance in the newest models dedicated to the boudoir.' Designers know that women don't give a hoot any more whether their negligee sleeves are so impractically long as to trip up the breakfast cream pitcher, or that their skirts are trained enough to cover the apartment floor like a tent.

Maybe it is a slight hangover from the Mae West flurry, and maybe it is just another case of inhibitions riddled, but there does seem to be an awful lot of lace on intimate models, which dress them up no end, despite the streamlines of the garments themselves.

There are lively negligees that make good use of dark lace appliques on dusty pastel satins. Other models have very fine lace trimmings dyed to exactly match the material carrying them. It is the off-shades that are prettiest treated this way in such tints as shrimp, ice green and blue, or palest gray.

The Moyenage idea in fashion, that medieval beauty which gives a woman's clothes loose princess lines and sleeves that float away from the wrist, is an especially effective and comfortable one for a negligee. The sketch above shows this influence clearly.

Copyright, 1934, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

New Pastel Blouses

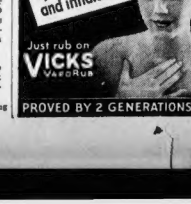
Have you seen the lovely new spring blouses in soft pastel crepe?

These come in delightful colors—rose petal pink, turquoise blue, chartreuse green and old gold—with the same frivolous little frills that mark printed frocks being shown in all the shops.

Even such simple trifles as an extravagantly lacy pair of stepins will help drive away the big bad wolf of boredom from your clothes closet door. And a new bag or gloves will practically make life worth living again!

..chest COLDS

best treated by stimulation and inhalation



Just rub on VICKS VapoRub

PROVED BY 2 GENERATIONS

Navy Blue Fur and White Galyak

(Authentic last-minute fashions from New York—the style center of America)

By Victoria Gaines

IF YOU'VE BEEN a bright girl, and waited to see what turned up in your Christmas stocking before splurging your own precious pennies on furs, you're probably glad of it this very minute. Suppose you found a perfectly swell silver fox cape—the scarf-cape kind that's been so smart all season—well, then you're all set for the spring as far as furs are concerned. For silver fox hasn't lost a scrap of smartness for spring—in spite of all its popularity this winter. Whether you're suited, coated or frocked, a silver fox scarf will go with them all. It's an all-year round fashion, too, for it can go into your summer vacation kit later, and practically prostrate the porch brigade at any resort hotel when you wear it over your summer evening frocks.

SABLES IF YOU'RE SMALL

If Santa's slipped you a caracul coat for Christmas, then all you need is the merest trifle in the way of spring furs—a six-skin sable stole, for example, or a mink scarf. These are long enough to loop around your neck, toss over your shoulder or strangle yourself with if you're not careful—but they're handsome enough to compete with any silver fox scarf we've ever seen. Sables for the smaller women, particularly if she's stout, and silver fox for the taller type, is a good rule to remember.

CAPELETS CONTINUE

Capelets of summer ermine are also among the bright ideas furriers have thought up to separate us from our salaries this spring. Galyak, in white, beige or black, will provide for the woman whose fur code consists of "the flatter the fur, the more flattering." These, like scarfs, go on by a simple twist of a ribbon bow, making them doubly useful over spring frocks and coats.

For those who believe that furs and fabrics are the Siamese twins of coat fashions, there are some unusually lovely fur collars this spring. Not cuffs, because sleeves will be simply tailored this season. But the big excitement is Schiaparelli's jabot collar—a rippling, ruffly affair that winds down the front from throat to waist in a long, sinuous line. This is right in line with that same mocada's windblown silhouette, which fronts for coats and suits alike this spring. If four out of five spring coats do not have this Schiaparelli jabot collar, then we permanently retire from the fashion forecasting business!

Perhaps the nicest thing about this fur-trimmed trend is that in the new coats is the way furs are being dyed to match fabric colors — champagne brown fox with champagne brown wool, black with black of course, and even navy blue fox with navy blue coats.

Relish for Meats

A relish you'll enjoy with your meat and fowl is made with cranberries, celery and apple slices. Cut a peeled apple into eighths, slice one orange thin, and mash a cup of cranberries. Then boil together a cup of white corn syrup and a cup of water for a minute; add apples, cook 15 minutes; add cranberries and orange and cook 10 minutes longer and chill.

* * *

To keep the skin of roast chicken tender and make sure it browns all over, brush a little fat over fowl during baking. If you haven't a pastry brush, use a clean soft pad of cloth dipped into the fat or oil.

Home Manicuring

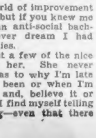
Don't soak the hands in warm, soapy water before filing the nails; they'll be so soft they will bend. The filing process will be distracting and prolonged.

Purchase a sharp file or high-grade steel; no economy in buying a cheap one. Work from the sides of the nails toward the center, run the orangewood stick under the tips to bring up shreds of undernail skin. Use the coarse side of the beveling file or emery board.

Pandora Tells You

DEAR PANDORA:

To read your column, one would suppose that there is no such thing as a happy marriage. Well, let me tell one and all that I'm the worst half of one of the happiest of marital twosomes.



My wife is a perfectly swell person and somehow she has performed the miracle of transforming me from a dyspeptic old crouser into a fairly decent individual. Oh, there's still room for a world of improvement in yours truly but if you knew me when I was an anti-social bachelor you'd never dream I had ANY possibilities.

Here are just a few of the nice things about her. She never questions me as to why I'm late or where I've been or when I'm coming home and, believe it or not, Pandora, I find myself telling her everything—even that there is a particularly pretty new steno in the office with whom I've struck up a quipping acquaintance.

If I feel the urge to go places, she can hardly wait to put on her bonnet and tippet. And, on the other hand, if the old morris-chair looms up as the most inviting receptacle for my tired bones she confides that she's been simply dying for a quiet evening at home. Do I love it? Lady, it's been a pleasure since the minute I met her and, take it from me, all this talk about single blessedness is the malarkey.

OLD JIM.

DEAR OLD JIM:

I like a man who speaks up in meetin' when there's a good reason for it, and I think your point about my column being a soapbox of marital mismates is well taken. I don't know how I'd stand it if it weren't for you and your kind, which is legion despite your unchivalrous charge.

But, you old smuggle, doesn't reading about other people's mistakes give you a nice, self-righteous feeling? Uh-huh, I thought so. PANDORA.

KEEPING UP WITH NEW YORK

1934 will set a new pace for the world! But you'll never feel a part of it all if you stay on the same old beaten path. Release yourself from routine! Stage your next New York stay against a RITZ TOWER setting. And see what it means in added enjoyment of the things that make New York life worth while.

The Ritz Tower

PARK AVENUE • • at Fifty-Seventh Street • • NEW YORK

LILLIAN GISH TO HEAD Notable Cast in "State of Grace"

Philip Barry's New Play Opens at Wilbur Next Monday; Current Show to Stay

By GEORGE HOLLAND

It may be the beginning of a trend. First, Eugene O'Neill went to religion for the motivation of his serious play, "Days Without End," and now Philip Barry, another very important playwright, contributes a comedy with a theological title, "State of Grace," and with a background and story distinctly religious.

Lillian Gish has been chosen as the star of "State of Grace" and the play, presented by Arthur Hopkins, will open a week from tonight at the Wilbur Theater. The other important premiere of that evening is Cornelia Otis Skinner's coming to the Plymouth.

Lillian Gish

Next week may find the continued presence in town of two shows originally booked for last and this week only, and there is yet a possibility that another attraction, "No More Ladies," can remain in town. This comedy by A. E. Thomas will have to find another place of tenancy if it remains and the Colonial would be the logical theater, logical chiefly because it will be the only United Booking Office vacant next week.

* * *

"All the King's Horses" can continue at the Shubert without a disarrangement of booking plans. Pauline Frederick can, and probably will, continue in "Criminal-at-Large," at the Tremont. I learn that business has been very encouraging.

Dennis King in "Richard of Bordeaux," at the Colonial, and "Ten Minute Alibi," at the Plymouth, are attractions carded for January 29, two weeks from today. "Richard of Bordeau" has been playing at the New Theatre, London, since June 26, 1932. Wallace Munro, the dean of active press agents who walks, acts and talks like a greying matinee idol, declares that Mr. King is suited perfectly by his role as the last of the Plantagenets. Francis Lister and Henry Mollison have been brought from London to appear in the characters they created—"The Earl of Oxford" and "The Earl of Derby."

Margaret Vines, Hugh Buckler, Charles Bryant, Al G. Andrews, Montague Love, Olive Reeves Smith, Richie Ling, Alexander Frank, Edgar Kent, Charles Romano, Lionel Hogarth, Elizabeth Cerf, John Buckler, Milano Tilden, Andrew Cruickshanks, Michael Pearman, Jack Benwell, Terance de Morney and Mary N. Davis, are in the cast. Which makes it quite a cast, I think.

Maestro of Jazz at the Met

Cab Calloway, Hi-de-ho music expert, now with his band and revue at the Metropolitan. Sketch is by Lawrence O'Toole, gifted young artist. Calloway's show is one of the theater's best on stage.

Borzage Direction Gives Choice Lens Lure to "MAN'S CASTLE," AT RKO KEITH'S

Spencer Tracy, Loretta Young, Share Romance, With Honors to Veterans in Cast

By HARLEIGH SCHULTZ

"Man's Castle" brings to the RKO Keith screen a melodrama of Shanty Town. As Laura Jean Libbey would have written, its characters are the flotsam and jetsam of life. Not in the shacks along the Mississippi, this time, but on the skirts of a big city—depression's down-and-outers. For this new picture's charm, you may thank Frank Borzage, the director; and for its sharply drawn characters, you may thank Walter Connolly, Marjorie Rambeau, and Arthur Hohl. Of the love sentiment the exponents are Loretta Young and Spencer Tracy.

* * *

As ever, Borzage's contribution is a delight to the eye, few are as clever at camera trickery as he, few bring to bear in a talkie so many of the unforgettable excellences of the silent drama. Thus he gives life to a jumbled plot, wrings humor here and there, and drowns out the over much dialogue with which this production is laden. Rather Borzage, than any of these individuals you see and hear, is the star of the movie.

Tracy is a restless hobo, to whom the locomotive's siren is the echo of the wanderlust in his heart. As a glorified sandwichman for a coffee concern, he makes a boiled-shirt front, the "ad" brightly gleaming from his chest. Another time he is seen on stilts, ballyhooing a hashery. With apologies to George M. Cohan and his "Pigeons and People" philosophy, the birds in the park bring him face to face with Miss Young half starved and looking longingly at the river swirling past.

Into the shack community Tracy leads her. There she finds Connolly, one time preacher now turned night watchman; Hohl, the villian of deepest dye since Simon Legree walked the boards, and Miss Rambeau, besotted "rag, a bone, and hank o' hair."

* * *

Back of these odd figures Borzage lays his intriguing backgrounds, the atmosphere is lifelike despite absurd tangles in the plot, and the sometimes drooling speech.

* * *

How Tracy, the unreliable and unfaithful, is finally brought around to be captive to the sex he scorns, is nicely achieved. Along the way there are "meller" passages, such as when Miss Rambeau works vengeance upon the villian in a good old fashioned way. The observer is quite content, at the finish, to see Tracy riding away in a freight car—victim again of his wanderlust, but this time with the attractive Miss Young by his side.

Men's Castle" is not a great picture by any means; but it is good entertainment. It could have been another Borzage epic had its talk been halved and its plot been simplified.

First Run Film

"Above the Clouds," first run film at the Bowdoin, has merit on the side of fast moving story, with Robert Armstrong expertly portraying the role of a newsreel cameraman. Richard Cromwell is his assistant, and Dorothy Wilson is the heroine.

The movie has plenty of humor mingled with its thrills.

The companion picture is "Aggie Appleby," with Wynne Gibson as the star. Ted Healy and his stooges are seen in "Beer and Pretzels."

Movie Clock

FENWAY—"Eight Girls in a Boat"; a. m., 1:13, 4 08, 7 03, 9 58.

MODERN—"The House on 56th Street"; a. m. 9.00, 11·30; p. m., 2·00, 4·40, 7·15, 9 45.

HOWARD—"You Said a Mouthful"; p. m., 12 31, 6 36.

LOEW'S ORPHEUM—"Dinner at Eight"; a. m., 9·30; p. m., 12·30, 3·30, 6 30, 9 30.

GAYETY—"The Invisible Man", a. m., 9·55; p. m., 1 50, 5 10, 9 [illegible]

UPTOWN—"Bitter Sweet"; p. m., 1, 4, 7, 10.

PARAMOUNT—"Eight Girls in a Boat"; a. m., 10 07, p. m., 12 52, 3·47, 6·42, 9 37.

RKO-BOSTON—"Let's Fall in Love"; a. m., 10 50; p. m., 1 36, 5 12, 7 59, 10 43.

STATE—"Fugitive Lovers", p. m., 12 30, 2 50, 5 15, 7 35, 10.

SCOLLAY—"Lady Killer"; a. m., 11·05; p. m., 12.05, 3 15, 6 25, 9 30.

RKO-KEITH'S—"Man's Castle"; a. m., 10, p. m., 12 02, 2 01, 4 06, 6 08, 8 10.

BOWDOIN SQ.—"Above the Clouds"; a. m., 9; p. m., 12.59, 4:57, 8:55.

METROPOLITAN—"Miss Fane's Baby Is Stolen"; a. m., 11; p. m., 1·38, 3 56, 6 14, 8.32, 10.49.

WASHINGTON ST. OLYMPIA—"Sitting Pretty"; a. m., 9.10; p. m., 12:12, 3:23, 6 25, 9.31.

Hollywood Close-Ups

By JAMES E. MITCHELL

Hollywood, Jan. 15—Of all the stage and screen superstitions, [illegible] is [illegible], the weirdest.

On the first day of a picture [illegible] turns his socks inside out and wears them that way all day.

He did it when he made his first big [illegible] success. [illegible]

* * *

Just between you and me, [illegible] contract at Paramount wasn't [illegible] for a big [illegible] it being her first picture, and what [illegible]

[illegible] for the past week, a benevolent and appreciative studio company has been showering her with the prettiest little frocks and things you've ever seen, topping everything with a coat of [illegible]

* * *

[illegible] from England eight [illegible] getting a tumble from any of the major companies, [illegible] has produced and directed a picture on his own, [illegible] The Woman Who Dared [illegible] Monroe Owsley, Claudia [illegible] and Lola Lane.

* * *

W. Parker Lyon of the Pony Express Museum has presented to [illegible] a handsome brown [illegible] cuspidor, salvaged in Virginia City, Nev.

[illegible] brass plate are the [illegible] Grant Sherman, [illegible] Mark Twain and Thomas A. Edison [illegible] a number of [illegible] at one time or another practiced on that target range.

[illegible] box scores are revealed.

* * *

And Andy Clyde, Educational's Scotch (what, no soda?) comic, has taken up horseback riding. But he has bought only one spur. He figures if he can get one side of the horse to go the other side has to go with it.

Gershwin Concert Fills Hall

By MOSES SMITH

George Gershwin is going to have unmitigated success in the thirty American cities that will see and hear him within the next thirty days, if the behavior of the Symphony Hall audience at the opening concert of the tour is any barometer.

There were standees in the aisles—an inspiring sight to managers, and a rare sight nowadays in concert-halls.

The program ranged widely, so that it would take a theater reviewer, radio columist, and music critic, all rolled into one, to report the proceedings adequately. Most of the music was by Gershwin, including the Concerto in F major, the Rhapsody in Blue, "An American in Paris," and orchestral versions of numerous Gershwin songs. Gershwin, himself, was soloist in the Concerto, the Rhapsody, and in several of the song arrangements.

Not being well-versed in the current radio folk-lore, I leave the singing and the songs of Mr. Melton to a more competent critic—the audience—which received him as heartily as it did the others. Similarly, I am unprepared to gauge the standard of the performance of the jazz pieces by the Reisman Symphonic Orchestra, directed by Charles Previn, though most of the playing seemed to me first-rate, and Mr. Previn an excellent conductor.

The strictly musical fare was thus limited to the Rhapsody, which is played too often, the "American in Paris," which is not played enough, and the Concerto, which I heard in entirety for the first time. The Concerto began the program, and its performance suffered from the nervousness of the players and conductor — a nervousness they shook off for the rest of the program. As a result, the performance missed fire, in spite of the brilliant and naturally authoritative solo-playing by the composer. I was also disappointed by the music itself, so far as I could judge at first hearing. The movements seemed too similar in subject-matter and character, the themes unimportant, the development often prolix.

How much better made—and how much better listening—is the score of "An American in Paris"! It is a racy score, exuberant, bubbling over with the sparkling water of American life—"Wintergreen for President" on a large scale (though of not so uniformly good quality, I confess).

As to the Rhapsody in Blue, which is said to have yielded Gershwin a good-sized fortune, it is late in the day to evaluate this work. It is enough to say that after a brilliant performance the Rhapsody, the football of every jazz pianist (and many a concert pianist), was received with the greatest enthusiasm.

Scollay Show Has New Film

"Rainbow Over Broadway," new picture given its first showing at the Scollay, features Grace Hayes, well known hereabouts, and doing nicely in the role of a variety actress who goes in for luxury while her family suffers. The romantic angle is handled by Joan Marsh and Frank Albertson, with Lucien Littlefield present to provide fun.

The picture is entertaining, but nowhere near up to the snappy standard of James Cagney's "Lady Killer," which is on the program and which has been already reviewed on this page.

Charming Film at Uptown

One of the most exquisite of all musicals in the English language, "Bitter Sweet," first run featured on the Uptown bill, has class from every angle.

Besides being faithful to the Noel Coward stage production, it has been accorded the deftest sort of camera treatment by Director Herbert Wilcox.

Anna Neagle as the heroine is not only beautiful, but brings a charming personality to screen, plus ability to sing. Fernand Gravey, as the hero is excellent, and Clifford Heatherly proves a worthwhile comedian.

Georgia Peach at Howard

To the Old Howard on Monday comes Georgia Sothern, star of the dance. The show is known as the "Southern Beauties" burlesque.

The comedians are Jack Montague and Steve Mills.

The continuous features offer Florence Mae, accordion expert, and Arthur LaFleur and Portia, equilibrist stars. The talkies will be "70,000 Witnesses" with Richard Arlen, Jack Oakie, Charles Ruggles and Dorothy Jordan. "You Said a Mouthful" with Joe E. Brown and Ginger Rogers, will also be viewed.

Amusements

TREMONT 2ND BIG WEEK
SENSATION OF THE SEASON
In Person
PAULINE FREDERICK
IN EDGAR WALLACE'S
"CRIMINAL-AT-LARGE"
Wed. & Thurs. Mats. 50c-75c Eves. & Sat. Mat. 50c-$1-$1.25 EXCEPTIONAL PRICES

"Delightful!—charming!—merry!" says the POST
"Vivacious!" says the HERALD
"Joyously humorous!—clever, witty!" says the GLOBE
"Most entertaining show I've seen in years!" says the AMERICAN
COMMUPNSEEUSSOMETIME sey well
CORT and ABRAMSON'S Romantic Musical Hit!
ALL THE KING'S HORSES
GUY ROBERTSON • ANDREW TOMBES
NANCY McCORD • BETTY STARBUCK
AND TWO DOZEN DAZZLING DAMSELS
SHUBERT Eves. 50c to $2.50—Wed. Mats. 50c to $1.50 Sat. Mats. 50c to $2. Plus Tax

WILLIAM MOLLISON presents
DENNIS KING in RICHARD of BORDEAUX
The Reigning Dramatic London Success
PLAY BY GORDON DAVIOT
With A Cast of Distinction Including
FRANCIS LISTER
HENRY MOLLISON • MARGARET VINES
From The Original Company
COLONIAL THEATRE
TWO WEEKS ONLY Commencing MONDAY EVENING 29th.
MAIL ORDERS NOW SEAT SALE MONDAY 22nd
PRICES NIGHTS ORCH. $2.50 BAL. $1.00 $1.50 $2.00 2nd BAL. 75¢ MATS. ORCH. $2.00 WEDNESDAY & SAT. BAL. $1.00 $1.50 2nd BAL. 75¢ PLUS TAX

METROPOLITAN
"MISS FANE'S BABY IS STOLEN" DOROTHY WIECK ALICE BRADY BABY LEROY
STAGE! CAB CALLOWAY And His Famous COTTON CLUB ORCHESTRA In Person AND BIG REVUE OF STORMY TALENT
FREE DANCING!
STARTING FRIDAY MARY PICKFORD IN PERSON
ON THE SCREEN "ALL OF ME" FREDRIC MARCH MIRIAM HOPKINS

PARAMOUNT AND FENWAY "CONVENTION CITY" STARTS THURS.
PARAMOUNT & FENWAY 40 BEAUTIES with BOSTON'S OWN WINNER, ELEANOR LOVEGREN "8 GIRLS IN A BOAT" EL BRENDEL "OLSEN'S BIG MOMENT"
MODERN KAY FRANCIS "House on 56th Street" MUSICAL "RAINBOW OVER BROADWAY"
SCOLLAY JAMES CAGNEY "LADY KILLER" MUSICAL "RAINBOW OVER BROADWAY"

UPTOWN 30c From 1 P. M.
★★★★NOEL COWARD'S★★★★ "BITTER SWEET"
Also 4 Marx Brothers "Duck Soup"

WALDRON'S CASINO
RESERVED SEATS 25c
Cont. 9 A. M. to 10 30 P. M. SPORTY WIDOWS BURLESQUERS 3 Burlesque Shows Daily At 12 Noon, 2 30 & 8 20 P. M.

WILBUR THEATRE—ONE WEEK BEGINNING Jan. 22
ARTHUR HOPKINS presents
"STATE OF GRACE"
PHILIP BARRY'S LATEST COMEDY with
LILLIAN GISH
SEATS NOW. Prices 50c, 77c, $1, $1.50, $2, $2.50 Plus Tax

BOWDOIN 6 VAUDEVILLE ACTS IN PERSON
"ABOVE THE CLOUDS" FIRST BOSTON RUN "AGGIE APPLEBY" with CHARLES FARRELL
Thurs. Shadows of Sing Sing—"Ladies Should Behave"

NEW GAYETY 1000 SEATS 15c ANY TIME "THE INVISIBLE MAN" 5 VAUDEVILLE ACTS 5 JACK HOLT "THE WRECKER"

STATE LOEW'S ORPHEUM
Thrilling! Exciting! Dramatic! ROBERT MONTGOMERY in "Fugitive Lovers" with Madge Evans
Starts Friday ANN HARDING in "Gallant Lady" with Clive Brook
First Time Downtown at POPULAR PRICES DINNER at 8 with 12 M-G-M Stars & LOEW'S VAUDEVILLE
Starts Friday Eddie Cantor in "Roman Scandals" RADIO ROGUES on Stage and other great acts

PLYMOUTH—LAST WEEK
LEE SHUBERT Presents
The Fifth Subscription Play of the American Theatre Society
NO MORE LADIES
A modern Comedy by A. E. THOMAS with MELVYN DOUGLAS
REX O'MALLEY, RUTH WESTON, NANCY RYAN, LOUIS HOCTOR, MARCELLA SWANSON, MARY FITZWILLIAMS SARGENT
AND LUCILE WATSON
Staged by HARRY WAGSTAFF GRIBBLE
Settings by WATSON BARRATT
Nights 50c to $2.50—Thurs. & Sat. Mats. 50c to $2.00 Plus Tax

PLYMOUTH ONE WEEK ONLY BEG. MON., JAN 22
Cornelia Otis Skinner
IN THE DRAMATIC SEQUENCES
MON.-TUES. NIGHTS-THURS. MATS.-SAT. MAT. & NIGHT. "THE LOVES OF CHARLES II"
WEDNESDAY AND THURSDAY NIGHTS "THE EMPRESS EUGENIE"
FRIDAY NIGHT "THE WIVES OF HENRY VIII"
EACH SEQUENCE PRECEDED BY A GROUP OF ORIGINAL CHARACTER SKETCHES
Seats Now—Eves. 55c to $2.20, Thurs. & Sat. Mats. 55c to $1.65

MINSKYS' PARK BURLESQUE
HUB. 1336
BIG NEW SHOW TODAY
"Ada Beane from Boston"
with Burlesque's Big Five
DAWN DeLESS ★ ANN NORTON
MARGIE BARTEL ★ SONYA SLANE
★ LILLIAN MURRAY ★
And a Score of Side-Splitting Comedians with 50 Beautiful Girls
2 Continuous Shows—9 30 to 5 P. M. 25c and 35c Till Noon—Eves. 8 30. All Seats Reserved—35c to $1 10. New Show Monday—Midnite Show Friday.
REMEMBER BIG MIDNITE SHOW Every Friday 11:30 P. M. 40c to 65c COMPLETE SHOW ALWAYS

KEITH Boston
NOW Radio's Musical Comedy Star! BERT LAHR In Person!
35c
Other Big RKO Acts HILL & HOFFMAN CALIFORNIA REVELS JERRY COE & GARRY JAMES EVANS
Larry Flint
SCREEN Comedy—Romance! "LET'S FALL IN LOVE" EDMUND LOWE ANN SOTHERN GREGORY RATOFF
STARTS FRIDAY BORIS KENYON in person

"AN AMERICAN SEVENTH HEAVEN" N. Y. Daily Mirror
"MAN'S CASTLE"
A Columbia Picture SPENCER TRACY LORETTA YOUNG Walter Connolly Glenda Farrell
RKO KEITH'S

Old HOWARD
ALWAYS SOMETHING DOING 11 TO 11 • TEL. CAP 1565
GEORGIA SOTHERN AND HER "SOUTHERN BEAUTIES BURLESQUERS" With JACK MONTAGUE and STEVE MILLS
50 NEW FACES
VAUDEVILLE AND PICTURES
Midnight Show Every Friday at 11:30 P. M.
Orchestra Circle, Balcony, Admission 25 Cents Until Noon. Show Starts at 11:00 A. M. Burlesque at 2:10 and 8:00 P. M.

Louella O. Parsons' Hollywood column on Page 14.

Today at YOUR NEIGHBORHOOD THEATER

CAMBRIDGE
UNIVERSITY PORTER 4580 HARVARD SQ. MAX BAER-MYRNA LOY "THE PRIZE FIGHTER AND THE LADY" 4 MARX BROTHERS "DUCK SOUP"
CHARLESTOWN
HOLLYWOOD CHAS. 1300 Exclusive Charlestown Showing "Invisible Man" J. Gaynor-W. Baxter "PADDY, THE NEXT BEST THING"
THOMPSON SQUARE THEATRE Dick Powell-Pat O'Brien "COLLEGE COACH" C. Laughton-Carole Lombard "WHITE WOMAN" Free Kitchenware
EGLESTON SQ.
The EGLESTON WASHINGTON ST. at EGLESTON SQ. Ronald Colman in "The MASQUERADER" "S. O. S. ICEBERG" Thrilling Adventure Drama
HYDE PARK
EVERETT SQ. HYDE PARK Rod LaRocque "S. O. S. ICEBERG" Buck Jones-Dorothy Revier "The Thrill Hunter"
MALDEN
GRANADA MALDEN Jack Oakie-Ginger Rogers "SITTING PRETTY" Lionel Barrymore "SHOULD LADIES BEHAVE" Starts Sat., "Little Women"
MYSTIC MALDEN MAL. 1230 Barbara Stanwyck "Ever In My Heart" Charles Ruggles "Terror Aboard"
MALDEN
STRAND MALDEN Tel. Malden 5711 CLARA BOW "HOOPLA" Chas. Farrell-Wynne Gibson "AGGIE APPLEBY, MAKER OF MEN"
REVERE
BOULEVARD AND REVERE "My Weakness" With Lillian Harvey-Lew Ayres RICHARD DIX in "ACE OF ACES"
ROXBURY
AT THE HUMBOLDT JACK PEARL—JIMMY DURANTE "MEET THE BARON" GENEVIEVE TOBIN "THE WRECKER"
SOMERVILLE
CAPITOL BALL SQ. George Bancroft "BLOOD MONEY" Lillian Harvey-Lew Ayres "MY WEAKNESS"
TEELE SQ. SOMERVILLE BROADWAY ED WYNN in "THE CHIEF" "East of 5th Ave." With MARY CARLISLE
SOUTH END
NATIONAL Eve. 10c-20c Mat. 10c Continuous 12.30 to 11.00 Amateur Night-10 Acts JEAN HARLOW "BOMBSHELL" Lew Cody "BY APPOINTMENT ONLY"

PARAMOUNT PUBLIX NEIGHBORHOOD THEATRES
ALLSTON
ALLSTON M. 2-E. 8 STA. 4410 BARBARA STANWYCK "Ever in My Heart" Spencer Tracy-Claire Trevor "The Mad Game"
CAPITOL ASP. 0225 Free Parking Paramount's Musical Hit "SITTING PRETTY" Jack Oakie-Ginger Rogers Lionel Barrymore Alice Brady "Should Ladies Behave" Sat. "LITTLE WOMEN" Popeye Cartoon
[illegible]ON CENTER
EGYPTIAN STA. 6800 Mat. 20c Eve. 25c & 35c MAE WEST "I'M NO ANGEL" Dorothy Mackaill "Neighbor's Wives" Wed. Eve. HI-DE-HO Revue on Stage
[illegible]
CENTRAL SQ. UNIV. 0872 M. 2 E. 8 LIONEL BARRYMORE ALICE BRADY "Should Ladies Behave" "SITTING PRETTY" Jack Oakie-Jack Haley
HARVARD M. 2:30-E. 8 MAE WEST "I'M NO ANGEL" Donald Dillaway "Under Secret Orders"
CHELSEA
OLYMPIA M. 2-E. 7 11 Clark Gable Joan Crawford "Dancing Lady" Spencer Tracy "Mad Game"
[illegible]
CODMAN SQ. Free Parking Joan Crawford-Clark Gable "DANCING LADY" Spencer Tracy-Claire Trevor "MAD GAME"
FIELDS COR. TAL. 3200 M. 2-E. 7-11 MARIE DRESSLER LIONEL BARRYMORE "Her Sweetheart" Ruth Chatterton "FEMALE"
MORTON GEN. 6300 M. 2-E. 7-8.30 RUTH CHATTERTON "FEMALE" DICK POWELL "College Coach"
STRAND COL. 2000 M. 1.45-E. 8 "SITTING PRETTY" Jack Oakie-Ginger Rogers LIONEL BARRYMORE ALICE BRADY "Should Ladies Behave" Free Parking
JAMAICA PLAIN
JAMAICA JAM. 3280 M. 2-E. 7-11 MARIE DRESSLER LIONEL BARRYMORE "Her Sweetheart" (Christopher Bean) RUTH CHATTERTON FEMALE
MATTAPAN SQ.
ORIENTAL Bla. 1200 M. 2-E. 8 "SITTING PRETTY" Jack Oakie-Ginger Rogers Lionel Barrymore Should Ladies Behave"
NEWTON
PARAMOUNT NEW. 4980 Joan Crawford-Clark Gable "DANCING LADY" Spencer Tracy, "MAD GAME"
ROSLINDALE
RIALTO PAR. 3850 M. 2 E. 7 8 20 MARIE DRESSLER LIONEL BARRYMORE Her Sweetheart (Christopher Bean) Ruth Chatterton FEMALE
ROXBURY
RIVOLI M. 2 E. 7 11 Jack Oakie-Ginger Rogers "SITTING PRETTY" LIONEL BARRYMORE ALICE BRADY Should Ladies Behave"
SHAWMUT GAR. 1370 M. 1 45 E. 7 8 15 Ruth Chatterton "FEMALE" Marie Dressler Lionel Barrymore "Her Sweetheart"
SOMERVILLE
STRAND M. 15c-2 P. M. Eves. 25c-8 P. M. James Cagney-Dick Powell "Footlight Parade" Will Rogers-Marian Nixon "DOCTOR BULL"
WALTHAM
EMBASSY WALTHAM WAL. 3840 FREE PARKING JACK OAKIE GINGER ROGERS "SITTING PRETTY" LIONEL BARRYMORE ALICE BRADY "Should Ladies Behave" Sat. K. HEPBURN "LITTLE WOMEN"
WATCH THIS DIRECTORY
PATRONIZE YOUR NEIGHBORHOOD THEATRE

VALLEE ELUDES COURT ACTION BY PLANE

Los Angeles, Jan. 15—Rudy Vallee sped eastward toward New York by train today to fulfill contract engagements, leaving behind for the moment process servers and the turmoil of Fay Webb Vallee's separate maintenance action against him.

Forsaking his role as master of ceremonies at the Screen Actors' Guild Ball, Saturday night, Vallee boarded an airplane, with an especially hired pilot, and flew to Glendale, Cal., where he boarded a limited train for New York.

Reports that Alice Faye, featured singer with Vallee's orchestra, and who had just completed a picture with him at Fox studios, had accompanied Vallee in his flight from Los Angeles, were emphatically denied by studio officials.

The process servers whom Vallee avoided, it was said were seeking to restrain him from leaving California before hearing of the separate maintenance suit brought by Mrs. Vallee here last week, in which she named Miss Faye and asked for a monthly allowance of $7400.

Meanwhile, Police Chief C. L. Webb of Santa Monica, Fay's father, was somewhat excited about an offer of a New York night club for his daughter to appear there at $5000 a week.

"Whew! That's a lot of money" said Chief Webb, "Accept it? Well, I should say not. Fay has had lots of offers to appear in New York productions lately, but I'll admit none has been so magnificent as this. But she is not interested. Her health would not permit her to accept."

Medical Dean Dies

Quebec, Jan. 15—Dr. Arthur Rousseau, 61, dean of the faculty of medicine at Laval University and one of the city's leading physicians, is dead of pneumonia.

Love Forgets Rudy and Fay

Mr. and Mrs. Gary Leon on their honeymoon in Fay Webb Vallee's home town—Santa Monica, Cal. Leon is the dancer named as his "rival" by Rudy Vallee in his marital battles with Fay. Gary and Fay were childhood sweethearts—but he's married now and she's in the fight of her life as Rudy speeds East dodging process-servers. (International News Photo.)

Ford Plant Reopens

Toronto, Ont., Jan. 15 (INS)—The Ford branch assembly plant here reopened today employing 500 men. The plant has been closed since August 1.

Foot of Snow at Lake Placid

Lake Placid, N. Y., Jan. 15—Twelve inches of snow in as many hours gave this vicinity the record snowfall of the winter.

TUGS SALVAGING SHIP ON ROCKS

Portland, Me., Jan. 15—Dawn today revealed the wrecked freighter Sagamore still clinging to the rocks off Prout's Neck, as a fleet of tugs started salvage operations.

Her hull ripped open and her decks awash, it was considered doubtful that the Sagamore could be floated from the jagged projection on which she piled aground when driven off her course Sunday morning in a 50-mile gale.

Capt. Ralph R. McDonough, of Weymouth, Mass., and the crew of 26, who were rescued after a harrowing night, were on their way to New York to man the freighter Herman Winter, which will take the Sagamore's place on the New York-Portland run.

Only the seamanship of Capt. McDonough is credited by the crew with saving their lives, as the craft reeled through the storm and struck on Corwin's Rock.

FLEET MOVES TO SEA JULY 9

San Pedro, Cal., Jan. 15—General plans for the movement of the fleet in Asiatic waters this summer were supplemented today by detailed schedules announced by Admiral David F. Sellers, commander-in-chief of the United States navy.

The armada of 110 vessels and 300 aircraft, departing here April 9, will be reviewed by President Roosevelt at New York, June 1.

An elaborate series of war games will begin April 18. The Caribbean Sea will be the scene of cruising exercises from May 8 to 10. Arriving at New York, the fleet will remain there until June 18. On June 15 all planes will go to land bases for a concentration to last until July 25. Departing from New York June 18, the fleet will scatter. On July 9 the fighting craft will put to sea for tactical exercises.

NOURSE BODY IS ON WAY WEST

Washington, Jan. 15 (US)—The body of James R. Nourse, veteran newspaperman who died here Saturday night, was placed aboard a train last night to be sent to his home in San Francisco where it is expected to arrive Thursday evening.

Funeral services will be held at San Francisco, presumably Friday.

For 30 years he had been connected with the Hearst newspapers and news services on the Pacific coast and in Washington and New York.

Mr. Nourse had come to Washington from San Francisco only a fortnight ago to write for the Hearst newspapers of the present session of Congress. For the preceding five and a half years he had been managing editor of the San Francisco Examiner.

He went to that post in 1928 from the general management of Universal Service in New York. Previously he had served several years as a Washington correspondent and manager of the Washington bureau of Universal Service and also as managing editor of the Washington Herald.

Prior to coming to Washington he had spent many years with the Hearst papers on the Pacific coast as city editor of both the San Francisco and Los Angeles Examiners.

Charity Nun Made Saint by Pope Pius

Vatican City, Jan. 15 (US)—In a solemn ceremony at St. Peter's Cathedral, Pope Pius canonized Saint Jean Thouret, founder of the Institute of Sisters of Charity, who have served as nurses in both peace and war.

The ceremony began early yesterday with the traditional procession which has always marked such occasions. More than 10,000 persons were present, including 23 cardinals, 50 bishops and two sisters cured from illness by a "miracle" which they attribute to their prayers to Saint Jean.

Frozen Cat Thaws Out on Boiler

Plainview, Neb., Jan. 15 (AP)—The story, as told by employes of a creamery.

An employe found a cat frozen to a rock beside a pool of water.

He took the cat to the creamery, where workmen put it on top of a boiler. It remained several hours, showed signs of life, finally walking away under its own power and hasn't been seen since.

Veteran Teacher Dies

Willimantic, Ct., Jan. 15—Frederic W. Staebner, 78, for 32 years teacher of science at the Willimantic State Normal school, is dead at his home here.

NAZIS GET SAAR PARLEY BID

Geneva, Jan. 1 (AP)—The League of Nations Council moved for German cooperation today through adoption of a French-inspired resolution suggestion that Germany participate at Geneva in the forthcoming league preparations for the Saar Basin plebiscite.

The plebiscite, to be conducted next year, will determine whether the great coal mining district is to be French or German in the future.

Advertisement

COLDS ARE NOW REACHING OUT FOR VICTIMS!

Be Wise—Be Careful—Adopt This Simple Precautionary Measure!

Colds are increasing. In some sections Influenza is breaking out. Don't be alarmed, but don't be careless.

A cold is much easier avoided than cured! Do the sensible thing and adopt the ounce of prevention policy. Stay out of crowds as much as you can. Avoid coughers and sneezers. Dress warmly, keep your feet dry and sleep in a well-ventilated room.

Every morning and night take a tablet or two of Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine. This will keep the bowels open and combat infection by cold germs.

Millions know Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine as an excellent cold remedy, but not enough know it as an equally excellent preventive. Learn its efficacy and keep a package handy all winter long as your "safety first" measure.

If you have already caught cold there is nothing better you can take than Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine. It doesn't merely suppress the cold — it drives it completely out of the system. At the same time, it tones the entire system and fortifies against further attack.

For more than forty years Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine has been the standard cold and grippe tablet of the world, the formula keeping pace with Modern Medicine. Now in two sizes —30c and 50c. Ask for it by the full name and look for the initials L. B. Q. stamped on every tablet. Reliable dealers will not try to sell you a substitute.

Advertisement

FOR YOUR FAVORITE RECIPES

$10. DAILY FOR BEST DISHES

If you have a favorite recipe —one that you are exceptionally fond of—send it to Martha Lee's Recipes, Boston American, P. O. Box 2097, Boston.

Each day there is a first cash prize of $5 and five other awards of $1. Prizes will be paid only on recipes that are published. You may submit one or more new recipes every day if you wish.

Today's prize winning recipes are on Page 18

Boston American
New England's Greatest Evening Newspaper

WORK MORE, EARN MORE, SPEND MORE IN 1934

Work More, Earn More, Spend More, in '34

FIRST WITH LATEST NEWS

BOSTON AMERICAN
NEW ENGLAND'S GREATEST EVENING NEWSPAPER
BOSTON, MONDAY, JANUARY 15, 1934

GREATER BOSTON NEWS

BACON IN GOVERNOR RACE AS G.O.P. WATCHES FULLER

SAYRE BACKS ELY'S RECORD ON PARDONS

Says Brooks' Charges of Racket Without Foundation

Openly aligning himself with Governor Ely in the latter's dispute with Frank A. Brooks, former chairman of the state parole board who accused the governor of running a pardon racket, Assistant Secretary of State Francis B. Sayre today branded the charges without foundation.

Sayre, who is a former commissioner of correction for Massachusetts, issued a statement which was closely followed with a statement from the governor in which the latter said:

3500 PARDONS A YEAR

"Brooks gave out 3500 pardons in a year and it sounds a bit ridiculous for such a man to be talking about rackets."

Brooks accused the governor of permitting a host of political allies to besiege the board in behalf of desperate criminals. His accusation was short and without details. Sayre declared he was not impressed with the charges. He said in part:

SAYRE LAUDS ELY RECORD

"Governor Ely has been really and sincerely interested in building up the penal institutions. Party politics have played no part in either the penal institutions or the parole situation."

"I have 'skimmed over' in the newspapers charges of Brooks," Governor Ely said, "and it sounds a bit ridiculous for a parole board chairman who gave out 3500 pardons to accuse anybody of running a racket. With my 40 pardons a year I look kind of puny beside that record. Evidently Democratic lawyers must have persuaded him a lot."

LYNN JUROR'S DEATH NATURAL

Medical Examiner Nathaniel P. Breed of Lynn today announced that Joseph M. Twomey, 60, member of the Essex grand jury that indicted the Paramount theater murder suspects, had died of heart trouble.

He had lived in New Park st., Lynn. His sudden death had made police suspicious, coming as it did so soon after the indictment of Clement Molway and Louis Berrett, both of Brighton, for the murder of Fred Sumner, theater employe. Bruises on the body had been suffered when Twomey fell, Dr. Breed said.

Molway and Berrett were placed in another lineup in Salem today to give four new witnesses a chance to identify them as having been near the theater when the holdup and murder occurred. Five witnesses had accused them before their indictment.

They are to be arraigned this week and will go to trial next month, Dist. Atty. Cregg said today. Meanwhile a search is being made for the third of the bandit trio that committed the crime.

SIX-MAN JURY IN AUTO SUITS

A bill to expedite the liquidation of claims existing or arising out of accidents under the Compulsory Automobile Insurance Law has been filed in the House on petition of William J. Coughlan of Brookline.

It provides that all such claims which are to be reduced to suit, may be instituted in the district or municipal courts, with unlimited damage.

A petit jury of six men may be drawn, impaneled, compensated and function, as and under the same provisions of the law as in the jury session of the Superior Court. Twelve temporary associate justices would be appointed by the governor to serve until such time as the lists have been reduced to normal.

Roslindale Board Will Honor Finley

A reception will be tendered Councilor James F. Finley of Ward 20, at the Roslindale municipal building at 8 o'clock tonight.

Thomas J. Connors, president of the Roslindale Board of Trade is general chairman.

WORK MORE, EARN MORE, SPEND MORE IN 1934

Men Reveal True Character to Girls in Dance Floor Manners

Slightly inferiority complex . . . Young man subject to collapse on any social error, cautiously concentrating on his feet.

Here is the demonstrative man, who in his unnecessary exhibitionism is more interested attracting public attention than he is in his partner, who must be contented to give him the spotlight.

This situation is tpyical of the conceited man . . . indulging in one-sided conversation with the girl slightly bored.

Here is the collegiate type, jumping, bobbing and weaving . . . in a simulation of tremendous energy, typical of the immature college boys.

Dance X-Rays Characters for Old Rhythm Master

Dance posture is the X-ray of character. So opines Arthur Murray of New York, who has taught and observed thousands in the dance salons of Broadway. After years of scrutinizing dancers of all ages and types he is convinced that individuals betray their inner selves while dancing. To the instructor who doubles in psychology the conceited, the kindly, the ruthless, the mentally retarded, and the trigger-fingered gentry are open book of character.

Professor Nat Ritter of Boston for 16 years instructor in rhythmic grace, yesterday concurred enthusiastically with the opinions of Mr. Murray.

"Among the peculiarities that I have long analyzed," said Prof. Ritter, "are those which denote, for instance, the demonstrative man, who delights in performing complicated adagio steps on a public dance floor; the conceited dancer, who exhibits his self-esteem by keeping up a steady patter of conversation; the introvert whose inferiority complex causes him to look at his feet in perpetual fear that they may play some mean trick on him. Then there's the gentleman — if you may call him that—who bounces up and down, a clearly collegiate and immature type.

"Very often you see girls sweeping along with closed eyes, in apparent bliss. This is more often an attempt at exotic allure. Impolite people are frequently seen to talk over their shoulders to some one else, or even leave their partners in the middle of the floor, while the epitome of boorishness for a fickle man is to quietly guide his companion over to the stag line.

"I have long been convinced that women's intuition is aided by observation and analysis of the conduct of their dance partners. Consequently what I have to say on the subject is to the 'leading' male, rather than fresh information to the weaker sex."

Ward 14 Democrats Aid T. B. Fund Drive

Ward 14 Democratic Club, with headquarters at 1165 Blue Hill ave., Dorchester, is assisting the Boston Jewish Anti-Tuberculosis Association to raise funds to combat tuberculosis today.

The efforts of the association were discussed yesterday by Mrs. Rose Edenburg, of the association before members of the Democratic Club.

SEEK LOST BOY IN RESERVOIR

Abandoning their house-to-house search Brookline police and firemen today resumed dragging the waters of the Brookline reservoir in a search for 11-year-old John Collins who disappeared from his home nearly two weeks ago.

The search of the reservoir, in which underwater lights are being used, was undertaken after playmates of the missing lad said he was seen on the day of his disappearance playing there.

Headed by Fire Chief S. R. Allen the firemen began their dangerous task, using long ladders because of the rotten condition of the ice. A half dozen holes were bade and, after the powerful light was lowered, the firemen dragged with grappling irons.

That the reservoir may yield up the lad's body appeared likely when it was learned that he was last seen playing on the Lee st end where the water is always open regardless eof temperature.

Marjorie Tucker to Wed F. E. Howe

Mr. Quincy Tucker of Boston announces the engagement of his daughter, Miss Marjorie Quincy Tucker, to Mr. Frederick Ely Howe, son of the late Dr. and Mrs. Walter Clarke Howe of Boston.

Miss Tucker attended Milton Academy. Her fiance prepared at Phillips Andover Academy and was graduated in 1931 from Amherst, and in 1933 from the Harvard business school. He is a member of Alpha Delta Phi.

The wedding will take place in March.

CRASH FOILS 2 AUTO THEFTS

When an automobile he was alleged to have stolen in Boston overturned in Randolph last night, John C. Allen, 31, of Roach st., Dorchester, is said by police to have tried to continue his travels in another car he espied in a nearby yard. But the owner and a friend heard him trying to start it and nabbed him just before the arrival of Chief of Police Patrick McDonald in response to a radio message sent out by the state police.

When arraigned today before Judge Nash in Quincy District Court he pleaded not guilty to charges of using a car without authority and attempted larceny of an automobile. The case was continued until Thursday.

FARMERS BALK AT MILK CODE

A strong protest from New England farmers to Secretary of Agriculture Wallace's proposal to eliminate wholesale and retail price schedules from the Greater Boston milk code was on its way to Washington today.

Director Frederic S. Snyder and an arbitration board composed of commissioners of agriculture from Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont and Massachusetts, will attempt for the third time to secure an immediate reduction in the price of cream in retail, under the price code, costing from 17 to 19 c... the half pint jar.

New England dealers, through an appeal to Chester A. Davis, AAA administrator, propose to submit a plan of their own to improve the distribution and marketing of milk

Tilden Finds Victory Sweet, But Tallulah's Kiss, Ah--

By RUTH MUGGLEBEE

"It was very pleasant—it was luscious."

And in those few words, Bill Tilden, tennis king, in Boston today, described his rapturous ecstasy when the exquisite Tallulah Bankhead of the stage and screen kissed his gaunt cheek after his conclusive victory over Ellsworth Vines in Madison Sq. Garden.

While flashlights glared, she kissed him. But today with no flashlights and no public audience to watch them do "the love scene par excellence", the tall, lean and wiry Bill Tilden emotionally reminisced over the incident which still lingers on.

"You see I have known Tallulah for a great many years. I didn't know she was watching me play in New York and so the kiss came as a double surprise," Tilden spoke on.

"No, no, lovely Tallulah never did that before. And please treat me gently. And please don't have me married to her. You better ask her first."

MORE THAN ONE

Which leaves plenty of room for conjecture on that score

"But that kiss was very pleasant There were a series of kisses. They came quickly and suddenly and they were luscious.

"It would be incriminating to tell about other kisses. And indeed it is a leading question to ask if other lovely ladies have vented their emotions on my cheeks at other times. Suffice it to say that Tallulah's kisses, publicly gazed upon in New York last week, are the only ones I will now even talk about.

ADDS TO CHARM

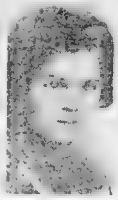
"I hadn't seen Tallulah for some time and when she witnessed my straight set victories, I guess she couldn't contain herself. Tallulah is delightfully spontaneous, which, of course, is part of her charm. You know when lovely woman stoops, not to folly, but to kiss, what man could resist, especially the irresistible Tallulah?"

Men the world over who have showered the "orchid of the screen" with tangible expressions of their devotion for "just a peek" into her good graces have now lived to learn that woman moves her charms to rest where the mood moves ...

Firebug Hunted as Scores Flee 3 Brighton Blazes

While residents of Brighton slept and snow fell early today a maniacal firebug applied the torch to three buildings, endangering the whole section and driving a number of persons to the street.

Five alarms were sounded in rapid succession and the different fires were discovered and a heavy police detail was thrown into the district in a vain attempt to catch the firebug.



Harriet Abrams

The leaping flames coupled with the noise of fire fighting apparatus drew throngs of motorists and other spectators to the scene hampering the work of the fire men.

THREE FIRES AT ONCE

The first fire was in the cellar of a dwelling at 56 Union st., which was extinguished with small loss after two families were driven out.

A short time later the old Furbush stable on North ... ave., now used to store cars, burst into flames which attained so much headway that a second and then a third alarm were turned in.

While firemen were battling the blaze the flames from which shot skyward many feet another alarm was sounded for a fire in the basement of a house at 11 Ransom rd. Children rescued there included Harriet L. Abrams, 7.

Virtually constituting a fourth alarm, this brought apparatus from all parts of the city over slippery roads. The last blaze was set in rubbish and caused no damage.

On top of all this another alarm came in, from Glencoe st., half a mile away, but it turned out to be false.

THREE ALARMS SOUNDED

The old stable, located on the grounds of Hans R. Ralston, horse trainer, contained nothing but two autos. In the adjoining barn however were the trotter Clestine, two work horses and a pony, which were rescued by neighbors assisted by Almon J. Furbush racing driver

FARLEY TO HEAD CURLEY FETE

Breaking his New Year resolution and cancelling Washington engagements, Postmaster-General James A. Farley will come to Boston to attend a friendship dinner which civic leaders are to hold one week from Saturday at the Copley Plaza Hotel in honor of ex-Mayor James M. Curley.

The present plans for the dinner include reservations for 1500 guests. It was revealed that, although Curley's permission to stage the affair was obtained only a few days ago, already 400 reservations have been sold at $10 a plate.

Sir David I. Walsh has been appointed chairman of a committee consisting of Postmaster-General Farley, Gov. Ely, U. S. Sen. Marcus Coolidge, U. S. Sen. J. Hamilton Lewis of Chicago, James Roosevelt, son of the President, former Gov. Alvan ... Edward A. Frame and Mayor Mansfield.

Atty.-Gen. Joseph E. Warner, Louis E. Kirstein, Robert B. Choate, James T. Moriarty, former Atty.-Gen. Herbert Parker, Secretary of State Frederic W. Cook, Patrick A. O'Connell, Carl Dreyfus, Sidney W. Conrad, Edward R. Mitton, Adolph S. Ehrlich, James J. Curry, Samuel S. Eckford, Anthony W. Ackerman, Henry Sedgwick, William L. Gaselon, John S. Pfeil, Frank M. Archer, Adrian, Bud Arthur L. Race, L. C. Prior, Maurice J. Tobin, Patrick T. Campbell.

Dr. Charles F. Wilinsky, Bradbury S. Cushing, Arthur R. Dunn, R. J. Connolly, Thomas B. O'Connor, Matthew Cummings, Chauncey Williams, C. V. Bruce Wetmore, James E. McLaughlin, Frank D. Davis, Silliman Evans, assistant postmaster-general; James P. Murphy, William J. Fallon and Henry ... Nichols.

EX-GOVERNOR IS EXPECTED TO COMBAT FOE

Second Place Fight on Ticket Is Still Wide Open

BERNARD J. DOHERTY

Will former Governor Alvan T. Fuller make good his threat and again be a candidate for his old job of boss on Beacon Hill?

The formal announcement today from Lieut Governor Gaspar G. Bacon that he will seek the G. O. P. nomination for the first position on the state ticket of his party, at the pre-primary convention in April, has served to make this a live question in Democratic as well as Republican political circles.

FOE OF BACON

The answer to the riddle may not be known until after the convention as it is no secret that Mr. Fuller has a contempt for machine politics. If he decides to go atilting again, it is believed he will seek the nomination without the convention tag.

Fuller, it is understood, has no fondness for the lieutenant governor, believing he scuttled the ship of state when he failed to oppose the scrapping of the pay-as-you-go policy.

He is said to be friendly with Speaker Leverett Saltonstall, who has been a consistent advocate of the pay-as-you-go. Also, the former lieutenant governor and former State Treasurer John W. Haigis of Greenfield, who apparently is to fight it out with Saltonstall for second place on the ticket, have more or less seen eye to eye on questions of policy for several years.

CLUE IN BACON ENTRY

He would have no objections to either of these two as running mates, apparently, if he decides to make the leap, with or without the convention endorsement.

The one thing that might prevent Fuller from going in, it is believed, would be the cropping up of a suitable candidate against Bacon that is suitable to him. But as far as known, no such candidate has as yet materialized.

Politicians, looking for a cue, had their eyes directed to the recent meeting of G. O. P. leaders called into conference at the City Club by Chairman Carl A. Terry of the state committee. Both Fuller and Bacon were on the invited list. The former governor was in New York. Lieut.-Gov. Bacon, however, put in an appearance late after it had been given out that he had an engagement in Essx County. There were some unkind enough to whisper that the lieutenant-governor found he could get out of the engagement after it was certain that Fuller was not at the conference.

While the Republican landscape is slowly unfolding, sluggishness continues to be the watchword in the Democratic ranks. The frequent reiteration by Gov. Ely that he will not seek re-election is apparently not enough. Some convincing action on his part, it appears, will have to be taken before the doubters are satisfied.

BACON ATTACKED

It is known that the governor looks with a fond eye on Joseph W. Bartlett of Newton, head of the state emergency finance board and the CWA. Some believe that Bartlett life long "Yankee" Democrat, and State Treasurer Charles F. Hurley, would be an unbeatable pair.

In his formal announcement of his intention to seek the Republican nomination for governor, Lt.-Gov. Bacon said he would make no attempt to pledge any delegate to his candidacy.

First attack on the Bacon announcement came from Robert J. Watt, secretary-treasurer and legislative agent of the Massachusetts branch of the American Federation of Labor.

Watt declared that the Jamaica Plain man has been campaigning for this job "ever since his days as ring leader in the State Republican gang."

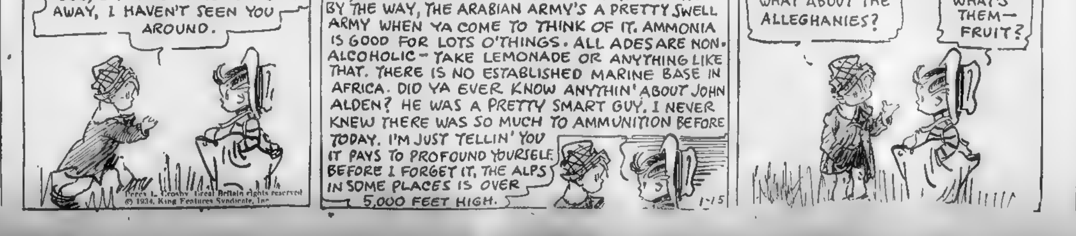
"He has only the arrogance and stupid selfishness which makes him seek prestige and glory of public office, and I believe he is completely incapable of being a true governor of the people of Massachusetts."

Triduum of 4 Days to Open Tomorrow

The annual New Year's Triduum at St. Stephen's Church, Hanover st., Boston, commemorating the birth of St. Therese, "The Little Flower of Jesus," opens tomorrow and will close on Friday. The four services each day will be noonday mass at 12 20, 3 30, 5.20 and 7.45 p. m.

The Rev. Albert McDermott of the Oblates of Mary Immaculate will preach at all the services and give the Papal blessing at the four closing services on Friday.

SKIPPY---Beyond His Knowledge -:- By PERCY CROSBY



Percy L. Crosby. Great Britain rights reserved
© 1934, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

FOURTH DEGREE---By K. S. Daiger -:- LOUELLA O. PARSONS' HOLLYWOOD COLUMN

Net Tightens on Mrs. Deane as Mental Experts Hold Her for Observation

(Continued from Saturday)

One significant thing, however, was that Inspector Drew had been convinced of Mrs. Deane's guilt and had issued a public statement to that effect. He contended that Scotland Yard had been unable to secure a conviction, but that Cat's-Eye Annie had been and would always be a menace to society. It began to look as though this second murder might prove him right.

I couldn't help feeling a certain compassion for the sad-eyed English servant in spite of my hardened sensibilities. It seemed so apparent to me, from the different interviews which we had had with her, that she had loved the young mistress who had offered her a haven in her time of need.

How horrible, I though, to have been twice mixed up in sordid crimes like these, especially if one were innocent' Where could she go after this? Who would want her?

For my own part, I didn't believe that Mrs. Deane, unless she were indeed crazy, had had any part in the P... [illegible] testimony w... [illegible] right on that, as Anderson had already requested Dr. John R. Casey, the court psychiatrist, to make an examination the first thing the next morning.

LIKE A BRAINSTORM

Dr. Casey made his report in person—at a moment luckily, when I chanced to be talking to the Inspector.

He strolled into Anderson's office, and his fine old face, like a delicate cameo of carved ivory, held just a trace of sadness.

"I can't find anything wrong," he told us. "The woman at this moment is actually about half-crazy with worry and grief, but I can't find a thing resembling 'homicidal mania.' I'm keeping her under close observation and perhaps something may develop which may make me change my mind. But at this moment I have to give her a clean bill of health."

"Any chance you are wrong?" asked Anderson.

"Certainly," replied Dr. Casey easily. "Insanity is largely a matter of opinion, unless a person is a raving maniac. There is such a thing as intermittent insanity—what you newspaper people call a 'brain-storm.' That term was made famous in the trial of Harry Thaw, you remember. Mrs. Deane might have committed this crime in a spasm of that nature and actually not recall it. I doubt that as much as ten years could have elapsed between such spells, however.

"I'm going to suggest that you call in another alienist, Inspector. I suggest Dr. Harmon of Hopkins, because he's generally on the opposite side of the fence from me. He's the likeliest man I can think of to give you a contrary opinion. "I'll call him and arrange it, if you like."

"I'd appreciate it," answered Anderson.

"I thought that Mrs. Deane had an iron-clad alibi,' I murmured

"Yes and no," said the Inspector. "Under ordinary circumstances it would pass, but now I am not so sure. I have my men out now checking up on it."

"Somewhere else at the time of the murder'' asked Dr. Casey with interest.

"Yes. It seems that she has a friend over at Towson—that's about three miles from the Paige estate. There are some little children there and Mrs. Deane offered to spend the night and take care of them while their parents went into Baltimore to the movies.

She reach ' Mrs. Murphy's house around seven-thi ty, and remained with the chilrren until around ten-thirty. The oldest boy, a child about thirteen, is positive on that point and we can't shake him. Says she read to them and played games with th-

"When the Murphys returned home about one o'clock, Mrs. Deane was in bed sound asleep. She roused when they came in and spoke to them, so that's certainly a fact.

WHERE WAS SHE?

"The question now is: where was she from ten-thirty until one? The kid might have been mister age is a strong, vigorous And Mrs. Deane, who inspite of her age is a strong, viborous woman, may have had time to walk from Towson to the Paige place and back again. Two hours and a half for six miles isn't so bad."

"But it was between eleven-thirty and midnight when Mr. Cleveland left," I pointed out, "and Mrs. Paige was alive then. That would give Mrs. Deane only an hour and a half at the most to have committed the murder and to have walked back those three miles to Towson."

"That's the way it looks," agreed Anderson. "If Dr. Harmon's diagnosis agrees with that of Dr. Casey, I can't see that we have much against her—though, of course, I'm going to keep her in custody."

And Dr. Harmon's opinion, as a matter of fact, did agree with th t of the Court psychiatrist. He made his report that same day in the shape of a written statement, in which he declared in no uncerlain terms that he was unable to discover any traces whatsoever of homicidal mania and that he believed the subject's present unfortunate mental condition was due entirely to the strain which she was undergoing.

And I, for one, was glad of it. I must confess to a certain feeling of weakness for Cat's-Eye Annie Maybe it was plain ordinary sympathy.

Perhaps it was the intriguing lure of her name.

For the first and only time in my life as a newspaper reporter I saw Inspector Anderson completely puzzled. That was on Thursday afternoon—the third day after the murder of Mrs. Paige, at a time when it seemed pretty certain that we had rounded up all the immediate prospects who might have had a motive in the killing

There was Ranny Paige himself who had proved an out and out liar and whose actions before and after the murder were certainly questionable. There was Mrs. Phelps, the defiant lady who had thought that she could stand out against the searching power of the law and prevent investigation. There was Lawyer Celevland, the composed and stately gentleman, who had first denied knowing Mrs. Phelps but who had finally admitted that he had been desperately in love with Mrs. Paige. And Mrs. Deane with her record at Scotland Yard was surely not above suspicion in view of the fact that she had been accused already of murdering one mistress.

Anderson and I were in Mrs Paige's boudoir, the very room where the murder had taken place talking things over.

"The thing that isn't clear to me is about those phone calls and that letter and the smoking in the cellar," said the inspector. "We've traced as many calls as we can and we've searched this house from top to bottom to recover even a scrap of the letter. We can't get anywhere."

At that very minute, had we only known it, the answer to the riddle of the cigarette buts was in Kir Judson's possession and that gentleman was jauntily inquiring of MacNalley at the front door where the Inspector might be found

We heard him enter the front door and start up the stairs

"Who's there?" shouted Anderson, in a voice that lacked all tone of welcome.

"Judson!" The voice was unmistakable.

"Hell!" growled Anderson. "I guess we might as well call off our afternoon's work. Can't do anything with that sap around."

We could hear Judson coming up the steps whistling very much out of key, "I Can't Give You Anything But Love, Baby." He appeared on the landing with his hat cocked on the back of his head, his hands in his pockets, teeter-tottering back and forth as he looked from one to the other of us. His sallow countenance was beaming.

"Discover anything?" he asked

"No," snapped Anderson. "We have just come out here to have tea with the spirit of the departed, I suppose," he added sarcastically, "that you have cleared up the whole mystery?"

JUDSON SCORES

"Yes, I have," replied Judson smiling. "A fine bunch of detectives you have turned out to be." He flipped the ashes off his cigar upon the hall rug and walked past us into the bedroom.

"Sit down, boys; make yourselves comfortable while I tell you a little bedtime story. A pretty good setting, eh?"

Judson seated himself on a cedar chest in the enclosure of the window while we selected two of the thin legged chairs that adorned the chamber.

"Come on; out with it," snapped Anderson, whose nerves were ragged, "that is if you really have anything of value to add to the case. We can't waste time on nothing."

"Well, Inspector," began Judson, "I have foun' the murderer! Maybe if you had some sex appeal you could have found him, too. After all, you really should keep up with the ladies, Inspector. It pays."

I could see that Anderson's patience was just about at an end. He bit off the end of a cigar savagely and struck two matches before it was lit

"Come on, Judson, damn it! We have work to do. If you have anything, spill it. If not, for God's sake, shut up and clear out."

"All right—all right. Get an earful of this." Judson leaned forward on the chest and dropped his facetious mannerd. "You have one of those cigarette butts you found in the cellar, haven't you?" Anderson nodded

"So have I, rouge and all. But you overlooked the value of the matches. That's the difference between a good detective like myself and a bad one. You say that Mrs. Phelps and that guy Cleveland were hiding in the basement, sitting down there smoking cigarettes. You're all wet. They didn't go near the basement. Ladies and gentlemen don't do things like that.

"Besides if they left Mrs. Paige at eleven-thirty or twelve, how could they have smoked nearly a package of those cigarettes between that time and the hour when Paige came home? Maybe you noticed that there were exactly nineteen butts. But only a couple of matches. Whoever was smoking knew enough to keep the blaze down and light one cigarette off another."

"I don't suppose you noticed," interrupted Anderson, "that both Mrs. Phelps and Mr. Cleveland use lighters?"

"That's just what I noticed, old boy," replied Judson triumphantly. "Then why would they use a match, not only the kind you find in penny boxes, but the large ones that are generally used around kitchens and furnaces? Answer that for me."

Inspector Anderson grew serious. "You got me there, Judson," he admitted. "What's the dope?"

Copyright by McRae-Smith Co. Distributed by King Features Syndicate

To Be Continued Tomorrow

Seein' Stars

By Feg Murray

EMERGENCY DRIVE GETS AIR SALUTE

By N. F. T.

A ... ay to a flying start!

Tonight the Emergency Campaign for 1934 starts rolling. There have been weeks of concentrated preparation and organizing. Broadcasting facilities will carry the huge mass meeting and attending enthusiasm, as slated for staging at Symphony Hall. Microphones marked WAAB are installed and the time set for between 9 and 9.45 p. m. An impressive group of speakers occupy the rostrum during that 45 minutes, voicing the urgent need involved and support required to make the big charity drive a success.

• • •

Addresses by J. W. Farley, Professor Robert E. Rogers, Whiting Williams and the witty Neal O'Hara, will be made. Stirring music also lends itself throughout, supplied by the well-known Alexander Graham Bell Post, American Legion Band. Today marks the official opening of this extensive effort, directed and actively carried on by prominent society, professional and business leaders of Greater Boston

• • •

TAKEOFF TABOOED:

No more impersonation of the resonant President Roosevelt voice, as so accurately presented heretofore during the vivid "March of Time" network turns on Friday night. It's a White House request—meaning, of course, tantamount to an order.

• • •

How magnificent distances do dwindle. In fact they disappear when far flung radio waves are harnessed. Mileage on maps mean little or nothing where men place microphones, which is by way of reporting the remarkable three-way hookup between Hawaii, Bermuda, and the United States. Tonight these two picturesque island gems of the Atlantic and Pacific waters, will be originating points for a sparkling half hour program (WNAC) from 11:30 until 12 midnight. Short wave relay points for transmission over America have been arranged at New York and San Francisco, while music fills the air. Sigmund Schatz and his orchestra furnish melody from the beautiful Castle Harbor Hotel in Bermuda. Johnny Noble and his dance tune troupe then takes up an alloted period, wafted out of the Royal Hawaiian ballroom in Honolulu.

• • •

LOCAL LATHER

Three more days and nights, including this one, is all there remains for Bostonians to enjoy Jack Denny playing of dance rhythm on the air from the Hotel Statler Salle Moderne spot, because the popular mastro moves on to New York Thursday morning. After then, Leader Man William Scotti, known as the "Master of Melody" in New York, where he comes from, will hold forth in the Statler salon and likewise assume the regular radio schedule of programs left by Denny. Scotti has played in the place to which Denny shifts, namely "Pierre's," in New York . . . Ruth Chilton, the Hub contralto songstress, continues increasing the "After Dinner Revue" fan mail across WEEI waves each Monday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday night . . . Another personality soloist hereabouts is the gal named Virginia Heath, sometimes "stage-named" as Polly Weston, who sings as guest artist during the Vic (WEEI) Whitman bit known as the "Tattler" and that's between 6 and 6.30 this evening.

Evening American on the Air

THE GLOBETROTTER

of the Boston American and Hearst Metrotone News

A complete radio daily newspaper—60 minutes of news, markets, fashions, features, sports and special entertainment

213 M.—Station WAAB—1410 Kc.

11:00-11:15 A. M.—FEATURE PERIOD.
Monday, Wednesday Friday—Martha Lee Homemaking Class.
1:15- 1:30 P. M.—PEACH EDITION NEWS FLASHES.
Stock Market Quotations, News Flashes
3:00- 3:15 P. M.—SEVEN STAR EDITION NEWS FLASHES
7:00- 7:15 P. M.—SEVEN O'CLOCK EDITION OF THE AIR.
News Flashes. Features.

Monday, January 15

6 00 P. M.
WAAB—"Buck Rogers."
WNAC—News.
WBZ—Camera Club.
WEEI—Evening Tattler.
WHDH—Health talk.
WLEY—Recordings.

6:15 P. M.
WAAB—Bobby Benson.
WNAC—Merry Go Round.
WBZ—U. S. Army Band.
WHDH—Gossipers.

6.30 P. M.
WAAB—Light's Orchestra.
WNAC—Black and Blue.
WBZ—Sports review.
WEEI—News; organ.

6:45 P. M.
WAAB—Fisher's Orchestra.
WNAC—Happy Minstrel.
WBZ—Lowell Thomas topics.

7:00 P. M.
WAAB—Boston Evening American Globetrotter news.
WNAC—Myrt and Marge.
WBZ—Amos 'n' Andy.
WEEI—Trio Romantique.
WLEY—Hollywood Stardust.

7 15 P. M.
WAAB—Market Outlook.
WNAC—Just Plain Bill.
WBZ—Baby Rose Marie.
WEEI—Billy Batchelor, sketch.

7·30 P. M.
WAAB—Organ.
WNAC—Music on the Air.
WBZ—Potash and Perlmutter.
WEEI—After Dinner Revue.

7.45 P. M.
WAAB—Dooley's Orchestra.
WNAC—Boake Carter, news.
WBZ—Radio Nature League
WEEI—Goldbergs.
WLEY—Musicale.

8:00 P. M.
WAAB—Paul Shirley recital.
WNAC—Happy Bakers.
WBZ—Side Show.
WEEI—Sketches.

8 15 P. M.
WAAB—"As I See It"
WNAC—Edwin C. Hill, news.

8:30 P. M.
WAAB—Melodies of Italy.
WNAC—Bing Crosby.
WBZ—Cyrena Van Gordon recital
WEEI—Lawrence Tibbett.

8:45 P. M.
WBZ—Red Davis, drama.
WLEY—Dance music.

9:00 P. M.
WAAB—Emergency Campaign Broadcast.
WNAC—Philadelphia Orchestra.
WBZ—Minstrels.
WEEI—Gypsies.

9:15 P. M.
WNAC—Robert Benchley.

9.30 P. M.
WNAC—The Big Show.
WBZ—Musical program.
WEEI—Ship of Joy.

9:45 P. M.
WAAB—News.

10:00 P. M.
WAAB—Wayne King's Orchestra
WNAC—NRA talk.
WBZ—Durrell Quartet.
WEEI—Lullaby Lady.

10.15 P. M.
WNAC—Russian Musicale.

10.30 P. M.
WAAB—News
WNAC—Le Paradis Band.
WBZ—Joe Rines' Orchestra.
WEEI—Billy Sunday.

10:45 P. M.
WAAB—Evan Evans' recital.
WNAC—News.
WBZ—Planned Recovery.

11:00 P. M.
WNAC—Weeks' Orchestra.
WBZ—Sports review.
WEEI—News.

11·15 P. M.
WAAB—Boswell Sisters.
WBZ—News.
WEEI—Ted Weems' Orchestra.

11:30 P. M.
WNAC—"Gems of Two Oceans."
WBZ—Whiteman's Orchestra.
WEEI—Denny's Orchestra.

12 MID.
WNAC—Belasco's Orchestra.
WBZ—Madriguera's Orchestra.
WEEI—Olsen's Orchestra.

Good Dummy Defense Is Winner

By JOSEPHINE CULBERTSON

When a player, whatever his degree of skill, holds 2½ honor tricks, including a stopper in the only suit old by his opponents, and the Dummy goes down with a six-card suit and more than 2 honor tricks, he is not to be charged with undue optimism for thinking that he can come somewhere near making his contract to take nine tricks. However, Mr. Michael T. Gottlieb, one of the world's stars at Contract bridge, facing this exact situation, went down 2700 points, due, it is true to a nearly Double Dummy defense by Mr. Harold Richard, one of his opponents.

The hand and bidding were:

South, Dealer

Both sides vulnerable; North-South, part-score 60.

	Mr. Richard ♠ K J 10 7 5 ♡ A Q 10 7 6 4 ◇ 8 ♣ 9
Mr. Gottlieb ♠ 8 4 3 2 ♡ K J ◇ K 7 4 ♣ A Q 10 7	North / West / East / South	Mr. Jacoby ♠ A 6 ♡ 8 5 ◇ A J 6 5 3 2 ♣ 8 7 4
	♠ Q 9 ♡ 9 3 2 ◇ Q 10 9 ♣ K J 8 5 3 Mr. Lightner

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
Pass	Pass	1 ♡	2 ◇
Pass	2 NT	3 ♡	Pass
Pass	3 NT	Pass	Pass
Double	Pass	Pass	Pass

When the contract of three notrump was doubled, Mr. Gottlieb considered the situation carefully. As he had a good gambling three notrump bid. he elected to let the Double stand, and Mr. Richard began a defense which brought about this major disaster. Instead of opening hearts, which he had bid and rebid, he decided to open the fourth-best spade. Mr. Gottlieb won this trick with the Ace in Dummy, played a small diamond to the King, and returned a diamond, allowing Mr. Lightner to win this trick with the Queen. Mr. Richard at this point discarded a spade. Had he instead thrown a club and had Mr. Gottlieb made the same play, the Declarer would not have taken any more tricks. After winning the diamond trick, Mr. Lightner led a heart, and then, although it was unnecessary, another spade was returned by North and the heart King led through again. Thereupon all the spades and hearts were cashed, and the contract to take nine tricks was down six.

Culbertsons Out of Bridge Finals

New York, Jan. 15 (AP)—The grand national championship of the United States Bridge Association will be settled without a Culbertson.

Both were eliminated yesterday—Ely Culbertson by a curious play from his partner, Theodore S. Lightner.

The finals are between the teams of Walter Malowan, Lee Langdon, Sidney Rusinow and L. Bachner, and David Burnstine, Oswald Jacoby, Howard Schenken and Michael Gottlied

Culbertson was washed into the discard by the Malowan team after Lightner made a luckless, expensive double.

"I had a brainstorm," said Lightner.

Culbertson said'

"I'll still choose him as my partner against the world."

Mrs. Culbertson's team lost to the Jacoby team by 2740 points.

French Powder Czar Dead

Paris, Jan. 15 (AP)—Paul Marie Eugene Vieille, 80, head of the French powder monopoly and the man who developed the smokeless powder which France used during the World War, died today.

Help Kidneys

● If poorly functioning Kidneys and Bladder make you suffer from Getting Up Nights, Nervousness, Rheumatic Pains, Stiffness, Burning, Smarting, Itching, or Acidity try the guaranteed Doctor's Prescription Cystex (Siss-tex) —Must fix you up or money back. Only 75¢ at druggists.

Cystex

Jean Harlow's Own Novel Wins Praise; Likely to Appear as Screen Feature

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS
Motion Picture Editor Universal Service

Copyright, 1934, Universal Service, Inc

Los Angeles, Jan. 15—Only a few of Jean Harlow's closest friends know that she has written a full length novel. It's not a leftover found among the effects of her late husband, Paul Bern. It's Jean's own original story, and she has written it alone and with no outside help.

Even the title, "Today Is Tonight," is her own. A friend of Jean's, to whom she took the manuscript, is high in his praise of its literary quality. He says as either a serial, a published novel or for a motion picture, it possesses all the necessary dramatic flavor and interest.

• • •

Louella O. Parsons

When I heard that Edgar Allen Poe's "Black Cat" had been chosen by Universal to star Boris Karloff, I couldn't help but think of the silent picture which D. W. Griffith made years ago. The title eludes my memory, but I think it was the "Tell-Tale Heart." The revealment of a man's conscience, the Poe screen story was an amazing picture for that day—or any day, for that matter. Peter Ruric has been engaged by the Laemmles to adapt the "Black Cat."

• • •

It's all too, too complicated. Ricardo Cortes came dashing back to Hollywood to play the part in "Hit Me Again"—hurrying nobly back from his elopement to keep faith with Warner Brothers. Now Cortez is out of the cast and Lyle Talbot is in again. You keep count, I just simply cannot. First it was Lyle who was out. Then it was Cortez. Lyle lost in the flood, failed to appear in time, and for that reason was temporarily suspended The announcement from Warners is that Cortes is being given a week's vacation to take his bride, the former Mrs. Christine Lee, on a honeymoon trip.

• • •

Arch Revue, one of Hollywood's most popular publicity heads, is leaving us for New York. Seems the Fox Company decided to switch jobs and bring Gabe York, present head of the New York advertising department, to take Arch's place, while Arch sits in York's place in the New York office. Arch, rotund, good-natured, but a fighter when necessary, has been a good friend to dozens of Hollywood stars. It was he who acted as a buffer for Clara Bow when she was the victim of unpleasant publicity. It was Arch who held down the Paramount job with Paul Snell for 12 years, and became as well known as any man in Hollywood.

• • •

Chatter in Hollywood

Lee Tracy, at the moment without a job and with no immediate prospect of getting back into pictures, hasn't lost his sense of sympathy for the other fellow. Earl Simmons, playwright who killed himself in New York a few days ago after several stage flops, died penniless Tracy heard about it and at once wired the money to pay the funeral expenses and to assist Simmons' widow

• • •

I met Spencer Tracy lunching with Loretta Young in her dressing room at the United Artists studio and he was greatly upset over the article in this column stating that he had been paying Pat Patterson, English actress, marked attention. He said be regretted it, not only for Miss Young and himself, but for Miss Patterson as well, to whom he was merely extending the usual courtesies to a new fellow player. Spencer says he took Miss Patterson to luncheon once at the Assistance League and that was probably the reason for the gossip. And you know Hollywood. One public appearance and it immediately becomes a romance.

• • •

A Line or Two

I suspect the success of "Counsellor-at-Law," Elmer Rice's play, may be responsible for Universal finally deciding to bring "Left Bank," also by Rice, to the screen. They purchased it ages ago. Lowell Sherman will direct it after he finishes "Elizabeth and Mary," with Gloria Stewart in the leading role. Andy Lawlor tells me that Norma Shearer's beetle costume at a fancy dress ball, is something to see. Andy is playing a part in "Rip Tide" and is full of enthusiasm. Wonder what kind of a role Jack La Rue is playing in "Take the Stand," an M. H. Hoffman picture" Seems Jack has been borrowed from Paramount. La Rue is getting so fussy about playing these villain roles. Funny thing, a fellow makes a success in one type of role and then frets until he is allowed to play straight parts. "Take the Stand" is by Albert Dumond and is based on an Earl Derr Biggers story. Phil Rosen directs. Charles Starrett has checked in at Fox for a highly important role in Sally Eiler's picture "Three on a Honeymoon."

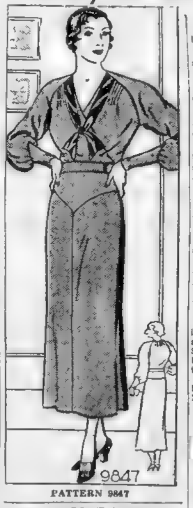
• • •

Snapshots of Hollywood

The HENRY KINGS summoned their friends to an au revoir buffet supper: HENRY, having finished the GAYNOR picture, is off on a holiday. REGINAL BERKELEY, English writer, showing an unexpected sense of humor: His wife, an exceedingly pretty blonde, also very amusing. Blonde KITTY GILLIAN kept everyone at the Kings well entertained with her efforts to speak English. BEBE DANIELS, just to make MISS GILLIAN feel at home, burst into Spanish. The THOMAS MEIGHANS said "au revoir" to their friends at the Kings. FRANK LLOYD who forsook his pals to play bridge, proved his knowledge of Culbertson is no idle boast. The GEORGE HEARSTS, who went East Friday night, also had a farewell dinner party. FRANK ORSATTI returned to Hollyywood circulation last night. News flashed from San Francisco from MRS. LOUIS B. MAYER'S bedside is very encouraging. That's all today. See you tomorrow!

Dainty Dress for Tall Girl

By MARIAN MARTIN



PATTERN 9847

This charming afternoon frock has good lines and perfect proportion for figures that are no longer slender. The surplice closing of the bodice, smart sleeves set in raglan fashion, and the downward point of the skirt are decidedly slimming. Neckline interest is achieved by a graceful tie fashioned of contrast or ribbon. A mossy crepe, faille or printed silk would be lovely—and there are such flattering shades on the new Spring color chart, particularly the dark "berry tones."

Pattern 9847 may be ordered only in sizes 36, 38, 40, 42, 44 and 46 Size 36 requires 3¾ yards 39 inch fabric and 1¼ yards ribbon.

Send fifteen cents in coins or stamps (coins preferred) for each Marian Martin pattern. Be sure to write plainly your name, address, the style number and size of each pattern.

The Marian Martin Pattern Book shows all the current style highlights. This book will guide you to a distinctive wardrobe at little cost. Send for it today. Price of pattern book fifteen cents, book and pattern together, twenty-five cents.

Send your order to Boston American Pattern Department, 232 W. 18th st., New York, N. Y.

What SHE TOLD WORN-OUT HUSBAND

SHE could have reproached him for his fits of temper—his "all in" complaints. But wisely she saw in his frequent colds, his "fagged out," "on edge" condition the very trouble she herself had whipped. Constipation! The very morning after taking NR (Nature's Remedy), as she advised, he felt like himself again—keenly alert, peppy, cheerful. NR—the safe, dependable, all-vegetable laxative and corrective—works gently, thoroughly, naturally. It stimulates the eliminative tract to complete, regular functioning. Non habit-forming. Try a box. 25c—at druggists'.

"TUMS" Quick relief for acid indigestion, heartburn. Only 10c.

Advertisement

HOW WOMEN CAN WIN MEN AND MEN WIN

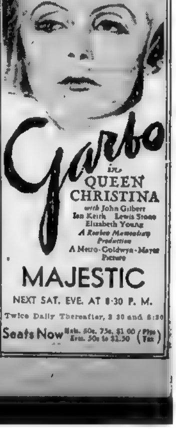
The Favor of Other Men

Unless two pints of bile juice flow daily from your liver into your bowels, your food decays in your bowels. This poisons your whole body. Movements get hard and constipated. You get yellow tongue, yellow skin, pimples, dull eyes, bad breath, bad taste, gas, dizziness, headache. You have become an ugly-looking, foul-smelling, sour-thinking person. You have lost your personal charm. Everybody wants to run from you.

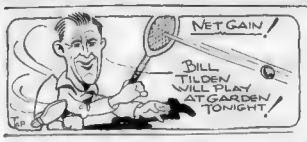
But don't take salts, mineral waters, oils, laxative pills, laxative candies or chewing gums and expect them to get rid of this poison that destroys your personal charm. They can't do it, for they only move out the tail end of your bowels and that doesn't take away enough of the decayed poison. Cosmetics won't help at all.

Only a free flow of your bile juice will stop this decay poison in your bowels. The one mild vegetable medicine which starts a free flow of your bile juice is Carter's Little Liver Pills. No calomel (mercury) in Carter's. Only fine, mild vegetable extracts. If you would bring back your personal charm to win men, start taking Carter's Little Liver Pills according to directions today. 25¢ at drug stores.

Refuse "something just as good", for it may gripe, loosen teeth or scald rectum. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name and get what you ask for. © 1933, C. M. Co.



VINES SEEKS SECOND WIN OVER TILDEN HERE



BOSTON AMERICAN SPORTS

NEW ENGLAND'S GREATEST EVENING NEWSPAPER

BOSTON, MONDAY, JANUARY 15, 1934

Sports Parade

Mr. Bendix Prepares To Make Annual Training Pilgrimage to Florida ↑ Free Lance Ball Player Thinks He ↓ May Join Red Sox

By AUSTEN LAKE

Mr. Sammy Bendix, the never-go-home ball player with a coal passer's figure and a fiddler's haircut, is shoving off for Florida within the week to sneak a head start on the Braves and Red Sox, one of which he will formally adopt when they report for training next month. He tells me that he has not yet picked the club to which he will assign himself this spring, because he wants to mull it over while he journeys South by easy stages, trundling comfortably on freight couplings and baggage-car rods, which is Mr. Bendix's favorite style of travel. Just now, as we meet on the Common, he would be grateful for a small loan on account of, as he says, he would like to get acquainted with eating again after a spell of estrangement.

When Mr. Bendix reaches Florida, for a month or so he will train his mildewed legs by long distance sitting under grapefruit trees, the fruit of which he is very loving when plucked mellow from the limb, and he plans to taper off with a week of earnest sprawling on the warm, silver sands of the St. Petersburg municipal beach, a cozy spot much fancied by the leisured classes, so by the time the Boston clubs arrive he will have tanned his hide a rich, gravy brown.

"I lean to the Sox," said Mr. Bendix, massaging his auburn chin bristles and palming my quarter, "but I will not decide hasty, like I did a couple of years back."

What Mr. Bendix refers to is the time that he attached himself to the Red Sox at Pensacola in the spring of 1931, arriving fresh, except for a strong musk odor, from the freight sidings with whisps of cattle bedding in his hair, and offering Bob Quinn a stained testimonial from Ty Cobb, dated 1921, which says that undoubtedly the bearer is the greatest barefoot outfielder of any time. "Only," concludes Cobb, "I do not wish to discourage the young and sensitive talent with which the Detroit club is choked right now."

Mr. Bendix Gets a Trial With the Red Sox

So Quinn, being rich in good deeds, tells Manager John Collins to let him sleep and eat for a few days before shagging him on his way, and Bendix promptly elects himself a full brother in the lodge and falls into easy intimacy with the Sox players, who named him "Flash" and take pains to make him snug with the lunch room ladies, whom he calls "Sugar." And at the ball yard they rig him in a left-over uniform, which he puts on over his naked skin, and they make a place in the hitting practice, which is no small kindness, because usually the old-timers will bare a row of jagged tusks and snarl harsh profanities at any rookie who dares to crash the batting order.

It is perfectly plain from the first that Mr. Bendix is a stylist who bats with a motion halfway between a candypull and casting for trout, cramping his elbows tight to his ribs and swivelling his body in a swift jerk that makes him give off a curious whinney. He practically never hits the ball, which the practice pitchers lob up big as pumpkins, but the boys, who drape themselves over the backstop piperails, say not to get downhearted because his batting eye is foggy. And finally he manages to tunk the ball down the foul line and snatches off his cap to go tearing around the bases, one at a time, in a bandy-legged gallop that causes the boys to slide off the backstop pipes and go to rolling on the turf.

It is clear, too, after a few days that Mr. Bendix is fond of the Red Sox and is going to stay, which bothers Bob Quinn, because the morale of his men is slowly leaking through the pores of their skins. And one evening Flash eases up to Secretary Phil Troy, who is a very tough tyke on money matters, and says, "How about drawing fifty on account?" "Fifty?" shrieks Troy, flapping his arms, "Fifty what?" "Why," says Mr. Bendix, in mild surprise, "fifty cents."

So finally Quinn, wishing to be delicate, cooks up a fake telegram, which he has one of the newsmen type on a regular form and which reads, "Hear you are still unsigned. Can offer you steady berth with Giants at fat salary if you report at once." (Signed) John McGraw, San Antonio, Texas. A bellhop takes the message over, while Quinn and the boys smother their giggles behind the potted palms in the corner of the lobby and for a long time Mr. Bendix spells out the text of the message, while scrubbing the stubble of his chin. It takes a long time because, at best, Mr. Bendix is not a rapid thinker.

But suddenly he jerks up his chin as though stiffened by a great resolve and comes slue-footing across the lobby toward Quinn, who, though he never smoked, suddenly decides to buy a package of cigarettes.

"Mister Bob," boomed he, the light of a splendid virtue in his eye, "I have here a fine offer from the Giants, a very hansum offer. But you been so white that I ain't gonna jump your club. No sirse! I'm sticking 'ith you." And he held out a horny paw as a token of loyalty, and shook Quinn's hand till he was like to shudder him out of his clothes. How in the end the Sox shed their guest, I fail to recall, except that it was something of a major operation.

So, as Mr. Bendix shoves off for Florida to sneak a head start. He says he must not decide hastily which of the Boston teams to join, and he means to mull it over carefully on the freight couplings and baggage-car rods, as he journeys South by easy stages. "But I still lean to the Sox," said Mr. Bendix, pocketing my quarter with a trace of whistfulness.

The Lone Survivor of the Golden Age! — By Burris Jenkins, Jr.

BABE SIGNS ON DOTTED LINE

New York, Jan. 15 (AP)—With all the fanfare but not the magic contract figures of the old days, Babe Ruth today signed with the New York Yankees as a player for another year at $35,000, the lowest salary since 1921 when he received $30,000 for his second year with the New Yorkers.

Col. Jacob Ruppert divulged the news story of the Friday conference

"I asked the Babe if he would sign for $25,000," the colonel said. "He answered he thought he ought to have $35,000, and I agreed.

"I signed him because I expect he'll play good ball for us, and the managership of the Yankees was not discussed."

Berry Sextet in Maine Ice Tour

Owner Ben Beresson was pleased with the 3 to 2 win his Berry Hockey Club sextet scored over Boston College at the Arena recently and forthwith made arrangements for a three-day trip to Maine, January 28, 29 and 30 for his men.

The first day in the Pine Tree State, the Druggists will meet the Waterville Hockey Club and on the 30th they play the Lewiston Cyclones. Within a few days the opponent for the second day will be announced.

Leo Hughes, former Boston College player, is now coaching the Jamaica club.

Retain Same Rules for I. C. 4-A. Meet

New York, Jan. 15 (INS)—The Intercollegiate Amateur Athletic Association of America will retain standard rules for the I. C. 4-A track and field championships to be held in Madison Square Garden, March 5.

Delegates to the special convention yesterday voted to toss out radical changes tentatively proposed and to maintain in metric form the same order and program as has obtained for the last 12 years of competition in armories.

Tropical Park Mutuels

1-2-7 Races	$148.10
1-3-5-6-7 Races	205.20
Seven Races	368.30

Young Boxers Rush to Try New Garden Gym

By JACK CONWAY

Matchmaker Billy Ames reports a rush of amateur boxers to enroll in the New Garden Gym. There will be facilities for 100 boys who wish to learn how to box.

The Garden will furnish all necessary training equipment, as well as shower baths and dressing rooms. Later it is planned to secure a suitable boxing instructor.

Any boy 18 years of age or older may enroll. Matchmaker Ames says preference will be given to youngsters who have never boxed before. Billy likes to get young boxers when they are still in the "rough."

The plan for a Garden gym for amateurs was decided upon following an expose of amateur boxing conditions in an article written by Austen Lake, Sporting Editor of the Boston Evening American.

"We are glad to be able to help remedy some of the unsatisfactory conditions pointed out in Austen Lake's article in the Boston Evening American," said General Manager Harold Dibbles, of the Boston Garden.

RING DIET MATCHED

The question of proper diet will be one of the questions which will be placed before the young boxers. The average young boxer has never been told what foods he should eat while training for an important bout.

It is not necessary for boxers to deny themselves delicacies of food. This is true even when a boxer is making weight. There are certain foods which contain sufficient nourishment, but which do not cause an athlete to put on unnecessary pounds.

Steaks, chicken, vegetables and fruits may be eaten at all times without fear of adding weight.

WHEN TO TRAIN

Boxers should never eat just before training or going into the ring. It is best for a boxer to eat a hearty breakfast, after he does his road work, and then rest until he trains in the early part of the afternoon. Following a rubdown and a short rest, he may then have his chief meal of the day.

Amateur boxers anxious to take advantage of the Garden offer should communicate with Bill Ames, Boston Garden, Boston.

BAILEY'S BILL IS TO TOTAL $1200

When Irvin "Ace" Bailey leaves the City Hospital for his home in Toronto Wednesday he will be presented with a bill which will approximate $1200.

Bailey entered the hospital four weeks ago last Thursday. He is paying $5 a week for a private room. Day and night nurses will receive approximately $400 for more than four weeks' service. The major item, of course, will be the charge for physicians' services.

The Boston Bruins raised more than $6000 for Bailey at a benefit game in the Garden a few weeks ago.

Original Four Horsemen Gather at Festive Board

South Bend, Ind., Jan. 15 (AP)—Elmer Layden, Notre Dame's new athletic director and football coach, and all except one of his mates of "Four Horsemen" and "Seven Mules" fame, will be together again tonight at the annual gridiron testimonial dinner of the St. Joseph Valley Notre Dame Club.

Layden, who will officially take charge of athletics at Notre Dame February 1, will be the chief speaker at the rally for the 1933 Irish team which arose to make joyful an otherwise sad season by beating Army.

A number of notables, including Mayor Edward J. Kelly, of Chicago, former Mayor Joseph V. McKee of New York, Gov. Paul V. McNutt of Indiana, and Ernest E. L. Hammer, justice of the New York Supreme Court, will attend.

The only member of the late Knute Rockne's famous 1924 champions missing will be Dr. John Weibel, left guard, who died several years ago. Will Layden, fullback, will be James Crowley, left half, now head coach at Fordham; Elmer Miller, right half, a Cleveland attorney and mentioned as a possibility as Alabama Poly's next head coach, and Harry Stuhldreher, quarterback, now head coach at Villanova.

The linemen: Chuck Collins, left end, former coach at North Carolina; Joe Bach, left tackle, assistant to Layden at Duquesne; Adam Walsh, center, assistant coach at Yale; Noble Kizer, right guard, athletic director and head coach at Purdue; Edgar ("Rip") Miller, right tackle, head coach at Navy, and Ed Huntsinger, right end, assistant to Crowley at Fordham.

Vines, Tilden Clash in Net Classic Tonight

By WALTER KILEY

Supreme showman and temperamental workman, "Big Bill" Tilden faces the pivotal match in his extended series of professional tennis engagements with Ellsworth Vines, recent renegade from amateur championship ranks, before an expected gathering of more than 10,000 enthusiasts at Boston Garden tonight.

"Ability, reputation and color are the requisites for reaching the heights in the pro game," stated Tilden, on his Boston arrival.

None denies that the fiery champion, winner of seven national titles, possesses the first. His record for the past 15 years speaks volumes.

His reputation has earned for him a supercham pion rating here which still flashes bright while other title holders of the past war period have been gradually retired leaving the spotlight to Bill alone.

As for color, no sport has produced of a more colorful or picturesque personality.

Even as recently as his appearance against Vines at Washington Tilden showed his famous flair of temper and childish outbursts both against linesmen and gallery which have been part and parcel of his sensational reign as a master of the world's tennis players.

ALWAYS "STORMY PETREL"

Tilden has stormed and rampaged on the courts of the world's foreign countries, a "stormy petrel" who one moment had the gallery rising in spontaneous admiration of his scintillating play and the next minute howling unholy and disrespectful glee at his self-inflicted discomfiture.

Oldest feature of all is the Vines' only fear as he left his Chicago home some few weeks ago was whether he would fall victim to Tilden's famous and nerve-wracking policy of "getting the other fellow's goat."

In fact the 1932 amateur champion was evidently working that he had conscientiously applied himself to the study of the drama so that he could assume a theatrical manner which would carry him through his 60,000-mile tour as opponent against Tilden.

Now the shoe is on the other foot. It is Vines who has himself under perfect control and it is Tilden who has lost his head and allowed his game to suffer as a consequence with the youngster, 11 years Tilden's junior, benefiting considerably.

VINES ON WAY UP

Tilden states that Vines is as good at the present time as he ever was in his best days as an amateur, in many ways far better. Vines himself reports that he is at the top of his game.

It begins to appear that from the [illegible] match on, Vines' star is in the ascendancy while Tilden must watch for his hard won but well earned laurels.

Vines was naturally slow in getting started in his first professional appearance before a 17,000 capacity house at Madison Square Garden last Wednesday.

Tilden won in straight sets, 8—6, 6—3, 6—2.

The Californian made a better showing at Philadelphia taking one of four sets but giving a better all round account of himself. His famous dynamic serve time and time again wreaking devastating damage. This scores were 6—3, 8—10, 6—4, 6—3.

At Washington on Saturday night Vines' stroking and smashing were reminders of his unexcelled play as master of the amateur ranks two years ago. Vines won 6—0, 6—2, 6—2.

Garden Tennis

8:15—Vincent Richards, U. S. professional champion, vs. Bruce Barnes, Texas University, former intercollegiate champion. (Three set match).

9:15—Wilbur Tilden, seven times national amateur champion, vs. Ellsworth Vines, Jr., twice national titlist. (Three out of five set match).

10:30—Tilden and Barnes (world professional doubles champions), vs. Richards and Vines.

Boston Man Wins Squash Title

Philadelphia, Jan. 15 (AP)—Jack Summers of Boston is the new national professional squash racquets champion.

Johnny Skillman, of Rye, N. Y., the defending champion, reached the final round only to fight through four games and then default the deciding one because of a [illegible] injury.

Summers, coach at Massachusetts Institute of Technology and Manager in 1931 and 1932, lost the first two games 11—15, 4—15 and was only two points from losing the title in the third. Tendons which Skillman pulled became steadily worse, however, and he dropped the third and fourth, 18—14, 15—2. He was unable to play the fifth.

SHORE HINTS HE WILL SHOW OLD FIRE WHEN ICE BAN LIFTS

BRUIN ACE HAS WORKOUT AT PLAYGROUND

By BILL GRIMES

For the first time in more than a month, Eddie Shore donned his skates today and started preliminary work for his reappearance in the Bruin game two weeks hence in New York.

There was no ice at the Garden, so Eddie managed to do some skating at one of the public playgrounds. He is not over concerned about his general condition, for he is the type of athlete who is always in trim. While recuperating from the leg injury which put the "Ace" Bruin on the shelf, Eddie played golf daily from a couple of weeks in Bermuda.

Shore is anxious to get back into action. He wants to know if he can carry on in his old time style of play. Although he has avoided comment on the subject, he hints that he is skeptical as to his reaction to body contact.

The fact that the Bruins have slipped to the bottom of the American division since he was forced out through his accident has caused Shore to put out of his mind all thoughts of the "Ace" Bailey accident.

And while Eddie Shore is conditioning himself for his comeback, the Bruins go right along to get back into the games column. They have been in a scoring slump of more than a fortnight and now three games behind the third place Detroit Red Wings.

CARSON TIPS BRUINS

Frank Carson, the veteran right wing with Detroit, was responsible for the Bruin defeat last night. Carson popped in two goals and as the Bruins were unable to beat Willie Cude the Red Wings kept pace with the Chicago Hawkhawes and the New York Rangers, who defeated the Americans and Maroons respectively.

The Bruins return from their second Western trip today and tomorrow night are scheduled to tackle Les Canadiens at the Garden. The flying Frenchmen are in second place in their section despite the fact that they have been playing without the great Howie Morenz for two weeks. Morenz was injured during the Rangers game in New York, Jan. 2 but Les Canadiens have carried on until losing only one game, in four starts Dec. 31 out of a possible eight points.

Although he is well on the road to recovery, Morenz may be out of the lineup for another week, for Coach Newsy Lalonde will not risk further injury. Lalonde has expressed himself as being pleased that he has been assured by Dr. Henry Gray that Howie is in perfect condition.

After the Bruins visit Les Canadiens they go to Toronto for a Thursday night engagement against the Maple Leafs.

AT TORONTO

It will be the first trip to the Queen City for Bruins have made since "Ace" Bailey was injured by no trouble anticipated. The Toronto fans are behind the Leafs to a man but they are still capable of seeing the other point of view and it will be a great surprise if any trouble develops during the game. As we have stated many times before, there is absolutely no animosity between players of the Boston and Toronto clubs.

From Toronto the Bruins go to New York for a Saturday night game with Amer. Other games which will complete the list are in the style until after 4 to 6 last night by the Hawks.

The Bruin-Cubs will be on the go from Thursday night until the first of the month, Coach Lalonde to play 13 games in six days, four of which will be away from home. They are going to Chicago after Quebec and Providence and Philadelphia.

The Cubs are a game outfit in front of Quebec fans. The great hockey under Manager Lane and Coach Joe Cattarinich are the only American representatives of hockey in the professional club.

Yale Oarsmen Hold Gym Practice Today

New Haven Ct., Jan. 15 (INS)—Yale's varsity crewmen were scheduled to begin indoor practice today under the direction of the former Ed Leader.

From past years' crews which won its early races, including Harvard, Leader has selected Jackson, Jennie, Pierce, Hugh, Quarrier and Ed Wilcox who was ineligible to row in Rio Grande last year but rowed on Long Beach, Ca., And from the 150 varsity and the strong freshman crew he has another group of promising oarsmen.

Sports Bulletin

As compiled by the Boston & Maine R. R.

	Name	Snow showing on the ice
Braithbore, Vt.	Good	Good
Canaan, N. H.	Good	Good
Claremont, N. H.	Good	Good
East Jaffrey, N. H.	Good	Good
Greenfield, Mass.	Fair	Good
Hanover, N. H.	Good	Good
Laconia, N. H.	Good	Good
Lincoln, N. H.	Good	Good
Littleton, N. H.	Good	Good
Newport, N. H.	Good	Good
N. Conway Jct., N. H.	Good	Good
Peterboro, N. H.	Good	Good
Putney Pinet, N. H.	Good	Good
Warren (Municipal)	Good	Good
Waterville Valley, N. H.	Good	Good
Wonalancet, N. H.	Fair	Fair

He's No Cheese Champion

Jack Carey is Tech's outstanding boxer. Captained the team last year as a junior and was undefeated over the regular season. Semi-finalist in intercollegiate championships. High-grade student and a hustler. Works in a market Saturdays.

RING STAR IS ACE STUDENT AT TECH

When students in the corridors at M. I. T hear a loud thumping instead of turning to examine the engines in the laboratories, they merely exchange knowing glances as much as to say, "Jack Carey is working out over in the hangar."

Johnny, 145 pounds of affable dynamite, managed to match his record of last year when he was undefeated over the regular season, showing he deserved his honor as captain of Tommy Rawson's boxers.

When this smiling lad, who lives in Dorchester, went to Camp Devens in the summer of 19-0, he won the lightweight championship of the camp. The following year he was the 147-pound champ but the training at Devens did not suit Carey than develop himself physically. He is a serious-minded chap. He had his eye on one of two scholarships that are awarded each year by four of the New England colleges to the best student soldiers at the camp.

Aided by his academic training at Boston Latin, Jack won the scholarship awarded by Boston College. Jack appreciated this, but he wanted to be an electrical engineer, and M. I. T was his goal.

With fixed purpose, the next year he went to the Technology showdown, and won it.

In the fall he joined Tommy Rawson's freshman team, was elected captain, and showed he was potentially varsity material in short order.

Jack returned to Devens in 32, and again last year. Before he left he was awarded the prize trophy of the camp, a cup offered to the student who, in the opinion of the commanding officers and his fellow students, is the best citizen there.

Although at Tech Carey was selected as the New England representative in the 125-pound tryouts in the intercollegiate. An injured hand forced him out of the competition. Last year he reached the semi-finals, losing out on a split decision.

This season in the opening meet with Harvard he K. O.'d his opponent to give Tech its only win of the meet.

Jack has other interests in addition to his studies, for he is the president of the Technology Catholic Club and is on the staff of the Tech, the undergraduate paper.

In his spare moments he works on the fish and cheese counter in a local market.

Old Wine in New Bottles

Fenway Fanning Bee Recalls Tales of Diamond

Connie Mack's Calm Surpasses All Understanding

By JOE CASIMAN

The damsel who told the Arabian king a thousand and one tales could still be going strong had she escaped death and known a few ball players. The supply of entertaining inside baseball stories is truly inexhaustible. No matter how many you've heard, it seems the tales in the game can always tell you a few new ones.

And since, next to sitting in at actual conflict, nothing delights your rabid rooter more than to hear a good diamond yarn spun, let's revert you in print to Fenway Park, where the knights of the Oblong Table are swapping rare reminiscences.

Little General Hugh Duffy, by virtue of age and fame, occupies the seat of honor. Draped about the glass-topped mahogany are Eddie Collins, "Bucky" Harris, Bob Quinn, John Quinn, Jack Barry, Hi Mason, scribes, et al.

Collins has the floor. The prize pupil is talking about his master, Connie Mack.

"No matter how dumb a player gets, Connie never openly berates him. Instead, he makes some remark that doesn't offend the culprit and at the same time wises up the rest of the bunch.

"Jimmy Murphy, I remember, lost his cap sliding into second one day. The ball went to the outfield and Danny continued to third, but not before he went back and recovered his chapeau.

"'That's right, Danny,' remarked Connie, 'never leave anything behind you among those thieves on the field. You'll never see it again, if you do.'

"I recall, too, how he developed Amos Strunk into a great baserunner. Amos was always fast, but when he broke in he ran with his head down. He would round a base by a wide margin, then lift his head and stop to decide whether to continue or retreat. Often, he was nipped standing still.

"'Amos,' said Connie finally, 'take all the time you want to make up your mind, but kindly do it while you're standing on a sack.' Amos was cured."

Collins is now for surrendering the floor, but he's going too well against the Athletics in 1913," urges Jack Barry.

"Tell the story behind the story of the two miracle stops by "Lefty" Wiltse, southpaw subbing at first for the Giants in the world series against the Athletics in 1913," urges the Holy Cross coach.

Eddie is off again.

"Eddie Plank was on third with the score tied and only one out in the ninth. Wiltse kept the run from registering by robbing the next two batters of triples and retiring them on hair-raising stops close to the bag. The Giants won in the 10th, their only victory in the series.

"'I know why we lost?' asked Strunk later.

"'Sure, Wiltse,' we said.

"'Wiltse, my eye, moaned Amos. 'Walsh, our first-base coach, cost us the game. He comes from the same town as Wiltse and the pair were talking over old times. If he had kept his mouth shut, Wiltse would have been a yard instead of a foot away from the bag, and both those drives down the line would have gone through.

"'That, to my mind, is baseball's prize alibi."

"They tell me in Detroit," says Harris, "that the Tigers used to give you champion A's plenty of anxious moments."

"You bet they did," admits Collins. "That guy Cobb was a ball club in himself.

"You just closed your eyes and prayed for the best when Ty was on and Sam Crawford was at bat.

"The best defense under the circumstances was to make the first two pitches to old Sam bad. Ty always started galloping on one or the other, and Sam always cut at the ball.

"You seen Ty lose a dozen or more steals a season because Crawford would foul a pitch when he had no business swinging. And it never happened but Barry and I would say, 'That's a shame, Ty, you had that one all stolen.' Then you heard profanity."

"Time out for a round,' orders General Duffy.

And he isn't talking of golf.

DEMPSEY LAUDS 'RASSLE GAME

By JACK DEMPSEY

Wichita, Kan., Jan. 15—The man who said that travel is a great education spoke a mouthful. One of the things that I learned in my ramblings around the country as a roving referee is that wrestling tops the list of two-man sports as a box office attraction. And all because they put on a real show.

I do not speak from my experience as a referee but as a former wrestler as well. Sure, I was a wrestler or, to be more truthful, I tried to be one. But I was not to hot. However, before I was through trying, I had rolled up a perfect record of thirty wrestling matches and I never won a match!

I got into the business by accident. That is, we were going to operate at a small farming town in Colorado named Olathe, but the sheriff came around to tell us that fighting was a violation of the law, but that wrestling was okeh. So what? So we wrestled, and all I can say about it is that it was a good thing for me that Jess Willard didn't know anything about a half nelson that afternoon at Toledo.

But to get back to modern wrestling. Some people spend a lot of time trying to decry it. Others say it is only an exhibition but both overlook a big point. It gives you action; in fact, it guarantees action. I wish boxing could always say the same.

Jockey McAtee Is Excellent Golfer

Miami, Fla. Jan. 15 (UP)—Tony McAtee, the jockey who was among those who played qualifying rounds today in the annual mid-winter amateur golf invitation at the Miami Country Club the "Pony" getting a neat 83.

Mack Wouldn't Be Surprised if Detroit Won Pennant

Philadelphia, Jan. 15 (AP)—Connie Mack, preparing to leave for the South, said today he wouldn't be a bit surprised to see his former ace catcher, Mickey Cochrane, pilot the Detroit Tigers to the American League pennant this coming season.

"Detroit has a good chance to win the pennant," he continued. "In fact, I wouldn't be a bit surprised if they won it.

"The club has a wonderful pitching staff and has added to its hitting strength with Cochrane and Goslin. Even without their addition, Detroit was bound to be better next season."

However, the veteran pilot of the Athletics, who will leave for Florida tomorrow, looks to his own club to have something to say in the campaign, which he believes will be closer this year than for many seasons past.

"The many trades since the close of last season are bound to tighten the race," he said. "Since 1920, the A's, New York and Washington have dominated the league, but its going to be different next season, with real opposition coming from the West and the Boston Red Sox."

MR. BOSTON

By JACK CONWAY

What do the ladies think of our noble New England boxers? Miss Kay Datti of 424 Waverly st., Framingham, thought I would be interested to find out.

Miss Datti has joined the hundreds of boxing fans who are rating the 12 leading boxers in New England. And with the thought in mind that she may be one of the fortunate persons who will receive two tickets for the Boston Garden boxing show on Friday night.

Andy Callahan will risk his New England welterweight crown in a contest with Werther Arcelli, while Unknown Winston will defend his New England heavyweight championship against Dick Madden. But back to Miss Datti's interesting letter. It follows:

Mr. Boston

"It is quite an unusual thing for you to receive a list of New England's 12 leading boxers from a young lady, but nowadays, as you know, women are going in for sports in a big way.

"Here is my list. Tony Shucco, first; Jack Sharkey, second; Johnny Indrisano, third; Andy Callahan, fourth; Lou Brouillard, fifth, Sammy Fuller, sixth; Unknown Winston, seventh; Werther Arcelli, eighth; Dick Madden, ninth; Paris Apice, tenth; Al McCoy, eleventh; Vittorio Lhan, twelfth."

* * *

Ladies and Boxing

The ladies first displayed noticeable interest in boxing when Jack Dempsey defended his heavyweight crown against Georges Carpentier at Jersey City following the war. Carpentier was handsome and had the color that goes with a war hero. Thousands of ladies attended the championship match, and cheered for the Frenchman. Later when boxing became legalized in most states it became quite common for women to attend even ordinary matches.

* * *

"Lower License Fees"

Michael De Greforo of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company writes as follows:

"I rate New England's boxers as follows: Jack Sharkey, first; Tony Shucco, second; Johnny Indrisano, third; Lou Brouillard, fourth; Andy Callahan, fifth; Sammy Fuller, sixth; Bat Battalino, seventh; Werther Arcelli, eighth; Unknown Winston, ninth; Dick Madden, tenth; Leo Larrivee, eleventh; Paris-Apice, twelfth.

"If Battalino and Larrivee are not considered on account of their inactivity, advance the names of Tommy Romano and Vittorio Lhan.

"The revival of boxing depends upon a member of the legislature putting through a bill which will give matchmakers and boxers a chance to make more than just training and overhead expenses. I have reference to the cost of license fees for boxers and clubs. They should be equalized according to their respective ratings. The clubs and boxers are the ones taking the gamble, and the state gets its money regardless of what happens."

* * *

Likes the Heavyweights

Edward Moore of 198 N st., South Boston sends along the following ratings:

"Jack Sharkey, first; Johnny Indrisano, second; Andy Callahan, third; Tony Shucco, fourth; Sammy Fuller, fifth; Lou Brouillard, sixth; Werther Arcelli, seventh; Johnny Rossi, eighth; Norman Conrad, ninth; Unknown Winston, tenth; Al McCoy, 11th; Dick Madden, 12th.

"What boxing needs is a revival in the heavyweight division. The big boys are the ones down Public likes to see, and now that boxers like Jim Maloney, King Solomon, Romero Rojas and Pat McCarthy are all through, the fans want to see some new faces in the heavyweight division."

LONDOS TAKES $5000 FOR 'PANTHER' GO

Jim Londos will receive a guarantee of $5000 and a privilege of accepting 25 per cent of the gate when he meets "Panther" Joe Mecsowicz in a finish wrestling bout, best two falls out of three at a Jamaica Bowser show at the Boston Garden on January 24.

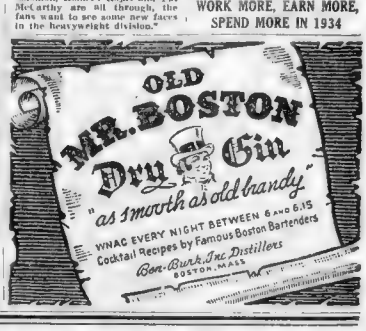
Londos originally demanded $6000 but finally agreed to accept $5000.

Bowser signed Londos after negotiations extending over a period of five years. Mecsowicz has pounded Londos in every section of the United States and Canada. The "Panther" got way of arguing Londos was to appear at a wrestling show at which the Greek heavyweight was to wrestle, or help join the ring just after Joe was introduced. Joe would then challenge Londos.

Londos recently easily defeated Charley Strack at the Arena. On the night of the bout, the old "Panther" pulled his usual stunt of challenging Londos.

Londos has not shown at the Garden in almost two years. In his tussle with Strack, the Greek heavyweight proved he is still a master wrestler and one of the finest physical specimens to participate in any form of athletic competition.

WORK MORE, EARN MORE, SPEND MORE IN 1934



Mechanics Card

PRELIMINARY BOUTS

"Drop Kick" Murphy vs. K. O. Connelly
Nick Costa vs. Mike Trigere.
Kid Sullivan vs. Pete Tondelo
Tony Bisbee vs. Bill Dolan
Johnny Stevens vs. Jack Montana.
Ted Germaine vs. Walter Pribby

SEMI-FINAL BOUT

Mario Gigio vs. Pansas

MAIN BOUT

Wine Robbins vs. Cowboy Hughes.

TITLE AT STAKE AT MECHANICS

George Dussette will defend his light heavyweight wrestling championship against Cowboy Hughes at Mechanics Building tonight or he will be champion no longer.

Dussette, who refused Charley Gordon that he would not risk his title, was notified today by the U. S. Wrestling Association to appear at Mechanics by 10 o'clock tonight ready to meet Hughes or his title would be forfeited.

In case Dussette does not appear, Hughes will be pitted against Wine Robbins, and the winner will be recognized as the light heavy champion.

"Tropkick" Murphy, who was matched with Robbins in the semi-final, will meet another suitable opponent if Dussette does not arrive on the scene.

The . . .
HORRORS OF WAR IN . . .
PICTURES

Just released! Uncensored pictures of the World War from Floyd Gibbons' famous war book. Scenes showing war's most shocking horrors, devastated battlefields, towns and cities annihilated. 5 big, full-size pages of these pictures, excellently printed.

Next Sunday, Jan. 21, with the SUNDAY ADVERTISER

'PURE' PUNCHERS BATTLE FOR CROWNS AT ARENA TONIGHT

CLASSY CROP FEATURES HEAVIES

Arena Entries

115 POUND CLASS
John Micalizzi, Malden.
Antony Silvia, Lowell.
John Cuneri, Roxbury.
James Swiza, Plymouth.
Alfred Reedy, Worcester.
Dana Rush, Boston.
John Chase, Boston.
Tony Amoroso, E. Boston.
Dante Pedota, Brighton.
Robert Hansen, Chelsea.
Walter Rosbeing, Forge Village
Manuel Gracia, Taunton.

125 POUND CLASS
Rene Hart, Boston
Jackie Fappardi, Boston.
John Burns, Roxbury
Pete Miller, Dorchester.
Al Narcisse, Hyde Park.
Alec Di Stefeno, Marlboro
Angelo Bertarelli Boston
Michael Panaretis, Chelsea
Harold De Jesse, Taunton

135 POUND CLASS
Sammy Feldman, Boston
Louis Salvador, Cohasset.
James Garrett, Boston
Raymond Mcdonald jr. Cambridge
James Hogan, Wrentham.
Eddie Wilson, Roxbury.
Lionel LeBlanc, Taunton.
Tony Lopes, Taunton
Frank Dias, Taunton
John Mercurio, jr. Boston
Jerry Indrisano, jr. Boston.

160 POUND CLASS
Walter Cunningham, Dorchester
John Gilbert, Boston
John Wheeler, Boston
Wm. W. Sparrow, Dorchester.
Ernest Hayes, Plymouth.
Andy Vigias, Dorchester.
Lew Ritter, Dedham
Sam Shumway, Webster
Sidney Woods, N. Haven
John Creati, Plymouth
Joe Little, Dorchester
Mike Williams, Revere

HEAVYWEIGHT CLASS
Paul Chute, Boston
Norman Chambers, Somerville
Ted de Martino, Revere
Rolly Ranahan, So. Boston
Salvatore Santosuosso, So. Boston
Anthony Santosuosso, So. Boston

The class of the amateur boxers will strive for the honors in the State amateur boxing tournament at the arena tonight. This will be the first of four tryouts tournaments to determine what boys will compete in the finals of the State championships

There will be bouts at 126, 135, 147 and 160 pounds, and in the heavyweight division

The winner of each class will be picked to take part in the finals which will be held in April

The heavyweight class has attracted the most attention

Among the boxers who will toss heavy punches are Paul Chute, Back Bay; Rolly Rannahan, South Boston; Albert Chambers, Somerville; Anthony Santosuosso, Revere; Ted Marine, Revere, and Algelo Santosuosi, South Boston.

Jimmy McCarron, one of the best of the New England lightweights will take part in the 135 pound division.

San Filano of the North End, this season a sensation in the amateur ranks, will take part in the welterweight group. So will James Garrett of the South End who has been a persistent winner at B. A. A. shows.

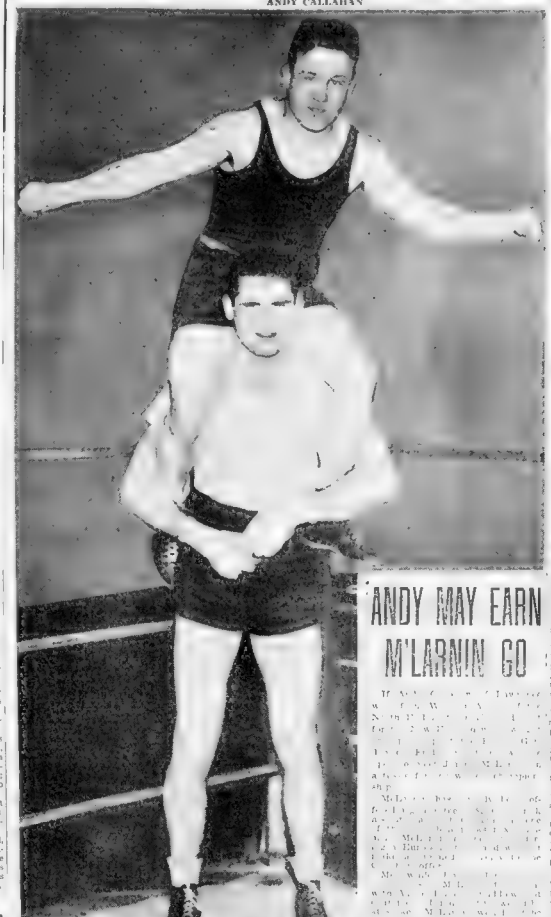
Engen Wins Prize in Ski Jump

Winsted, Conn., Jan. 15 (AP)—On a snow-banked mountainside called "the longest hill in the world," the first professional ski meet of the Winstead Ski Club was held with Alf Engen of Salt Lake City winning first money.

Engen alone of the 11 men competitors started from the top of the hill in Colebrook River, four miles from Winsted. His first jump carried him 152 feet, and his second 163 for a total of 355 feet.

Callahan Will Rise, One Way or Another

ANDY CALLAHAN



JACK McCARTHY

Andy Callahan risks his New England welter championship against Werther Arcelli at the Garden Friday. Andy is training daily at Buckley's gym on Friend st. Jack McCarthy, always willing to give a fellow a leg up, is helping Andy prepare for the battle. World championship bout with McLarnin may be arranged for Andy if he wins. (Staff photo.)

ANDY MAY EARN M'LARNIN GO

NEW STADIUM TO OUTSTRIP N. Y. GARDEN

By BILL CORUM

Thrills in Sports

Honesty May Be the Best Policy — But Lobert Didn't Think So

What Would You Do With a Fast One, Outside, You Didn't Want to Hit?

By Jack Kofoed

They were great friends, John Lobert and Jeff Overall. The exigencies of their profession kept them apart through most of the summer . . . but when they could get together they spent long evenings together, drinking beer and talking. They were quiet men these two, and their friendship meant much to them.

Lobert, thick-set and bowlegged, was third baseman on the Cincinnati Reds. Overall tall and with a shoulder spread like the mainsail of a schooner, was one of the Chicago Cubs' star right-hand pitchers. The Reds were bogged deep in last place because they merely going through the motions of playing ball. When they won a ball game it was a pleasant surprise. They were going no place in particular . . . and it seemed foolish to make too much fuss about it. Most of the Reds felt that way . . . but not John Lobert. He did his best on every play and was regarded as the ace hot corner guardsman in the National League.

The Cubs were champions . . . world champions . . . the summer of 1929 they wanted to win another pennant and a record-smashing pennants. There was more than one to be made. There was money to be made, too . . . plenty.

It just was very anxious for the Cubs to win the league flag. Overall would have several thousand dollars put in the bank. They talked about that over their beer.

You can't miss us," said John . . . "we'll crack . . . Lefty and the Giants at the finish, mark my words."

They're awful tough," grunted Overall.

They were tough, too, and driven by smart, hard boiled leaders. Fred Clarke and John McGraw. They were younger and spurred on by a keener ambition, too. The Cubs had been champions so long they were a little frayed and tired . . . too tired for a race that became so close that every game counted.

Overall and his pals had one big hope. In the last week of the season they were scheduled for a four game series with the Reds . . . the double-header pushovers of baseball. When they finally faced Cincinnati they found that they had to sweep the series to land in first place. There were no half-way measures. They had to win!

Everyone's nerves were taut . . . drawn tight as violin strings. There was no margin for error. Then, in the crucial game, Jeff Overall went in to clinch things. He was as courageous as a badger and had something on that ball, you had better believe. For eight innings he shut out the Reds. The Cincinnati pitcher . . . I think he was Art Fromme . . . was pretty good, too. He had nothing on his mind. There was no worry to bother him . . . and he allowed only one run in nine innings.

The Reds came to bat in the 9th half

Strike 'em out, Jeff, strike 'em out!" muttered Lobert under his breath, leaning forward on the bench, eyes fixed on the drama unfolding before him.

Lobert's Turn to Bat

Then, . . . suddenly as though there had been no preliminaries . . . there were men on third and first with two out, and John Lobert walked to the plate, swinging his bat dejectedly. Why did the issue have to be put up to him? Why in hell couldn't somebody else have this job? He didn't want to get a base hit.

HANS LOBERT

A voice said from the dugout . . . "Get a base hit, Lobert, whiffing? Nobody will know to you or anybody on your team. Take three and sit down!

But John Lobert was possessed of a stubborn honesty. That wouldn't be right. He had always done his best. He would have to do his best now for his soul's sake . . . 'Oh, God," said the third baseman . . . 'put plenty of hop on Jeff's last one."

The two friends faced each other. Their faces were grim. It meant so much to both of them that Lobert should fail

Strike one . . . ball one . . . ball two . . . strike two."

John swung his bat up and down in a chopping motion. From bleachers and grandstand came a tonal avalanche begging him to hit that ball. Why didn't they shut up? Tomorrow they would have forgotten all about this game . . . but if he beat Overall now he'd never forget it. It would always leave a bitter taste in his mouth.

Jeff wound up. The dirty leather sphere shot toward the plate John's heart crowded into his throat. It was a fast one on the outside . . . just where he loved them best. His bat came around mechanically. He felt the sharp impact tingle in his arms, and then he was racing down to first, heart broken at what he had done

Base Hit and Broken Hearts

Lobert did not need to look to know where the ball had gone. It sailed on a line over Joe Tinker's head into the outield where it bounced and skittered before it was corailed by the racing Sheckard

Two runs were over the plate . . . the Cubs had lost not only the game but the pennant . . . and John Lobert had taken several thousand dollars of needed money out of the pockets of his best friend. The shrill yells of the excited fans stabbed him like hot reproaches. Why had he been so cursed honst anyway?

Then he felt an arm around his shoulder Jeff Overall. Sure it was Jeff

"Im sorry," he said in a barely audible voice "I'm awful sorry but there wasn't anything else I could do."

I know," said Overall, "I know."

ANDY MAY EARN M'LARNIN GO

LEADERS HAVE SCHOOL ICE 'BREATHER'

By BILL CONNELL

DELAY NAMING GREEN COACH

Dartmouth's 1934 football coach successor to Jackson Cannell, who resigned in a huff after a bitter student blast, will not be named until later in the week

Members of the Dartmouth Athletic Council gathered here to reduce a list of some 20 possible coaches to a workable half dozen.

Clarence McDavitt, president of the athletic council, and Harry Hienage, supervisor of athletics at Hanover, refused to divulge the names of the final six in the running or the most likely contender for the position.

A surprising last minuate possibility is the report that J. J. "Jully" Vandereerd, former head coach at Colorado College, had received the unanimous support of the mid-Western alumni and is one of the strongest candidates in the narrowed field

While little is known about Vandergraf in the east, it is said that the western group feel that he is the man to restore Dartmouth's lost prestige and will be appointed unless the alumni here in the East are powerful enough to veto him down.

Jim Marks of Kiski prep, prominently mentioned for the past few weeks, is also said to be still very much in the running.

Tech Lacrosse Squad Out Soon

The Technology lacrosse team will start practice immediately following the examination period. The Beaver schedule includes meets with Harvard, Brown, B. U., Williams and Boston Lacrosse Club, and a trip to New York where the Engineers will face Oneida University at Schenectady.

Passing the Puck

By BILL GRIMES

With one less game to play than the other three American Division contenders the Bruins are trailing in their section by three full games. They were stopped in their tracks last night in Detroit, but both Rangers and Chicago came through with victories.

Since the first of the year the Bruins have engaged in six games and all that they have to show for their efforts is a tie with Chicago. It is a better edith than indicated by its present standing and the failure to click may be due to the constant talk of shaking up the team.

The sudden death of Walter Woolard, who handled the Bruin tickets so efficiently for years, was a terrible blow to the hockey fans

Only on rare occasions has Frankie Boucher scored for the Rangers without Bun and Bill Cook figuring in the play. Last night the crafty little Ranger center scored two unassisted goals for the Blue Shirts

The Eagles helped the Cubs' cause by beating Quebec last night in New Haven. It was a real break for the Bruin Cubs, for after paying Beavers at the Garden on Thursday they trek to Quebec for two games and following a game at home with New Haven hop to Providence and then to Philadelphia.

Despite the fact that they allowed a three goal lead to slip away from them, the Cubs are playing a high grade brand of hockey and the fans are beginning to flock to their cause in large numbers. The Cubs are hustling in great style and every player is giving his all to take the club out in front in the Can-Am race.

Jean Dubuc, owner of the Rhode Island Reds, has been so well impressed with the playing of Charlie Butler, the Brown defense player from Newton that he has signed him to work out with the Providence pros. Butler is a junior and according to Dubuc is a real prospect. He scored four goals for Brown against Colby.

Nick Wasnie, Ottawa right winger, formerly of Les Canadiens and Americans, is on the injured list and Ted Saunders was recalled by Manager Buck Boucher

Bob Gracie got off to a fine start with Americans by scoring against Maple Leafs and we also noted that Eddie Burke came up with another goal. Strange that Burae was never able to show his real ability while playing for the Bruins

You'll attend innumerable N. H. L. games and never see as perfect a scoring combination as Bert McInenly and Otto Heximer for the second Cub goal against Providence. It was a gem.

Andy Mulligan, who started—or at least tried to start—the season with the Bruin Cubs, is headed for a regular defensive berth with the Rhode Island Reds. Although Coach Gilmore and Manager Myles Lane rated him highly, they were never allowed to play Mulligan for any length of time. On Saturday, Mulligan gave a wonderful all-around exhibition against the Cubs and was an important factor in the Reds going through with a tie.

SHORE FAILS TO SEE 'ACE'

For the second time, Eddie Shore star defense man of the Boston Bruins hockey team was rebuffed today in his efforts to see Irvin Ace' Bailey, Toronto player who is making a long battle for his life at Citty Hospital, after a collision with Shore several weeks ago in Boston Garden

Shore returned from a visit trip to Bermuda, telephoned City Hospital to request permission to see Bailey, and he was informed that he could not. Bailey would be was a patient at City Hospital.

The reason given was that it was the order of the physician attending physician who performed two operations on Bailey.

Bailey leaves for his home in Toronto Wednesday

Week-End Results

Washington, D. C.—Vines beats Tilden, 6—0, 5—7, 6—2, 6—2

Miami, Fla. — Tait retains Miami-Biltmore single title, beating Grant, 9—7, 6—4, 11—9; Sutter and McCaliffe win doubles.

San Francisco—Crawy and Thompson reach finals of match play open golf tournament

Los Angeles—Chicago Bears beat Southern California All-Stars, 26—7.

Philadelphia — Kenney gains lead in national three-cushion billiard tourney, beating Harper; Matsuyama upset by McCourt.

New York—McCluskey finishes seventh in two-mile handicap run; Spits captures high jump.

BRITISH SOCCER DRAW MADE

London, Jan 15 (AP). The draw for the fourth round of the English soccer cup to be played Jan 27 today revealed as follows:

Walsall vs. Leicester; Tranmere Rovers vs. Liverpool or Fulham; Workington vs. Preston or Bury; Hull vs. Manchester City; Manchester United or Portsmouth vs. Grimsby Town; Arsenal vs. Crystal Palace; Birmingham vs. Charlton Athletic; Bristol City or Bolton Wanderers vs. Aston Villa; Sunderland or Middlesbrough vs. Blackburn Rovers; Newcastle United or Stoke City vs. Sheffield United; Chesterfield or Aston Villa vs. Sunderland or Middlesbrough; Plymouth Argyle or Huddersfield Town vs. Southampton or Nottingham Forest; Chelsea or West Bromwich Albion vs. Notts Forest

TAP'S TIPS

Shots at the Basket

By FRANK O'CONNELL

Quincy got a peek at the Boston Whirlwinds when the New England pro champs showed their wares before a large crowd with the Quincy Town furnishing the opposition. The Whirlwinds took a 10-point lead in the middle of the first half and gave a marvelous exhibition of team work through the remainder of the game to win by the score of 37 to 23.

Saturday night's game between the St. Charles of Waltham and the Colligan Club of Watertown created some kind of record for amateur games when 85 Charles had to rule called on them twice near the end of the game.

Eddie Winterspring, star forward of the Boston Y. M. H. A., has gone to Miami, Fla., on business and will be lost to his team for a balance of the season. Besides his loss will be keenly felt as he has played an important role in the Y. M. H. A. team which won the national championship last year.

Johnny Crowley of Charlestown is improving with every game. He is only 21 years old and by the end of the season should be a finished product. The Boston Whirlwinds have their eye on him

West End won another close one Saturday night when they beat the Crimson. Independents by two points. West End is proving to be a fine team and Chelsea Y. M. H. A. will have their hands full Thursday night when these teams meet at Chelsea

Danny Silva coach of St Charles will not be with that team for a few weeks as he has gone to Florida for a rest. Pratty soft job, Danny," I can remember when we were teammates that our winters were spent quietly in Vermont, Maine or New Hampshire running around the hard surfaces

Henry Kiley will soon be back in the Whirlwind line-up. Henry has been out all season as a result of an operation which was performed last fall. His inability to play was a severe loss to the pro champs as he is considered by many to be the best in this section.

Keith Film Shows Tilden Topping Vines

A distinct "scoop" has been scored by the newest issue of Pathe News showing the old master, Bill Tilden, defeating Vines in the first match of the Professional Tennis Series held in New York City. This issue of Pathe News is now showing at the Keith-Boston theater.

Hockey Standings

NATIONAL LEAGUE
LAST NIGHT'S RESULTS
Detroit 2, Boston 0.
Rangers 3, Montreal 0.
Chicago 6, Americans 2.

AMERICAN DIVISION

	W	L	T.	Pts	For	Agst
Rangers	11	7	6	28	65	39
Chicago	11	7	6	28	70	57
Detroit	12	9	3	27	60	55
BOSTON	8	13	3	19	49	61

CANADIAN DIVISION

Toronto	15	4	5	35	83
Canadiens	11	11	4	26	45
Maroons	7	13	6	20	46
Ottawa	7	13	6	20	53
Americans	5	8	4	18	38

GAMES THIS WEEK
TOMORROW
Les Canadiens at Boston Bruins
Toronto at Ottawa.
Chicago at Montreal
Rangers at Americans
TUESDAY
Boston Bruins at Toronto.
Montreal at Ottawa.
SATURDAY
Detroit at Ottawa
Rangers at Canadiens.
Chicago at Toronto
SATURDAY
Boston Bruins at Americans
Toronto at Detroit
Montreal at Chicago.

CANADA-PACIFIC
LAST NIGHT'S RESULT
New Haven 2, Quebec 1.

	W	L	T.	Pts	For	Agst
BOSTON	11	8	3	25	64	46
Quebec	8	8	4	20	42	42
Providence	7	8	4	18	54	58
Philadelphia	6	8	4	16	43	45
New Haven	10	11	1	21	49	49

GAMES THIS WEEK
TUESDAY
Quebec at Philadelphia
WEDNESDAY
Quebec at Boston
FRIDAY
Philadelphia at Providence.
SUNDAY
Boston at Quebec
Providence at New Haven
OTHER GAMES
WEDNESDAY
Harvard vs. Tufts Boat Club, at Lorden
SATURDAY
Harvard vs. Princeton at the Garden.
American doubie-header at the Arena.

Exeter Six to Face Andover on Feb. 10

The annual Andover-Exeter scholastic hockey game has been set for Feb. 10 at the Boston Arena, it was announced today.

BOSTON AMERICAN — NEW ENGLAND'S GREATEST EVENING NEWSPAPER

18 — MONDAY, JANUARY 15, 1934

INSURANCE MEN ARE TO MEET IN BOSTON

Simon and McKenzie Will Be Heard on Business Life

By FRANK H. MELOON
Financial Editor, Boston American

Roy H. Booth, assistant trust officer of the National Shawmut Bank of Boston and president of the Boston Life Insurance Trust Council, today announced that the council will hold an all-day session in the Georgian Room at the Hotel Stater [illegible] "Business Life Insurance and Business Life Insurance Trusts." Meeting will be addressed by Prof. Leon Gilbert Simon, author and head of the Department of Insurance at the New York University; Fred P. McKenzie, assistant secretary of the Central Hanover Bank & Trust Co. at New York City and Charles C. Gilman of the National Life Insurance Co. of Vermont, well known in local insurance circles.

Leon G. Simon — F. P. McKenzie

* * *

Raymond Spinney of the Employers Group Associates, listed on the Boston Stock Exchange, enclosing a dividend notice, tells me:

"A great many of our stockholders have called us on the telephone, asking if it were true that we had declared a dividend, adding that they had seen nothing about it in the American, which apparently is their favorite paper."

* * *

The Board of Trustees of Employers Group includes Edward C. Stone, Charles Francis Adams, William Endicott, Gay Gleason, Franklin P. Horton, John M. Morrison, Artemas B. F[illegible] and A. C. Rat[illegible]sky. And [illegible] dividend [illegible] news.

* * *

Automobile registry departments of New Hampshire, Vermont and Connecticut all report to this column increases in registrations for the forepart of January as compared with those for the like period a year ago.

Eyes of Wall St. Are Still Focused On U. S. Financing

By WALL ST. SPECTATOR

The market is still doing a little strutting as the new week opens. Stocks were tossed around a bit in the last few days but buying came in on the dips and little damage was done. The business picture continues to look bright, which is maintaining speculative optimism, and the feeling is growing that the market isn't in much danger of a spill until the first piece of government financing is completed.

BOND DEMAND PERSISTS

[illegible] the market look quite orthodox.

Dealers report the demand for bonds is coming from all around. Buying in second grade issues [illegible] heavy [illegible] expected upturn [illegible] will insure interest coverage . . . Signs of activity in the real estate stocks due to the lift repeal is giving to hotels and other realty situation.

The uptrend in foreign markets since the first of the year is an interesting speculative sidelight.

It indicates that confidence in recovery is becoming worldwide . . . London particularly has been enjoying a minor boom in the last two weeks, with rails bright spots there.

We understand the leather industry expects February to bring a lot of business. Shoe plants are enjoying quite a pickup.

[illegible]

The high selling price of U. S. Steel preferred suggests the stock won't be on a $2 dividend basis much longer . . . Followers of wheat point out that the rise in the last two days brought it out of the trading range . . . Patient ones are picking up the rail equipments.

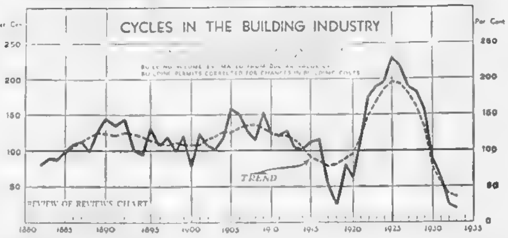
Cotton Up a Dollar With Trade Heavy

New York, Jan. 15 (INS)—Cotton futures [illegible] in heavy trading today. First quotations were up 22 to 24 points, with March up 22 at 11.21; May up 24 at 11.39; July up 22 at 11.54 and October [illegible].

Boston Bank Stocks

	Bid	Asked	Prev. close
First Nat	28	30	27
Merch Nat	250	..	250
Nat Rock	52	..	52
Shawmut	21	23	20
Second Nat	85	..	85
U S Trust	5¼	7½	5¼

Building Dollar Shows Drop



By JOSEPH STAGG LAWRENCE
Review of Reviews

This chart represents an analysis of the building industry along [illegible] [illegible] factors which tend to obscure the true trend. The first of these is the buying power of the construction dollar. This dollar today buys a little more than one-half the construction which it bought in 1913.

In other words, $192 spent today in average construction will show the same results as $100 spent in 1913. A second confusing factor is the change in population. The volume of contruction obviously is related not only to total population but to the rate of increase.

For these reasons any sound appraisal of construction trends must make allowance for change in construction costs as well as [illegible] represents the trend and makes possible the definition and separation of the three great building cycles through which the industry has passed during this half century.

Of special interest is the tremendous boom which occurred after the war. It is the conviction of most careful students of the business cycle that this golden age of construction had much to do with the unprecedented prosperity which the country enjoyed during the decade after the war.

Granting the importance of construction as a factor in prosperity, does the low level of building during the past three years mean that the country is now compensating for an excess of construction during the boom years? Does it mean that the country cannot recover real prosperity until it has caught up with the new building provided during the post-war years?

Is it possible that much of this construction in the form of highways, bridges, tunnels and better buildings is simply a phase of a higher standard of living? If that is the case, may we not recover without going through an 8 or 10-year period of subnormal construction? These are some of the questions which builders, supply industries and students of business are raising.

BOSTON STOCKS UP SHARPLY

Share prices advanced sharply in the trading on the Boston Stock Exchange today with gains ranging from 1 to more than 3 points. Edison Electric featured with a run-up of 4 points, but this rise was halved near the close. American Telephone was better than 3 points higher.

New England Telephone showed a gain of 2 points and General Electric was a major fraction higher. Rail shares were strong, with Atchison and Pennsylvania showing gains of around 2 points. Boston & Maine prior preferred and D stamped issues were over a point higher and New Haven was up about a point.

Textile issues were active and higher, with American Woolen common and preferred and Amoskeag showing substantial gains. Nash Motors was at a new high on a run up of 2 points [illegible] better were recorded by Bigelow Sanford, Eastern Gas & Fuel preferred, First National Stores, Kennecott Copper and United Drug.

Live News of Active Leaders in Wall St.

ALCOHOLS alone behaved in laggardly fashion when today's broad advance got under way in anticipation of President Roosevelt's message to Congress on action toward dollar stabilization.

Bankers Inspect Freeport Texas

Officials, some of them directors and representatives of banking interests who had a part in the company's financing, left for a trip south to inspect the Freeport Texas Co.'s new sulphur deposit at Grande Ecaille, La. The trip will be a brief one, but will afford the party full opportunity to look over the company's new property.

Grains Are Higher in Chicago Market

Chicago, Jan. 15—In wild buying today grain values moved upward. An advance of more than three cents a bushel in wheat carried the major cereal to the highest point witnessed in the last two months. The market was a big affair with the volume such that individual operations were lost sight of. A special stimulus to buyers was the fact that wheat in some cases had risen to above 90 cents a bushel after long being restricted to within the eighties.

Corn and oats responded to wheat price upturns but were hampered by enlarged receipts of corn, today arrivals at primary points being nearly double those of a week ago. Provisions advanced with hog values and with grain.

C. & O. to Pay Off $3,950,000 in Notes

The Chesapeake & Ohio will start 1934 by paying off on Jan. 31 $3,950,000 of 6 per cent notes which fall due at that time out of treasury cash. A reduction in the C. & O.'s debt of that amount is not very large on a percentage basis, but at least it is counter to the general trend in railroad debts which has been upward, not downward. Norfolk & Western is the single exception to the general rule, having pared down its funded obligations steadily during the depression years.

Boston Curb

Sales		High	Low	Last
500	Black Hawk Cs	30c	30c	30c
200	Chiefs Cons ...	70c	70c	70c
100	Sunset G F I..	1	1	1
200	Yukon Gold Co	32c	32c	32c
	BONDS
$9000	Asso G & E 4½s '73..........	32	31	32
$500	Asso G & E 5s '73	32½	32½	32½

Bar Silver Is Up

New York, Jan. 15 (AP)—Bar silver firm, ⅜ higher at 45.

Boston Stocks

	High	Low	2 50	Chg
Am Can	98⅞	87⅝	98⅞	+3
Adams Exp .	7½	7½	7½	..
Am For Pwr .	9⅛	8¾	9	..
Atchison R R	62¾	60⅞	62¾	+3⅛
Am Tel	119⅝	114⅛	119⅝	+5⅛
Am Woolen .	13⅞	13	13⅞	+1
Am Woolen pf	68¾	68⅛	68¾	+ ⅞
Amoskeag .	8½	7½	8½	+1
Anaconda	14⅛	14½	14⅛	+ ⅛
Atlas Corp ...	11⅛	11⅛	11⅛	+ ¼
Balt & Ohio ..	24⅞	24⅛	24⅞	+ ⅞
Bendix	17⅞	17	17⅞	+ ⅞
Beth Steel	41	39½	41	+ 2½
[illegible]	34½	33	34½	+ 1½
Bigelow-S pf .	80	80	80	..
Bos & Alb	110½	110½	110½
Bos Elev	63	63	63	..
B & M pr pfd	27	27	26½	+ ½
B & M B stp.	12	12	12	+ ⅛
B & M B stp.	15	14	15	+1½
B & M C stp .	13	13	13	..
B & M D stp.	22	20	22	+3½
Boston P P ..	10¼	10⅛	10⅛	— ⅛
Cal & Hecla .	4½	4½	4	+ ⅛
Chrysler	53⅞	51⅝	53⅞	+2⅝
Cit Service ..	3	3	2⅞	+ ⅛
Con Gas	42¾	40⅝	42¼	+3¼
Comwlth So .	2⅝	2⅛	2⅛	—
Cor Gas	41⅝	40⅝	40⅞	+1⅞
Curtis W	2⅞	2⅝	2⅞	+ ⅛
E G&F As pr	47	47	47	+1
E Mass. pf B	2¼	2⅛	2⅛	+ ⅛
Eastern S. S. .	8	8	8	+ ⅛
East. S. S. 1pf	100	100	100	—
Edison	130	128¾	130	+2
Elec B & S	15⅛	14⅝	15	+1
Employers Grp	8	8	8	—
First Nat St. .	58	58	58	+1
Gen Capital...	22	22	22	+ ½
Gen Elec	20¾	20	20¾	+ ⅞
Gen Foods....	35⅛	34⅞	35⅛	+ ⅛
Gen Motors..	36	34⅞	36	+1⅛
Gillette	9⅝	9¼	9¼	+ ⅛
Goodyear	35⅝	35¼	35¼	+1¼
Hudson Mot..	15⅛	14⅝	14⅝	+ ⅛
Int Tel	15⅝	15⅛	15⅝	+ ¼
Kennecott Cop	20½	19⅝	20½	+1⅞
Mergenthaler	25	25	25
Mont Ward ..	24⅛	23½	24⅛	+1½
Nash	29½	27½	29½	+ 2½
N E Tel	87	84	87	+3
No American.	16⅞	16¾	16⅞	+ ⅛
Pacific Mills .	28½	28	28
Penn RR	33⅞	31⅛	33⅞	+2⅛
Radio Corp ..	7½	7	7⅛	..
Ry & Lt Sec .	6½	6½	6½
Shawmut	7	7	7	+ ⅛
Std Brands ..	23	22¾	22¾	+ ..
Swift & Co ...	15	14⅞	14	+ ⅛
Torrington ...	52	51	51	—1
Un Aircraft ..	32¼	31⅞	31⅞	+ ⅞
Un Carbide ..	47⅞	47	47⅞	+1⅞
Uni Drug	11⅜	10¼	11⅜	+1⅜
Un Corp	6½	5¾	6⅛	+ ⅞
Uni Found	⅞	⅞	⅞	..
Uni Fruit	61⅝	61⅜	61⅜	+ ⅝
Un G &Imp ..	16½	16⅛	16¼	+ ¼
United Shoe .	60	59½	59	[illegible]
U S Smelt ...	100⅛	99⅞	99⅞	+2⅞
U S Steel	51¼	49⅞	51⅞	+3
Utah Apex ..	90c	85c	90c	+5c
Utah Metal ..	1¼	1¼	1¼
Waldorf	6⅛	6⅛	6⅛	..
Warren Br ..	10⅞	10⅞	10⅞	+ ⅛
Westinghouse.	39⅝	39	39⅝	+1⅞
BONDS
Chi Junc 4s..	88	88	88	—4½

Tel-U-Grams

by ART MOGER

©1934

The RKO-Keith Theater is the locale today for you Tel-U-Gram fans if you would identify entertainers in today's cartoon and win free tickets to the playhouse.

All you have to do is write the names of the entertainers in the squares provided in the drawing and then mail in your solutions to the Tel-U-Gram Editor of the Boston Evening American, P. O. Box 20[illegible], Boston.

The first 25 to get correct answers in will receive a free ticket to the RKO-Keith Theater.

The following were mailed tickets for the correct solutions to Friday's Tel-U-Gram:

Betty Shea, 125 Anawan ave., W. Roxbury.
Virginia Cahill, 451 Dudley st., Roxbury.
May Oda, 94 Chester st., Allston, Apt. 14.
Rita Gately, 70 Allston st., Newton.
Peggie Gildea, 16 Fifield st., Watertown.
Sherman Frell, 19 Outlook rd., Mattapan.
Thomas Jackson, 450 Summer st., Arlington.
Wm. Fredderico, 435 Hanover st., Boston.
Edward Glickman, 99 Common st., Watertown.
Leona Lockwood, 2023 Mass ave., Cambridge.
Betty Brass, 10 McLean st., Boston.
Janet Goodrich, 43 Brainerd rd., Brookline.
Mrs. Jos. Forrester, 16 Blanchard st., Roxbury.
Wm. Dunnells, 111 Harvard st., Brookline.
Miriam Grinnell, 68 McLean st., Newton.
Mrs. A. Edwards, 60 Southern ave., Dorchester.
Kathleen Jameson, 105 Cedar st., Roxbury.
Helen Dow, 440 E. Fifth st., So. Boston.
Marie Lapraik, 30 Peterboro st., Boston, Apt. 24.
Kathleen Brennan, 831 River st., Waltham.
Sarah Brown, 11 Wilson pk., Brighton.
N. F. Morris, 802 Watertown st., West Newton.
Sigrid Lorensen, 76 Magnolia st., Arlington.
Marjorie McIntosh, 33 Warren st., Needham.
Edith Riddock, 84 Carolina ave., Jamaica Plain.

UNCERTAINTIES CHECK RISE, SAYS HANEY

Hopeful Action of Market Is Noted by Economist

By LEWIS HANEY
Professor of Economics, New York University

New York, Jan. 15—Last week the stock market registered a gain of about two points and held the greater part of it. The bond market was strong, aside from governments.

It seems that there are still too many uncertainties to allow sustained progress. For over two months the market has been in a narrow trading range, and until some of the major uncertainties which have held it there are cleaned up, there is no reason to expect any material change in the trend.

About all one can say is that if there were much probability of any disastrous outcome ahead, the market would be showing signs of tending to go down. Which it has not been doing.

It acts as if it is rather hopefully awaiting developments, but is not at all certain what they will be.

What the uncertainties are is clear enough. They are monetary "stabilization," business profits under NRA and the possibility of socialistic "reforms" under the new deal.

On the whole, some signs of greater independence on the part of Congress than had been anticipated are reassuring to those who have feared a sort of socialistic dictatorship, but this throws no light upon the monetary uncertainties.

* * *

Wall Street at the moment is probably more interested in the question of monetary stabilization than in any other question. The various arguments for such stabilization are as follows.

(1)—Government financing requires it, in order that bonds may be sold.

(2)—Business requires it in order to make long-run plans.

(3)—It is needed to make the "devaluation" of the dollar effective and thus to bring a higher level of domestic commodity prices. As yet the price level has by no means reflected the depreciation of the dollar in foreign exchange, and that depreciation is maintained only by buying gold abroad.

(4)—The government wants to seize the reserve banks' profit on a mark up in the dollar price of their gold reserves, but there is no basis for any definite mark up until a stable price is fixed for gold.

* * *

But the difficulties in the way of stabilization are great.

(1)—Our budget is badly out of balance and the fact that the government is running so much into debt makes it loath to promise what sized dollar it will pay.

(2)—Silver agitation is strong.

(3)—As long as the administration holds to the idea of forcing prices up, it will refuse to fix a final gold value for the dollar.

(4)—No possibility of international stabilization exists, because of our manipulation of the dollar and the debt situation.

State St. Circles See Critical Days Ahead for Market

By HUGH E. BRADSHAW

It is the opinion of well informed stock market observers in State st. circles that share prices are entering a critical period. After literally staggering through last week without definite action in either direction, prices are due for a searching test which should provide traders with a clue to the next intermediate movement. We will remain on the sidelines until the test develops.

Looking back on last week one realizes that it was only by the grace of sudden news happenings that the list held together. Whether the scraps of good news led some traders to adopt a constructive stand will be difficult to say pending another onslaught on the highs made last month. That barrier on the [illegible] to provide a good guide to the [illegible].

MARKET ACTION IS STUDIED

The best way to start a Monday, we have decided, is to look back on the previous week and see just what must be accomplished, or avoided, if the market is verging on a definite performance. Thus the hourly lows and highs for the week make excellent markers for the boardroom fraternity. If the industrials and rails break either way together we may feel fairly sure of a good move.

Chart Gossip: On an hourly chart of the dual averages, 96.73 is the low for the industrials and 40.07 for the rails . . . The highs for the same period are at 99.81 and 42.03 . . . The action at these points should provide a quicker line on the market's willingness to attack the December highs for the third time.

One phase of investment demanding increasing attention is the bond department. The only testimony offered is the average of 60 bonds. It has consistently tended higher of late. Inflation is no longer threatening fixed income-bearing securities and timid capital is apparently seeking its normal outlets.

Great was the cheering when the President came out and advocated utility rates capable of supporting sinking funds. Equities immediately snapped out of the lethargy of months. But we do not understand it. If present rates are safe in order to establish sinking funds it does not hold that dividends are [illegible] It may require lower dividends to establish sinking funds.

This and That: We suggest careful study of utility earnings to ascertain the position of common stock earnings if net income is to be reduced to accommodate the setting up of sinking funds . . . But the bonds of leading utilities look to be in a better position than heretofore . . . It is the latter we would accumulate.

The barometer figures are close by. For the industrials it is 98.25 and for the rails it is 41.30. These are good for today. Needless to say, a break through by both will mean a dip of fair proportions. This, together with the resistance outlined above, should take care of trading needs.

SENTIMENT AND BUSINESS ADD TO HEADWAY

Progress Is Irregular, but Real, Forbes' Study Shows

By B. C. FORBES

New York, Jan. 15—Progress—irregular, but progress. Statistical improvement is less notable than improvement in sentiment. Retail trade news is cheerful. December gains are being repeated in most centers this month. Buyers for retail stores are invading leading cities in extraordinary numbers.

[illegible] are in demand. Whereas the midsummer spurt was stimulated by the prospect of higher "codified" prices, current purchasing has no such artificial mainspring.

B. C. Forbes

* * *

Admittedly the expanding distribution of public money is partly accountable for the better buying, especially in southern sections, where something of a boom has set in. The hope is that this "priming of the pump" will prove effective and that private activity and employment will broaden sufficiently to maintain and quicken the recovery pace.

* * *

Most commodities advanced moderately last week, including wheat, corn, rye, oats and cotton. A few, notably copper and rubber, receded slightly. Stocks declined; bonds advanced briskly—except United States government issues, which again fluctuated a trifle nervously.

Speculation is not rampant. Professionals originate most of the dealings both in commodities and shares.

* * *

Many influential investors and institutions are disposed to mark time until the currency outlook becomes more clearly defined. Conferences with interested parties by President Roosevelt encouraged hopes that revaluation of the dollar probably at fifty cents, is contemplated as soon as found feasible and that the brain trust's dream of a "commodity dollar" is fading.

Emphatic statements still come privately from powerful financial and other capitalistic sources that stabilization would prove the signal for extensive investing in securities for financing enterprise, for other demonstrations of restored confidence.

* * *

The many annual meetings of bank stockholders revealed that, whereas the temporary guaranteeing of deposits up to $2500 has been practically universally accepted, the largest institutions are disposed to rebel against joining the plan as now formulated for permanently guaranteeing larger deposits after July 1. The expectation grows that Congress will meanwhile enact modification.

* * *

All in all the new year has brought more encouragement than discouragement.

New York Curb

	High	Low	Last
Aero Supply B	3⅞	3⅞	3⅞
Alabama Pow	46	46	46
Alum Co of Am...	76	76	76
Am Beverage	2	2	2
Am Cities Pwr B..	2⅞	2⅝	2⅞
Am Cyanam B ...	17½	17⅛	17⅛
Am Dept Stores ..	⅝	⅝	⅝
Atlas Corp	11¼	10¾	11⅛
Am Gas & El.....	25⅛	24	24
Am Gas & El pf..	76	76	76
Am Laund Mach..	12	11⅞	11⅞
Am Light & T....	14⅞	13⅞	14⅝
Am Maracaibo	⅞	⅞	⅞
Am Superpwr ..	2⅞	2⅛	2⅞
Atlas Corp	11⅛	10⅞	11⅛
Ark Natl Gas A..	1⅜	1⅜	1⅜
Armstrong Cork ..	16½	16⅛	16½
Asso Elec Ind	5⅝	5⅜	5⅝
Assoc Gas & E A.	16-16	13-16	13-16
Assoc G & E war.	1-16	1-16	1-16
Asso Tel Util	⅛	⅛	⅛
Atlas Corp	11⅛	10⅞	11⅛
Atlas Corp war....	4⅞	4⅞	4⅞
Blue Ridge	2⅛	2⅛	2⅛
Brazil Trac	13	12⅞	13
Brown Forman Dis	18	18	18
Buff N & E P pf..	16⅛	16⅛	16¼
Bunker Hill	58½	57	58½
Butler Bros	5	5	5
Carrier Corp	6	6	6
Cent Sta El	1½	1½	1½
Centrifugal Pipe ..	5¼	5¼	5¼
Chesebrough	121½	121½	121½
Childs pf	19⅛	18½	19⅛
Cities Serv	3⅛	2⅞	2⅞
do pf	16⅛	16⅛	16⅛
do pf B	1½	1⅛	1½
City Auto Stamp...	10	10	10
Claude Neon Lts	⅜	⅜	⅜
Colum G & E cv pf	78	77⅛	77½
Comm Edison	48⅛	48⅛	48⅛
Cmnl & S war.....	⅜	5-16	⅜
Cons Aircraft	9	8⅞	9
Cons Copper M....	⅝	⅝	⅝
Cons Retail St.....	2	2	2
Cord Corp	7⅛	7	7
Cosden Oil com....	3⅛	3	3⅛
Crane Co	8	8	8
Creole Petrol	10⅝	10⅜	10⅝
Cresson Gold	⅞	⅞	⅞
Crocker Wheeler ..	5⅛	5⅛	5⅛
Crown Cent	1⅛	1⅛	1⅛
Cusi Mex	1⅛	1⅛	1⅛
Darby Petrol	6⅜	6⅛	6⅛
Det Aircraft	⅞	⅞	⅞
Distillers Ltd	21½	21⅛	21½
Distillers Seag	27	25⅛	26
Dow Chem	73¼	73¼	73¼
Dubilier Cond	⅝	⅝	⅝
Elec B & S	14⅝	14⅝	14⅝

	High	Low	Last
Elec B & S pf	39	38	39
Elec B & S cum pf	35	34¼	35
Elec Pwr & Lt A .	8½	8½	8½
Elec Sharehd	2⅛	2⅛	2⅝
Equity Corp	1⅜	1⅜	1⅜
Fairchild Av A ..	6⅛	5⅞	6⅜
Ferro Enamel	9	9	9
Fidelio Brewery ..	1½	1½	1½
Fisk Rubber	10⅝	10¼	10⅝
Fisk Rubber pf ...	67	67	67
Flintkote A	6⅛	6⅛	6⅛
Ford of Can A ...	16½	16	16½
Gen Alloys	2⅜	2⅜	2⅜
Gen Aviation	5⅞	5⅞	5⅞
Gen Elect Ltd	11⅝	11⅝	11⅝
Gen Investing 6 pf	6	6	6
Gen Rayon A	2⅛	2⅛	2⅛
Gen Tire & Rubber	79	78⅞	78⅞
Glen Alden Coal .	11⅝	11⅛	11⅝
Globe Und Ex	7	7	7
Goldfield Cons	⅛	⅛	⅛
Lake Shore M	45¼	44⅞	45¼
Lefcourt pf	9	9	9
Lehigh C & N ...	6⅛	6⅛	6⅛
Lone Star G	6⅛	6⅛	6⅛
Gulf Oil	60⅛	59⅛	60⅛
Hecla Mining	6⅞	6⅞	6⅞
Hiram Walker ...	56⅝	55⅝	55⅝
Hollinger Mines ...	12⅛	12⅛	12
Hudson Bay M&S .	9⅛	9½	9⅛
H Bay M&S sel er	9⅞	9⅞	9⅞
Humble Oil n ...	36	35⅞	36
Imp Oil Can	13⅛	13⅛	13⅛
Ins of N A	40⅞	40⅞	40⅞
Intl Hyd El Sys pf.	17½	17½	17½
Internat Pet	20⅝	20⅛	20⅝
Int Utilities B ...	1⅛	1⅛	1⅛
Italian Sup	1⅛	1⅛	1⅛
Jonas & Laughlin .	43½	40⅞	43½
Kirby Petrol	1⅞	1⅞	1⅞
Louisiana Land ..	2⅞	2⅞	2⅞
Lynch Corp	36	35⅛	36
Maxis Botl A	1⅛	1⅛	1⅛
Michigan Sugar pf	3⅛	3⅛	3⅛
Middle W Util ...	3-16	3-16	3-16
Midland Steel pf..	9	9	9
Molybdenum Corp.	6⅜	6⅛	6⅜
Mountain Prod	4½	4½	4½
Nat Bellas Hess Inc	2⅛	2⅛	2⅛
Nat Fuel Gas	14⅞	14⅞	14⅞
Nat Invest wts ...	⅞	⅞	⅞
Nat Sug Rf	34⅞	34⅞	34⅞
New York Hond	32	31⅞	32
N Y Shipbldg fd sh	14⅛	14⅛	14⅛
N Y Tel pf	115	115	115
Newmont Min	52⅝	51	52⅛
Ning Huds PA war	⅛	⅛	⅛
Nipissing Mines ..	2⅝	2⅝	2⅝

	High	Low	Last
Northwest Engin ..	5⅛	5⅛	5⅛
Novadel	63	63	63
Public Eastern ...	2⅛	2⅛	2⅛
Pantepec Oil	1⅛	1	1
Parke Davis	23⅞	23¼	23¼
Parker Rust Proof	56	56	56
Pennroad vtc	2⅞	2⅜	2⅞
Pioneer Gold	12⅜	12	12⅛
Pitney Bowers	4⅛	4⅛	4⅛
Pittsb Pl Glass ...	43	42⅛	42½
Premier Gold	1⅛	1⅛	1⅛
Prudential Inv	6⅛	6⅛	6⅛
Pug Sd 6pf shares.	8⅛	8	8⅛
Pure Oil 6 pc pf ..	43½	43⅛	43⅛
Reiter Foster	⅞	⅞	⅞
Rice Stix D Goods.	10⅛	10⅛	10⅛
Richfield Oil pf	⅛	⅛	⅛
Safety Car H & L..	70	68	70
St Anthony Gold...	⅜	⅜	⅜
St Regis Pap	3⅛	2⅞	3⅛
Segal Lock	⅜	⅜	⅜
Seiberling Rub	3	3	3
Selected Indus	2⅛	2⅛	2⅛
do f pd ac	46⅞	46⅝	46⅝
Sherwin Williams..	50⅝	50	50⅝
Singer Mfg	161	161	161
Smith A O	30⅝	30⅝	30⅝
Smith & Corona vtc	3⅝	3⅛	3⅝
Sou Col Pw A......	1⅛	1⅛	1⅛
Southland Royalty.	5	5	5
Stand Brew	1⅛	1¼	1⅛
St Oil of Ind	32	31⅞	32
St Oil of Ky	5⅛	5⅛	5⅛
Stand Silv Lead....	⅛	⅛	⅛
Starrett Corp	⅜	⅜	⅜
do pf	1⅛	1⅛	1⅛
Swift Internat	27⅛	25⅛	27⅛
Swift & Co new...	15	15⅛	15
Tastyeast A	⅞	⅞	⅞
Teck Hughes G....	6⅛	6	6
Tobac Pr Ex	⅜	⅜	⅜
Transcon Air Tran	2⅛	2⅛	2⅛
Trans Lux	2⅛	2⅛	2⅛
Tubize Chatillon...	11	10⅛	10⅛
United Corp war..	2⅛	2⅛	2⅛
Un Founders Corp.	⅞	⅞	13-16
United Gas	2⅜	2⅛	2⅛
United L & P A...	4	3⅞	4
United L & P cv pf	15⅝	14⅛	15½
United Molasses ..	4⅞	4⅞	4⅞
United Profit Sh...	1⅜	1⅜	1⅜
U S Electric Pow..	9-16	9-16	9-16
U S Foil B	6⅛	6⅛	6⅛
Utility Equities ..	1½	1⅛	1⅛
Utilities P & L ...	1⅛	1	1⅛
Util P & L pf ...	9⅛	9⅛	9⅛
Waco Aircraft ...	11⅛	11⅛	11⅛
Western Air Exp .	14⅛	14⅛	14⅛
West Va Coal&Cke	⅞	⅞	⅞
Wright Harg Mines	7⅛	7	7

New York Bonds

U. S. GOVERNMENT ISSUES	High	Low	Last
Liberty 3½s 1932-47	100.16	100.15	100.16
Liberty 1st 4¼s 32-47	101.16	[illegible]	[illegible]
L b 4th 4¼s 33-38	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
L b 4th 4¼s [illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
L b 4th 4¼s [illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Treasury 4¼s 1947-52	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Treas 4s 44-54	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Treas 3¾s 1946-56	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Treas 3⅜s 43	99	[illegible]	[illegible]
Treas 3⅜s [illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Treas 3⅛s 41	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Treas 3⅛s 46-49	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Treas 3s 51-55	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible] Treas 4[illegible]	98.21	[illegible]	[illegible]
FOREIGN GOVT & MUNICIPAL
Argentine 6s B 58	57⅛	56¾	57⅛
Australia 5s 55	92⅝	92	92⅝
Batavia Pet 4½s 52 ...	112⅛	112	112
Berlin City El 6s 55 ..	61⅛	60¼	61
Berlin City El 6½s 51 .	62⅛	62	62
Berlin City El 6½s 59.	63⅛	62⅞	63⅞
B Aires 6s 61 [illegible]	[illegible]	29	[illegible]
Canada 4s 60	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Canada 4½s [illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Canada 5s 52	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Chinese Gov R 5s 51	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Cuba ext 5½s [illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Denmark 6s 42	93	[illegible]	93
Dresden 7s 45	52⅛	52	52
Du E Indies 6s 62	153½	153	153½
French Govt 7½s 41....	162½	162	162
French Govt 7s [illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Ger C AgBk 6s [illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Ger C AgBk 7s [illegible]	[illegible]	68	68
Ger C AgBk 6s 60 Oct	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Ger C AgBk 6s 60 July.	64⅛	64	64
Ger Con Agr 6½s 58 ..	45⅞	44	44⅞
Ger Gn Elect 6s 48...	55⅛	51½	55⅛
German Gn Elect 7s 45 .	57	57	57
German Gov Intl 5½s 65	58⅝	58	58
German Rep 7s 49	84⅝	83	84⅝
Heidelberg City 7s 50	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Irish Free St 5s 60......	115⅛	115⅛	115⅛
Japan 5½s 65	76⅞	76⅝	76⅞
Japanese 6½s 54	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Milan 6½s 52	88	[illegible]	[illegible]
New So Wales [illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
New So Wales 5s ...	89	[illegible]	89
Norway 5s 63	87	87	87⅜
Peru 6s '61	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Queensland 7s '41	103½	103	103
Rhine W El P 7s '50....	61⅛	61	61⅛
Royal Dutch 4s 45	113	112⅞	112
Sao Paulo Cy 8s 52	29	29	29
Saxon St M ge 7s 45	64	61	61
Taiwan El 5½s 71	62⅞	62⅞	62⅞
Uni Stl Wks 6½s A '51	60⅝	60	60⅝
Un King G B&I 5½s 37	122½	122	122
Un King 4s [illegible]	115	[illegible]	115
DOMESTIC CORPORATIONS
Abraham & Strs 5½s 43	95	[illegible]	95
Am Roll Mill 5s '38 ...	99⅝	99⅝	99⅝
Am Smelt & R 5s '47 ...	100⅞	100⅜	100⅞
Am T&T col tr 5s 46 ...	107	106⅝	106⅝
Am T&T 5½s 43	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Am Wat Wks col tr 6s '75	78	78	72⅝
Armour Del 5½s 43 ...	86	85	85⅝
Atl Coast L 4s con 52	84⅛	84	84⅛
Balt & Oh 4½s 60	62	[illegible]	[illegible]
Can Nat Rys 5s July 69	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Can Nat Rys 5s 70	105⅛	105	105
Can Nat Rys 4½s 58	101⅛	[illegible]	[illegible]
Can Nat Rys 4½s 56 ..	102	101	101
Can North 4½s 35 ...	102	101⅞	102
Can North deb 6½s 46.	111½	111	111
Can Pac deb 4s	67	66½	66⅞
C of Ga Ry cons 5s 45	26⅛	26⅛	26⅛
C of Ga Ry ref 5½s B59	17⅛	17⅛	17⅛
Cent Pac 5s 60	78	69⅞	78
Certaint d P deb 5½s 48.	57⅞	[illegible]	57½
Chesapeake Corp 5s 47 .	99	98	98¾
CB&Q Ill Div 4s 49 ..	98¼	98⅛	98⅛
Chi Gt West 4s 59	40	39⅞	40
C M & S P gen 4s C 89	79	69	79
Del & Hud ref 4s	383	[illegible]	83
Den & RioG con 4s 36 .	47⅛	46	47
Den &Rio G west 5s 55 .	25⅛	24⅞	25⅛
Den & RioG ref 5s 78..	33	32⅛	33
Det Ed ref 5s B 55....	98	97⅞	98
Dodge Bro deb 6s 40	99⅝	[illegible]	99⅝
Erie conv 4s A 5[illegible]	86⅛	85⅝	85⅝
Erie gen 4s 96	60⅛	60	60⅝
Erie RR rf&imp 5s 75 .	65⅛	64⅞	65⅛
Fla E Coast Ry 5s 74	13	12	13
Gen Pet Corp 1st 5s 40	104⅛	104	104
Goodyr T&R 1st 5s 57	90⅛	90⅛	90⅛
Gt N 1st&ref A 4½s 61..	81⅛	80⅛	81⅛

	High	Low	Last
Gt Nor Ry gen 7s A 36 .	88⅝	88	88⅝
Hock V Ry 1st cu 4½s99	100	99½	100
[illegible] ne 5s 57	39	38⅝	39
[illegible] O&P [illegible] 37	104	103⅞	104
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	84
[illegible]	[illegible]	71	72⅛
[illegible]	[illegible]	103⅛	103⅛
[illegible]	[illegible]	73	73
[illegible]	[illegible]	45	45⅛
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	51
Long Island ref 4s 49	94	93⅞	94
La & Ark 5s 69	55	54½	55
L & N 4s 40	96⅛	96⅛	96⅛
Man Ry NY con 4s90 1st	49	47⅞	49
Mi El R [illegible]	67	[illegible]	67
Mil & N 1st ext 4½s 34.	81	79	79
M K & T 1st 4s 90 ..	81	80⅛	81
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Nat Steel 5s 56	94⅛	94⅛	94⅝
N Eng T & T 4½s 61	103	103⅛	103⅛
N Orl P Serv 5s A 52	50	[illegible]	[illegible]
NO Tex & M [illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
NY Cent ref [illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
NY Cent deb 6s 35	87⅛	86	86⅛
NYC & HR LakeSh3½s98	71⅛	71	71
NYC &StL 4½s C78	54	53	54
NYC &StL ref5½s A 74 .	63⅛	63⅛	63⅛
NY Chic StL 6s 35	59	57	59
NY Ed 5s C 51	105⅛	105⅛	105⅛
NY [illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
NY NH & H sec 6s 40 .	76⅛	75	75⅛
NY NH & H 4s 57 ...	48	47¼	48
NY NH & H 4½s 67 ...	63⅛	62	62
NY NH & H 6s 48 cv ...	77⅞	76	77⅞
NY Steam 5s 51	101	100⅞	101
NY Tel gen 4½s 39	104⅛	103⅞	104⅛
NY W&B 1st 4½s 46 ...	47	46⅞	47
N Am Ed [illegible]	71	70	70
No Pac gen 3s 2047 ...	64	62⅞	63⅞
N Sts Pwr 1st5s A41....	92	91⅛	91⅛
Otis Steel 6s 41	38	35	36
Pan A P Cal 1st cv 6s 40	[illegible]	[illegible]	70
Par F L[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Para Publix 5½s ct 50 .	36⅛	35⅞	36⅞
Penn RR con 4½s 41	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Philips Pet 5½s 39 ..	92	91⅛	92
PCC&StL gen 5s A 70 ..	95⅛	95⅛	95⅛
StL & Fr Ry p 1 A 4s 50	20⅛	20	20⅛
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
StL San F 4½s 78	19	18	19
StL San F 4½s ct stp 78	18⅛	18	18⅝
StL-SW Ry [illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	20⅛
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
So Pac 4s 49 [illegible]	63⅛	62	63
So Ry gen 6s A 56 ...	61⅛	60⅛	61⅛
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	83
So Ry gen 6s 56	79⅛	78⅞	79⅛
So Ry 5s 94	92⅛	92	92
So Ry M&O 4s 38	61⅞	61	61⅞
Stand Oil NJ 5s 46	105⅛	105	105⅛
Stand Oil NY 4½s 51	101⅛	101⅛	101⅛
Tex & Pac 1st 5s 2000	95	94⅞	95
[illegible]	[illegible]	102	102
Union Pac 1st 4s 47	[illegible]	[illegible]	106
Unit Biscuit 6s 42	103⅛	103⅛	103⅛
U S Rub 5s 47	70	68⅞	70
Utah P & L 5s 44	67⅛	66⅞	67⅛
Utl P & Lt ct ww5s59	23⅛	21	21
Virg [illegible]	70	69	70
Walworth [illegible]	24⅛	23⅞	24⅛
Warner Quinlan 6s cv 39	31	31	31
West Union 4½s 50 ...	77⅛	75	77⅛
West Union 5s 51 ...	84	83⅛	84
Wickw SpStl rfcvct7s35	7⅛	7⅛	7⅛
Yngstwn S&T 5s78A..	80	79⅞	80
Yngstwn S & T 5s 70 B..	80⅛	80	80⅛

STOCKS STAGE GOOD RALLY IN BRISK TRADING

New York, Jan. 15—Announcement of President Roosevelt's new monetary policy, calling for impounding of the Federal Reserve System's gold and eventual stabilization of the dollar, brought a buoyant tone into dealings on the New York Stock Exchange today.

There were numerous maximum advances of one to more than a half dozen points. Government bonds rallied moderately, wheat and other grains rose one to three cents a bushel and cotton gains ran to $1.25 a bale, bringing prices to the best levels since last summer.

As U. S. Steel crossed 53, it recorded th ehighest price reached in six months. Bethlehem and others of the group were well bought.

General Motors and Nash led buying in the automotive section. UU. S. Smelting featured the gold shares when it rose three points. American Telephone, up over 5 points, led the utilities, with Consolidated Gas and others in active demand.

Liquor shares were unsettled by the slump in UUnited States Industrial Alcohol which was due to the inception of an $8,000,000 tax suit bp the government against the company.

Best prices of the day were recorded after receipt o f the President's message and following announcement by the U. S. Treasury that the gold purchase price tomorrow would be set at $34.45 an ounce, comparing with the $34.06 quotation which has held since Dec. 18.

Based on the new domestic gold price of $34.45 an ounce, the dollar had a theoretical value of 60 per cent of its former parity.

In the first hour leaders gained 1 to more than 3 points with volume heaviest in weeks. Homestake ran up 10 points.

Issues up 3 or more points included Allied Chemical, Du Pont, General Mills and Union Bag & Paper. Adances of 2 or more points appeared for American Can, American Telephone, U. S. Steel, Case, Delaware & Hudson, Industrial Rayon, International Harvester, Johns Manville, Macy, U. S. Smelting and Western Union.

Sales to 11 a. m. approximated 840,000 shares.

Trading was quieter in the second hour, but after dipping slightly quotations again moved up to top some of the earlier highs. By noon American Telephone showed a net advance of more than 4 points. Rails met a steady demand.

Government issues, and in fact the entire bond division, showed general firmness while awaiting President Roosevelt's message on monetary policy.

Sales to noon approximated 1,400,000 shares.

Top prices for the session were shaded somewhat in the third hour and volume eased. Gains maintained a 1 to 4 point range. Alcohol stocks moved against the trend, with U. S. Industrial sliding back over 5 points, while American Commercial lost more than 2. U. S. Steel was up more than 2 points. American Telephone jumped over 4, then slipped back about a point.

Johns Manville was more than 4 points higher. Homestake Mining added another point to its early rise of 10. Allied Chemical, Atlantic Coast Line, Delaware & Hudson, Hazel Atlas and Industrial Rayon were 3 or more points higher.

Sales to 1 p. m. approximated 1,800,000 shares.

Stocks started a new spurt in the fourth hour and gains were extended to range from 1 to more than 5 points. Homestake Mining added 13 points to its early rise of 10 points and at the end of the period was a total of 23 points above its last closing price.

American Telephone was better than 5 points higher. Issues up more points included Allied Chemical, American Can, Atchison, Case Threshing, du Point, Delaware & Hudson, Industrial Rayon, Johns Manville and U. S. Smelting.

Sales to 2 p. m. approximated 2,610,000 shares.

How Most Active Stocks Have Sold

How most active stocks have sold in past week is shown today in following compilation with annual dividend rates in parentheses, range for the week and change from the previous week's close.

	High	Low	Last	Net chge
Chrysler (b1)	54⅝	49⅞	50⅝	—3⅛
General Motors (c1)	36⅛	33⅞	34⅝	+ ⅝
Com'l Solvents (.60)	34⅝	30⅞	34⅛	+3⅜
Nash Motors (1)	27⅝	23⅞	27	+3
Param Publix ctfs.	2⅞	1⅞	2⅞	+ ⅞
Int Tel & Tel	15⅞	14¼	14⅞	+ ⅛
Nat Distillers	26⅛	24⅝	25⅛	+ ⅝
U S Steel	49⅛	46⅛	48⅞	+2⅛
United Corp.	5⅝	4⅞	5⅛	+ ⅝
Commwith & So	2⅝	1⅞	2⅛	+ ⅛
N Y Central	34⅛	32	33⅞	+1⅞
Int Nickel	2⅛	21⅛	22	+ ⅛
Gen Electric (.40)	20⅛	18⅞	19⅛	+ ⅛
Cons Gas (3)	40⅛	36	39⅛	+3⅛
Mont Ward	23⅞	21⅛	23	+1⅛
Beth Steel	38⅛	35⅛	38⅞	+3⅛
North Amer (p5pc)	16⅞	13⅞	16	+2⅞
United Air & Tr	32⅞	30⅞	31
Radio Corp of Am	7⅛	6⅛	7	+ ⅛
Stand Brands (1)	22⅞	20⅛	22⅛	+1⅛

(b)Paid in 1933. (c)Excluding cash extras. (p)Payable in stock. (x)Made on New York Curb.

Receipts for "L" Above a Year Ago

For the first time in many months the receipts of the Boston Elevated Railway Co. are showing an increase over the same period of the previous year. Figures for the first 12 days of January show a comfortable lead over last year, although it is recognized in the street railway business that one swallow does not make a summer.

(a) Optional stock or cash. (b) Partly extras. (c) Extra stock and cash. (d) Extra in stock. (e) Including extras. (f) Payable in scrip. (g) Paid when earned. (h) 10 per cent in stock. (z) 5 per cent in stock. (t) 6 per cent in stock. (s) 2 per cent in stock. (v) 2½ per cent in stock. (wa) Warrants attached. (ww) Without warrants. *Ex-dividend. †Ex-rights.

Complete Final Closing Prices--Last Sale Printed on Tape at 3:12 P. M.

Approximate Sales Today 3,500,000 shares
Saturday's sales 749,660
Week ago 715,030

NEW YORK CLOSE — NET CHANGES

Year ago 360,910
1934 to date 12,400,622
1933 to date 9,678,561
1932 to date 11,543,861

—A—

1933-34 High	Low	Div. in $	Stock	Sales	Open	High	Low	Last	Net Change
13¾	3		Adams Exp	4700	7¼	8½	7¼	8⅝	+1⅜
21⅝	8	1	Adams Millis	400	17	18	17	18	+1¼
12½	5⅛		Address graph	100	8¼	8¼	8¼	8¼	+ ⅜
9⅝	1⅝		Adv Rumely	700	5⅞	6	5⅞	6	+ ½
11⅝	5⅝	.60	Affiliated Prod	100	6⅝	6⅝	6⅝	6⅝	+ ⅝
112	47½	3.75b	Air Reduc	1300	99	101⅞	99	101⅞	+1⅞
4	½		Airway Elec	100	2	2½	2	2½	+ ½
23	11⅜	.75	Alaska Jun	18400	22⅛	22⅞	22	23⅛	+2
6¼	⅞		Alleghany Cr	6100	3⅝	4⅛	3⅝	4	+ ½
21⅝	1		Allegh Cr pfw	400	7⅝	8½	7⅝	8½	+ ⅞
20	1¼		Allegh pf xw	300	6⅝	7	6⅝	7	+ ½
152½	70⅝	6	Allied C & D	4400	145¾	151⅝	145¾	151⅝	+6⅝
126	115	7	Allied C&D pf	100	122¾	122¾	122¾	122¾	— ⅝
26⅝	6		Allis-Chal	4800	18	20	18	20	+2⅛
24	5⅝		Alpha P	200	15⅝	15½	15⅝	15½	+ ½
8¼	⅝		Amal Leather	1000	4	4⅝	4	4⅝
47⅝	18½	2	Amerada Cor	200	42½	45	42½	44¾	+1⅜
35	7¼		Am Ag Ch	2800	27	30	27	30	+3½
21½	8		Am Bank Note	700	15⅝	17	15⅝	17	+1⅜
16⅝	1		Am Beet Sug	500	4¼	5¼	4¼	5¼	+1¼
64	2⅝		Am B S pf	10	51½	54½	51½	54½	+6½
42½	9⅝	.60	Am B S Fy	500	25¾	31	25¾	31	+2
100½	45½	4	American Can	6200	98½	99⅝	98¼	99	+2⅛
39⅝	6⅛		Am C & F	1800	25	26½	25	26¼	+2¼
59⅝	15		Am C & F pf	400	40⅛	42	40⅛	42	+3
31½	3½		Am Chain pf	100	21¼	21¼	21¼	21¼
51⅛	34	2.25	Am Chicle	400	47	48	47	47	+1⅝
69⅝	13		Am Com Alcoh	16200	55½	56½	55⅝	57½	—1
19⅝	3⅞		Am F Pwr	2400	8⅝	9⅛	8⅝	9	+ ⅜
44⅝	7¼		Am F P pf	400	19	19½	18	18½	— ⅜
33⅝	6⅛		Am&F P 6 pf	100	16¾	16	16¾	16½	— ½
27¼	4⅞		Am F P 2 pf	300	11⅞	12⅜	11⅞	12⅜	+1½
21½	4⅞	1	Am Hawaiian	1000	19	19⅝	19	19⅝	+ ⅝
16	2½		Am H & L	300	7⅝	8⅛	7⅝	8⅛	+ ⅝
57½	13½		Am H & L pf	100	33½	34	33½	34	+1⅝
42½	24⅝	2.40	Am H Prod	800	27	27⅝	27	27⅝	+ ⅝
17½	3¼		Am Ice	2400	7⅝	7⅝	7⅝	7⅝	+ ⅝
57½	25	6	Am Ice pf	100	29½	29½	29½	29½	+ ½
15⅛	4¼		Am Internat	4100	7½	8½	7½	8½	+1
35⅛	5⅞		Am Loco	3700	28⅝	30	28⅝	30	+ ½
63	17⅝		Am Loco pf	300	52	53	52	53	+2½
22⅞	3⅝	.80	Am M Fdy	400	14⅝	15¼	14⅝	15	+ ⅝
23⅝	3⅛		Am Metals	6300	18⅜	20⅜	18⅜	20⅜	+2½
30½	17	1.50	Am News Co	10	23	23	23	23
19⅝	4		Am P & L	10100	7⅝	8¼	7¼	7⅝	+ ⅝
35	9	1.25	A P&L 5pc pf	400	15¼	17	15¼	17	+2
41⅛	9⅞	1.50	A P&L 6pcpf	500	14⅜	15¼	14⅜	15¼	+1½
19	4⅝		A R & S S	24200	15	15½	14⅞	15⅜	+ ⅜
21⅞	5⅜		Am Rolling M	18800	19⅜	20⅝	19⅜	20⅝	+1⅜
7⅛	⅞		Am Seating	100	3⅜	3⅜	3⅜	3⅜	+ ¼
53½	10⅞		Am S & R	23500	44½	45⅜	44	45½	+2
101½	51	2.50	Am S & R pf	100	101	101	101	101
51¼	32½	3.25b	Am Snuff	100	50½	50⅝	50½	50⅝	+ ½
27	4⅝		Am Stl Fdy	5500	20⅝	22½	20⅝	22½	+1⅝
85	27⅝	2	Am Stl Fdy pf	60	74⅜	75	74⅜	75	+1
48⅞	30	2.50b	Am Stores	200	35½	35⅝	35½	35⅝	+ ⅝
74	21½	2	Am Sug Ref	2400	48⅝	52	48⅝	52	+1⅜
26	6		Am Sumatra	600	15⅜	16¾	15⅜	16¾	+ ⅝
124¾	86½	9	Am T & T	30400	114⅝	119⅝	114⅝	119	+5
90½	49	5	Am Tob	100	67⅝	69¼	67⅝	69¼	+2
94⅝	50⅝	5	Am Tob B	6600	69	71⅝	69	71⅝	+1⅝
25	2⅛		Am Type Fy	100	5	5½	5	5½
37⅝	7		Am T F pf	90	9⅛	10	9⅛	9⅝	+ ⅝
41¼	16⅞	1	Am W W	14400	19⅛	21⅛	19⅜	21¼	+1⅞
17	3½		Am Woolen	4100	12⅜	13⅜	12⅜	13⅜	+1
71½	22⅝		Am Wool pf	4900	68¼	71½	68¼	70½	+3
4⅛	⅝		Am Writ Pa	300	2⅜	2⅜	2½	2½	— ⅛
14⅝	⅝		A W P 6pc pf	10	5½	5½	5½	5½	+ ½
66	20		Am Z & L pf	100	33	38½	38	38½
22⅞	5		Ana Copper	16400	14½	16⅝	14½	15⅝	+1⅝
25⅛	8⅛	.60	Anchor C C	300	19½	20½	19½	20½	+1⅞
9⅝	1		A P W Paper	100	5¼	5¼	5¼	5¼	+ ⅞
19⅝	5⅞	1	Archer D M	100	27	27	27	27	— ½
90	41	7	Armour D pf	200	80¼	82	80	81½	+1½
7⅞	1⅛		Armr of I A	1500	5	5	5	5
5	⅝		Armr of I B	400	2⅝	2⅝	2⅝	2⅝	+ ⅛
93	7		Armr of I pf	1700	58½	60¼	57⅝	60	+3¼
7	1⅛		Arnold Cons	400	4⅜	4⅜	4	4	— ½
9½	2		Art Loom Cr	60	5⅜	5⅜	5⅜	5⅜	+ ¼
5¼	⅝		Asso Ap Ind	100	1½	1½	1½	1½	+ ⅛
20	2½		Asso Dry Gds	600	12⅜	12⅝	12⅜	12⅝	+1½
61½	18		Asso D G 1 pf	100	56½	56½	56½	56½	+1½
80⅛	34⅝		Atch T&S F	21000	60¼	63⅝	60¼	63½	+5¼
79⅝	50	4.50	Atch T&S F pf	100	73⅝	76¼	73⅝	75¼	+2½
59	16½		Atl Coast L	2600	43	44⅝	43	44½	+2⅝
32½	12⅝	1	Atl Ref	4600	22¼	29⅝	29	29⅝	+1
39⅛	9		Atlas Pow	3900	38	41¼	38	41¼	+3¼
65	60	6	Atlas Pw pf	10	66	66	66	66	+ ⅞
14⅝	1½		Atlas Tack	200	8⅛	8¼	7½	8¼	+ ¼
84¼	31	2	Auburn Auto	8200	50⅝	52⅝	50½	52	+ ½
5⅝	⅞		Austin Nich	1300	8⅞	9¼	8⅞	9¼	+ ½
16⅞	5½		Aviation Del	13100	7⅝	8¼	7⅝	8¼	+ ½
17⅝	3½		Baldwin Loco	16200	11½	12¾	11½	12¾	+1¼
60	9½		Baldwin L pf	200	35½	40½	35½	40½	+5½
37⅞	8⅛		Balt & Ohio	17300	24⅛	26⅞	24⅛	26⅞	+2⅞
39¼	9½		Balt & Ohio pf	4100	26⅝	28⅝	26⅝	28	+2
41⅝	20	2	Bangor & Ar	1700	40⅝	42⅝	40⅝	42¼	+1¼
110	88⅝	7	Ban & A pf	50	98¼	98¼	98¼	98¼	+ ⅝
7¼	⅝		Barker Bros	10	3⅝	3⅝	3⅝	3⅝	+ ⅜
24¼	5⅛		Barker Br pf	10	19	19⅝	19	19⅝	+1⅝
11	3		Barnsdall Co	7600	8	8⅛	7⅞	8
100	27		Bayuk Br pf	30	89¼	89¼	89	89
27	7		Beatrice Cr	400	11	12	11	12	+1
70½	45	3	Beech-N P	100	62	62	62	62
12½	3½		Beld Hem	100	5⅝	5½	5⅝	5½	+ ⅝
101¼	62½	5.86	Belg N R pf	200	97	97	97	97	+3½
21½	6⅛		Bendix Avia	28200	17⅝	18⅝	17½	18⅝	+1⅝
15	8⅛	1.50	Beneficial L'n	1000	14⅝	14⅞	13⅝	14⅞	+ ½
33⅛	9	1	Best & Co	200	27¼	27½	27¼	27½	+ ⅝
49⅛	10⅛		Beth Steel	14800	39⅝	42⅝	39½	42	+3⅛
82	25¼		Bth Stl 7pcpf	1500	72½	75¼	72½	75	+3¼
53	6⅛		Bigelow San	1600	33½	35	33½	34⅝	+1⅝
19¼	3½		Blaw Knox	4600	12½	13¼	12½	13¼	+1¼
59	9½	2	Bohn Alum	1600	58¾	60	58¾	60	+3
37⅝	18	1.60	Borden Co	7500	21⅝	22⅞	21⅝	22⅜	+1⅜
22½	10		Borg Warner	4400	22	23⅝	22	23½	+1⅞
40½	25	2.10b	Bristol Myers	800	29	29¼	28¾	29¼	+1¼
14⅝	2⅝		Briggs Mfg	11600	12½	13¼	12½	13¼	+ ⅜
41¼	21⅝		Brooklyn Man	2100	32⅞	33⅝	32⅞	33¾	+ ½
9⅝	3½		Bklyn Queens	100	5⅝	5⅝	5⅝	5⅝
88½	60	6	Bklyn Un Gas	800	67	71	67	71	+5
38⅝	28½	3	Brown Shoe	400	55⅝	54½	53⅝	54½	+ ⅞
16½	1⅝		Bruns B Col	100	7½	8	7½	8	+1
12⅞	2		Bucyrus E Co	300	7⅛	7½	7⅛	7½	+ ½
19⅝	2⅝		B Erie Cocv pf	400	11⅛	11½	11⅛	11½	— ⅝
72	20½	2	Bucyrus E pf	100	75	75	72	72	+1
9⅞	⅝		Budd Mfg	1100	4½	4⅝	4½	4½
9⅝	1		Budd Wheel	400	3½	3½	3⅜	3½	+ ⅛
13¼	2½		Bullard Co	100	9	9¼	9	9¼	+ ⅝
20⅞	6⅛	.40	Burro A Mac	700	16⅛	16½	16⅛	16½	+ ⅝
2⅞	1		Butte & Sup	300	1½	1½	1½	1½
½	1¼		Butterick	400	2½	2½	2½	2½
43¼	8½		Byers AM Co	6100	24¼	26⅝	24¼	26⅝	+2½
80	30⅛		Byers pf	60	47¼	48	47¼	48
34⅝	7⅝		Calif Packing	100	21¼	22	21½	22	+1⅜
9⅝	2		Cal & Hecla	200	4⅝	4⅝	4⅝	4⅝	+ ⅝
16¼	2		C W&C Fdy	400	10	10⅛	10	11⅛
41½	7½	1	Can Dr G A	200	26	26	25½	26½	+1
20⅞	7½		Can Pacific	12400	16	16¼	15⅝	16⅛	+ ⅝
35½	14	1.15b	Cannon M Co	200	19⅝	20	19⅝	20	+1¼
12½	4¼		Cap Admin	100	6	6	6	6	+ ½
103½	30½		Case Th Ma	18300	71⅞	74⅝	71½	74½	+4
86¼	41	4	Case Th pf	140	69½	69⅝	69½	69⅝	+ ⅞
29⅝	5½	.12	Caterpiller T	1200	25¼	26	25½	26	+2
58⅞	4½		Celanese	15300	35⅞	37½	35⅞	37⅛	+1¼
5⅛	½		Celotex	100	2½	2½	2½	2½	+ ¼
41	14	1.50	Cent Aguar A	100	28½	28½	28½	28½	— ⅝
122	38		Cen RR of NJ	200	70	72	70	72	+11
44⅝	5⅝		Cerro De Pa	12800	34⅝	36	34⅝	35⅝	+1¼
7⅝	1		Cert-Td Prod	100	3⅝	3⅝	3⅝	3⅝	+ ⅛
52½	14⅝	2.50	Ches Corp	1100	34⅝	37⅛	34⅝	37¼	+1⅝
49¼	24⅝	2.80	Ches & O	17200	41	41½	40⅝	41½	+1
6⅛	½		Chi & E I pf	100	2½	2½	2½	2½	+ ½
7⅝	1⅝		Chicago Gt W	1100	3⅝	3⅝	3⅝	3⅝
14⅝	2½		Chi Gt W pf	1400	7⅝	8	7⅝	8	+1
11⅝	1		C M & St P	4200	4⅝	5¼	4⅝	5¼	+ ½
18¼	1½		C M & St P pf	10400	7⅝	8⅝	7⅝	8½	+1
16	1¼		Chi & Northw	5600	7⅝	8⅝	7⅝	8½	+ ⅞
34⅝	2		Chi & Nor pf	400	16⅝	16⅝	16⅝	16⅝	+ ⅝
12⅝	2⅛		Chi Pneumat	1500	7⅝	7⅞	7⅝	7⅞	+ ⅝
25¼	5½		Chi Pneu pf	400	18	18½	18	18½	+1
10⅛	2		Chi R I & Pac	1500	3½	3⅝	3½	3⅝	+ ¼
15	2⅞		CRI & P 6pc pf	300	4⅝	5	4⅝	5	+ ⅝
19½	3½		CRI & P 7pc pf	1000	5⅝	6⅝	5⅝	6⅝	+1⅛
10⅛	1		Childs Co	2500	7⅝	8	7⅝	7⅝	+ ⅜
59½	7⅝	1e	Chrysler Mot	68800	51¼	53⅝	51⅜	53⅝	+3
26	7⅛	2	City I & Fuel	600	18	18¼	18	18
72	45	6.60	City Ice&F pf	10	69	69	69	69	+ ½
3⅝	¼		City Stores	1000	1	1	1	1
8½	1½		City Stores A	30	4⅛	4¼	4⅛	4¼	+ ⅛
14¼	5	.25	Clark Equip	300	9	9	9	9
41½	10	1	Cluett Peab	100	30⅝	32½	30⅝	32½	+2½
105	71½	6	Coca-Cola	300	97½	97½	97½	97½	+ ⅝
50	44	3	Coca Cola A	100	50⅛	50⅛	50⅛	50⅛
22⅝	7		Colgate Palm	3000	12	12⅝	11⅜	12⅝	+ ⅝
26	3		Collins & Aik	1200	20	20⅛	19½	20⅛	+1⅛
17⅝	2⅝		Colo Fuel & I	2500	5⅝	6	5½	6	+ ⅞
54	9		Col Fuel& I pf	110	18⅛	20	18⅛	18½	+1¼
51	15¼		Colo & South	50	34⅛	34½	33⅛	33⅛	+2⅝
42⅝	12½		Co's & So 1 pf	20	23⅞	23⅝	23¼	23⅝	+ ⅝
71½	23⅝	2	Columb Carb	1500	59½	64	59½	64	+4⅝

—C—

1933-34 High	Low	Div. in $	Stock	Sales	Open	High	Low	Last	Net Change
28⅛	9	.60b	Col Gas & El	16800	13	13⅝	13	13⅝	+1⅛
63	50		ColG&E 6pc pf	300	61	63	61	63	+4
28	6⅝		Columbia Pict	1700	25	25⅝	25	25⅝	+1⅛
19⅝	4		Comm Credit	1400	20⅝	20½	20	20⅝	+ ⅝
26⅛	18⅛	2	Com Cred pf B	170	25	25	25	25	+ ½
43½	18	2	Com'l Inv Tr	6800	40	41¼	40	41¼	+2⅛
57¼	9	.60	Com Solvents	76200	34½	35¼	34⅛	34½	+ ¼
6⅛	1¼		Com & Sou	34700	2½	2⅝	2⅜	2⅝	+ ¼
60½	17⅜	6	Comm & So pf	900	37	39	36⅝	39	+5
11	3		Conde Nast Pb	200	10	10	10	10
27⅝	7⅛	1.50	Congoleum	500	24½	24⅝	24⅛	24½	+ ⅝
15⅝	2½		Consol Cigar	100	7¼	7⅛	7¼	7¼	+ ⅛
5⅝	1⅝		Consol Film In	400	3½	3½	3½	3½
14⅝	5⅛		Consol F In pf	600	12⅝	13	12⅝	12⅝	— ⅛
64⅛	34	3	Consol Gas	20000	40⅝	42⅝	40½	42⅛	+2⅛
99	81⅛		Consol Gas pf	100	86	86	86	86
5½	1½		Consol Laund	200	2⅛	2⅛	2⅛	2⅛
15⅝	5		Consol Oil	1400	10⅝	11	10⅝	11	+ ⅜
10⅝	1½		Cons RR C pf	100	4½	4½	4½	4½
3¼	¼		Consol Tex	600	1⅝	1¼	1⅛	1¼	— ¼
4½	¼		Container B	900	2½	2½	2⅜	2½	+ ⅛
18¼	3		Cont Bak A	1200	8⅝	9½	8⅝	9½	+1⅛
3½	½		Cont Bak B	300	1⅝	1⅝	1⅝	1⅝	— ⅛
78⅝	35¼	2.59	Cont'l Can	5100	78	78⅝	77½	78⅝	+1½
17⅛	3½		Cont Dia Fibre	100	8⅜	8⅜	8⅜	8⅜	+ ½
36½	10½	1.20	Cont'l Insur	700	36½	36⅝	36⅛	36½	+ ⅝
5	1		Cont'l Motors	1900	1¼	1⅝	1¼	1⅜
19⅝	4½		Continental O	1000	17⅛	17⅝	17⅛	17⅝	+1¼
90⅝	45½	3	Corn Products	2700	75	77	75	77	—2
35½	23	2.25	Crm of Wheat	800	31¼	31⅝	31	31⅝	— ⅝
7½	2⅝		Coty Inc	700	4⅝	4⅝	4⅛	4⅛	— ⅛
14⅝	2¼		Crosley Radio	1100	9⅝	10⅝	9⅝	10⅝	+1⅛
65	14¼		Crown Ck & Sl	1700	31⅞	32½	31⅞	32	+1⅛
8½	1		Crown Zellerb	2400	4⅝	5½	4⅝	5½	+ ⅜
37½	9		Crucible Steel	3200	32⅝	35	32⅝	35	+1½
11½	1⅛		Cub Am Sugar	700	3⅝	4	3⅝	4	+ ⅝
66	10		Cum Am S pf	230	21	22½	21	22½	+2⅛
59½	20⅝	2.50	Cudahy Pack	1500	37⅝	39	37⅝	38½	+1
32¼	6½		Curtis Publish	1900	16½	17½	16½	17½	+1½
66	30		Curtis Pub pf	500	53½	55	53½	55	+4
4⅝	1½		Curtiss Wright	800	2⅜	2⅜	2⅜	2⅜
6	2		Curtiss Wgt A	100	6⅛	6½	6⅛	6½	+ ⅝
18⅝	6¼	.20	Deere & Co pf	200	12⅜	12⅝	12⅜	12⅝	— ⅛
53⅝	37⅝		Dela & Hud	3800	57⅝	61½	57⅝	61½	+5½
46	17¼		Del Lack & W	10400	24½	26	24½	26	+2
19⅝	2		Den Rio Gr pf	600	7	7⅝	7	7⅝	+1⅝
91½	48	3	Detroit Edison	300	70	72	70	72	+4
33⅞	10	1.25b	Devoe & R A	100	31¼	32¼	31¼	32¼	+1¼
29½	17½	•	Diamond Mat	800	27⅝	27⅝	27½	27⅝	+ ⅝
35½	12	1.25b	Dome Mines	5400	34⅝	35⅜	34¼	35⅜	+2
26⅝	10½	1.29	Dominion Strs	500	20½	20½	20½	20½	+ ½
18¼	10¼	.75	Douglas Aircft	1700	17	17⅝	16⅝	17½	+ ½
18	6⅝		Dresser A	100	10	10¼	10	10	— ¼
28⅝	9½	1	Duplan Silk	200	18	18	18	18
95⅝	32¼	2.75b	Dupont DeN	30800	93⅝	98	93⅝	97⅝	+5⅝
120¼	85	5	Duques L 1 pf	10	106¼	106¼	106¼	106¼	+ ¾
10	1⅛		Eastern R M	1700	6	6⅝	6	6⅝	+ ⅝
89⅝	46	3	Eastman Kod	800	81	82½	81	82½	+2
16	3½	.20	Eaton Mfg C	900	14	14⅝	14	14⅝	+ ⅝
5½	⅝		Eitingon Sch	300	1⅝	1⅝	1⅝	1⅝
27½	10		Elec Auto Lt	2100	19⅝	20½	19⅝	20½	+1⅛
6¼	1		Electric Boat	2200	5	5¼	5	5	— ⅛
15⅝	3⅛		Elec Pw & Lt	2600	6	6⅜	6	6⅜	+ ⅝
32⅝	6½		El Pw & L pf	900	10	11½	10	11½	+1⅝
36½	7½		El P&L 7 pf	600	11⅞	13	11⅞	13	+1⅝
4	⅛		Elkhorn Fuel	300	1	1	1	1
62½	26	3	Endicott John	500	51⅝	53	51⅝	53	—1
14⅝	3⅝		Eng Pub Ser	300	4⅝	5½	4⅝	5½	+ ⅛
47	11		Eng Pub Sv pf	1000	14½	16	14½	16	+2
49⅞	11		Eng P S pf ww	100	16	16	16	16	+1
12⅝	6½	1	Equit Office	200	5⅝	5⅞	5⅝	5⅞	— ½
25⅝	3⅝		Erie R R	4700	15½	17⅛	15½	17⅛	+2⅛
29½	4½		Erie RR 1 pf	1000	18⅛	19	18⅛	19	+1½
23¼	2⅛		Erie RR 2 pf	500	13	14⅛	13	14⅛	+2
18¼	3		Eureka Vac	500	8¼	8⅛	8	8	+ ¼
10⅞	⅞		Evans Prod C	3500	10⅝	11¼	10⅝	11⅛	+ ⅝
11¼	2½		Fairbanks Mor	100	7½	7½	7½	7½	+ ⅜
30	7½	.60	Fed Dept Strs	100	25	25	25	25	+1
14½	4⅝		Fed Lt & Trac	100	8⅝	8⅝	8⅝	8⅝	+ ⅝
11⅝	¾		Fed Motor	800	7½	7½	7⅝	7⅝	+ ⅛
4⅞	⅝		Fed Scr Wks	100	2¼	2¼	2¼	2¼	+ ⅛
6½	1½		Fed Wa S	800	2¼	2⅝	2¼	2⅝	+ ⅛
56	10½	1.20	Fid PH F I	600	25¼	25⅝	25¼	25⅝	+ ½
31½	9⅛	.40	Fire T & R	2900	19½	22	19½	21	+2
70⅝	43	2.50	First Nat St	900	58	58¼	58	58¼	+ ¼
19	2½		Follansbee Br	500	11	11¼	11	11¼	+ ¼
23	4½		Foster Wheel	1600	13⅝	14⅝	13⅝	14⅝	+1⅛
23⅝	2		Foundation	900	14½	15¼	14½	15¼	+ ¾
26¼	13⅝	.96e	Fourth N In	1800	22⅝	23⅝	22⅝	23⅝	+1
19	12		Fox Film A	900	13⅞	14	13⅝	14	+ ⅛
49⅝	18⅛	2	Freeport Tex	4700	43⅝	44½	42⅝	44⅛	+1⅛
31	9		Fuller pp	20	19⅝	19½	19	19	+ ⅜
5¼	1		Gabriel Sn A	500	2½	2⅝	2½	2⅝	+ ⅛
20⅞	6½		Gamewell Co	20	12⅜	12⅜	12⅜	12⅜	— ⅛
12	2⅝		Gen Am Inv	1100	8⅝	8⅝	8⅜	8⅝	+ ⅛
43¼	13⅝	1	Gen A T Car	2600	37⅝	38¼	37⅝	38	+1
27	4⅝		Gen Asphalt	300	16⅝	17½	16⅝	17½	+1⅛
20⅞	10½	1	Gen Baking	2900	11½	12	11½	12	+ ¼
10½	2⅛		Gen Bronze	900	6½	6½	6½	6½	— ⅛
11⅜	1¼		Gen Cable	800	3⅝	4⅛	3⅝	4⅛	+ ½
23	1¼		Gen Cable A	700	7⅞	8	7⅞	8	+ ¼
17	6½		Gen Cable pf	200	17	17	17	17	+1
2⅞	⅝		Gen G & E A	2500	⅞	1	⅞	1
30¼	10½	.40	Gen Electric	40800	20⅛	21¼	20⅛	21¼	+1⅛
12¼	10⅝	.60	Gen Elec spe	2900	11½	11⅝	11½	11⅝	+ ⅛
39⅛	21	1.89	Gen Foods	2900	35⅛	35½	34⅞	35½	+ ⅝
71	35½	3	Gen Mills	4800	63	64½	62	62	+1
36¼	10	1.25b	Gen Motors	69200	35⅝	37⅛	35⅝	36⅞	+2¼
95	65½	5	Gen M 5 pc pf	900	91⅝	93	91⅝	93	+1½
24	5⅛		Gen O A A	200	10	10	10	10
82	31	6	Gen Pr Ink pf	30	75⅝	75⅝	75⅝	75⅝	+ ⅛
8¼	2		Gen Pub Sv	1700	3½	3⅝	3½	3⅝	+ ⅛
49½	13¼	1	Gen Ry Sig	1500	36	40	36	40	+4
4⅝	⅝		Gen Realty	600	2	2	2	2
22⅝	5½		Gen Realty pf	300	17¼	18¼	17½	18¼	+1¼
19⅝	2½		Gen Refrac	300	11½	11⅝	11⅜	11⅝	+ ⅛
20¼	7⅝	1.05	Gillette S R	1800	9¼	9⅝	9¼	9⅝	+ ⅛
7⅝	⅝		Gimbel Bros	100	5	5	5	5
33	5¼		Gimbel Br pf	100	21	21	21	21	+ ½
20	3⅝	.25	Glidden Co	2500	18½	19⅝	18½	19⅜	+1⅜
91½	48	7	Glidden pf	10	86	88	88	88
16	3		Gobel Inc	500	7½	7⅝	7½	7⅝	+ ⅝
27⅝	12	1.20	Gold Dust	3800	18	18½	18	18⅛	+ ½
21½	3		Goodrich Rub	6100	13⅝	14⅜	13⅝	14⅜	+ ⅝
63	9		Goodrich pf	2800	42	44	41⅝	44	+3
47½	9¼		Goodyr T & R	6200	35	37¼	35	37	+3
80¼	27⅝	2	G T & R 1 pf	300	75	75	75	75	—1
17½	6½		Gotham Silk H	700	7⅝	8¼	7⅝	8¼	+ ⅝
5⅝	1		Graham Pa	1500	3¼	3½	3¼	3⅝	+ ¼
15⅝	3⅝		Granby Copr	400	8⅞	9¼	8⅞	9¼	+1
19⅝	2⅝		Grand Union	600	4⅝	4⅞	4⅝	4⅞	+ ⅛
30	11⅛	1	Granite City S	100	23	23	23	23
36½	15⅝	1	GrantCo	600	26⅝	26½	26	26½	+ ½
16⅝	5⅛		Gt N O ctfs	900	11⅝	12⅝	11⅝	12⅝	+1¼
33⅝	4⅝		Gt Nor pf	5300	21⅛	23⅛	21⅛	23⅛	+2⅝
41⅞	7	2.40	Gt West Sug	200	30⅝	31⅛	30⅝	31⅛	+1⅛
4½	¼		Guan Sugar	200	1¼	1¼	1¼	1¼	+ ⅛
11½	1⅝		Gulf Mobile	100	8	8	7⅝	8	+1
27⅝	2½		Gulf M & N pf	100	18	18	17½	18	+ ⅝
38	6⅝		Gulf States Stl	600	31⅛	34	31⅛	34	+3
84	16⅛		Gulf Steel pf	10	61⅞	63⅝	61⅞	61⅞	+1⅞
9½	1⅛		Hahn Dpt Str	100	5⅝	6	5⅝	6	+ ⅝
58½	9		Hahn D Str pf	600	32½	32½	32⅝	32⅝	+ ½
10½	3⅛		Hall Print	100	4	4	4	4
25½	6⅛		Harb-Walker	600	16⅞	17¾	16⅝	17¾	+1
7½	⅜	.10	Hat Corp Am	120	4	4	4	4
50	5⅛		Hat Cor Am pf	10	29	29	29	29	+1
97½	44	5b	Hazel Atlas G	400	91¼	93	91¼	93	+3
3½	⅝		Hayes Body	200	1⅝	1½	1⅛	1½	+ ¼
86⅝	15	2.25b	Hercules Pwdr	400	59⅝	60½	59⅝	60½	— ½
72	35½	3	Hershey Choc	200	50	50¼	48½	50¼	+ ¼
10⅛	3½		Holland Furn	100	5⅝	5⅝	5⅝	5⅝	+ ⅝
373	145	12b	Homestake M	500	320	336	320	326	+26
6⅝	1		Houdaille H B	200	4½	4½	4	4½	+ ⅛
15	4½		Houdaille H A	200	12⅝	12⅝	12⅝	12⅝
7⅝	1⅝		Houston Oil n	400	3⅝	3⅝	3⅝	3⅝	— ⅛
38⅛	5½	1	Howe Sound	500	37	37⅝	36½	37⅝	+1⅝
19	6½		Hudson & Man	200	9	9	9	9
16⅝	3		Hudson Motor	4500	14⅝	15⅝	14⅝	15½	+1⅛
7⅝	1⅝		Hupp Motors	1500	5	5¼	5	5¼	+ ¼
50⅝	8½		Illinois Cent	8500	31¼	33½	31¼	33	+2½
85	24	4	Indust Rayon	18000	79	81¼	79	81	+3
78	19⅛	1.50	Ingersoll Rand	800	63½	63⅝	63½	63⅝
45⅝	12		Inland Steel	1600	45	46½	44⅝	46½	+1½
9½	2		Inspiration Co	600	4⅝	5¼	4⅝	5	+ ½
4½	1	.16	Insuran Shares	100	1⅝	1⅝	1⅝	1⅝	+ ⅛
4½	⅝		Intercont Rub	400	2⅝	2⅝	2⅛	2⅝
12	2⅛		Interlake Iron	700	7½	8⅝	7½	8½	+1¼
5⅝	⅜		Inter Agr Ch	1500	2⅝	2⅝	2⅝	2⅝	+ ⅛
17½	5		Int Ag Ch P pf	200	16½	17	16½	17	+1
153¼	75⅝	6	Int Bus Mch	800	141⅝	145¼	141⅝	145½	+3⅝
10⅝	2⅝	.20	Inter Carr Ltd	800	6	6⅝	6	6⅝	+ ⅝
40	6⅛		Internat Cemt	800	31	33¼	31	33⅛	+2⅜
46	13⅝	.60	Int Harvester	2000	40¼	41⅝	40¼	41⅝	+2⅛
13⅛	2½		Int Hydro El	1000	5⅝	6	5⅝	6	+ ⅝
23¼	6⅝		Inter Nick Ltd	2500	22½	22⅞	21¼	22⅜	+ ⅞
10	½		Inter Paper A	800	4⅝	4½	4⅜	4⅝
5⅝	⅛		Inter Paper B	200	2½	2⅝	2	2½	+ ⅛
22½	2		Int Pa pf new	800	14	14⅝	13⅝	13⅝	+ ½
14	3½		Int Print Ink	100	9	9	9	9

—I—

1933-34 High	Low	Div. in $	Stock	Sales	Open	High	Low	Last	Net Change
56⅝	24⅝	2	Inter Shoe	2000	47	48½	47	48½	+1⅛
59½	9⅝		Internat Silver	200	35	37	35	37	+3
71⅞	24½		Inter Silver pf	300	63	65	63	65	+1
21⅝	5⅛		Inter Tel & Tel	1200	15⅝	15⅝	15⅛	15⅝	+ ⅝
9⅛	1½		Interst D Store	100	5⅝	5⅝	5⅝	5⅝	+ ⅝
40⅝	12		Inter D Str pf	200	35⅝	37¼	35⅝	36½	+1⅝
91	35		Jones & L pf	60	71	73	71	73	+3
63½	12¼		Johns Manville	15000	58½	61⅝	58⅝	61⅝	+4⅝
106⅛	42	7	JohnsManv pf	10	105	105	105	105
24⅝	6½		Kans City So	2000	17	18½	16⅝	18½	+2½
24¼	12		Kans Cit S pf	500	19½	22	19½	21½	+2
9⅝	2⅝	.60	Kaufman D St	100	6⅝	6⅝	6⅝	6⅝	— ⅛
19½	6⅞		Kayser (J)	600	11⅛	11⅝	15	11⅝	+ ⅛
6⅛	⅞		Kelly Springfld	900	3	3	3	3	+ ¼
31⅛	5		Kelly Sp 6pc pf	100	13	13	13	13	+ ⅛
15⅝	3⅛	.50	Kelvinat Corp	6000	12⅝	13⅝	12⅝	13¼	+ ⅝
26	7⅞		Kennecott Cop	15000	19⅝	20⅝	19½	20⅝	+2
7⅝	1		Kresge D S	100	4¼	4¼	4¼	4¼	+ ½
16⅝	5½	.20	Kresge (SS)	3500	14¼	14⅝	14¼	14⅝	+ ⅜
35⅝	14½		Kroger G & B	4500	25¼	26⅝	25¼	26¼	+1⅝
41⅛	15⅝	3	Lambert & Co	200	24⅝	25	24½	25	+1
10½	3		Lane Bryant	100	6	6	6	6	+ ½
12⅝	2⅝		Lee Rubr & T	1600	9½	10⅛	9½	10⅛	+ ⅝
27	5⅞		Lehigh P Cem	100	17⅝	17⅝	17	17⅝	+1
27⅝	1⅝		Lehigh Valley	5500	14½	15⅝	14½	15⅝	+1½
6⅝			Lehigh Val C	2200	2½	3¼	2½	3¼	+ ⅝
75⅝	27½	3.40	Lehman	6000	67⅝	70⅝	67⅝	70⅝	+2⅝
20¼	14	2	Lehn & Fink	2500	17	17	16⅞	16⅞
38⅝	4⅝	1.20	Libby Owen Gl	6500	36½	38⅝	36½	38⅝	+2¼
95⅝	45⅞	5b	Liggett & My	100	76¼	78¼	76½	78¼	+1¼
69⅝	24	3.50	Liggett & M B	1500	80⅛	83	80⅛	82	+2
22½	15⅝	1.60	Life Savers	200	17⅝	18½	17⅝	18½	+1⅝
31⅝	10		Lima Loc	500	27½	27½	27⅝	27½	+1½
19⅝	8⅝	.40	Link Belt	100	12⅞	12⅞	12⅞	12⅞	+ ⅝
50	10¼	1a	Liquid Carb	600	28	28⅝	28	28⅝	+1
36½	8⅛	1	Loew's Corp	6000	27¼	27⅝	27¼	27⅝	— ⅛
4¼	1⅛		Loft Candy	600	2⅛	2⅛	2	2	+ ⅛
5½	½		Long Bell A	100	1⅝	1⅝	1⅝	1⅝	+ ⅛
44⅝	19⅛	2	Loose Wiles B	200	42⅝	43⅝	41⅝	43⅝	+1⅝
25¼	10⅝	1.20	Lorillard Tob	2500	17⅝	17⅝	17¼	17⅝	+ ⅝
4	⅝		Louisiana Oil	200	1⅝	1½	1⅝	1⅝	+ ⅛
25⅝	13⅝	1.74	Louis G&E A	5500	17	17⅝	17	17⅝	+ ⅞
67½	21¼		L'ville & Nash	8800	52	53⅝	52	53⅝	+2⅝
20⅝	4		Ludlum Steel	3800	16⅝	17½	16⅝	17½	+1½
46⅝	13½	1	Mack U Truck	1800	35½	36	35	35⅝	+1½
65⅝	24½	2	Macy (RH) Co	1500	54½	56⅝	54½	56⅝	+3⅝
7	1⅝		Madison Sq G	200	2⅝	3	2⅝	2⅝	— ⅛
18⅝	5⅝		Magna Copper	800	16	16⅝	16	16⅝	+2⅝
5⅞	⅝		Manati S pf	100	3½	3½	3½	3½
20	5		Man'tan M G	600	19¼	19⅝	19¼	19¼	+ ¼
23	5½		Man'tan Shirt	600	14½	14⅝	14	14⅝	—1¼
11½	5¼	.40	Marine Mid	1200	6⅝	6⅝	6⅝	6⅝	+ ¼
5⅝	3⅝		Marancha Corp	1700	4⅝	5	4⅝	5
20¼	6		Marlin Rock	100	23½	23½	22⅝	23½	+ ⅝
18⅝	4⅛		Marshall Field	800	13⅝	13⅝	13¼	13⅝	+ ⅝
46⅝	14	1.50	Math A Work	1600	33⅝	34½	32⅝	34⅝	+ ⅞
33½	9⅝	1	May Dept St	2000	32⅝	33⅝	32⅝	33⅝	+1
8½	1⅛		Maytag Co	100	4⅝	4⅝	4⅝	4⅝	+ ¼
30⅝	13	1	McCall Corp	200	24	24½	24	24	— ½
4⅞	⅝		McCrory St A	200	1½	1½	1½	1½
21	2½		McCrory St pf	100	7	7	7	7
46⅝	18	1.25a	McIntyre Porc	7500	41¼	43	41	42½	+1½
95⅝	44⅝	4	McKeespt T Pl	200	86	86	86	86	+2
13½	1⅝		McKesson & R	4800	5⅝	6½	5⅝	6⅛	+ ⅝
25	2⅝		McKee & R pf	5200	15	15⅝	14⅝	15⅝	+1⅝
3⅝	¼		McLellan Strs	600	1⅜	1⅜	1⅜	1⅜	+ ⅛
28⅝	8⅝	1.20	Melville Shoe	600	27½	27½	27½	27½	— ⅛
10	4		Mengel Co	800	7½	7½	7½	7½	+ ⅝
21	7	1	Mesta Mach	2000	19⅝	20¼	19⅝	20	+ ¼
9⅝	1⅝		Miami Cop	100	4⅝	4⅝	4⅝	4⅝	+ ⅛
16	3⅝		Mid-Cont Pet	400	12⅝	12½	12⅝	12½
17⅝	3		Midland Prod	700	13½	14⅝	13½	15⅛	+ ⅝
70	26	2	Midland Pd pf	100	71	71	71	71	— ½
38½	13	1.50b	Minn Honey Co	100	38½	40	38½	40	+2
5⅝	⅝		Minn Mol Pow	2000	2⅝	2⅝	2⅝	2⅛	+ ½
3⅛	¼		MinnStP&SSM	100	2	2	2	2
17⅛	5⅝		Mo Kan&Tex	6500	10	12¼	10	12¼	+2¼
37¼	11½		M Kan Tex pf	1200	20	21⅞	20	21⅞	+2⅝
10¼	1⅝		Missouri Pac	2000	3½	4	3½	4	+ ⅝
15¼	1⅝		Miss Pacific pf	2000	5¼	5⅝	5¼	5⅝	+ ⅝
22	7		Mohawk Ca M	100	14	14	13⅝	14	+ ⅝
84⅝	25	.50	Monsanto Ch	600	83	86½	83	86½	+4½
28⅞	8⅝		Montgom Wd	9500	23⅝	24½	23½	24½	+1½
2⅛	⅛		Mother Lode	200	⅝	⅝	⅝	⅝	+ ⅛
8⅝	¼		Mot Met Gaug	5500	7½	8⅛	7½	8	+ ½
36⅝	7⅝		Motor Prods	400	33	34⅝	33	34⅝	+2⅛
11⅝	1½		Motor Wheel	3700	9⅝	10¼	9⅝	10¼	+ ⅛
10⅝	1½		Mullins Body	100	6½	6½	6½	6½	+1¼
18⅝	5		Munsingwear	100	15⅝	15⅝	15⅝	15⅝
11⅝	1⅝		Murray Body	1000	6½	7	6½	7	+ ½
57	13		Nat Chat&StL	10	34⅝	34⅝	34⅝	34⅝	— ⅝
27⅝	11⅛	1	Nash Motors	50000	27⅝	30⅝	27⅝	30⅝	+3⅝
7⅝	1⅛		National Acme	400	5	5	5	5	+ ⅛
60⅝	31½	2.80	Nat Biscuit	3500	47	48⅝	46⅝	48⅝	+1⅝
21⅝	5⅛		Nat Cash Reg	20000	18⅝	19⅝	18½	19¼	+1½
25⅝	10½	1.20	Nat Dairy Prod	10000	14	14½	14	14½	+ ⅝
35⅝	20⅝		Nat'l Distillers	15000	25⅝	26½	24⅝	25⅝	+ ⅛
13⅝	4⅝		Nat Avia Corp	600	11	11⅝	11	11⅝	+ ⅝
20½	6⅞	1	Nat Pow & Lt	8200	10¼	11⅛	11	11⅛	+ ⅝
55½	15	1	Nat Steel	10000	53½	55½	52⅝	55½	+3
28⅝	4		Nat Supply	1200	12½	13⅝	12½	13⅝	+1¼
27	6½	.60	National Tea	800	17	17¼	16⅝	17¼	+ ½
12¼	½		Neisner Bros	100	10⅝	10⅝	10⅝	10⅝	— ½
11⅝	1⅝		Newport Ind	400	7⅝	7⅝	7¼	7¼	+ ½
58½	14		NY Central	50000	35¼	37	34⅝	37	+3¼
27⅝	2⅛		NY Ch & St L	2600	16½	18	16¼	17⅝	+2⅝
34¼	2⅝		NY C&St L pf	3200	19½	21⅝	19½	21½	+2¼
11⅞	3½		NY Dock	10	4½	4½	4½	4½
22	6		NY Dock pf	300	9	9⅝	8½	9⅛	+ ⅝
4⅝	⅝		N Y Investors	12000	⅝	1	⅝	1	+ ⅝
34⅝	11⅛		NY NH & H	12500	16¼	17⅝	16⅝	17	+1¼
36	18		NY NH & H pf	3000	26½	28⅝	26½	28	+2¼
15	7½		NY Ont & W	1400	9½	9⅝	9	9⅝	+1
22½	1⅜	.40	NY Ship Bldg	4400	15	15½	15	15¼	+1
38⅞	17⅛	1.50	Noranda Mines	3500	34¼	35⅝	34¼	35	+1
177	111⅛	8	Norfolk & W	200	165	166	165	165	+3
26½	12½		North Am	12000	16½	17⅝	16½	17½	+1½
46	31	3	North Am pf	400	36½	37½	36½	37½	+1
9	4		No Am Av	3600	5¼	5½	5⅛	5½	+ ⅝
79	39	6	No Am Ed pf	700	55	56	55	56	+2
10	3⅝		No Ger Lloyd	100	15	15	15	15
34⅝	5⅝		No Pacific	7800	23¼	25½	23	25⅛	+2⅝
5⅞	1⅛		Norwalk T&R	800	2⅝	3	2⅝	3	+ ⅝
43	26⅝	3	Northwest Tel	100	34	34½	34	34½	+ ½
17⅝	4⅝		Ohio Oil	8500	13	14	13	14	+1
6⅝	1⅛		Oliver Farm	600	4½	4⅝	4½	4⅝	+ ⅝
16	2⅛		Oppen Collins	400	7½	8¼	7½	8	+ ⅝
25¼	10⅛	.60	Otis Elevator	2400	16	16⅝	16	16⅝	+1
5⅛	½		Otis Steel	2500	5¼	6	5¼	6	+ ⅞
21⅝	2¼		Otis Stl pr pf	600	14	14⅝	14	14⅝	+1⅝
86⅝	31½	2.25b	Owens Ill Gl	2000	80	81⅝	80	81⅝	+1⅝
31⅞	15	1.50	Pacific G&E	2500	18⅛	19½	18⅛	19	+1
45⅝	22	3	Pacific Lt&Tr	2900	28½	30	28½	30	+2
29	6		Pacific Mills	400	27⅝	28⅝	27⅝	28⅝	+1½
84⅝	65	7	Pacific T&T	110	74½	75	74½	75	+1
6⅝	1⅝		Packard Mot	5800	4	4½	4	4½	+ ⅛
14	8		Pan Am Pet	100	10⅝	10⅝	10⅝	10⅝
4¼	⅝		Panh-dle P&B	100	1¼	1¼	1¼	1¼
2½	⅝		Param'nt Pub	10000	2⅝	2⅝	2⅝	2⅝
36⅝	6		Park & Tilf	300	30	30	30	30
4¼	⅝		Park Utah CM	3000	3⅝	3⅝	3½	3⅝	+ ⅛
2½	¼		Pathe Ex	800	1⅝	1⅝	1⅝	1⅝	+ ⅛
14¼	1¼		Pathe Exch A	2600	11¼	12¼	11¼	12¼	+1⅝
25	5⅝		Patino M&E	4600	18⅛	19⅝	18⅛	19⅝	+1⅞
5⅛	⅝		Peerless Mot	200	1⅝	2⅝	2⅝	1⅝	+ ⅛
60⅝	25½	3b	Penick & Ford	400	59	59⅝	59	59⅝	+ ⅝
56½	19¼	2.20	Penney	3400	57¼	58½	57¼	58½	+2¼
9½	⅝		Penn Dix Cem	4600	4⅝	5⅛	4⅝	5	+ ⅝
44⅝	13⅝	.50e	Penn RR	20000	31⅝	34	31⅝	34	+2⅝
78	25		Peoples G & C	4900	36¼	38½	36¼	37½	+2½
38⅛	30½	4	Pere Marq pf	200	20	20	20	20	+3½
15¼	6½	.25e	Pet Milk Co	400	10½	10½	10½	10½	+ ½
15	4⅝		Pet Corp Am	2800	5⅛	5⅝	5⅛	5⅝	+ ⅝
18⅞	4½	.25	Phelps Dodge	4800	16½	17½	16½	17½	+1
62	38⅛	6	PhilaCo6pcpfn	100	50	50	50	50
9½	4½		Phil Read C&C	700	3⅝	3⅝	3⅝	3⅝	+ ⅝
16⅝	4⅝	.25	Phillips Pet	9000	15⅝	16	15½	16	+ ½
7½	3		Pierce Arrow	6800	2½	2½	2⅛	2¼	— ¼
1⅝	¼		Pierce Oil	400	⅝	⅝	⅝	⅝
11⅝	1⅛		Pitts S&B	1000	7⅝	8¼	7⅝	8¼	+ ⅝
38⅝	10⅛		Pitts Steel pf	10	32	32	32	32
64	15⅝		Pitts U Cp pf	40	41½	42½	41½	42½	+2⅝
13⅝	1⅝		Poor & Co	3200	11½	13⅝	11½	13⅝	+1⅝
17⅝	6⅝	1	Plymouth Oil	3600	13	14¼	13	14¼	+1¼
40⅝	4		Postal T&C pf	2500	24¼	25¼	24¼	25¼	+ ⅝
5½	⅝		Pressed St Car	300	2	2⅛	2	2⅛	+ ⅛
47½	19⅝	1.50	Proc & Gam	4000	39⅝	39⅝	39⅝	39⅝	+ ⅝
110⅝	97	5	Proc & Gam pf	40	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
2⅞	⅛		Produce & Ref	3500	⅛	⅛	⅛	⅛	— ⅛
13	2		Prod & Ref pf	100	2½	3	2½	3	+ ⅛
57½	32⅝	2.80	Pub S N J	4500	36	40	36	40	+1½
90½	59⅝	4	Pub S NJ 5 pf	400	74	74	73⅝	73⅝	— ½
101⅝	75	6	P S NJ 6 pc pf	100	84½	84½	84½	84½	+ ½
58⅛	19	3	Pullman Co	1000	33	33⅝	33	33⅝	+1⅝
19⅝	3½		Pure Oil	6000	10⅝	11⅛	10⅝	11⅛	+ ⅝
79⅝	10		Pure Oil pf	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
25⅝	5⅝	1	Purity Baking	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]

—R—

1933-34 High	Low	Div. in $	Stock	Sales	Open	High	Low	Last	Net Change
12¼	3		Radio Cor Am	15000	7	7½	7	7½	+ ⅛
27	6½		RCA pf B	3900	16⅝	17¼	16⅝	17¼	+1⅛
5⅝	1		Rad Kei Orp	2800	2½	2⅝	2½	2½
34	4½		Railroad Sec	150	18¼	19¼	18¼	19¼	+1¼
20⅝	5	.60	Raybest Man	400	16⅝	17	16⅝	17	+ ½
62½	23½	1	Reading Co	800	49	50	49	49½	+ ½
37⅝	23	2	Reading C 2 pf	600	30⅝	30⅝	30⅝	30⅝	+ ¼
20⅝	5½		Real Silk Hos	400	9¼	9⅝	9	9⅝	+ ⅞
4½	¼		Rels Co	160	⅝	⅝	⅝	⅝	+ ⅛
18½	1⅛		Rels Co pf	80	16½	16½	15⅝	16	— ½
11¼	2½		Rem Rand	800	7¼	7½	7¼	7⅝	+ ⅝
36⅝	8		Rem Ran 2pf	40	30	30	30	30	—2½
6⅝	⅝		Reo Motor	3400	3⅝	4⅛	3⅝	4⅛	+ ⅝
23	4		Repub Ir&Stl	30000	17⅝	18⅝	17⅝	18⅝	+1
54½	9		Rep I & Stl pf	5600	45¼	48¼	45¼	48¼	+2½
21½	6	1	Reynolds Met	400	16½	16½	16½	16½	+1½
54½	26½	3	Reynolds T B	6500	40½	42⅝	40½	42½	+2¼
10⅞	2		Romis Insur	1200	6⅝	7½	6⅝	7⅝	+ ⅝
39⅝	17⅝		Royal Dutch	400	36⅞	37⅝	36⅞	37⅝	+1⅝
28⅝	7⅛		Ruan Antelop	400	27	27	27	27
62⅝	28	3	Safeway St	1500	47¼	48⅝	47¼	48⅝	+1½
94½	72	6	Safe St 6 pc pf	20	90	90	90	90
105	80¼	7	Safe St 7 pf	50	99½	99½	98	98	—2
31⅝	6⅛		St Joseph Ld	4000	22⅝	24	22⅝	23¼	+ ⅝
5⅞	1		St L & S F pf	400	2⅝	3	2⅝	3	+ ½
47	22		Schenley Distl	2500	25½	25½	24⅝	25⅝	+ ½
10¼	⅝		Schulte Ret St	400	5	5¼	5	5¼	+ ½
45	28	1.75b	Scott Paper	30	44⅝	44⅝	44⅝	44⅝	+ ⅜
3	⅝		Seab'd Airline	1000	1⅛	1⅛	1⅛	1⅛
45⅝	15	.70b	Seaboard Oil	4000	28⅛	30⅛	28⅛	30⅛	+2⅛
47	12½		Sears Roebuck	20000	43½	44⅝	43⅛	44⅝	+2
3⅝	⅛		Seneca Copper	400	1⅛	1⅛	1⅛	1⅛	+ ⅛
7½	1½		Servel Inc	1800	2⅛	2⅝	2⅛	2⅝	+ ⅛
12	1½		Sharon Stl H	100	6½	7½	6½	7½	+2⅝
8⅝	2½		Sharp & Don	2100	6½	6⅝	6⅝	6⅝	+ ⅝
41⅝	21¼	2	Sharp & D pf	100	42	42	42	42
12¼	5⅝	.28	Shattuck (FG)	1200	7½	7⅝	7½	7⅝	+ ⅛
11⅛	4		Shell Un Oil	4500	8⅝	8⅝	8⅝	8⅝	+ ⅜
69	28½		Shell Un Oil pf	400	68	68	68	68	— ½
31	4⅝		Simmon Comp	15500	18⅝	19⅝	18⅝	19⅝	+1⅝
9⅞	3		Skelly Oil	200	8	8	8	8
35	7		Sloss-Sheffield	400	26	26	25	26	+6
42	8¼		Sloss-Shef pf	60	30	30	30	30	+4
9⅝	⅝		Snider Packin	7300	8¼	8⅝	8¼	8⅝	+ ⅝
17	6	.35	Socony-Vac	25300	16¼	16⅝	16⅛	16⅛	+ ½
28	14½	2	Sou Calif Edi	4400	18¼	19¼	18⅝	19⅛	+ ⅞
48⅝	15⅝	2.40	SP Rican Sug	2500	24⅝	25⅝	24⅝	25⅝	+ ⅝
38⅝	11⅛		Sou Pacific	22500	21	22⅝	21	22⅝	+2⅛
36	4⅝		Sou Railway	17700	26⅝	28	26¼	28	+2½
49	5⅝		So Railway pf	3500	30⅝	31⅝	30⅝	31⅝	+2⅝
8	⅝		Spark With	1500	3⅝	4	3⅝	4	+ ⅝
7½	2⅛		Sperry & Co	3400	5⅝	6⅛	5⅝	6⅛	+ ⅛
21	1		Spiegel May S	3500	20	21⅝	19½	21⅝	+1⅝
32½	11⅝		Spicer Mfg pf	30	29⅝	29¼	29	29	— ⅛
37⅝	13⅝	1	Stand Brands	7400	22⅝	23¼	22⅝	23¼	+ ⅝
9⅝	1		StandCom Tob	300	4½	4½	4½	4½
22½	5½		St Gas & Elec	4300	8½	9	8½	8⅝	+ ⅝
25½	6⅝		St G & E pf	6400	9⅝	10	9¼	9¼	+1⅛
61	15	1.80	StdG&L 6pc pf	1400	19	19¼	19	19½	+1⅛
2⅞	½		Stand Invest	300	⅝	⅝	⅝	⅝	— ⅛
45	19⅝	1	Stand O of Cal	5700	38½	39⅝	38¼	39⅝	+1⅝
47½	22⅝	1	Stand Oil NJ	7200	45	45⅝	44⅝	45⅝	+ ½
11½	4		Starrett L S	100	6	6	6	6
3⅝	⅝		Sterling Sec A	1000	1½	1⅝	1½	1⅝	+ ⅛
7⅝	1½		Sterling Sec pf	400	3½	3⅝	3½	3⅝	+ ½
11⅛	2½		Stewart&War	2400	6⅝	7⅛	6⅝	7⅛	+ ⅜
19⅝	5½		Stone & Web	4300	7⅝	8⅝	7⅝	8¼	+ ½
8⅝	1⅝		Studebaker Co	4500	5⅛	5½	5⅛	5½	+ ⅝
38⅛	9		Studebaker pf	1600	22½	25⅝	22½	25⅝	+2⅝
103	89	6	Sun Oil pf	20	100½	100½	100½	100½	—1½
27	7½	.50	Superheater	100	17	17	17	17	+1
4½	⅝		Superior Oil	600	1⅞	2	1⅞	2	+ ⅛
			Sterling Prod	4300	51⅝	53½	51½	53½	+2⅝
22⅝	2		Superior Steel	4500	12	13¼	12	13¼	+1⅝
3	⅛		Symington Co	400	1⅝	1½	1⅝	1½	+ ⅛
5¼	¼		Symington A	1400	3½	3⅝	3½	3⅝	+ ⅛
16⅝	8⅛	1	Telautograph	2800	12½	13⅛	12⅝	13	+ ½
7¼	1⅞		Tenn Cop&Ch	1500	4½	4⅝	4½	4⅝	+ ⅝
30⅛	10⅝	1	Texas Co	8800	23⅝	24⅝	23⅝	24½	+1⅛
45¼	15¼	1.25e	Tex GulfSulph	6800	38⅝	40½	38⅝	40½	+2¼
6½	1⅝		Tex Pac Cl&O	1000	3⅝	3⅝	3⅝	3⅝	+ ¼
11⅛	3½		Tex Land Tr	1200	7⅛	7¼	7⅛	7¼	+ ⅛
43½	29	3.70	Thatcher cv pf	100	39	39	39	39
10½	1		Thermoid	2300	6⅝	7	6⅝	6⅝	+ ½
20¼	5⅝		Thompson Pro	1500	15	15½	14⅞	15½
9½	½		Thompson Sta	1300	3½	3⅝	3½	3⅝	+ ⅛
11⅝	3⅛		Tide Wat O A	4500	9	9⅛	8⅝	9⅛	+ ¼
68	23½	3e	Tide W A O pf	400	68¼	68¼	68	68	— ¼
8¼	1½		Timken DetAx	1200	4½	4⅝	4⅝	4⅝	+ ⅝
35½	13⅝	.60	Timken R Br	4200	31	33	31	33	+2⅝
9⅝	2⅝		Transamerica	1740	7	7⅝	7	7⅝	+ ⅝
17½	2⅞		Tran & Will'm	1500	9½	10⅝	9½	10⅝	+1⅛
8⅝	2⅝		Tri-Cont'l	2700	5	5⅛	4⅞	5⅛	— ⅛
12⅝	2⅝		Truscon Steel	2000	5⅝	6	5⅝	6	+ ⅞
6⅛	⅝		Ulen Co	1500	2⅝	4	2⅝	4	+1
39½	9¼	1	Underwood El	2400	40	41⅞	40	41⅞	+2⅝
60	5½		Union Bag&P	1500	46	47⅝	46	47⅝	+3⅝
51⅞	19⅝	1	Un Carbid & C	5100	46⅝	47⅝	46⅝	47⅝	+1⅜
23⅝	8½	1	Un Oil of Cal	4400	18⅝	19⅛	18⅝	19	+ ½
132	61⅛	6	Union Pacific	2200	114	118½	114	117½	+3
22⅝	10⅛	1.20	Union Tank Cr	1500	16⅝	17½	16⅝	17½	+1¼
46⅝	16½		Un Aircraft&T	23000	32⅝	33⅝	31⅝	33	+2
27⅝	13½	1.60	United Biscuit	100	23½	23½	23½	23½	— ⅝
38	10¼	1.60	United Carbon	1400	36⅝	37½	36⅝	37⅝	+ ⅞
14½	4		United Corp	31900	5⅝	6⅛	5⅝	6	+ ⅝
40½	22½	3	Un Corp pf	4600	29½	31⅝	29⅝	31⅝	+1
6⅛	⅝		Un Dyewood	70	4½	4½	4⅝	4⅝	+ ⅝
12	6⅛		United Drug	10700	10⅝	11⅝	10⅝	11⅝	+2⅛
68	23¼	2	United Fruit	1500	61½	62	61¼	61⅝	+ ⅝
25	13⅝	1.20	Un G & Imp	12600	16¼	17¼	16¼	17	+1
100	82½	5	U G & I pf	100	89⅝	89⅝	89⅝	89⅝	+1⅝
21⅛	3½		United Piece D	1200	9	9⅞	9	9⅞	+ ⅝
22⅛	6⅛	.50	US CIP & Fdy	13600	21⅛	23	21⅛	22⅝	+2¼
17⅝	3⅛		US & FS Corp	1500	9	10½	9	10⅝	+2
29⅝	7	1	U S Freight	600	21⅝	22¼	21⅝	22	+2
53½	18	1	U S Gypsum	2400	47	47	46¼	46⅝	— ½
121	101¼	7	US Gyps'm pf	20	118	118	118	118	+2
11⅞	1⅝		U S Hoffman	400	4⅞	5¼	4⅞	5⅜	+ ⅛
94	13½		US Indus Alco	26900	59	60½	55¼	57	—7
17¼	2⅝		U S Leather	2800	9½	10¼	9½	10	[illegible]
27⅝	4¼		US Leather A	2700	15⅝	16⅝	15⅝	16⅝	[illegible]
14½	2½		U S Realty	2900	8½	9¼	8½	9	[illegible]
25	2⅞		US Rubber	12300	16⅛	17	16	17	+1½
43⅞	5½		U S Rub 1 pf	6200	26	28¼	26	28	+3
105⅝	13½	4.60	US Smelt & R	5600	100¼	101½	98½	100¼	+3
67½	23⅝		U S Steel	59100	50	53½	49½	53	+4⅛
105½	53	2	U S Steel pf	1900	91	93	91	93	+2
7¼	¾		United Strs A	400	3½	3½	3½	3½
130¼	124⅝	7	US Tobacco pf	60	127	127	127	127	+1
51½	21½	1	Univ Leaf Tob	200	41½	42	41⅝	41½	+ ½
3⅝	¼		Univ P & Rad	1800	2	2¼	2	2¼	+ ½
8⅝	1⅞		Utilities P&LtA	6800	3¼	4¼	3¼	3⅝	+ ⅝
3⅛	⅝		Vadsco Sales	400	1¼	1¼	1¼	1¼	— ⅛
36¼	7⅝		Vanadium Stl	4800	23⅝	24⅝	23⅝	24⅝	+1⅝
35	23½	2.10b	Vick Chemical	500	26⅝	26⅝	26⅝	26⅝	+1⅝
7⅝	⅝		Vir-Car Chem	1000	3⅝	4	3⅝	4	+ ½
26½	3⅝		Vir-CarC6pcpf	600	19	19	18⅝	19	+ ⅝
67⅞	12⅝		Vulcan Detin	120	56	57	55½	56½	+2⅝
7⅛	1½		Wabash R R	600	2⅝	2⅝	[illegible]	2⅝	+ ⅛
9⅝	1⅛		Wabash R R A	1400	3⅝	4½	[illegible]	4⅛	+ ½
12	5⅛		Waldorf Syst	100	6¼	6¼	[illegible]	6¼	+ ⅛
8⅝	⅞		Walworth Co	1000	3½	3⅝	[illegible]	3⅝	+ ⅝
20	2⅛		Ward Bak A	300	7⅛	7¼	[illegible]	7¼	— ⅛
5⅝	⅝		Ward Bak B	200	2⅝	2⅝	[illegible]	2⅝	+ ⅛
44⅝	11½	2	Ward Bak pf	400	30	30	[illegible]	30	+ ½
9⅛	1		Warner Bros	4400	5⅝	6	5⅝	6	+ ½
22	4⅛		Warner Bro pf	300	18	18	18	18
22⅝	2½		Warren Bros	2400	10⅝	11¼	10⅝	11	+ ½
29½	5		Warren P & F	2000	25⅝	30½	25⅝	30½	+1
37⅛	7	.52½	Wesson O &Sn	2500	18½	20½	18½	20½	+2
63	40	4	Wesson pf	400	54	54½	54	54	+1⅛
73	30	7	West P Elec A	40	46	47½	46	47½	+2½
69⅝	23½	6	W P El 6 pf	10	46½	46½	46½	46½	+ ½
11⅝	2½		W Dairy Pd A	400	2⅝	2⅝	2⅝	2⅝	+ ¼
4⅛	⅝		W Dairy Pd B	1500	1¼	1⅝	1¼	1¼
16	4		WestMarvland	7300	9½	10⅝	9½	10⅝	+1⅛
19½	5⅝		W Marvld 2 pf	700	13	14	13	14	+1½
9½	1		Western Pac	600	3⅛	3⅝	3⅛	3⅛	+ ⅛
16	1⅞		West Pac pf	2200	6⅛	6½	6⅛	6⅛	+ ⅝
77¼	17¼		West Union	4600	56	59⅝	56	59⅝	+3⅝
35⅝	11⅝	1	Westing'e Airb	2600	28	28⅝	28	28⅝	+1⅛
58⅝	19⅝		Westing'e Elec	10700	38⅝	41⅝	38⅝	41	+3½
13¼	3½		Westn Elec In	100	7½	7½	7½	7½	+ ½
20½	5	.40	Westvaco ChP	1400	16⅝	16½	16⅝	16⅝	+ ⅛
35	7½		Wheeli'g Steel	900	21½	22	21½	22	+2⅝
67	15		Wheel Steel pf	100	42	42	42	42	+2
10½	1⅛		White S M pf	400	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	+ ¼
29	28½		White RM Spr	1100	26	[illegible]	[illegible]	26	+1
22	4		Wilson Com A	1000	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	+1⅛
72⅝	19		Wilson Com pf	100	[illegible]	[illegible]	4	[illegible]	+3
50⅞	31⅝	2.40	Woolworth Co	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	+1⅛
25⅝	6		Worthington P'p	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	+3½
57⅛	34½		Wrigley Wm Jr	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	+1⅛
7⅝	1⅛		Yellow Tr & C	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
15⅛	3½		Young S & W	[illegible]	10	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
27⅝	3½		Youngstn S&T	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
	½		Zenith Radio	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	+ ⅝
6⅛	⅝		[illegible]	[illegible]	6	[illegible]	[illegible]	6½	+ ⅛
2	⅝		Cril Money	[illegible]	[illegible]	1	1	1

Always Danger of Disease Carriers

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D

Because of the apprehension and fear aroused by recent announcements of an epidemic of amebic dysentery, I deem it wise to tell you more about it. I am glad to say this epidemic is now under control. But the United States public health service warns all health officers to guard against possible outbreaks of this dreaded disease.

Dr. Copeland

Most persons have the mistaken idea that amebic dysentery is exclusively a disease of the tropics. Though an uncommon disease in this climate, it is occasionally found in the southern part fo the United States. Within the past decade a good many cases have been discovered in the north.

The disease is caused by a parasite called "endameba histolytica," associated with uncleanliness. This agent of harm is carried to the intestinal tract by infected food or drink.

As is true in the case of carriers of typhoid fever, persons may harbor the dysentery germs without knowing it. They spread the disease and of course are a menace to society.

Unfortunately, the victim of amebic infection may not know he has the disease until many weeks have elapsed. In fact, symptoms may not appear for a period of two to 12 or even 13 weeks. When the disease is recognized in its early stages it can be cured.

Severe abdominal pain, headache, fever, acute diarrhea and heavy discharges of mucus and blood from the bowel are the most conspicuous signs of this type of dysentery. It is often confused with other ailments and may be incorrectly diagnosed as colitis, intestinal obstruction, peritonitis or appendicitis.

An improperly treated case of amebic dysentery leads to the chronic form. Unless proper care is taken it imperils the health of other members of the family. Even though complete recovery may appear to have taken place, the victim, as I have said, may unknowingly harbor the parasites for years and in this way spread the affliction to unknown numbers of others.

No one can deny the importance of careful health examinations of all food handlers. In the recent epidemic the source of infection was traced to contaminated food handlers, employes in eating establishments. All applicants for food-handling positions, as well as those food handlers already employed, should be subjected to frequent examinations.

Copyright, 1934, for the Boston Evening American.

WORK MORE, EARN MORE, SPEND MORE IN 1934

Busy Days for Capitol Afoot

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER

In spite of the greatest secrecy at the White House our Washington man reports:

The dollar will be pegged at sixty cents. Thereby following the price of Wales' advice, "never change horses in midair."

We aint sure whether we have bought gold at a profit until we try to sell it. As the French say, "the closer you get to zero the warmer it gets."

We shall encourage the use of silver dollars which clocks with the old Russian adage, "when you hear sleigh bells in summer consult your doctor."

We will make an attempt to collect war debts in spite of the Chinese proverb, "frightened rabbits never come home to roost."

And we shall encourage the small business man to borrow money from his banker. That's covered thoroughly by the ancient Turkish bon mot,"a watched kettle dreads the burned child."

HOUGHTON HEAD RESIGNS

A. W. Ackermann, president and general manager of Houghton and Dutton, Inc. has resigned as of January 31 to accept the position of general manager and general merchandise manager of Hayden's, Omaha, Neb.

A. W. Ackermann

He is well known in all merchandising markets. It was during Mr. Ackermann's regime that one of the greatest one day sales in the country was held, namely Greater Houghton Day.

Mr. Ackermann leaves a host of friends who wish him, not only the best of luck, but continued success in his new affiliation.

Mr. O. T. Bailhorn has been appointed general manager to succeed Mr. Ackermann. Mr. Ballhorn has been associated with Houghton's for the past few years as merchandise manager.

No. 272---First Prize Tested Recipes

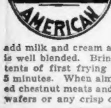
Five Dollar Prize Winner for Monday

MRS. ANNE M. DAVIS
Star Route 1300, Thomaston, Me.

CREAMED CRABMEAT WITH CHESTNUTS

3 tbsps. butter	1 cup thin cream	2 cans crabmeat
3 tbsps. flour	2 well beaten eggs	1 tbsp. butter
¾ cup milk	Salt to taste	1 minced onion

1 small can mushroom caps
1 canned pimiento
1 green pepper
1 cup chopped celery
½ lb. roasted chestnut meats



In one frying pan, melt 1 tbsp. of butter and saute minced onion to a delicate brown. Then add mushroom caps, pimiento, green pepper and celery all chopped fine. Saute until contents of your second frying pan is ready. In a second frying pan, melt 3 tbsps. butter, add flour and stir until well blended. Then add milk and cream and well beaten eggs, stirring constantly until same is well blended. Bring to boiling point and add crabmeat. Stir in contents of first frying pan. Blend well, allowing to simmer gently for 5 minutes. When almost ready to remove from the stove, add hot roasted chestnut meats and serve immediately on hot buttered toasted cracker wafers or any crisp crackers.

Every day the Boston Evening American awards $10 in cash for the six outstanding recipes sent to Martha Lee. If you have a favorite recipe—one that you are exceptionally fond of—send it to Martha Lee's Recipes, Boston American, P. O. Box 2097, Boston.

Each day there is a first cash prize of $5 and five other awards of $1. Prizes will be paid only on recipes that are published. You may submit one or more recipes every day if you wish.

FIVE PRIZES OF ONE DOLLAR EACH

MRS. ALMA BENGTSON
249 Greenwood st, Worcester, Mass.

LIVER LOAF

2 lbs. beef liver
4 tbsps. sweet milk
2 eggs (beaten)
1 large onion
1 tbsp. salt
1 tsp. white pepper
1 tbsp. sugar
2 tbsps. flour
½ lb. bacon

Grind the liver twice. Then beat well. Fry onion in the butter until slightly browned and add to the liver. Then add the beaten eggs, salt, pepper, sugar and flour. Line a loaf pan about 4 in. by 8 in. with the bacon. Then pour the mixture in the pan. Place in another pan of hot water and set in a moderate oven for 2 hours. When it is well browned on top take from water and let stand ½ hour. Then turn upside down and remove from pan. Best eaten when cold. Very good sliced on sandwiches.

MRS. DOROTHY WHITE
1 Powers ct., Boston, Mass.

RUSSIAN STEAK

3 lbs. top of round (1 piece) or sirloin
1 large can tomatoes
½ lb. brown sugar
½ cup butter
Salt, pepper, parsley

Have the steak in one piece, about 2 to 2½ inches thick. Take a medium size kettle or deep saucepan large enough so that steak will lie flat on bottom of pan. Next put the butter, about ½ to 1 cup, into the kettle or saucepan. Allow the butter to melt, then bring to boiling point, then put in the meat and sear it well on both sides. When the steak is seared to a golden brown, put the tomatoes and brown sugar into the saucepan, cover and cook over a medium flame about 45 minutes or until meat is tender enough to shred easily. Salt and pepper to taste before serving.

In serving, cut steak into four equal portions, place in individual plates and cover with the cooked tomatoes. A few sprigs of parsley to each portion adds to the attractiveness of each serving. Excellent with mashed or French fried potatoes. Serve while hot.

MRS. ELSIE L. POTTS
114 Union st., Holbrook, Mass.

ONION RINGS

Peel two large onions, slice into ¼ inch slices and carefully separate the rings. Make a batter of the following ingredients:

2 eggs, beaten light, add
½ cup milk
1 cup flour
1 tsp. baking powder and
¼ tsp. salt

Dip the onion rings in the batter, fry in deep fat, and drain on brown paper.

MRS. D. TORRI
53 North st., Proctor, Vt.

PORK STEAK—ITALIAN STYLE

Sprinkle a slice of pork steak with a little cinnamon, salt, pepper and nutmeg, and 1 small onion. Roll up and tie. Put 1 tbsp. of olive oil in a kettle, cook meat in this about one hour, turning often. Add one can Italian tomato sauce and 1 cup of hot water. Cook slowly for 1½ hours. Have ready ½ lb. macaroni which has been cooked and drained and 1 tbsp. grated cheese. Add to the sauce, mix well. Serve on platter with the sliced meat around the edge.

A. M. FRASER
8 Oakland ave., Arlington, Mass.

SOUTHERN POTATO AND FIG SALAD

1 cup boiled sweet potatoes, diced
½ cup figs, cut in small pieces
1 cup celery, diced
½ cup dates, chopped
¼ cup walnuts chopped
¼ cup whipped cream
Honey fruit salad dressing

Mix diced sweet potatoes, dates, figs, celery and nuts lightly together. Fold whipped cream into salad dressing. Add the other ingredients. Mix well. Let stand at least one hour in ice box or cold place. Serve on crisp shredded lettuce or in lettuce cups.

For the Honey Fruit Salad Dressing, mix together ½ cup honey with 1 tbsp. flour, 2 tbsps. sugar, juice of 2 lemons, 2 egg yolks, 1 tbsp. minced figs. Cook for 5 minutes stirring constantly. Fold in whipped cream slowly and chill.

IT'S WANT ADS—LIBERTY 4000

ANNOUNCEMENTS

FUNERAL ANNOUNCEMENTS

HIGGINS—In Everett, Jan. 14, Lawrence J. Higgins, beloved husband of the late Mary E. Higgins (nee Egan). Funeral from his late residence, 82 Lewis st., Wednesday morning, at 8 a. m. High mass of requiem at the Church of the Immaculate Conception at 9. Relatives and friends kindly invited.

ZOLA—In Roxbury, Isaac Zola, 72 years old. Died suddenly, Jan. 14, at 10:30. Survived by eight sons and two daughters. Funeral Monday, at 12 noon, 33 Gaston st., Roxbury. Services at Rabbi Zwerskey's, at 8 Intervale st., Roxbury.

MONUMENTS

20% SAVING — CRAIG — $89 Lettered and Set Anywhere in New Eng. Write for Designs and Prices. THEO. J. CRAIG 178 Water St. Quincy, Mass. Granite 3607-R

JONES — MONUMENT $74 LETTERED, DEL. 200 others in stock. Write for FREE catalogue, FACTORY PRICES. Buy direct and SAVE MONEY. Memorial Granite Co. 139 Hancock St., Quincy, Mass.

FUNERAL DIRECTORS

J. S. WATERMAN & SONS — SINCE 1832 — FUNERAL SERVICE — Local and Suburban

Graham Funeral Service, 1770 WASHINGTON ST. Special Funeral $125. NON SECTARIAN. Special Funeral Metal Casket $314. Services Available Anywhere in New England

K. H. Hajar & Co. Funeral Service. Personal Attention. 107 Harrison Ave., Boston. Hub. 7323. Park 5142-J.

Michael Caggiano 24 Hours. 978 Saratoga St. E. Bos. 3336-3431

FLORISTS

Penn The Florist 124 TREMONT ST. BOSTON PENNPHONE LIB. 4317

LEGAL

LOST BANK BOOK

Roslindale Co-operative Bank. Pass Book 4244.

PURSUANT to the power of sale contained in Chapter 105, section 38, General Laws of Massachusetts, for non-payment of storage charges and for the purpose of satisfying the warehousemen's lien, the following property consisting of household goods, pianos, books, pictures, and personal effects now stored in the Al Burkhardt Storage Warehouse Co., 620 Parker St., Roxbury, Mass., for the account of the following named persons: Mr. Giatis, Mrs. E. J. Stewart, Mr. Brooks, B. O. Chase, Miss H. Cullison, W. H. Howarth, M. E. Jeffrey, W. W. Shannon, Mrs. Grace B. Lawson, Ralph A. O'Reilley, will be sold at public auction from the auction rooms of C. F. Hale, 223 Columbus Ave., Boston, Mass., at 10:30 A. M., on Tuesday, Jan. 16, 1934. Jan.6-13-15

NOTICES

IN BOARD OF STREET COMMISSIONERS OF THE CITY OF BOSTON, January 11, 1934: Ordered: That due notice be given, that this Board is of the opinion that, in said city, public improvements should be made, consisting of the laying out and construction of the following streets: Allendale Avenue, Dorchester District, as a highway, from Gallivan Boulevard to Hill Top Street, with the name of Anaconda Avenue or some other distinctive name; Bates Street, West Roxbury District, as a highway, from Beech Street to the line between West Roxbury and Hyde Park, with the name of Bateman Street or some other distinctive name; substantially as shown on plans in the office of this Board, that it intends to pass orders for making said improvements, and that it appoints 11 o'clock A.M., of January 24, 1934, and the office of this Board, 401 City Hall Annex, as the time and place for public hearings in the matters. THEODORE A. GLYNN, JOHN J. O'CALLAGHAN, WALTER A. MURRAY, Street Commissioners. A true copy of an order passed by said Board on said day. Attest: CORNELIUS A. REARDON, Secretary. ja12 13 15 16

City of Boston—Wire Division, Fire Department, 60 Bristol St., Boston. NOTICE—By authority vested by Chapter 101 of the Acts of 1931, the streets, avenues or parts thereof in the City of Boston prescribed for the calendar year, namely: 1934, within which any pole or structure used in streets for the support of wires, cables, conductors, etc., and all wires, cables, conductors, other than those exempted by Chapter 347 of the Acts of 1908, shall be removed or placed underground, are as follows: South Huntington ave. from Centre St. to Floydell St., J. P.; Fessenden St. from Blue Hill Ave. to Norfolk St., Dor.; Woodrow Ave. from Blue Hill Ave. to Norfolk St., Dor.; Geneva Ave. from Vinson St. to Park St., Dor.; Devens St. from Main St. to Rutherford Ave., Charlestown; Hyde Park Ave. from Forest Hills Sq. to Metropolitan Ave., W. R. and H. P. Cottage St. from Marginal St. to Porter St., E. B. Making a total distance of four miles as prescribed by law.

EDWARD F. McLAUGHLIN, Fire Commissioner.
Boston, January 9, 1934 Ja15 16

LOST AND FOUND

BLACK Spitz lost, Roxbury, male, brown spots above eyebrows. Rew. Gar. 5978.

DOG lost, German police, male, Somerville or Camb., "Skippy"; rew. Prospect 0085-M.

LOST—Boston shopping district; small chamois jewelry bag containing old gold diamond ring and medals; rew. Everett 0601

LOST your dog? Phone Animal Rescue League, 51 Carver St., Boston. Han. 9170.

SPECIAL NOTICES

EAST BOSTON Brass Foundry, H. F. Russell, est. 27 years; brass, bronze, composition, aluminum castings. 155 Border St. East Boston 2970-M.

WHERE TO DINE

GONDOLA CAFE A La Carte Service, Wines, Liquors, Beers. 448 MAIN ST., MEDFORD Tufts Sq.

BEAUTY AIDS

Hair Permanently removed by Bulbous Multiple electric needles. phys. refs., lowest cost. Edith Miller, 99 Esmond St., Dorchester. Col. 6869.

SPECIAL—Haircut, shampoo, finger or marcel wave, $1. Harry's Beauty Shop, 453 Wash. St., Dexter Bldg., rm. 817. Dev. 8047.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

BEAUTY AIDS

ELECTRIC NEEDLE SPECIALIST HAIR On ladies' faces permanently removed. No pain or scars. Physicians' references. Mollie Rappert 125 Tremont St., Boston. Rm. 310. Han. 7286

Realistic Wave $5.79—Hollywood Cone $4.39 CROQUIGNOLE RINGLETS Ends Only $2.30 VANITY FAIR BEAUTY SALON 8 WINTER ST. RM. 710. LIB. 8282

SHAMPOO—Finger wave dries in 15 mins. 75c. Permanents $2.50 up, complete. Annette, 8 Winter St., Rm. 910, Dev. 7265.

BEAUTY INSTRUCTION

STUDLEY BEAUTY SCHOOL Thorough training in every branch, expert teachers. 8 weeks' course, $50. Easy Terms. Discounts for cash. Send for circular. We help place students. 125 Tremont St., Room 503. Dev. 7634.

FREE Beauty work done every day. MON., WED. and FRI. nights. Hub Academy, 161 Mass. Ave., Room 209

WIGS AND TOUPEES

CUSTOM MADE WIGS AND TOUPEES Protect your head from cold and also improve your appearance by wearing one of our special $30 ventilated full wigs or one of our $20 toupees. Large assortment on hand. BEFORE Write or call AFTER LOMBARD BAMBINA CO. 113 Monroe St., Lynn, Mass.

DERMATOLOGY

Noses Reshaped FACE LIFT All Featural Defects Corrected. Blemishes Removed. A. STANLEY GIBSON, M. D. 164 Boylston St. Phone Lib. 4162. Est. 35 Yrs.

MEDICAL

NOSES CHANGED IN ONE VISIT by famous surgeon—no scars, painless. New scientific method—positive results. Face Lifting THROATS, CHINS EARS CORRECTED WARTS, MOLES, ETC., REMOVED. Examination and Advice Free. Daily Hours 10-6—Sunday 11-2 DR. E. P. REID, 100 Boylston St. Room 1028. Phone HANcock 1389 ESTABLISHED OVER 35 YEARS.

FREE, X-RAY

Examination, consultation and trial treatment absolutely free to all who call before Jan. 21, 1934. The X-ray and mercury quartz light treatment are accomplishing wonders in disease of every description. No matter what your disease may be Daniel J. Walsh, M. D., 18 Boylston St., Boston, Mass., fulfills the above offer. Office hours: Mon., Wed., Thurs. and Sat. 10 to 1, 2 to 4 and 5 to 8; Tues. and Fri. 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. Closed Sundays and Holidays.

ECZEMA—PSORIASIS TREATED BY THE LATEST METHOD INTRAVENOUS INJECTIONS WHEN NECESSARY Hours 9 to 8 W. Mulcahy, M. D. 32 Boylston St. Han. 5938

FREE Booklet for sufferers from Piles or other Rectal troubles. Write to Dover St. Clinic, 16 Dover St., Boston.

PROFESSIONAL SERVICES

DR. LIBBY PAINLESS DENTISTRY FULL UPPER OR LOWER $8 PAINLESS EXTRACTIONS $1 EASY PAYMENTS DR. C. B. SHAW, Manager SIX SCOLLAY SQ. Over Epstein Drug Store

MARIE OLANDER—Masseuse graduate, Sweden. Tired, nervous people. Ken. 0768.

MASSAGE for tired nerves, rheumatism. 108 Huntington Ave., Apt. 2. Circle 8414.

SWEDISH MASSAGE—1189 Commonwealth Ave., Suite 1.

DANCING

DON'T WASTE TIME—LEARN QUICKLY BALLROOM Guaranteed in 4 LESSONS TAP ALSO MY REPUTATION IS YOUR PROTECTION PROF. RITTER 177 TREMONT ST. Devonshire 7330

WM. H. O'BRIEN NEW LOCATION 240 Hunt. Ave. Cor. Mass. 3 HOUR CLASS 75c. 12 CLASSES $5

MLLE. GAUDET 3 Private Lessons $1 KENmore 3104

MISS LEON STRICTLY PRIVATE LESSONS $1. CIRCLE 9725

15 PRIVATE LESSONS, UPTOWN SCHOOL $5 330 Mass. Ave., at Hunt. Tel. Cir. 9068

CLEANING—DYEING

3-Hour Cleansing Service! Expert, reliable; blouses, sweaters, Garments. Reas. Original Cleansers & Dyers, 8 Winter St., 4th Fl. Dev. 7398. 59 Temple Pl

EMPLOYMENT

HELP WANTED—FEMALE

EXPERIENCED girl for general housework, good home, $5 week. Blue Hills 5173.

WOMEN—Sell hosiery, lingerie and house dresses, no money needed, part time permitted, experience not essential. Royal Crown, 76 Summer St., Boston.

HELP WANTED—MALE

ADVERTISING SALESMEN 20 TO 30 YEARS OLD

To cover rental territories now open in the Classified Advertising Dept. of BOSTON AMERICAN - SUNDAY ADVERTISER. We prefer men with classified or house-to-house sales experience, but this is not absolutely necessary if you are a real salesman and are willing to apply yourself diligently in learning this important phase of the newspaper business.

Enthusiasm, ability to learn, desire to get ahead and willingness to follow a definite sales program are the most important qualifications you must possess for this proposition. You will be given training in all of the fundamentals of newspaper advertising. Daily expense, bonus and commission basis. You must furnish character references.

To a real producer who can meet these qualifications we offer a position with an assured future in the largest newspaper organization in the world.

Apply by Letter Only
Have Telephone Number in Letter
Box No. W 141
Boston American - Sunday Advertiser
5 Winthrop Sq., Boston, Mass.

EMPLOYMENT

HELP WANTED—MALE

YOUNG MEN Clean cut, ambitious, over 21. Steady employment, good pay to start; opportunity for advancement. See Mr. Carney, 164 Stuart St.

SALARY Men who are willing to work will find this a golden opportunity. Apply 1 to 4, Fuller, 140 Boylston St.

Cash for Coupons, Trading Stamps, Unused U. S. Postage Stamps. Coupon Ex., 611 Wash. St.

Former magazine men and women attrac. prop. Martin Rosebury, 177 Tremont St., Rm. 64.

WANTED—A man to take charge of an office, one who can sell electrical appliances and take charge of men. J. R. Sorenti, 296 Newbury St. Com. 1141.

SITUATIONS WANTED—MALE

YOUNG colored married man will do anything, experienced chauffeur, refs. Por 5358

FINANCIAL

MONEY TO LOAN

LET PILGRIM PLAN Solve your money problems See Us Today! AUTOMOBILE FURNITURE LOANS $50 to $1000. Up to 20 months to repay. One day service. legal rates. Loans $300 or less under State supervision. License 65 PILGRIM ACCEPT. CORP 24 School St., Boston Rm. 401, 4th Floor. Capitol 7243

AUTO AND HOUSEHOLD LOANS Collateral remains with you Your Present Note Made Smaller NO ENDORSERS. LIB. 7368 GLOBE PLAN License 142 437 Park Square Building

Do You Need $100-$150-$200 or More? We make loans to responsible persons on automobiles, furniture or signed notes. Charges are figured only on unpaid balance of loan—for actual time you keep the money. New England Equity Corp. 453 Washington St., Room 403 4th Floor. LIB. 1734. License 57

WE SPECIALIZE IN 2d MORTGAGE Loans to Home Owners Very Small Repayments. HUB FINANCE CO., 600 Washington St. LIBERTY 8410

LOANS on furniture with 20 months to pay. Boston Morris Plan Company. (License 62.) 209 Washington St., Boston.

CAPITAL FINANCE CO., 148 State St., Room 707. License 37. Capitol 9561.

REAL ESTATE MARKET

HOUSES FOR SALE

BARGAIN 3-family house $650, South Boston; 3-4-4 rooms with improvements; convenient. A. J. Kupstis, 332 W. Broadway, South Boston 1662.

BACK BAY APT. HOUSE 13 2-room suites. Modern. Sell at great sacrifice. Owner, Hancock 7921.

RENTALS

HOUSES FOR RENT

BEACON HILL—Very desirable 8-rm. heated (oil) house; newly renovated, new wiring and fixtures; all modern improvements; reasonable. Garrison 4950.

BROOKLINE—10-room duplex; recreation basement, fireplaces, Holland oil heater, cooling system, $60 Longwood 5743.

NEWTON—Furnished modern 9-rm. hse., oil heated; 10c fare Boston. N. N. 4184-W.

FURNISHED APARTMENTS

Somerville 244 Summer St., 3 rms. furn.; heat, gas, light supplied. $8 week. Somerset 9051.

GOING South—Will rent my attractively furnished apartment to reliable people. Long. 0516.

ROXBURY—628 Warren St.; 2 large rooms, bath, everything furn., $5.50. High. 4428.

UNFURNISHED APARTMENTS

BRIGHTON—$35—$45 2-3-room apartments, dinette, kitchenette, free refrigeration, parking space, reception hall, 96 Washington St., Brighton. $50—$70 3-4-room apartments, large halls and closets, refrigeration, tile bath, panelled dining rooms, 78 Kilsyth Rd., Brighton. G. H. HOULDER 92 WASHINGTON ST., BRIGHTON STADIUM 0904.

4-ROOM SUITES, $60 103 Hemenway Street. Careful management—Electric refrigerators, abundant heat. Apply janitor or call Liberty 3297.

574-586 NEWBURY ST. 3-4 rooms, redecorated, free frigidaire; low rents. Apply janitor or Cap. 8642.

Brighton $35 5 rms., renovated, steam heat. 290 Summit Ave. Reg. 6242-M.

ALLSTON—5-6-rm. apts., steam heated, reception rm., tiled bath, free refrigeration, janitor service, $50. 84 Harvard Ave., corner Gardner St. Janitor on premises. Laf. 0541.

ALLSTON—103 Gordon St., front Craftex apt., 3 rooms, alcove, free refrig., parking, $42.50. Resident janitor service. Com. 5940.

ALLSTON—45 Ashford St., exclusive 3-rm. apt., porch, reas. rent. Com. 5940.

ARLINGTON—38 Lakehill Ave.; 6 rms., all mod., st. heat, porches, $40. Eve. 0978.

BRIGHTON—Reservoir, 6-7-rm. heated apts., cont. h. w., janitor, porch, garage. Sta. 3437

CAMBRIDGE—Modern 6 rooms, heated, reduced. 185 Mt. Auburn St. Uni. 5681.

CHARLESTOWN—26½ Lincoln St., nice flat, 5 rms., bath, electricity, $16 month.

DORCHESTER—5 rms., furnace, $25; 5 rms. steam, $30. O'Hearn, Fields Cor. Gen. 1200.

FENWAY, 1-2-ROOM APTS., $40-$50 Extremely modern, clean, convenient; tile baths, refrigeration. Apply Supt., 62 Queensberry St., or George K. Higgins, Agt., 1318 Beacon St., Brookline. Long 0063.

JAMAICA—6 Westerly St.; lower 2 family, 5 rooms, recep., adults. Jam. 3399-W.

JAMAICA PLAIN—Modern heated 2-3 rooms, kitchenette. Apply Janitor, 6 Brown Terrace.

JAMAICA PLAIN—5-6 rooms, $40. Unusual, convenient. Owner, P'kway 2596-W.

SOUTH END—3-4 rms., elec., gas, bath, $16. $18 month. Apply 40 E. Dedham St.

WINCHESTER—6 rooms, sun parlor, hot water heat, fireplace. Every convenience. Reasonable rent. 2 Park Ave. Mys. 4310-W.

3 rooms, $25—4 rooms, $30 2161 Washington St Mrs. Meverstein, mgr.

4-ROOM apt., all impts., with heat, Beachmont, Call Rev. 0453, Mr. Masiello.

RENTALS

ROOMS FOR HOUSEKEEPING

BACK BAY—Large front housekeeping rms., $4 up; parking. 146 Hemenway St.

CAMBRIDGE—Heated, sunny rm., next to bath; everything supplied, $3.50. Uni. 1604.

CAMBRIDGE—80 Garfield St.; outside rms.; kitchenettes, well furn., heated; $5 up

ROXBURY—81 Moreland St., Suite 4, 1-2 hskp. rms., well furnished, heated, rea.

ROXBURY—72 Waverly St., 2-3 hskpg. rooms, everything furn., reas. High. 7021.

ROXBURY—55 Forest St.; pleas., furn., heated rm.; run. water, reas. High. 2402.

SOMERVILLE—3 furnished rooms, $5.50-$6.50 week. 21 Prescott St. Som. 8504-R.

1308 WASH. ST.—Well furn., heated rooms, running water, $4 up; parking. Dev. 6538.

ROOMS WITH BOARD

CAMBRIDGE—Attrac. quiet room., priv. family, business man, meals opt. Uni. 2371-W.

SOMERVILLE—Attrac. front room; meals opt.; elderly person considered. Som. 1898-J.

ROOMS WITHOUT BOARD

Y.M.C.A. ROOMS FOR MEN Free parking; club privileges, $3.25, $5, $5.50; double $7.50 weekly. Membership necessary. 316 Huntington Ave. Kenmore 7800.

BOSTON—Large front rm., 3 windows, handy to cars, $5. 31 Cumberland St.

BROOKLINE—1053 Beacon St., beautifully furn rm., twin beds, fireplace; also suite for professional person. Long. 8815.

BROOKLINE — Pleasant, well-heated rooms, single, double, meals optional. Longwood 1948.

CAMBRIDGE—Near Harvard Sq., pleasant rm. single $3, double $5. Uni. 8918-M.

CAMBRIDGE—77 Hancock st.; steam heated rm.; priv. family, $3. Por. 4834-M.

COMMONWEALTH AVE., 228—2 large rms., nicely furn. Low rent. Com. 9138.

EVERETT—Airy rm. in well-heated apt. Reas. 208 Linden St. Everett. 2995-W.

FIELDS CORNER—Room for business man, private family, $4; near rapid transit. Tal. 8261.

Gentleman, heated, hot water, use of apt., 98 Hemenway St., Apt. No. 36.

ROXBURY—24 Munroe St., attrac. sunny room, handy to Boston; young married couple preferred; $7 week. Gar. 3755.

ROXBURY—22 Greenville St., steam heated rm., cont. h. w., reas. High. 6741.

W. SOMERVILLE—33 Curtis St.; Sunny front rm., $4. Kit'en priv. $5. Som. 0923-M.

1871 BEACON ST.; large rm., 1st floor, priv. apt.; parking. Long. 1797.

3 St. Charles St.—Furn. rms., with or without board, in res. sec. Han. 5296.

CHILDREN TO BOARD

WANTED—Child to board, priv. American family. Best refs. Somerset 0112-M.

WANTED—Infant to board, $5. Private home, best care. Malden 0259-R.

WANTED—Infant or child any age; mother's care; reasonable. Melrose 0493-J.

WANTED—Child to board, between 2 and 5 years $4. Mystic 2745-R.

WILL BOARD child; excellent care, $5, nice home. Woburn 0158-W.

BUS. OPPORTUNITIES

Exceptional Business Opportunity A capable man can begin a profitable cash business with a recognized fuel. Large field and constant demand, worthy of $500 cash for investment for material. Phone or write for appointment immediately. Mr. MacKellar, rm. 1015, Hotel Bradford MANUFACTURERS CHARCOAL COMPANY

PARTNER wanted for cafe and market, liquor license granted Jan. 9, half of inventory or $1000, don't delay. Grandfield's Market, Route 2, corner of Marrett Rd. and Spring St., Lexington. Lex. 0925-J

MISC. FOR SALE

Certified BARGAINS OAK FLOORING 5c Ft. up Full thickness 1¼" face, good lengths. Lower prices on thin floors DON'T MISS THESE BARGAINS. Friend Lumber Co., Medford Yard 29 Gibson St. Tel. Mystic 6650.

BRAKES Relined, adjusted. Official station. HARVEY'S 1373 Boylston St., Ken. 8780

SEWING MACHINES

SEVERAL repossessed Singer electric sewing machines cheap, cash or terms. Singer Sewing Machine Co., 154 Pleasant St. Mal. 5760.

JEWELRY—DIAMONDS

WANT! High Prices for Old Gold, Jewelry, etc. S. Bloomfield, 373 Wash. St. Rm. 601

WE Pay more for Gold, Jewelry and Diamonds. F. A. Andrews Co., Inc., 276 Wash. St.

COAL—COKE—OIL

PETROKARBON $12.90 Not a Shovel of ash to a ton Ask Your Dealer

English Coke $11.00 American Anthracite Egg, Stove, Nut—$12.50 Tel. CHELSEA 2310 Metropolitan Deliveries FEDERAL FUEL CO.

CLEERCOAL $13.25 PER TON Range size in 2-ton lots. Lumpy Soft Coal $7.75. PETROKARBON $12.90 DIAMOND COAL CO. Arlington 4820

MYSTIC BRIQUETTS, $10.50 Best Quality Anthracite, all sizes. Price consistent with quality. Also N. E. Coke. J. P. O'NEILL COAL CO. Prospect 1166.

$6.50 R. M. Soft Coal 2 hr. serv. 2 ton lot. Ken. 0910 BAY STATE COAL & OIL CO.

Coke $11 Nut, stove, egg size, lumpy soft, $7.50-$8.50. Com. 8558

HIGHLAND COKE All Sizes $11.00 Per Ton. Call Pkway 2541

Coke $11 Good coal at low prices. Columbia 5160. Prompt del.

COKE 10.75 Guar. in bin. Fairmount Coal Co. Jam. 3318.

Coke $10.75 Guaranteed delivered in bin. Col. 2596. Por. 1433-W.

Range Oil 7½c in 50 gallon lots. C. De Tully, Col. 8751

AUTOMOBILES

AUTOMOBILES FOR SALE

Pre-AUTO SHOW Clean Up

The New 1934 HUDSONS

Are here now; "trades" are Coming fast,—and we need the room

50 Cars at prices and terms that cannot be duplicated!

'33 Hudson 8 Coach, Radio	$845	'32 Hudson "Great 8" Sedan	$595
'31 Oakland Conv. Cpe.	345	'29 Essex Chall. Sedan	135
'33 Terraplane 8 Coach	595	'30 Hudson "8" Coach	210
'31 Ford Tudor, 4-cyl.	275	'32 Essex Pacemaker Sedan	425
'30 Chevrolet Roadster	145	'31 Hudson "8" De Luxe	399
'29 Essex Chall. Sedan	135	'27 La Salle Sedan	175
'31 Hudson 8 Sedan, 119"	365	'29 Willys-Knight Sedan	145
'32 Terr. "8" Sedan	399	'29 Hudson 6 Std. Sedan	145
'30 Hudson 8 Coach	245	'29 Packard 8 Sedan	175
'31 Hudson Club Sedan	425	'31 Hudson "8" Spdstr.	335

OUR MONEY-BACK GUARANTEE AND 7-DAY TRIAL ARE YOUR PROTECTION

HUDSON Terraplane Distributors Since 1911 — THE HENLEY-KIMBALL CO. 650 Beacon St. KENmore 4010 OPEN EVERY EVENING THIS WEEK

MISC. FOR SALE

COAL—COKE—OIL

COKE BEST GRADE $11.00 Guaranteed Anthracite Egg, Nut, Stove $12.50 PEOPLES COAL CO. TEL. GEN. 0485

Coke $10.25; Lumpy Soft $7.25 Hogan Coal Co. Kenmore 1060

OIL BURNERS

OIL BURNERS—Approved. Guaranteed. BOSTON'S OIL BURNER OUTLET. 4 Portland Street. CAP. 9249. $5.50

OIL burners, $5.50 complete, guaranteed. Cohen Sales, 28 Portland St. Laf. 3675.

OIL BURNERS, $5.25 complete, guar. Tuck Sales, 40 Washington Ave. Chel. 0032.

OIL BURNERS $5.25 comp. Modern Mfg. Co., 31 Summer St., Lynn. Break 8702.

FURS

SLIGHTLY USED OR SHOPWORN FUR COATS $29 YOUR CHOICE Natural Raccoon, Natural Muskrat, Northern Seal (dyed hare), Mendoza Beaver (dyed coney), Natural Fitch or Squirrel-Trimmed Coats, Caracul, flat Caraculs in different shades. Some are as low as $19, some are slightly higher in price. All are in excellent condition. Many of them are only slightly shopworn and have never been worn on the street. KUSSELL FUR CO. 41 WINTER ST., SIXTH FLOOR Open Evenings Until 8

$15 UP. FUR COAT SALE! FINAL CLEARANCE! EVERY COAT MUST GO. Plenty Raccoons! Late Model Jackettes. MAX'S Loan Office. 185 Broadway, Boston.

WHERE TO BUY LIQUORS Licensed Bottle Goods Stores and Druggists in Your Locality

LIQUORS—WINES

Medicinal liquor orders for Maine and Mass. filled. Good Rye, Pt. $1.25 Qt. $2.25; Gin ......Pt. $1.00 Large Bottle $1.00; Rum ..... Pt. $2.00; Wine, Lge. Bot. Port or Sherry, $1.00. 112 Beverly St. Near North Station. Beverly Beverage Co. Laf. 8658

DAILY SPECIALS WHISKIES—RUMS—WINES All Kinds of Domestic and Imported Liquors at Lowest Prices. MARTIGNETTI GROCERY CO. 84 Salem St., Boston. Laf. 7800.

DRUGGISTS

Belmont Pharmacy 1145 COMM. AVE. STA. 6711

AT ROXY DRUG Northampton Station. OPEN to 3 A. M.

EPSTEIN'S DRUG STORE 548 Commonwealth Ave. Kenmore Sta. Ken. 0369.

Gordon Drug Co. 161 Charles St., Opp. Charles Sta. Laf. 8638.

NORRIS DRUG CO. 289 Huntington Ave. KEN more 6140

SAMOR'S, INC. 143 SUMMER ST. Cor. South St. Lib. 1493

TEMPLE DRUG CO. 128 Cambridge St. Boston. LAF. 8736.

CAMBRIDGE

Medical Drug Co. 1799 MASS. AVE. Uni 10562-4.

CHELSEA

MARGOLIS PHARM. 447 Broad., Bell'm Sq. Chelsea 2535-2585.

NEWTON

Dell Pharmacy 203 Washington St., Opp. Paramount Thea.

WALNUT DRUG CO. 833 Washington St. New Nor. 7829-7839

LOMBARDI'S DRUG 400 Watertown St. New. No. 5136

QUINCY

O. Page, Druggist 1093 SEA ST. Granite 5466

WATERTOWN

DUNN'S DRUG STORE 297 Mt. Auburn St. Mid. 6388

AUCTION SALE

Grocers, Retailers & Jobbers WHERE DO YOU BUY YOUR EGGS? The BROCKTON Co-Op. Egg. Auction Ass'n Sells in wholesale lots at public auction (Mass. eggs only), candled, graded and under State label. This week's sales on Tuesday and Thursday at 2 P. M. Attend these sales or telephone your order to Brockton 4646. H. W. ATTWOOD, Auctioneer 109 N. MONTELLO ST., BROCKTON, MASS.

AUTOMOBILES

AUTOMOBILES FOR SALE

USED TRUCKS Dodge Panels ½-1½ Ton Capacity; Ford 157" WB Platform Body; 1932 Chevrolet ½ Ton Panel; Chevrolet 1½ Ton Canopy; 1 Ton Reo Panel, Brockway Express Body; Ford Pickups and Canopy Tops; 1933 Dodge Panel. VISIT OUR BARGAIN BASEMENT "More for Less" DODGE TRUCK DIVISION MASS. MOTOR CAR. CO. 20 Malvern St., Allston Tel. STAdium 0800

GROVE HALL CHEVROLET GAR. 2360 GAR. 2361 REAL USED CAR VALUES! 1932 Chev. Special Sedan ..... $395; 1932 Oldsmobile Coach ..... 450; 1930 Chev. Sport Coupe, Wire Wheels, Very Clean ..... 185; 1929 Chev. Coach (Extras) ..... 125. Grove Hall Chevrolet Sales Co. 460 Blue Hill Ave., Roxbury

"SAVE CASH WITH CASHMAN" 1930 Essex 4-Door Sedan, $195 (cost over $850 new); dark green finish, a beauty; terms, MONEY-BACK Guarantee. Cashman Motors, Brookline Village, ASPinwall 8000.

1932 TERRAPLANE SEDAN 4 door; sold with "money-back" guarantee; splendid condition; only $399; liberal terms. 650 Beacon St., Boston. KEN more 4010.

"Our reputation is your protection" NASH USED CAR DEPT. BOTH PLACES OPEN EVES. 933 & 640 Commonwealth Ave. Ken. 1466

$245 '31 Chevrolet Coupe. Customer just paid $83 for rings, pistons and complete overhaul, so car is like new. Wonderful buy. Terms. Dunham Chevrolet, Newton North 5620.

Autos Wanted We pay spot cash. See us before selling. 1182 COMMONWEALTH AVE. Tel. Longwood 8507

1932 Ford Sedan, very clean, $345 See it today at PACKARD, 1079 Commonwealth Ave. For easy terms phone Mr. Robey, STAdium 0800.

Lincoln '28, 7-pass. sedan, excellent condition. Mr. Gill, Laf. 2428.

$50 Marmon Sedan, A1 condition, only 45,207 miles. Newton North 8421.

'32 GMC T 18B Cab and 12 ft. rackside body, 157 in. w. b.; new tires; phone Mr. Stein, GMC, Stadium 2900.

CARS WANTED—HIGHEST PRICES PAID FINANCE CO., 965 COM. AVE. ALG. 8819

LATE MODEL "A" FORD COUPE $65 15 Berkeley St. HAN. 7365

1929 FORD Tudor, perfect condition; highest offer takes it. Call Som. 7260-J.

AUTOMOBILE TRUCKS

USED TRUCKS An excellent assortment of panels as low as $50 each; will trade and sell on easy terms. DODGE TRUCK DIVISION, Mass. Motor Car Co., 20 Malvern St., Allston. STAdium 0800.

DODGE ¾ ton, 4 cylinder, panel, good tires. Highlands 1852. Mr. Weeder.

AUTO TIRES & ACCESSORIES

29x4.40 Equity Tire $2.95 — Field's Inc. — 28x4.75 Equity Tire $3.75 — 1030 Commonwealth Ave., Boston

$1 UP USED TIRES, ALL SIZES MAIL ORDERS ROYAL TIRE CO., Inc. 300 or 308 Columbus Ave. Circle 5563. Boston, Mass.

AUTOMOBILE REPAIRING

Hutton's Any motor repaired. Accessories. 128 Mt. Auburn St., Camb. Univ. 8268.

AUTOMOBILE STORAGE

Dead Storage $2.50-$3 mo. Battery serv. Horton's Garage. Som. 8996

AUTOMOBILE SCHOOLS

$10 guarantees to give lessons till you get a license. 5 lessons $5. 406 Tremont St. HUBbard 4339.

AUTOMOBILE INSURANCE

$5.00 DOWN WAMCO EST. 1847 BALANCE 8 MONTHLY PAYMENTS WILLIAM A. MULLER & CO CORP. 55 KILBY ST., BOSTON. Open Eves. LIB. 8930 This Insurance is Limited to Careful Drivers

$5 Down. Monthly payments. Lewis, 600 Wash. St., Rm. 630. Hub. 1090.

Lowest Finance Charge; Sound Co.'s will call; Prigot, 101 Milk St. Han. 5247

LOWEST finance charge, small amount down, best companies; free plate service. 53 State St., Room 1108. CAPitol 5632.

If you are looking for a furnished or unfurnished home or apartment or room let Barbara Holmes do your worrying for you. You'll find her every day at R. H. White Co. from 9 a. m. to 5:30 p. m.

COOK-COOS

By TED COOK

Copyright, 1934, for the Boston Evening American

Well—if Congress gets too annoying Franklin D. can just get Miss Barrymore to make a personal appearance.

* * *

THIS MEANS YOU

(North English, Iowa, Record)

Beginning at once the postoffice lobby will be locked at 8 o'clock, and if fun loving persons continue locking other people's boxes we will have to lock the lobby at 5:30 when we close the office. This will be a great inconvenience to those wishing to get their mail after supper, but we cannot put up with peanut hulls, cigarette butts and paper all over the floor and the boxes locked besides.

LANAH LAWLER, P. M.

* * *

Another very nasty man
I would have bound with many a fetter,
When I damn his recovery plan,
Says: "You suggest something that's better."

* * *

"But the most effective radical propaganda," reflects Genevieve, the kitchen cynic, "is the kind of conservatives we've had lately."

Simile from Julo Zied—

Flashy as a Negro dentist's smile.

* * *

WHAT-A-WOMAN

NO. 32345

(Personal—Satisfy Desire of Literature)

EARLY - AMERICAN waffler, ginger, wholewheat, or chocolate, seeks a fifty-year-old bachelor-aristocrat of the waffle table, University varieties preferred. Mabel Sea-Rip.

* * *

And an old timer is a guy who can remember when we thought our biggest problem was the problem child.

* * *

SOFTY!

(Interview)

"We are quite modest and we are going to remain modest."
—General Goering, Prussian Premier.

* * *

RIDDLE

Old China philosopher
We can't humour him.
He can read you mind
Who can read
But, sorrow old philosopher
Who can read
His harmetical mind.

T. S. Nakano.

* * *

Deposition from Tom Gallo—

I kick the gat right on the chin
Who chirps "Look what—the cat brought in!"

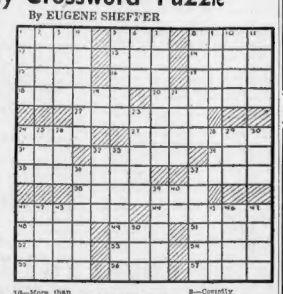
LAURA WHEELER DESIGNS

Everyone is crocheting and knitting nowadays. And why shouldn't they when they can make such lovely things as this afghan with a matching pillow, and this rug, which will do equally well in bedroom or bathroom? The afghan, usually lovely in design—it is adapted from the well-known Spider Web quilt design—is simple to make. Made in separate blocks, which then are joined together with small squares and triangles, it is good pick-up work. The afghan, as shown, is done in three shades of rose (any other color is equally good) and black. This design lends itself to a marriage or crib cover when done in delicate colors and with fewer blocks. The octagonal matching pillow is attractive. The rug, as illustrated, is made of hooked rug wool, but could, of course, be crocheted of rags.

Pattern 620 comes to you with complete detailed directions for making an afghan 46x58 inches or 46x69 inches; the pillow; and a rug 24x42 inches; exact material requirements and color suggestions. Send ten cents for this pattern to Boston American Needlecraft Dept., 32 Eighth ave, New York City.

Daily Crossword Puzzle

By EUGENE SHEFFER



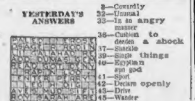
HORIZONTAL

1—Join closely
5—Morsel dipped in liquid
8—Cut with a sharp instrument
12—Month in the Jewish calendar
13—Color
14—Rant
15—Prima donna
16—Consumed
17—Declare
18—Remained
20—Return
22—Rates
24—Great Roman poet
27—Texture
31—Part of fish anatomy
32—Ascended
34—Digit
35—Fourth of trumpets
37—Dupe
38—Deliberation
41—Deep red
44—Native sodium carbonate
45—Stalemate
49—High priest of Israel
51—Volume
52—Method
53—Permit
54—Night before holidays
55—Wide-mouthed pitcher
56—Affirmative
57—Income from tenants

VERTICAL

1—Soft, compact masses
2—Preface for publication
3—Fluid rock
4—Seized on a strong low cart
5—To depart from light
6—Not at home
9—Possess
10—More than many
11—Heavy
19—Hebrew name for God
21—English public school
23—Decorative receptacles
24—Not on
25—By way of
26—Tavern
28—Japanese statesman
29—Place where animals are exhibited
30—Elongated fish
7—Body of noblemen
8—Country
12—Usual
33—Is an angry mutter
36—Cutout to make a shock
37—Sunnie
39—Simple things
40—Explain
42—Egg pod
43—Spot
46—Beam openly
47—Drive
48—Wander
49—Army
50—Order for retreat
52—Sheltered side
53—Pronoun

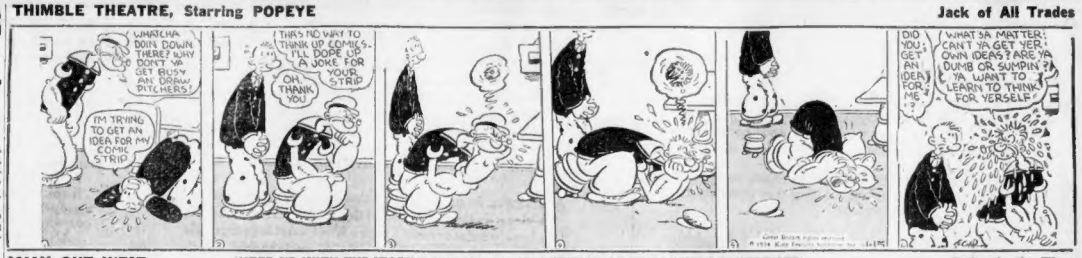
YESTERDAY'S ANSWERS



Copyright, 1934, for the Boston Evening American.

THIMBLE THEATRE, Starring POPEYE

Jack of All Trades



WAY OUT WEST

(KEEP UP WITH THE STORY IN THE BIG COMIC SECTION OF THE SUNDAY ADVERTISER)

Bring in the Tiger

BRINGING UP FATHER

(FOLLOW JIGGS AND MAGGIE IN THE BIG COMIC SECTION OF THE SUNDAY ADVERTISER)

Nice, Quiet People

POLLY AND HER PALS

(FOLLOW POLLY AND HER PALS IN THE BIG COMIC SECTION OF THE SUNDAY ADVERTISER)

Three Little Pigs

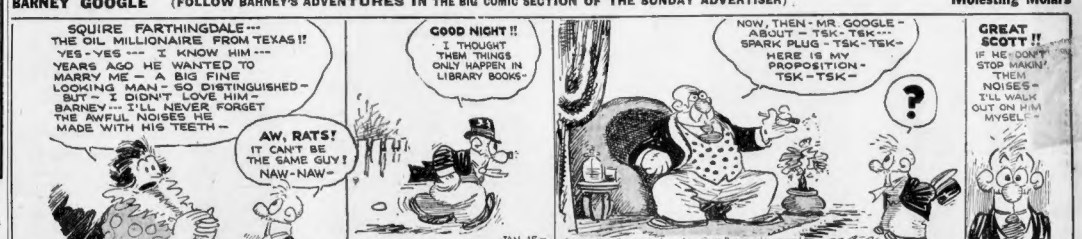
LITTLE ANNIE ROONEY

The Eighth Wonder

BARNEY GOOGLE

(FOLLOW BARNEY'S ADVENTURES IN THE BIG COMIC SECTION OF THE SUNDAY ADVERTISER)

Molesting Molars



TIM TYLER'S FLYING LUCK

(FOLLOW TIM TYLER IN THE BIG COMIC SECTION OF THE SUNDAY ADVERTISER)

Chamber of Silent Men

NEW ENGLAND'S GREATEST EVENING NEWSPAPER

BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN

MONDAY, JANUARY 15, 1934

LARGEST EVENING CIRCULATION BY MORE THAN 80,000

Pan-American Reciprocity in Sight -:- Congress Must Support Hull's Endeavors

THE GREAT policy of commercial reciprocity between the United States and the Latin-American Republics of Central and South America was loyally served and notably advanced by Secretary of State Hull in the discussions at Montevideo.

The emphasis with which this important subject was pushed to the fore during the Pan-American meeting was probably the outstanding feature of the conference.

AND RIGHTLY SO!

Fair trade means good friends, and if the mutual friendship of the growing democracies of the western hemisphere is an object to be cultivated—AND IT CERTAINLY IS—no better instrument could be found than an expanding and mutually profitable exchange of their respective products and wares.

Secretary Hull's oft-stated belief that world recovery presupposes a world trade revival may be sound enough from the standpoint of philosophical economics. But under the conditions prevailing throughout the world it is not, for the present at least, capable of practical applications.

* * *

IF the Secretary has ever doubted this, his experiences at the London Economic Conference should have resolved his doubts.

At any rate, he does well to push these well-understood personal views into the background and to center his energies and the influence of his official position upon the negotiation of specific bilateral treaties which can be demonstrated to be advantageous to each contracting Power.

This is a form of commercial reciprocity which the Hearst papers have long and earnestly advocated.

Early this year this newspaper declared that:

"Pan-American reciprocity is a theme for immediate and exhaustive investigation. Its possibilities are limitless. Its potential blessings cannot be measured.

"Trade barriers must be revised, lowered and, where possible, removed. Intercourse must be encouraged and facilitated. Mutual dealings must be broadened and made easier."

And again, in an appeal for action in this field, we said:

"A deeper understanding of the feelings and interests of the closely related nations of the West must be earnestly sought by each, in a spirit of genuine reciprocity—reciprocity, not of markets alone, but of heart and sympathy and mutual help."

* * *

WE have been at no pains to conceal the shortcomings of the United States in respect to the opportunities, as well as the duties, of closer reciprocal relations with the friendly nations to the south of us.

Speaking on this subject, we used these words:

"We have before us an opportunity for commercial broadmindedness that we have too little manifested in our past dealings with Central and South America.

"There should be an immediate reversal of our self-centered attitude toward these friendly nations."

And we have endeavored to make our recommendations specific.

"There should be instituted at once," we have maintained, "a competent and searching study of the possibilities of logical and mutually beneficial reciprocity. Many of the products of our mills the peoples of Central and South America would be glad to buy if we would admit into our great market commodities which they produce in abundance and of which we stand in need."

The Hearst papers have always recognized the probability of opposition by selfish groups unable to perceive the broad benefits that would flow to the nation at large from a liberal and comprehensive treatment of this subject.

"It involves a different temper," we have insisted, "from that which has prevailed in the past. It demands an open-minded, studious and constructive approach to our mutual problems and common opportunities."

AND THIS DIFFERENT TEMPER MUST BE INVOKED IN CONGRESS.

The times are too serious for the by-play and inter-play of selfish forces and selfish motives. Americans must realize that recovery and trade revival are not matters of individual skirmishes or detached engagements. Only with the general righting of conditions can prosperity be re-established.

Individual well-being is only to be sought in common well-being. The prosperity of individual enterprise depends upon the establishment of sound foundations for general trade in its broadest reaches.

* * *

THE Secretary of State will soon return to Washington from the scene of his fruitful labors in South America.

Congress should be ready for him—ready for instant, practical and effective co-operation.

The prospect of genuine progress toward Pan-American reciprocity was never brighter. The bilateral treaties, now proposed, offer a logical beginning; they must be taken up with right good will and pushed through.

THE COUNTRY EXPECTS IT!

More Help for Home Owners

The Massachusetts Co-operative Bank League has now appointed a special committee of its members to investigate the cases of home-owners who are in singular distress and who are in danger of eviction from their homes.

It is understood that this committee is interested in the particularly worthy cases of owners who may lose their homes because of the obdurate and unreasoning refusal of the banks to accept government bonds in return for the mortgages they hold upon these homes.

This is a marked stride of progress.

Every home has its romance and its tragedy. The home is the fabric of American life. It is the nest in which family affection and family hope are born and nurtured. When you deprive a man of his home, with which are associated his deepest affections in life, you impair his morale, visit hardship upon his family and render them less incompetent to play their part in the economic revival and prosperity for which this country today is struggling.

There are some banks, few in number, that have played the role of dog-in-the-manger. They know little of the "New Deal" and seem to care less about it. They have entirely ignored the new economic order in which friendliness and co-operation are the essences of success. They have capitalized the distress of the people.

It is one mission of this new committee, and the particular mission, to convert these delinquent banks to a sense of responsibility. We hope they will be successful. The home-owner who is in distress and who believes that his bank has unreasonably refused to accept the government bonds and thereby to relieve his distress should take his complaint to this committee. It may be found at the headquarters of the Massachusetts Co-operative Bank League, No. 80 Federal Street, Boston.

Now just a word to the home-owner. This is not a time for chiseling. The Home Owners' Loan Corporation was formed by President Roosevelt to aid only the home-owners who are in utter distress and who have no other agency to which to turn for succor.

This institution was not to be used as an excuse for home-owners to avoid the payment of principal and interest which they can easily and comfortably pay to the private banks which loaned them the money to finance their homes. The home-owners who can meet their obligations to the private banks without difficulty should meet them.

Human Side of the News; Congress Makes History

By Edwin C. Hill

The Seventy-third Congress of these United States will have a unique place in our annals. Coming historians, casting their gaze back over the swiftly-changing American scene, will record that this is the first regular Congressional session in 144 years to meet in January instead of December. For the Twentieth Amendment to the Constitution abolished Lame Duck Congresses, those sessions full of men defeated for office which met, not in the January following an election, but in the December of the following year.

The session will be historic for other and more cogent reasons. President Roosevelt has really just got his recovery program under way. All of his huge recovery and relief organizations are just beginning to function. Opposition will arise in the hall of Congress to many of the President's policies and programs, but there is an almost unanimous feeling, the country over, that after the steam is blown off and the usual oratory bounces against the walls of the Senate and the House, Congress will go along with Mr. Roosevelt and do just about what he asks it to do.

Taxation will be about the liveliest subject of controversy. A great many Senators and Congressmen are in Washington fired with the idea of socking the rich with higher income taxes. There is strong sentiment for such law revision as will prevent extremely rich men from dodging income taxes by smooth and evasive bookkeeping.

The liquor situation, following repeal, remained to be straightened out, with liquor taxes to be adjusted so that the government should receive ample revenue without taxing legal liquor so heavily that the bootleggers would continue doing business at the same old stand.

Much remains to be done by this seventy-third Congress in a session which may run into June. But the country finds itself a good deal better off, both rural and city, than it was on this date a year ago.

With absolutely unique frankness on the part of a statesman and politician, he has told the people, millions at a time, over the air waves, that he is experimenting—must experiment; that he is blazing new trails, and that he will turn about and head in another direction the minute he finds himself up against it.

Perhaps the biggest battle of all will come over the currency—over inflation. The President has kept his own counsel about what he intends to do with the dollar; whether it is to be stabilized, upon gold, at 66 cents or 50 cents, or whatever the figure might be. By ordering the purchase of $15,000,000 of new silver to be coined into dollars, he has opened the way to free coinage of silver, and the West is singing his praises with new spirit.

On the whole, the feeling of the Western farmers toward the President has materially improved as grain and other commodity prices have gone up, and as vast mortgage relief has been extended. In the South, the people appear to be back of Mr. Roosevelt with something like crusading ardor. The price of almost everything they raise, from peanuts to cotton, has advanced from 20 to 100 per cent—cotton alone up 65 per cent from a year ago. The South is handling real money, like the Western farmers.

Behind the President, therefore, are Dixie and the great West, quite enough support to block or assuage any opposition from the North and East. But it will be a great session to watch.

To the Rescue

Congress now has a splendid opportunity to speed up economic recovery by doing the sensible thing about Federal taxation. At present the Government is compelled by Congress to rely mainly upon the income tax for its current revenues.

The sheer folly of this reliance has been demonstrated by cold figures—by the figures of steadily diminishing income tax returns, despite increases in the income tax rates, and by the known figures of tax evasions by the owners of large fortunes.

As a source of revenue the income tax is a discredited failure. Moreover, the income tax is both unjust and injurious. It oppresses all who earn their incomes and it depresses the nation's business.

Instead of the rotten income tax system Congress should provide a General Manufacturers' Sales Tax—the kind of tax that Canada has found most successful as a revenue producer and least burdensome upon the public.

And if Congress fails to grant such a tax it will fail signally to consider the best interests of the country and of the Federal Treasury.

O. O. McIntyre

New York Day by Day

NEW YORK, Jan. 15—Diary: Betimes and a Homer Croy letter ending "Your's till a nudist has a run in her stocking." Also Percy Crosby's autographed volume of "Sport Drawings," a beautiful tome, and a limning by Walt Disney of my favorite pig, the gruff one, calling me copy cat for imitating his voice.

O. O. McIntyre

Basil Woon calling tells sadly of Paris decadence, likening it to an exquisite siren snoozing in a tattered shawl. And Floyd Gibbons scudding by with an accolade for Nassau and its charms. So with my wife to greet Charles and Kathleen Norris at the Chatham and Edna Ferber, Clifton Webb and Noel Coward there.

To dinner at Alma Clayburgh's and the President's mother, Mrs. Roosevelt, the guest of honor. And afterward stopped in to see Mirian and Kent Cooper. Then home and I fell to ridding up my tousey desk and to bed reading Alice Longworth's "Crowded Hours," especially liking tales of Cincinnati.

* * *

Mae West off the cuff in staccato: Half Irish, half Jewish. Father an Irish prizefighter, who became a night club bouncer. She's Catholic, gives to charities and is religious. Born in Brooklyn near home of Clara Bow, whose father was a Coney Island waiter. On home site of West family is a church. Lives in Hollywood apartment house and is somewhat of a hermit. Seldom goes out; never to gay parties. Works most of time. Chief companion is a platonic friend, her manager. Originated shimmy, doing it before Gilda Gray. Does most of her writing in bed. Smokes moderately.

* * *

Personal nomination for the gayest shirts, excepting Isaac Marcossen's, in all the town—those of Grover Whalen.

* * *

Bagatelles: Nat Burns, straight actor of Burns and Allen, is a riot of laughs off stage . . . While Miss Allen is very demure . . . Charlie Russell originals are now higher priced than original Remingtons . . . When Helen Kane tries to reduce, she gains, so she has quit trying . . . Noel Coward wanted most to meet Max Baer on his recent visit . . . Ashton Stevens always occupies the same seat locations at Chicago first nights . . . Will H. Hays keeps his home in Sullivan, Ind., open the year round . . .

Copyright, 1934, for the Boston Evening American.

Listen World!

By Elsie Robinson

A Prayer

GIVE ME THE COURAGE TO LIVE!
Really live—not merely exist.
Live DANGEROUSLY—
Scorning the risk!
Live HONESTLY—
Daring the truth
—Particularly the truth of myself!
Live RESILIENTLY—
Ever changing, ever growing, ever adapting.
Enduring the pain of change
As though 'twere the travail of birth.
GIVE ME THE COURAGE TO LIVE—
Give me the strength to be FREE—
And endure the burdens of freedom
And the loneliness of those without chains.
Let me be not trapped by success—
Nor by failure nor pleasure nor grief.
Nor by malice nor praise nor remorse!
GIVE ME THE COURAGE TO GO ON!
Feeling all that waits on the trail—
Going eagerly, joyously on—
And paying my way as I go.
Without anger or fear or regret—
Taking whatever life gives—
Spending myself to the full—
Head high, spirit winged, like a god—
On . . . on—till the shadows draw close—
Then, even when darkness shuts down,
And I go out alone, as I came;
Naked and blind, as I came . . .
Even then, Unknown God, hear my prayer:
GIVE ME THE COURAGE TO LIVE!

Elsie Robinson

Copyright, 1934, for the Boston Evening American.

Stars and Stripes

Yes, we would gladly pass the buck
But for—alack, alas—
The fact we have not had the luck
To have a buck to pass.

What's ten billion dollars between friends, Romans and countrymen?

Doesn't seem fair to call a guy the champion liar of 1933 just because he said he shingled a fog. We know a man who says he stopped a leak in the weather.

On with the new deal! We'll take five cards.

Daily Bible Text "God shall supply all your need according to His riches in glory by Jesus Christ."—Philippians iv, 19.

By the Rev. John G. Loja, Portuguese Baptist Church, Cambridge.

History Repeating Itself Across the Pacific

By James T. Williams, Jr.

History in Japan today is repeating itself, the history of Japanese-American relations during the presidency of Theodore Roosevelt. Now, as then, a Japanese war party was inciting the people of Japan against the people of the United States.

Throughout the year 1907, a controversy was in progress over the question of Japanese immigration and the treatment of Japanese children in the public schools of California.

Writing from Oyster Bay to Secretary Root on July 13 of the year, President Roosevelt told in these words of his plan to send a battle fleet of the navy around the world:

"I am more concerned over the Japanese situation than almost any other. Thank heaven we have the navy in good shape. It is high time, however, that it should go on a cruise around the world. In the first place I think it will have a pacific effect to show that it can be done. Second, and in the next place, after talking thoroughly over the situation with the naval board, I became convinced that it is absolutely necessary for us to try in time of peace to see just what we could do in the way of putting a big battle fleet in the Pacific and not make the experiment in time of war."

NO DOUBTS

About that time, a Japanese admiral visited Mr. Roosevelt at Oyster Bay and of their talk through an interpreter, the President afterward wrote:

"He (the Admiral) kept insisting that the Japanese must not be kept out save as we keep out Europeans. I kept explaining to him that what we had to do was to face facts; that if American laboring men came in and cut down the wages of Japanese laboring men, they would be shut out of Japan in one moment; and that Japanese laborers must be excluded from the United States on economic grounds. I pointed out that under our present treaty we had explicitly reserved the right to exclude Japanese laborers. I talked freely of the intended trip of the battleship fleet through the Pacific, mentioning that it would return very shortly after it had been sent out there; at least in all probability. How much impression I made upon him, I can not say."

After the battle fleet had completed its triumphant trip around the world, Roosevelt was no longer in doubt that this was the most important service to peace rendered by his administration. He said to his biographer, the late Joseph B. Bishop:

"This demonstration of combined courtesy and strength nowhere received a heartier response than in Japan, which is both strong and courteous. I regard the Pacific as home waters just as much as the Atlantic, and regard it as essential to find out in time of peace whether or not the fleet could be kept there bodily. I determined on the move without consulting the cabinet . . . A council of war never fights, and in a crisis, the duty of a leader is to lead and not take refuge behind the generally timid wisdom of a multitude of counsellors."

THE REAL REASON

There was tremendous opposition in Congress against the fleet going to the Pacific at that time. In fact the chairman of the Senate committee on naval affairs served notice that it could not go because Congress would refuse to appropriate the money. The reply of Roosevelt to this challenge of authority as commander-in-chief was the announcement that he had enough money to send the fleet as far as the Pacific and that it would remain there and not return to the Atlantic unless Congress appropriated enough money for the return trip. That ended all further oppostion in Congress.

More than one European government expected that Japan would attack our battle fleet while it was on its way around the world. President Roosevelt did not expect such an attack, but he thought it possible. Afterwards he said that his point of view at the time the fleet sailed was "That if the Japanese attacked it, it was a certain sign that they intended to attack us at the first favorable opportunity."

The real reason Roosevelt sent the fleet around the world is told in one of his letters in which he said:

"I had been doing my best to be polite to the Japanese, and finally had become uncomfortably conscious of a very, very slight undertone of veiled truculence in their communications in connection with things that happened on the Pacific slope, and I finally made up my mind that they thought I was afraid of them."

By Edgar A. Guest

SUCCESS AND FAILURE

Success and failure are a pair
Which wing together,
Two birds, almost alike I swear
Unto a feather.

Both fly about in plumage rich,
Man merely guesses
Which of the two is failure; which
Of the two success is.

Seeking the happier bird men go—
The search a long one—
And oft their truest shots bring low
The fateful, wrong one.

Another, oft it seems by chance
The trigger presses
And home he comes with eyes that dance.
His bird, success is.

But since so hard it is to tell
One from the other
Who wins should not forget how fell
His luckless brother.

Copyright, 1934, Edgar A. Guest